VOL. XLIX. MONDAY MORNING, JANUARY 20, 1930. C DAILY, FIVE CENTS

SIXTEEN DIE IN CRASH OF COAST PLANE

NAVAL JOLT PROMISED

French Hint at Sensation

Atmosphere of Cordiality Indicates Good Start for Parley Tomorrow

Attitude of Paris Delegation Favorable to Success of Conference

King George V of Great Britain will open the five-power naval parley in London, speaking from the royal gallery of the House of Lords at 3 o'clock Pacific Coast time tomorrow morning. His address will be broadcast in Southern California by radio stations [illegible] and KFI, as will a speech [illegible] by Ramsay MacDonald.

LONDON, Jan. 19. (AP)—Premier [illegible] Tardieu and Foreign Minister [illegible] Briand, chiefs of the French delegation to the five-power naval conference which opens Tuesday, in interviews with newspaper men today pledged themselves "to give you something sensational later."

This statement followed upon a long interchange of views with Henry L. Stimson, United States Secretary of State, at the French Embassy. Premier Tardieu had arrived in London only this morning and Stimson motored in from his country home to complete his round-robin of talks with the delegations to the conference by seeking the French leaders.

ATMOSPHERE HAPPY

M. Tardieu described his conversation with the Secretary of State as engendering a very happy atmosphere for the beginning of the five-power negotiations. He warned, however, that the conference tasks were only beginning.

M. Briand, in his characteristic [illegible] mood, interjected that the atmosphere is one of "confidence and cordiality."

The attitude of the Frenchmen was the more pleasing to the other delegations because it had been felt that France was a bit sensitive toward the close Anglo-American [illegible] on naval matters and was also somewhat perturbed by failure to reach a preliminary agreement with Italy over naval [illegible].

Stimson earlier in the day had held a highly satisfactory conference with Foreign Secretary Dino Grandi, the chief Italian envoy. He entertained Signor Grandi, his wife and others of the Italian delegation at his temporary country home and afterward settled down to nearly two hours of conversation before returning to London.

ITALIANS PLEASED

Both the American and the Italian delegations were so pleased with their meeting that they agreed to disclose the nature of their conversation. Secretary Stimson said it had been frank and satisfactory to the highest degree and had covered all of the conference questions from procedure to the problems confronting the five great sea powers of the world.

These two meetings enabled Stimson to make the important declaration to the continental envoys that no naval or political bloc, alliance or fixed understanding exists between the United States and Great Britain as a preliminary to the conference.

It was recalled that the American

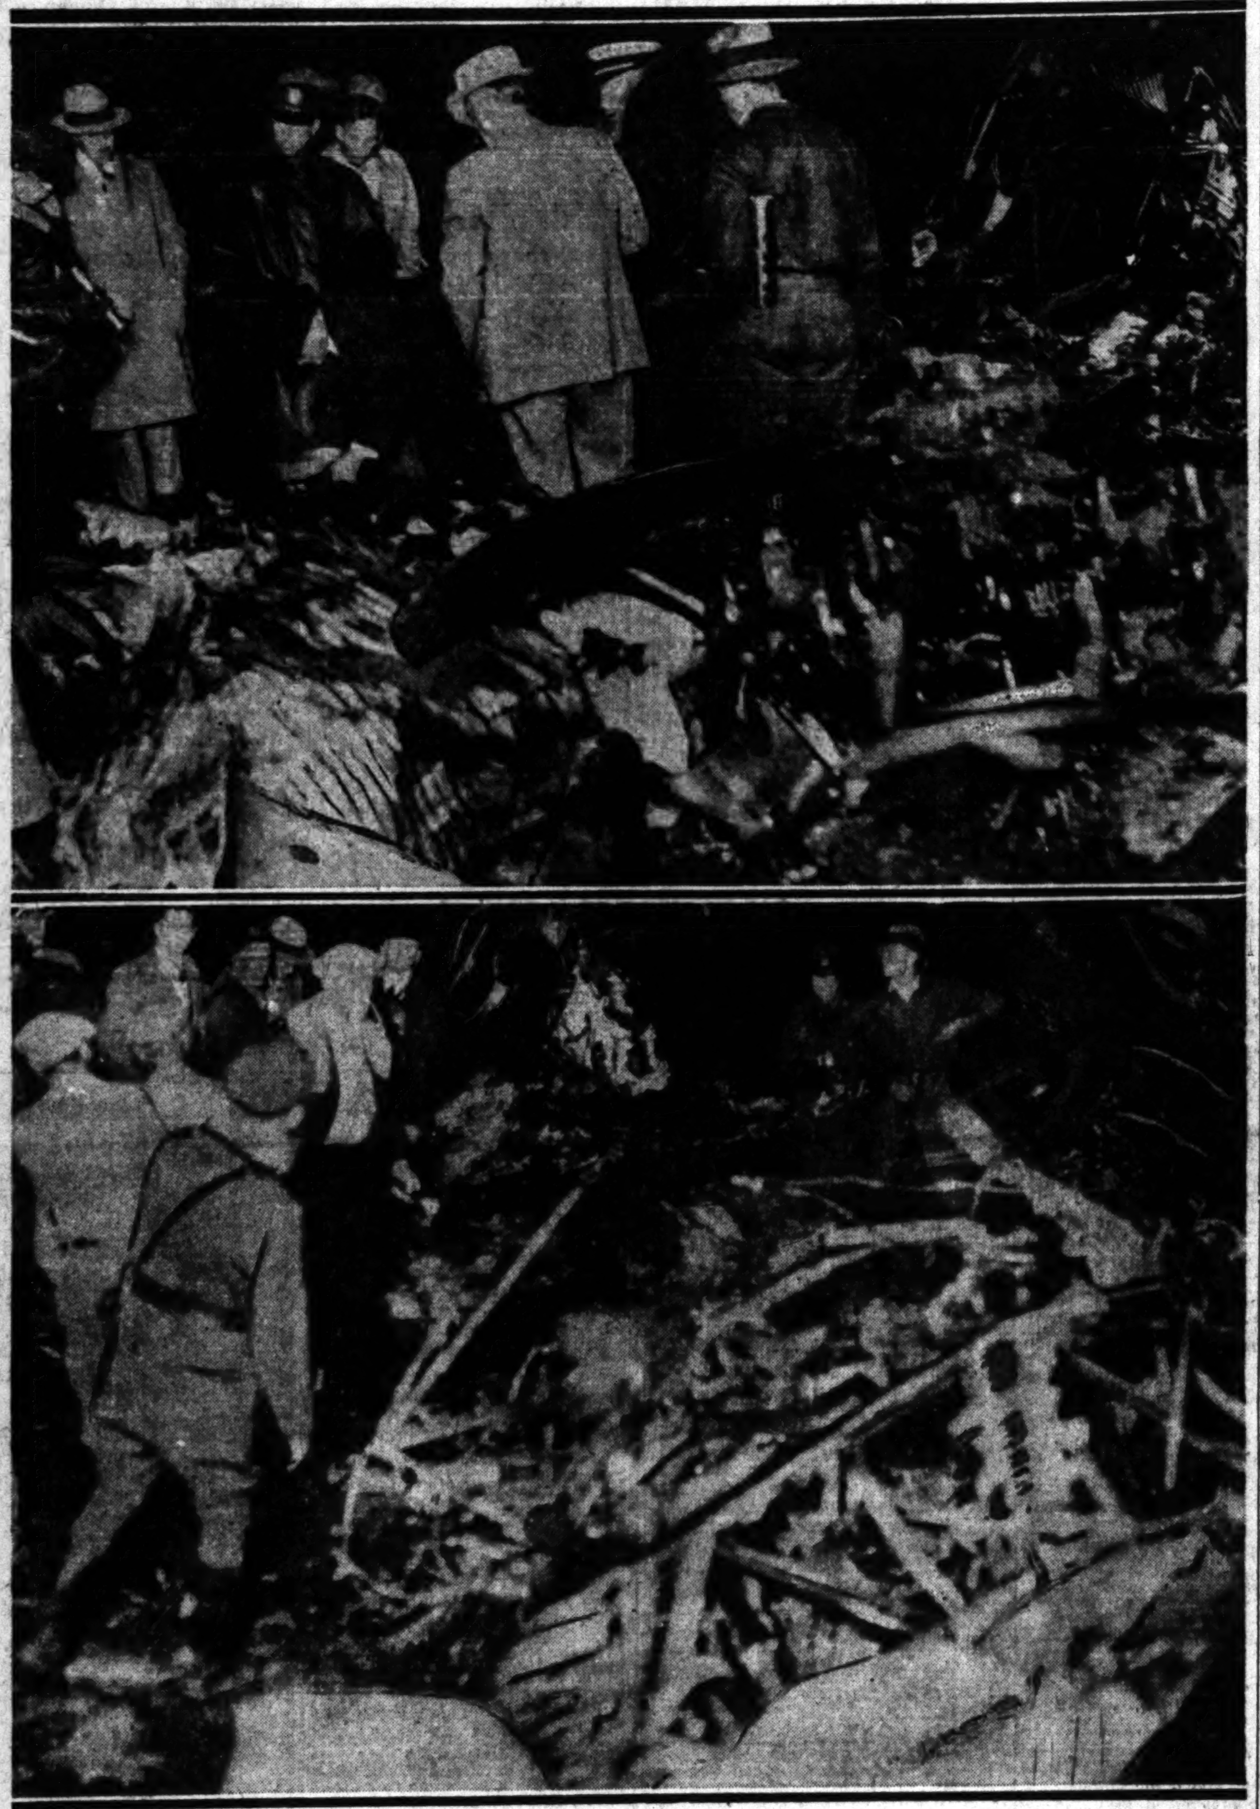
Victims Seared in Mass of Blazing Wreckage



After Plunge Had Taken Its Toll of Lives

Harry Comber of the San Clemente Police Department was on the scene of the San Clemente air disaster a few minutes after the crash. Thomas F. Murphine, Mayor of San Clemente, ordered Officer Comber to rush the above pictures through to The Times office. He made the trip in a police car in an hour and ten minutes. In the top picture is seen a mass of tangled wreckage with one of the propellers and a part of the motor showing. Standing back of the wrecked plane is Chief of Police Forest J. Eaton of San Clemente and several border patrolmen and Coroner Kelley of San Diego county. The lower picture shows a different view of the wreckage with the same officials grouped about it. The pictures were taken by a Times staff photographer.

GIANT T.A.T.-MADDUX AIRLINER WRECKED NEAR SAN CLEMENTE

Flames Sweep Craft and Burn Bodies of Victims; Pilot Trying to Land in Rain as Ship Cracks Up While Returning From Agua Caliente Races

Sixteen persons, eight women and eight men, were killed at 6:23 p.m. yesterday when a passenger plane of the T. A. T.-Maddux Air Lines crashed and burned in an attempted emergency landing in a bean field along the coast line midway between Oceanside and San Clemente.

The ill-fated trimotored Ford plane, carrying a capacity load of fourteen passengers and two pilots, was homeward bound from Agua Caliente, where the occupants spent the day and were returning following the final Sunday race.

Passengers on the ship and identified by Maddux Line officials as believed dead in the crash are:

MR. AND MRS. EDWARD J. BOWEN, 336 South Hudson avenue.

MR. AND MRS. BENJAMIN MILLER, 3174 Eton, Piedmont.

MRS. DORIS CANTILLON, 1823 Wellington Road, Los Angeles.

MRS. GEORGE C. GLOVER, 1823 Wellington Road, Los Angeles.

EDWARD J. SMALL, 852 South Hauser Boulevard, Los Angeles.

FRANCES JAMIESON, 1003 Stoneman avenue, Alhambra.

MISS ELIZABETH SQUIBB, 1364 Loma Vista street, Pasadena.

CHARLES RABOLD, Fair Hope, Ala., stopping at Green Hotel, Pasadena.

MRS. HANNAH COLLISTON, Fair Hope, Ala., stopping at Green Hotel, Pasadena.

MR. AND MRS. SEDRIC BROWN, 1548 Westerly Terrace, Los Angeles.

W. W. PADEN, 277 Conway street, West Los Angeles.

PILOT BASIL RUSSELL, Roosevelt Apartments, 244 North Chevy Chase, Glendale.

ASSISTANT PILOT FREDDIE WALKER, Chevy Chase Court Apartments, Glendale.

CAUSES FOR CRASH

Faulty motors, an attempt to make a forced landing against the perils of rain, fog and low-hanging clouds and misjudged distances were given as the causes of the tragedy last night, following an investigation of the mass of wreckage.

J. G. Nall, inspector of aeronautics for the United States Department of Commerce, unofficially said late last night that he believed the pilots were attempting to make a turn to go back when they struck, a hasty examination indicating the right wing hit first. Landing flares on the ship were still intact, Nall said, silent proof that the flyers were not attempting an emergency landing.

Late last night all sixteen of the bodies had been taken to undertaking establishments in Oceanside, where they are to await the official survey of the crash which was ordered by the San Diego county Coroner.

The seething flames, which enveloped the large metal plane immediately after the crash, prevented removal of the bodies until four hours after the smash-up.

Identification will be difficult, according to San Diego county authorities and officials of the air line who hurried to the scene. The majority of the bodies are badly burned and the plane was described as a mass of twisted and torn metal.

TIME DETERMINED

The exact time of the accident was determined by the authorities from a wrist watch on the arm of one of the women passengers. It had stopped ticking at exactly 6:23 p.m.

Flyers, familiar with the terrain along the El Camino Real, after viewing the wreckage last night, expressed the opinion that Pilot Russell was attempting to make an emergency landing and slightly misjudged his distances. The plane known as the Race Track Special left Agua Caliente at 5:50 p.m.

The pilots assert they are familiar with the bean field in which the plane crashed and believe that Russell realizing that he had passed beyond the Oceanside Airport decided to set his ship down. He evidently was attempting to judge his height and the location of the furrowed field by the glistening headlights of automobiles along the highway, they said.

The plane came down at too sharp an angle, according to their view. As it struck the landing gear was torn from the fuselage and the plane ploughed through the dirt for about 200 yards.

GASOLINE IGNITED

The ship swirled on the flat section, came to an abrupt stop and the heavy wings bearing the gasoline tanks slid forward over the hot motors. The wings crumpled, the gasoline tanks burst and poured a stream of approximately 200 gallons of the inflammable mixture over the passengers.

The force of the impact had thrown most of them into the forward end of the passenger compartment and as the gasoline tanks burst they were drenched.

The gasoline is believed to have caught fire from the hot motors and in an instant the ship and passengers were a mass of flames. The fire continued for several hours and the metal work of the plane was red hot for some time.

Two passengers, who were evidently thrown from the ship by the smash, were found a short distance from the blazing inferno. They were not badly burned.

Inside the ship, as soon as the flames died down, authorities who hurried to the scene, were able to distinguish the forms of fourteen of the bodies.

Pilot Russell was seated in his compartment, with his hand on the steering apparatus, mute evidence that the pilot stayed with his ship and expected to make his landing. Alongside of him was his traveling assistant or mate, Walker. His hands were on the controls. The passengers were huddled in a burning heap near the front part of the passenger compartment.

First reports said the plane roared to earth in flames and that the landing was attempted on rough terrain. This later was denied by investigating officials, directed by Lieut. Virgil Westbrook, U.S.A., who was one of the first to reach the scene.

According to Westbrook, who was awaiting the arrival early last night at San Clemente of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, Jack Maddux and other officials of the Maddux-T.A.T. Line, the ship

List of Dead in Wreck of Race Special

The task of identifying the dead in the crash of the T.A.T.-Maddux Air Lines plane occupied many hours and was not completed until almost midnight. Relatives and friends of those who had been aboard the plane besieged newspaper offices and the offices of the T.A.T.-Maddux headquarters for news, all night.

Those fully identified were:

MRS. GEORGE C. GLOVER, 1823 Wellington Road, Los Angeles. Mrs. Glover and her husband, George C. Glover, retired, lived at the home of Attorney Richard Cantillon. With Mrs. Cantillon she went to the races at Agua Caliente Saturday and remained over night. Mrs. Glover and her husband formerly lived in Hayward, Wis.

MRS. DORIS CANTILLON, 1823 Wellington Road, Los Angeles. She was the wife of Attorney Richard Cantillon and was an aviation enthusiast. They have one small daughter. Mrs. Cantillon accompanied Mrs. Glover on the week-end trip to Agua Caliente. Mrs. Cantillon's sister married John Glover, son of Mrs. George Glover.

MISS ELIZABETH SQUIBB, 1364 Loma Vista street, Pasadena. Miss Squibb was a teacher in the West Ridge School, an exclusive girls' school in Pasadena. She was the daughter of Mrs. C. H. Squibb and the grand-daughter of E. R. Squibb, founder of the nationally known Squibb Drug Company.

CHARLES RABOLD, of Fair Hope, Ala., a dancing instructor who came to California to teach a series of courses in folk dancing at the Broad Oaks School in Pasadena. While in Pasadena he lived at the Green Hotel.

MRS. HANNAH COLLISTON of Fair Hope, Ala., a dancing teacher and an assistant to Rabold. At the Green Hotel, where Mrs. Colliston lived, she was registered as Mrs. Hannah Bottstein. Little was known of her at the hotel other than that she had relatives in New York City. Another instructor from the Alabama school who lives at the Green Hotel is Miss Marietta Johnson. She had planned to go on the trip with Rabold and Mrs. Colliston, but she became ill and Miss Squibb went in her place.

MR. AND MRS. SEDRIC BROWN, 1548 Westerly Terrace, Los Angeles. Brown was personal assistant to Jack Maddux, vice-president of the air line. Brown was well known in aviation circles on the Pacific Coast and had been with the Maddux lines for more than a year. He formerly was in the automobile tire business but for many years had been an aviation enthusiast.

W. W. PADEN, a real estate dealer in the Fidelity Trust Building, Los Angeles. He had made frequent business trips by plane to Agua Caliente. He lived at 277 Conway street, West Los Angeles. He leaves his widow and a son, 6 years of age.

Will Rogers Remarks:

LONDON, Jan. 19. [To the Editor of The Times:] By the merest slip of the tongue by a most reliable British authority I got this tip. Now you know tips, if they go through you are a hero and if not you are a bum. Ramsay MacDonald will propose not only abolishing battleships, but every form of sea armament. A Russian did that at Geneva but they had nothing to sink but their whiskers, but if MacDonald should propose a great thing like that it would be the most revolutionary yet the greatest contribution made to world peace since little David at the world's first disarmament conference sunk Goliath unassisted.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

P.S.—Now, remember this MacDonald is going to do something big.

LONE EAGLE SHOWS SKILL WITH GLIDER

Col. Lindbergh Handles Sail Plane First Time and Wins License

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 19. (AP)—Without previous actual experience in motorless flying, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh took off here today in a glider plane, flew it half a mile over the ocean, attained an altitude of 500 feet, remained aloft half an hour and qualified for a first-class glider license. He made an application for this license after landing and will become the ninth holder of that class of motorless-flying license in the United States. Eight of these licenses have been won on the San Diego glider field.

Lindbergh's wife watched him make the flight but did not attempt to handle a glider herself.

William Van Dusen, a local representative of the National Aeronautical Association, officially checked Lindbergh's flight and received his application for a glider license. The machine Lindbergh used was built by Hawley Bowlus, who was construction superintendent for the building here of the Spirit of St. Louis, in which Lindbergh made his flight to Paris. Bowlus supervised Lindbergh's glider flight today and was among the first to offer congratulations when the colonel landed without mishap. Bowlus holds the American glider record with an official flight of more than six hours.

COLD CLINGS TO MIDWEST

Slight Relief From Arctic Temperatures Arrives With Snow Due Over Wide Area

CHICAGO, Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—The Middle West today emerged from the unprecedented Arctic temperatures that had gripped it for two days, but subnormal weather clung tenaciously, and continued to spread eastward.

Seven deaths were reported, three in Chicago, two in Cleveland and two in New York City, where the mercury reached 18 deg. today.

For tomorrow continued cold weather is forecast with snow over practically the entire area. A new cold wave was forming in the Northwest, according to the United States Weather Bureau reports, but it is modified by the statement that perhaps the corn belt States will escape its severity.

Snow, which began falling in the vicinity of Omaha this morning, reached the Chicago district tonight. Omaha tonight reported the snow is accompanied by heavy winds and is drifting. The ground is already covered by the eight-inch fall of last week. Back-hill points reported temperatures as low as 46 deg. below zero.

Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan were still suffering from the tortures of the coldest weather in many years. With the cold came another heavy snowfall that slowed up traffic and played havoc with schedules. Hospitals are crowded with persons seeking relief from frozen ears, noses and hands.

BOLIVIANS KILL ONE IN PARAGUAY

Soldier at Fort Slain in Surprise Attack But Foe Forced to Retreat

ASUNCION (Paraguay) Jan. 19. (AP)—An official communique today charged that the Paraguayan fort at Isla Poi was attacked at 2 p.m. last Thursday by a Bolivian patrol which for several days had spied on and menaced the troops quartered there. The attack, however, was described as a surprise. A Paraguayan soldier was killed in the first onslaught.

The Bolivians were stated to have been routed and to have retreated to the Bolivian outpost at Fort Boqueron, the scene of disturbances in 1928.

The news was received calmly here.

burst into flames after striking the ground.

"The first report we had of the accident," said Westbrook, "came from a passing motorist. He said the ship came down in flames as the pilot attempted to land. I hardly think this is right.

"Evidently Russell was circling for an emergency landing and misjudged his distances. There was a hard rain falling, and fog coming in from the sea served to make his attempt to save plane and passengers even more hazardous. There was a ceiling of only 200 feet.

"The wreckage, which is almost completely destroyed by fire, is lying in an open space approximately one-fourth mile from the beach and one-fourth mile from the highway," Westbrook said.

"The pilot had selected a fairly level spot in which to make his landing. The earth is soft, but graveled.

"The ship crashed in such a way that the wings and cabin are a tangled mass of wreckage, with practically all the fabric seared from the metal frame-work.

"When the first rescuers reached the burning ship they were unable to reach any of the bodies of the thirteen in the cabin of the plane. It was a roaring furnace and the bodies of the victims could be seen piled in the center of the passenger compartment. Metal parts of the plane were red hot.

"The wreckage burned for some time, following the crash, and efforts to halt the flames were practically futile. Only small hand fire extinguishers, such as is carried on autos and in the planes were available.

"After the mass cooled slightly some of the bodies were taken from the ship, but all were held at the scene of the accident to await the arrival of the Coroner and police investigators," Westbrook said.

The army pilot, who is in temporary charge of the Ninth Pursuit Squadron as a reserve officer, would not hazard a guess as to the cause of the disaster. A fence, near the scene, was first reported to have turned the plane over as it sought a landing place, but Westbrook said that he does not believe that was the cause.

Police from San Clemente and other authorities hurried to the scene immediately after the report was received and more than 500 motorists and others were gathered around the flaming wreckage. Many of the bodies were reported burned beyond recognition and difficulty is expected in obtaining accurate identification.

OFFICIALS GO TO SCENE

Officials of the T.A.T.-Maddux lines went to the scene of the crash as soon as possible, and expected to meet Col. Lindbergh at San Clemente. Lindbergh, Mrs. Lindbergh, Mrs. J. L. Maddux, wife of the Maddux Line president, and Jack Maddux, Jr., were spending the week-end in San Diego. When informed of the accident Lindbergh got in touch with the officials here and arranged for an investigation to be launched at once.

Three operating officials of the company left Glendale Airport last night by automobile for the scene of the crash. They are Felix Preeg, flight superintendent; William Helmick, superintendent of transportation, and St. Clair Welch, special assistant to Vice-President Maddux in operation details.

FEAR FELT FOR CREW OF VANCOUVER BOAT

VANCOUVER (B. C.,) Jan. 19. (AP)—Fear for the safety of the tugboat Farquhar and its crew of Capt. J. E. Breeze and five men, which left here last Wednesday with a scow in tow for Bellingham, was expressed tonight. Efforts to get word of the missing craft, unreported since sailing from Vancouver, have been unsuccessful, it was stated tonight.

COAST PILOT DESCRIBES STRUGGLE AGAINST FOG

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 19. (AP)—A graphic account of what were the last moments of the great T.A.T.-Maddux plane was given tonight by Lamar Nelson, pilot of a Western Air Express plane which left Agua Caliente for Los Angeles a short time ahead of the T.A.T.-Maddux craft.

"I ran into heavy fog a little beyond Oceanside and turned back toward Oceanside," Nelson said. "Then I went inland, trying to get under the fog, but when it closed down I went back to the coast. I thought of following the highway and getting bearings by the headlights, for the ceiling had closed down to about 100 feet.

"Then the Maddux ship went by, apparently following the highway by the lights of the automobiles. I thought I would give it four or five minutes to get through or come back before starting through myself. I waited that time and started after it. I had hardly got started when I saw a great flash.

"I turned to the co-pilot and said: 'My God, there goes Maddux.' Then I turned around and headed back to San Diego and lived about seventy years going through the fog until we struck the clear space around San Diego. We landed at North Island."

Nelson spent twenty minutes in the neighborhood of Oceanside before the Maddux plane came through and five minutes more after it passed.

TRADE BAD AND PARIS SAD

American Women Turn Up Noses at Costly Garb They Can Buy at Home for Less

PARIS, Jan. 19. (AP)—French shopkeepers, particularly those who sell articles of women's wear, are looking for the answer to the question "why don't American women buy more?"

Trades are puzzled over why the American woman, once an almost sure customer, has become a hesitating client apt to turn away with the promise to think it over.

For the answer, one must sit around in hotels and listen in on the comments of American women shoppers. Very few women come to Paris without the idea of buying something. Many of them come with long shopping lists.

The gist of the shoppers' grievance is:

"I can buy better at home for the money and not worry about the customs."

Mass production and American women's insistence on a dollar's worth for a dollar have created clothes standards and shopping values in the United States of which the European woman has no conception.

Bargain basement, collective buying and improved machinery enter into the American dollar's buying power. The woman who knows her dollar has the idea nine times out of ten that it ought to buy as much or more in France, where labor is supposedly cheap.

Reports from the United States Trade Commissioner show that 75 per cent of all dresses and skirts sold in France are ready made. The average American woman turns away from the ready-to-wear garments of the French store with scorn, finding them inferior in workmanship and quality to those she is accustomed to buy at home at similar prices.

She buys her stockings for less than the French woman does. Two dollars buys a quality of hosiery in France which the American woman is accustomed to get for $1. Fine hose sells at $3 to $5 in France.

The $6 shoes of America have no counterpart in France, most American women will tell you. French shoes at similar prices do not compare for workmanship or materials in the opinion of most American women.

In gloves, the French commodity is unquestionably supreme. More and more travelers are confining their purchases to gloves, although costume jewelry runs gloves a close second.

National Guard Receives Issue of New Uniforms

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 19. (AP)—New uniforms are en route from New York to San Francisco for the 5800 enlisted men of the California National Guard, Adjt.-Gen. R. E. Mittelstaedt has announced.

This is the first issue of uniforms since the World War. Up to this time the guardsmen have been using the stock left over from the war.

The new issue brings to the guardsmen the roll collar now being used by the Regular Army. The color of the new suits will be the same "Melton cloth" olive drab, but Gen. Mittelstaedt assures, the coats will be better fitting, hence more attractive, than the old issue.

Writer Shot During Hold-up Gravely Hurt

NEW YORK, Jan. 19. (AP)—Garet Garrett, financial and political writer, is in a hospital in a serious condition from three bullet wounds received when he resisted robbery in a West Fifteenth street restaurant last night.

Garrett was dining with another man and two women when two masked men entered, one pointed a small revolver and told the diners not to move.

Garrett rose and started toward the hold-up men, demanding: "What's this all about?"

The man with the revolver fired and Garrett fell. The men fled without obtaining any money.

Italian Air Racer Killed in Crash

ROME, Jan. 19. (AP)—Warrant Officer Tomaso Dal Molin's seaplane fell into Lake Desenzano from a height of about fifty feet. His body was not recovered.

Dal Molin made an average speed of 284.20 miles an hour over the cup course off the Isle of Wight. The British successfully defended the trophy with the average speed of 328.63 miles an hour set by Flying Officer H. R. D. Waghorn.

DISASTER ENDS HONEYMOON

Lieut. Tomlinson, Maddux Official and Friend of Dead Pilots, Will Fly to Crash Scene Today

The honeymoon of Lieut. D. W. Tomlinson at Palm Springs was cut tragically short by the disaster of the T.A.T.-Maddux plane last night. He will fly to the scene early this morning. Only the peril of flying through the San Gorgonio Pass in unfavorable weather conditions prevented him from making the flight last night immediately upon his receipt of the news.

With his bride, the former Miss Virginia Sullivan, he flew to Palms Springs Saturday night following their marriage, intending to enjoy their honeymoon at the desert resort. He is an official of the T.A.T.-Maddux company and was a personal friend of the ill-fated pilots, Basil Russell and Freddie Walker.

"We had issued emphatic warnings to our pilots about the late trip back from San Diego," said Lieut. Tomlinson last night over the telephone, "and an extensive special order now stands at the airport pertaining to this trip and by which our pilots are ordered to guide themselves.

"Every precaution necessary to cope with the special weather problems likely to be encountered at this time in the region where the accident occurred are detailed in this special order. The order was especially prepared to apply to the planes returning late from the south at this time of year.

"Until an official investigation is made, it is premature to venture an opinion as to what was responsible for the crash."

Lieut. Tomlinson is the surviving member of the original Sea Hawks, famous navy flyers, who have entertained thousands of people with their spectacular and skillful flights at exhibitions.

The special order referred to by Lieut. Tomlinson instructs the pilot flying south from the Glendale Airport at 3:30 p.m. to give the pilot returning from Agua Caliente on the last flight full details of weather conditions as he observes them on his trip.

There is a standing order to all pilots that if weather conditions are unfavorable, the planes are to stay on the ground. What report was made of flying conditions to Russell and Walker before they started on the ill-fated return journey could not be ascertained by officials at the local airport last night.

PALM BEACH PLANE FALL KILLS THREE

Two Injured Critically as Cabin Monoplane Dives Into Lake Worth

PALM BEACH (Fla.) Jan. 19. (AP) Three men were killed and two injured critically late today when a cabin monoplane dived into Lake Worth here.

The dead are William Lindley, pilot, Daytona Beach; Arthur Umps, mechanic, Daytona Beach, and Ed Lipsky, believed to be a mechanic, Daytona Beach.

The injured are Ed S. Butler, Miami, and Elber Stossell, West Palm Beach.

The cause of the crash was not determined. Witnesses said the plane evidently was trying to land on the lake and fell from a height of about 500 feet.

The party is believed to have been en route from West End in the Bahamas to Daytona Beach.

"Times" Writer Witnesses Airship's Plunge

DR. LOVELL FIRST AT CRASH SCENE

Reaches Phone and Flashes Story to Paper

News of Disaster Conveyed to Waiting Airport

Flames Delay Attempts to Rescue Victims

First details of the tragic air crash which snuffed out the lives of sixteen persons last night in an attempted emergency landing midway between Oceanside and San Clemente were relayed to T.A.T.-Maddux Lines at Grand Central Air Terminal station here, through a report telephoned by Dr. Phillip Lovell.

DR. PHILIP H. LOVELL.

Dr. Lovell, who is the editor of the Care of the Body, in the Sunday Times Magazine, was a near eye-witness of the crash and one of the first to reach the scene.

Surmising the magnitude of the disaster and identifying the plane, Dr. Lovell flashed the telephonic information to The Times and it was immediately given to the Maddux officials.

At that time they reported the ill-fated plane as thirty minutes overdue at the terminal, but had no word of its whereabouts. They were apprehensive, as their reports had the plane and its fourteen passengers leaving the Agua Caliente flying field at 5:50 p.m.

In describing the crash Dr. Lovell said that he was driving home from San Diego, when he observed the huge bird and its human cargo a few miles north of Oceanside.

"The ship was flying low toward the ocean, about one-half a mile from me. I heard the crash and saw the flames. It was approximately twelve miles north of Oceanside, and about 6:25 o'clock. I hurried to the scene and recognized the ship as the Agua Caliente passenger plane of the T.A.T.-Maddux Lines. I knew that everyone had been killed and burned, as the flames were intense."

Dr. Lovell remained at the scene for several hours attempting to render aid.

HORRORS OF CRASH TOLD BY WITNESS

Ole Hansen's Son One of First to Reach Inferno as Fire Sweeps Death Plane

"It swooped suddenly to the ground and after skidding along for several yards burst into flames with a loud explosion."

The actual crash of the Maddux-T.A.T. air liner was so described by Robert Hansen, 22-year-old son of Ole Hansen, founder of San Clemente, an eye-witness to the tragedy.

"When I first saw the big plane in the air," Hansen said, "the motors were missing and from the low altitude at which it was flying as well as from the way it was being handled, I knew the pilot was having trouble. It appeared to be moving along at about 200 feet from the ground before the crash.

"When I reached it after it had struck the ground the last shreds of inflammable material were burning away. The metal frame was glowing red-hot. I could see about a dozen bodies heaped about the plane.

"The clothing had been burned from the bodies, and all were dead by the time I reached the spot."

With the arrival of Chief of Police Eaton of San Clemente, and other officers the work began of removing the victims from the charred wreckage. Police and fire officials summoned a squad of men with fire extinguishers, which had to be played on the plane before the rescue work could begin.

THWARTS HOLD-UP MAN

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—To Charles Levin, tailor, goes the honor of discovering the newest method to thwart a robber. Levin threw up his fists instead of his hands when ordered, grappled for possession of the would-be hold-up man's pistol, and the barrel came off in Levin's hand. The robber fled. Levin still has the barrel.

LOST SHIP BUILT AT DEARBORN

Giant Monoplane Valued at $55,000 and Weighed, Loaded, 13,500 Pounds

The T.A.T.-Maddux plane was manufactured by the Stout Metal Airplane Company, division of Ford Motor Company, at Dearborn, Mich., and was priced at $55,000 at the factory. The ship was of the approved type 165 and was a 16-place cabin, land monoplane with a wing span of 77 feet 10 inches and with a length over all of 49 feet 10 inches. It was 13 feet 8 inches in height.

The wing area, including ailerons, was 835 square feet, while the ailerons alone had an area of 52 square feet.

The ship when empty weighed 7500 pounds. Its useful load was 6000 pounds and its pay load 3775 pounds. Its gross weight loaded was 13,500 pounds, giving it a wing load of 16.10 pounds per square foot. Its power loading was 10.60 pounds per horsepower.

Its power plant consisted of three P. and W. Wasp motors which were rated at 450-h.p., at 2100 revolutions per minute each. The motors were nine-cylinder air-cooled radial. The fuel capacity was 277 gallons, while the oil capacity was thirty gallons.

Its performance was 133 miles per hour at high speed with a landing speed of sixty-four miles per hour. Its cruising speed was 113 miles per hour and it could climb at 950 feet per minute with a service ceiling of 16,500 feet. Its absolute ceiling was 18,000 feet. Its cruising range was 510 miles.

The fuselage was of duralumin channel. The wing was full cantilever duralumin channel.

PLAN OF YOUNG ADOPTED TODAY

Reparation Program Ready to Be Acted Upon

Eleventh-Hour Problems All But Cleaned Up

Hour of Signing Document at The Hague Arranged

THE HAGUE, Jan. 19. (AP)—The Young plan for reparations payments by Germany will be adopted tomorrow in a formal session of the second Hague conference. Eleventh-hour difficulties that had seemed likely to prolong negotiations had about all been solved tonight.

The Hungarians, whose reparations bill was one of the most difficult to fix, agreed to pay 12,000,000 gold crowns annually to their creditors after 1943, instead of the 10,000,000 for which they had held out.

The other eastern reparations debtors, Austria and Bulgaria, with their creditors and the big powers have fixed up a scheme of pools to which all will contribute. That made possible a solution of the eastern reparations muddle.

A final conference to pick up the loose ends of the eastern reparations question will be held at 9:30 a.m., tomorrow. It was confidently expected tonight the ceremony of signature of the protocol will be held at 10:30 a.m. (5:30 a.m. eastern standard time.)

CHINA FAMINE TOLL IS HEAVY

Exacts More Lives Than Did the World War

Relief Board Head Tells of Stricken Provinces

Thirty Million Persons in Area Hit by Drought

NEW YORK, Jan. 19. (Exclusive) The famine in China is a catastrophe exacting a far greater human toll than did the World War, according to David A. Brown, chairman of the board of China Famine Relief, U.S.A., on the basis of advices just received at the headquarters of that organization here. At the same time, Dr. Brown directed attention to cable dispatches received in this country during the past fortnight stating that many victims of subzero weather, prevalent throughout the northern provinces of China, have been found frozen to death in streets.

CONDITIONS ARE WORSE

Heavy rains during July and August of last year, Dr. Brown said, had relieved the drought situation in the provinces of Shantung, Hopei, Shansi and most of Honan, but, on the other hand, conditions are worse than ever in the provinces of Kansu, Shensi, Suiyuan and part of Charhar. The famine district covers an area of 450,000 square miles, with a population of 30,000,000.

"Confirmation of the appalling dimensions of the famine peril," Dr. Brown said, "is contained in a letter from Rt. Rev. Logan H. Roots, bishop of the American Church Mission for Hankow district, who says in a letter dated November 20, last, to Dr. Sidney L. Gulick of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America that a deputation of Hankow merchants who had investigated the famine area found conditions much more serious than previous reports had indicated.

SEEK AMERICAN AID

"Additional confirmation of the tragic state of affairs," Dr. Brown said, "is given in a letter to China Famine Relief, U.S.A., from the National Christian Council of China, which left Shantung one week later than Bishop Roots's letter. The National Christian Council, which made an independent investigation, urges that further appeals be made to the American people to relieve the situation.

The American people have never been either slow or niggardly in coming to the aid of suffering humanity regardless of race or creed or color, and, therefore, I have no hesitancy in calling upon them for their assistance in the efforts of China Famine Relief to save these tragic victims of flood and drought and crop failures," Dr. Brown declared. "I feel that by bringing this shocking situation to their attention they will once more respond as they have so often and so generously responded to the cry of human distress.

RELIEF UNHINDERED

"They may be confident that the contributions they make for the relief of the Chinese famine victims will reach their ultimate destination in the shortest possible time. It is significant that, notwithstanding the unsettled political situation in China, there have been no obstacles or hindrances of the relief effort. In the handling of over $1,000,000 there has been less than $400 loss, and the relief administrative body in China with which we are co-operating, China International Famine Relief Commission, pays its staff salaries out of its endowment fund."

Dague Admits Part in Killing

PHOENIX, Jan. 19. (AP)—Walter Glenn Dague confessed today to Sheriff Wright of Maricopa county that he, Mrs. Irene Schroeder of Benwood, W. Va., and "another man" were involved in the slaying of Pennsylvania State Highway Patrol Corporal Brady Paul and wounding of Private Ernest Moore near Newcastle, Pa., on December 27, 1929.

Mrs. Schroeder, held here with Dague and another man on charges of assault with intent to murder, professed little interest when shown the signed confession. "I don't know anything about the darn thing," she said.

SHASTA COUNTY'S LAST CONFEDERATE PASSES

REDDING, Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—Thomas M. Pemberton, the last Confederate soldier left in Shasta county, died here today. He was 83 years of age. Pemberton surrendered with his company at Shreveport, La., to Gen. Canby after Lee had surrendered to Grant at Appomattox in 1865.

EX-FILM MAN KILLED

SEATTLE, Jan. 19. (AP)—John A. Dewey, 42 years of age, formerly a technical director of motion pictures in Hollywood, plunged ten stories to his death from his hotel room here early today. Mrs. Margaret Dewey told the Coroner's office her husband had been drinking heavily before he either leaped or toppled through the window.

YOUNG ARM OF CHAMBER STRETCHING

Phoenix Conference Told Junior Group Has Plans to Become International

PHOENIX, Jan. 19. (AP)—Harry Kruss, executive secretary of the National Junior Chamber of Commerce, at the closing session of its midwinter conference here today, said the United States junior chamber hopes to further friendly relations with foreign countries in an effort to make the organization international in scope.

Speaking for E. Rollins Dunn of New York, chairman of the foreign relations committee, Kruss said invitations have been extended to England and Canadian junior chambers to be represented at the Brooklyn national convention this summer. There are at present nine such organizations in England, Kruss said, all of which have been formed within the last four years. Inquiries regarding organization methods and constitutional plans already have been received from Tokio and Moscow, he added.

South Carolina to Open Drive on Illiteracy

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19. (AP)—The first State-wide campaign ever conducted in the United States to teach illiterates to write their names will open tomorrow in South Carolina under auspices of the President's national advisory committee on illiteracy.

Committees will be sent into every community to enroll into classes those who cannot sign their name. All who enter these classes will be encouraged to enroll into others to learn to read and write.

A mechanical method will be used in teaching the pupils to write their names. The name of the pupil will be grooved into a soft surface with a hard instrument and the illiterate will trace his name with a pencil in these grooves.

Prince Reaches Africa Today

ABOARD S. S. KENILWORTH CASTLE, Jan. 19. (AP)—The Prince of Wales is looking forward eagerly to landing at Cape Town tomorrow. He is in excellent health, having greatly benefited by the long sea voyage from England, and is eager to resume the hunting trip interrupted more than a year ago by the illness of the King.

The Prince particularly appreciated the manner in which all aboard observed his desire to be treated as an ordinary private passenger.

Philippine Army Posts Made Dry

MANILA, Jan. 19. (AP)—A War Department general order made public here today ordered enforcement of the national prohibition law at all army posts garrisoned by American soldiers.

Seven reservations in the Philippine Islands are affected by the order, which is effective February 11. Hereafter no liquor may be kept in quarters, but the rule does not prohibit drinking off the post.

HOOVER'S LAND PLAN WILL BE DISCUSSED

PORTLAND (Or.) Jan. 19. (AP)—Public officials and business men from all sections of Oregon will meet here Thursday, at the call of Gov. Norblad, to discuss President Hoover's suggestion to return all unclassified public lands to individual States. E. C. Van Petten of Ontario, representative of Hoover's committee to study the question, will attend as will representatives of various civic and commercial organizations.

SYMPHONY PLAYER CONTRACTS SMALLPOX

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—During a concert by the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra today at the Curran Theater, one of the musicians collapsed and upon being removed to the Central Emergency Hospital, was said by physicians there to be suffering from smallpox. As a result, all members of the orchestra were ordered to the hospital for vaccination.

Teacup Universal Password of Sex, She Holds

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19. (AP)—With twenty-nine years of experience in practical politics Mrs. Louise M. Dodson, successor to Mrs. Alvin T. Hert as director of the woman's division of the Republican party, plans a teacup campaign with her own office as demonstration laboratory.

A kitchenette for every Republican headquarters and a tea service for every county committeewoman is Mrs. Dodson's goal. One of her first moves when she came to the headquarters of the Republican National Committee a year ago as Mrs. Hert's assistant was to install a kitchenette and invite Republican women of the District of Columbia to drop in for tea—and talk.

TELLS RESULT

Mrs. Dodson reported today that within the year's test of the tea-table theory, Washington's "voteless league" of Republican women has jumped from 200 to 800 members.

"There is a feminine psychology in politics," she said. "The woman everywhere is the social end of a combination where there are men and women.

"Each county has its committeeman, its committeewoman. If that committeewoman is wise enough in feminine psychology to serve in her social capacity political results of far-reaching importance will be achieved while women drink tea."

Mrs. Dodson declared that, "speaking again from the standpoint of practical politics," sociability is one of the very few working principles for women.

"TEA AND TALK"

"I have 'tramped' in every State of the United States but two on errands for the Republican party," she said. "I've sampled every sort of travel, met every type of citizen and have enjoyed them all. I have learned that an appeal that is effective in Southern New Mexico is a waste of words in Northern New Mexico. But tea and talk go together everywhere."

Mrs. Dodson said she was "a young green creature who had been nothing but housewife and teacher," when circumstances thrust her into politics.

RUSSO-CHINESE PEACE IN PERIL

Final Settlement of Railway Dispute Endangered

Nationalists Repudiate Pact of Previous Protocol

Conference May be Delayed for Another Month

TOKIO, Jan. 19. (AP)—The action of Nationalist government heads in repudiating portions of the protocol signed between Russia and China at Khabarovsk, Siberia, at the close of six months of quasi warfare appeared today to have endangered final immediate settlement of the Chinese Eastern Railway controversy.

Rengo news agency reports from Harbin, Manchuria, said Nationalist heads charged Tsai Yun-sheng, conferee at Khabarovsk for the Mukden government, exceeded his powers and renounced his signature. A postponement of the conference scheduled to be held at Moscow next Saturday appears certain.

FINAL PACT HOPED FOR

It was hoped that final settlement of the conflict, which started with the Chinese seizure of the Chinese Eastern Railway last July, would be made at the Moscow meeting. The protocol signed at Khabarovsk between the Mukden government and soviet representatives later was announced to have had the support of the Nationalist authorities. It arranged for a Russian manager and assistant to operate the railway with Chinese officials.

Manchurian officials as a result of Nanking's attitude are facing the alternative of either defying the Nationalist government and negotiating a separate agreement, which Moscow is said to be encouraging, or to continue the costly and dangerous bickering with Russia.

Tsai Yun-sheng after a consultation with Gov. Chang Hsueh-liang of Manchuria and Gen. Chang Tso-hiang, second in command to the Governor, asked M. Simanovsky, representative of the soviet government, to postpone the conference and for a change of venue.

DELAY GRANTED

Acting on Moscow's instructions, Simanovsky is reported to have refused a change of venue but agreed to postpone the meeting for a month. Meanwhile there has been no sign of the imminent departure of Chinese negotiators toward Russia.

Regardless of the diplomatic troubles, restoration of peace-time conditions on the railway progresses steadily. Apparently the Russians were in virtual control of the road. The lines and rolling stock have been repaired and Chinese are relinquishing those railway properties and concessions seized last July.

NEW RHODES SCHOLARSHIP RULES MADE

States to Be Divided Into Eight Districts, Each to Select Four Students

SWARTHMORE (Pa.) Jan. 19. (AP) Two important changes in the regulations governing the American Rhodes scholarships were announced today by Dr. Frank Aydelotte, president of Swarthmore College and American secretary to the Rhodes trustees.

Beginning with this year the States of the Union will be grouped into eight districts of six States each, and the thirty-two scholarships assigned annually to the United States will be divided equally among the districts, making a quota of four scholarships for each group of six States.

There will be a competition in every State each year. Each State committee of selection will nominate from the candidates applying to it the two best men to appear before the district committee. The district committee then will select from the twelve candidates nominated four men who will represent their respective States as Rhodes scholars at Oxford.

By this system the scholarships will be distributed among the States of a given district in accordance with the merit of the candidates. The grouping of States by districts for 1930 places California in the seventh district with Nevada, Utah, Arizona, Colorado and New Mexico.

Talking Films Bring Protest

PARIS, Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—Protesting against the influx of American talking films, which they claim put them out of work, a number of film theater musicians invaded a boulevard showhouse last night and held a demonstration.

The film had to be stopped and gendarmes were called, but the demonstrators after explaining to the indifferent audience how the talkies are depriving them of employment, left the theater peaceably.

The talking films have as yet made little inroads in Paris, which boasts fewer theaters with sound equipment than any capital in Europe.

Policeman Kills Parents-in-Law

ST. PAUL, Jan. 19. (AP)—While half a dozen relatives looked on, Patrolman Henry Mallinger late today shot and killed his former wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kreidl, at the latters' home here.

Mallinger was arrested two hours later by motorcycle patrolmen. In a statement at police headquarters Mallinger said he had killed the couple because "they had been the cause of all my trouble."

Mr. and Mrs. Mallinger were divorced two years ago.

STATE ERRANDS ENGAGE WILBUR

Interior Secretary Arrives in San Francisco

Oil Conservation First of Problems Tackled

Kettleman Hills Making of Bay City, Residents Told

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—Coming to California on a number of official errands, most important of which, he said, had to do with the conservation of oil and natural gas in the Kettleman Hills district and the putting of that section under the unit plan of operation, Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, Secretary of the Interior, arrived in San Francisco late last night. He was accompanied by Mrs. Wilbur.

"Conservation must play an all-important part in the development of Kettleman Hills," declared Dr. Wilbur. "Drilling must be regulated in this field, where there are billions of gallons of oil that rates more than 80 per cent gasoline as it comes out of the ground, to say nothing of natural-gas production, which is already coming to San Francisco for industrial purposes.

"I might say right here that much of San Francisco's future industrial production lies in the Kettleman Hills development and the city should keep its eye on that district. Natural gas means cheap fuel for industrial purposes. It does not take much more than inexpensive fuel and a wonderful harbor to make a great city."

While in California Dr. Wilbur will confer with the State's oil conservationists in matters pertaining to the rich Kern county oil area, 30 per cent of which is public land leased to individuals and to companies by the government. California's water conservation program will also be looked into by the Cabinet member in other conferences with the State Conservation Board on Water.

Dr. Wilbur, former president of Stanford University, timed his westward trip, he said, so that he might pay his respects today to David Starr Jordan, chancellor emeritus of Stanford, on the occasion of Dr. Jordan's seventy-ninth birthday.

DR. JORDAN'S NATAL DATE CELEBRATED

Chancellor Emeritus of Stanford Congratulated on Seventy-ninth Birthday

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Jan. 19. (AP)—Dr. David Starr Jordan, chancellor emeritus of Stanford University, celebrated his seventy-ninth birthday at his home here today.

Dr. George J. Pierce, representing the Academic Council of the university, presented the former chancellor with a tribute from the council. More than 200 names were attached to a document presented to Dr. Jordan, a space being left at the top for the signature of Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, Secretary of the Interior, who is expected to call tomorrow. Secretary Wilbur, absent on leave as president of the university, is on the Coast on business.

The document congratulated Dr. Jordan on the "originality, vision and courage in thought, speech and action" with which he had laid the foundation of an establishment for the training of youth in usefulness to themselves and their fellow-men.

A family dinner was served today, the only other departure from Dr. Jordan's invalid routine. Messages from all over the world arrived during the day, among them greetings from Gov. Young and President Campbell of the University of California. A message of greeting from Mrs. Herbert Hoover was received, a similar one from the President having reached Dr. Jordan yesterday.

At a vesper service in Stanford Memorial chapel this afternoon recognition was given the former chancellor for his work toward world peace.

Hoover Chooses Tate to Sit on Interstate Body

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—Hugh Tate of Knoxville, Tenn., will be nominated by President Hoover as the new southern member of the Interstate Commerce Commission, it was learned here today from reliable sources. Tate will take the vacancy made by the retirement of Richard B. Taylor of Alabama, whose term had expired and who was not reappointed.

Tate is a member of the legal firm of Cates, Tate & Long, of Knoxville, and is a lifelong Republican.

The nomination of R. M. Jones of Knoxville for this position was sent to the Senate about three weeks ago from the White House, but Jones withdrew his name before being confirmed.

BAY REGION GROUP SEEKS CO-OPERATION

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—Closer co-operation between cities of the Bay District and a better understanding of mutual problems is the aim of an organization not yet officially christened which consists of the mayors of a score or more surrounding cities and towns. Communities represented are Berkeley, Burlingame, Daly City, El Cerrito, Hayward, Menlo Park, Petaluma, San Leandro, San Rafael, Santa Clara, Sausalito, Vallejo, Walnut Creek, Santa Rosa and Palo Alto. Mayor Christensen of Palo Alto has been named permanent chairman and H. A. Mason, treasurer of the League of California Municipalities, was named to a similar office in the new organization.

After 40 Ailment
for there are no warning symptoms!

Yet over half of men and women are afflicted. What doctors urge.

UNKNOWN to yourself, you may have a prevalent after 40 ailment—kidney breakdown. 6 out of 10 men and women are affected, doctors say.

And because kidney breakdown is the forerunner of many serious ills, medical science has investigated the cause. Its findings are these:

Kidneys, contrary to popular opinion, excrete 75% of all waste matter from the system, much in too concentrated form. Wear and tear on delicate kidney cells begins to tell at 40. Breakdown occurs, congestion of waste matter follows, and poisons which should be eliminated are turned back into the system. It is here that kidney breakdown becomes a serious menance to health.

Drink a mineral-free water, urge doctors

Now, largely on medical advice, thousands are drinking Puritas mineral-free water. It is the most effective combatant known to kidney ailment. Puritas keeps kidneys flushed, thus aids in diluting poisonous waste and carrying it away.

Ordinary water fails, in large measure, in these results, because of minerals it contains. These deposit in kidneys, adding further to congestion. But Puritas, through scientific distillation is both mineral-free, impurity-free; water in its purest form. Thus it leaves no mineral content to add further to congestion.

Although at first, you'll find Puritas different in taste, each drink you will increasingly enjoy.

Why not order Puritas today; and know that every glass you drink protects health as well as quenches thirst? Phone TRinity 1861 and immediate delivery will be made, anywhere in Southern California. A Puritas iceless cooler furnished free. Order today.

California Third in States With Public Program of $202,230,123

Lamont Report to Hoover Says Year's Schedule Promises Record

BY ROBERT B. ARMSTRONG
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—California has pledged public construction work this year totaling $202,230,123. This total is exceeded only by New York State with more than twice the population, with $475,275,442 and Ohio, with $233,225,000.

All these are strictly public undertakings and do not take in private homes, commercial or industrial buildings. They are included in the latest report submitted by Secretary of Commerce Lamont to President Hoover.

Complete reports from twenty-six States and estimates for twenty-two others whose reports are not yet filed call for almost $7,000,000,000 on public works and public-utility expansion during 1930. Secretary Lamont in his report to the President estimates that in addition to this the private buildings for homes, industrial and commercial enterprises in 1930 will aggregate $3,000,000,000 more, making a total expenditure this year in this field alone for extensions and new projects of approximately $10,000,000,000.

Some of the States, which have not reported may exceed the present estimates and the total new work contemplated in 1930 may exceed the $10,000,000,000 mark.

Complete returns from the governors of twenty-six States combined with conservative estimates based on partial returns from the remaining States, indicate probable expenditures for public works including Federal construction of $3,325,000,000 during the year.

Programs for betterments to plant and equipment announced by public utilities, railroads and telegraph companies, represent expenditures of almost an equal amount during the year, namely, $3,250,000,000.

According to Dr. John M. Gries, chief of the construction division, the designated expenditures for both types of construction are in excess of all previous records during times of peace.

In reporting the figures to Secretary Lamont, Dr. Gries pointed out in connection with public-utility construction that large amounts will also be spent for maintenance of existing plants and equipment. This sum is estimated at $410,000,000 for the electric, gas and street railway companies alone.

New construction announced by the twenty-six States is divided as follows:

Arkansas, $35,178,650; California, $202,230,123; Connecticut, $40,000,000; Delaware, $6,000,000; Florida, $19,462,366; Idaho, $8,100,000; Kansas, $46,104,561; Maine, $18,000,000; Massachusetts, $103,460,000; Missouri, $67,415,789; Montana, $11,500,000; Nebraska, $32,000,000; New Hampshire, $8,750,000; New Mexico, $7,000,000; New York, $475,275,442; North Carolina, $36,000,000; North Dakota, $7,000,000; Ohio, $233,225,000; Oregon, $29,500,000; South Carolina, $33,000,000; Texas, $160,000,000; Virginia, $31,000,000; Washington, $37,000,000; West Virginia, $73,000,000; Wisconsin, $61,430,000; Wyoming, $6,000,000.

SOUTH SEA ISLANDERS FIRST HERE

Berkeley Anthropologist Finds Relics Dating Back Before Columbus Voyage

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 19. (AP)—Indications that South Sea Islanders reached America long before the Europeans have been found in ancient Indian graves on the Santa Rosa and Santa Cruz Islands off Santa Barbara, it was announced here today by Dr. Ronald Olson, University of California anthropologist and member of the American Museum of Natural History.

In ancient burial grounds of the extinct Chumash Indians on these islands, Dr. Olson disclosed, university anthropologists have unearthed shell fishhooks, plank canoes and other implements of war and peace common to inhabitants of the South Seas. Some of the 10,000 relics, unearthed from 700 graves during the last few years, said Dr. Olson, date back to an era before the voyages of Lief Ericson and Columbus.

In a voluminous report on his discoveries, Dr. Olson cautioned that the evidence found by him is not definite enough to support positive statements. He said, however, that the findings indicate the Chumash Indians and the Polynesians were in communication before the year 1000 A.D.

EIGHT DIE IN BLAST AT COAL MINE

Four Others Injured, One of Whom May Expire, by West Virginia Explosion

BECKLEY (W. Va.) Jan. 19. (AP) Eight miners were killed and four others injured, one probably fatally in an explosion early today in the No. 1 mine of the Lillybrook Coal Company at Lillybrook, ten miles from Beckley.

The bodies of the victims, six negroes and two white men, were recovered by rescue crews four hours after the blast, which J. B. Clifton, president of the company, described as local in character. All apparently had been killed instantly.

The miner most seriously wounded, R. L. Meadows, was found lying beside the dead men, unconscious from burns. The other three injured men walked unaided from the mine before rescue crews reached the entry in which the explosion occurred, a mile back in the hills.

BYRD'S GLACIER PARTY RETURNS

Geologists Back From Perils of Three Months' Hike

All Well as Little America Camp Greets Them

Gould and Men Cover More Than 1500 Miles

BY RUSSELL OWEN

[Copyright, 1930, by Los Angeles Times, New York Times Company and St. Louis Post Dispatch. All rights for publication reserved throughout the world.]

LITTLE AMERICA (Antarctica) Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—Over the southern hills of the barrier to the south this morning appeared a long black line that moved slowly toward camp, dipping out of sight into hollows and reappearing, always a little nearer than before. It was the geological party led by Dr. Lawrence M. Gould coming in from a sledging journey which since it began has taken them more than 1500 statute miles. That is only a little less than the distance from here to the South Pole and back and is one of the longest sledging journeys ever made in the Antarctic.

As they came toward camp over the snow, dappled with shifting spots of sunlight that filtered through the clouds, those waiting for them fired off signal pistols, waved their arms and from the advancing group ski sticks were waved joyously. They had been on the trail for nearly three months.

They have been traveling at night and when they reached here at 9:30 they had covered thirty-four miles in their last long push.

They had been through some of the most dangerous trails that can be found, over huge crevasses forty and fifty feet wide, where the roofs fell in behind the sleds, clambered up the sides of mountains, where slipping snow threatened to overwhelm them, skidded across crevassed ice fields where sleds smashed against the sides of deep cracks, camped on places where the barrier snapped and groaned beneath them. They had traveled all the time except for three days when they were stormbound, collected a mass of valuable geological data and had come back in as good condition as when they started.

"We couldn't have had better food," said Gould, "and we had plenty of it. And not a bit of the trip was monotonous. We were too busy most of the time and even on the return enjoyed every foot of the way. We had the unusual experience of having a good time and knowing that we were having it. Nobody could have had a better gang to travel with. They were all fine."

sive)—With the passing today of the severest cold weather in Texas for thirty years which brought down the temperature on two successive nights to the low records of 16 to 22 deg. in the citrus and winter vegetable belts of South Texas, including the lower Rio Grande Valley, reports of heavy losses are coming in. More than 1000 carloads of grapefruit and oranges which were still unpicked were ruined, according to an estimate from Brownsville. Nursery tree stock suffered severely. All tender vegetables were wiped out. Many cattle and sheep upon the open range perished.

WARMER WEATHER DUE THROUGH SOUTH

ATLANTA (Ga.) Jan. 19. (AP)—Prospect of warmer weather in the next two days, with rain probably by Tuesday night, was announced today by the United States weather forecasters here. A predicted fall to zero failed to materialize last night, but several points reported readings little above.

Louisville showed 2 deg. for its low mark. Nashville reported 6. Ten deg. was reported at Asheville, Birmingham, Chattanooga and Memphis. Of twenty-eight reporting stations, seventeen had readings below 20 deg.

Little Rock and Vicksburg, reported 12 deg., Dallas and Shreveport, 14; Atlanta, 15; Mobile, San Antonio and Montgomery, 18; Raleigh and Pensacola, 20; New Orleans and Macon, 22; Thomasville, Ga., 26; Charlotte and Augusta, 32; Charleston, S. C., 34; Savannah, 36; Jacksonville, 40; Tampa, 53; Miami, 56; Key West, 66.

DRY KILLINGS ROUSE DORAN

Murder of Two Agents in Florida Raid Laid to Recent Attacks on Enforcement Squad

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19. (AP)—The killing of two prohibition agents in Florida yesterday in a raid on the home of a suspected bootlegger was blamed by Prohibition Commissioner Doran today upon "the recent inflammatory attacks upon our personnel."

Expressing regret over the slaying of F. R. Patterson and Robert K. Moncure in an attempt to search for liquor in the home of George W. Moore at West Palm Beach, the commissioner laid the responsibility for the shooting to recent attacks upon the enforcement squad.

The commissioner, in a monograph made public today, outlined what is required of prohibition agents, and said many of them are recruited from college graduates and that generally they are of a high type.

"I regret deeply the killing of any persons," Commissioner Doran said, "but the deaths of Patterson and Moncure, who went in broad daylight to serve a search warrant upon a suspected bootlegger, were due, in a large part, to recent inflammatory attacks upon our personnel which lead weak-minded criminals to attack honest and efficient officers acting in performance of their sworn duty."

The commissioner, who returned today from Boston and Detroit, where he spoke on prohibition enforcement, received a short preliminary report of the West Palm Beach killing from E. R. Tuttle, prohibition administrator of Savannah, Ga., under whose direction the agents were working.

"I took Moncure into the prohibition service several years ago," Doran said. "He was a fine, clean chap and an efficient, honest officer. He was a member of the Moncure family of Virginia, with whom I have been on intimate terms since I came to Washington twenty years ago."

The commissioner does not know what action will be taken against Moore.

Denouncing recent attacks on the personnel of his organization which he said jeopardized the lives of agents enforcing the Volstead Act, Doran said he has prohibited agents from using weapons except in defense of their lives or of the lives of their comrades. The agents, under these instructions, will let a prohibition law violator escape rather than resort to firearms, he added.

MOORE'S ATTORNEY SAYS WARRANT WAS NOT LEGAL

WEST PALM BEACH (Fla.) Jan. 19. (AP)—E. M. Baynes, attorney for George W. Moore, charged with the slaying last night of two prohibition agents here, asserted tonight that the agents attempted to enter Moore's home without legal warrant.

"They just overstepped their bounds and the shooting resulted," Baynes declared. He asserted that "the agents made an attempt to break into" the Moore home and that the warrant they held did not permit search after nightfall.

He said Moore repeatedly warned prohibition officers not to attempt to search his home after dark without a warrant permitting night-time entry.

TOKIO PREMIER HOPES FOR PACT

Hamaguchi in Statement on Eve of London Meet

Japan Will Contribute to Limit for Success

Wants Nations to Agree on Arms' Limitations

Associated Press Staff Writer

TOKIO, Jan. 20, (AP)—(Monday)—Premier Hamaguchi today on the eve of the opening of the five-power naval arms conference at London, gave the Associated Press an exclusive statement detailing Japan's hopes for success of the parley.

Japan, the Premier said, is determined to contribute to the limit of her ability to make the conference "a success, a triumph of good sense and good will." He expressed Japan's hope that the "newly-developed spirit of trust among nations which we have written into the treaty outlawing war, will permit us to approach this task free from many of the fears and suspicions which has hampered our former efforts."

PREMIER'S STATEMENT

The statement follows:

"Japan enters the naval conference at London with the full, solemn realization of the opportunity offered there to share in the achievement which the future generations shall hold in grateful remembrance. We are determined to contribute to the limit of our ability to make it a success, a triumph of good sense and good will, through reconciliation of our various needs for defense with universal aspirations to be released from the dangers and burdens of competitive armament.

"Our government believes that the newly developed spirit of trust among nations, which we have written into the treaty outlawing war, permits us to approach this task free from many of the fears and suspicions which have hampered our former efforts. We have sent our delegates to London hopeful that they can accomplish more than merely set the limits of the production of ships of war; we want actual reduced navies, either those in the being or those in the building and projected and so lighten the burdens of our people.

FOR UNITED PEOPLE

"Our delegates speak for a united people. We believe in the justice of those proposals they are to lay before the conference. Any amount of naval strength Japan proposes to retain for herself will always be gauged by the minimum needs for her national security, no more, and no less. Content with an inferior strength than the American or British navies, we offer no menace to any power."

"Japan hopes the London conference will produce an agreement among all of the five powers participating. She wants the provisions of that agreement to become immediately effective but also hopes that this will lead to a wider application of the principles of disarmament through the League of Nations.

"The government hopes that beyond the agreement concerning auxiliary vessels, the five powers can arrange an extension of the capital ship holiday. Further we hope to lighten the burdens of the capital ship replacement schedules fixed at the Washington conference by reducing the maximum tonnages and gun calibers—if indeed it be necessary that these schedules be carried out at all."

delegation exchanged preliminary views with the Japanese delegates in Washington, so no further conferences have been necessary between them here. Stimson held long conversations with Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald soon after reaching London and thus has completed his background for the conference.

Premier Tardieu, on his arrival from The Hague, had said, "I am deeply convinced that the forthcoming discussions will be a great success. France will do everything she can to insure this success, because the position of France is completely clear and honest."

While the chief French delegates were discussing their meeting with Secretary Stimson, news came to the French Embassy of the successful conclusion of The Hague conference on reparations. This was considered a happy augury for the London negotiations, for if there had been failure at The Hague the French attitude here probably would have been changed materially.

The whole American delegation spent a busy Sunday. For some of them it was sight-seeing on a January day more like spring than winter, but for their chief, Mr. Stimson, it was a day largely taken by the exchange of views with representatives of the two continental powers.

HIGH SEAS DAMAGE TO BE REPAIRED

Old Wall Along Beach at Santa Barbara Suffers in Severe Storm of Last Week

SANTA BARBARA, Jan. 19.—City Engineer Eugene Brown has completed arrangements to obtain a pile driver owned by Norman E. Marsh in securing equipment to provide immediate reinforcement of the old sea wall on East Cabrillo Boulevard Beach, to prevent further damage caused by high seas.

A fund of $3000 was placed at the disposal of Engineer Brown to be used in securing workmen, machinery and material on the project at a special meeting of the City Council when an emergency ordinance was adopted to provide money for the work.

Investigation revealed that the storm last week undermined and destroyed more than fifty feet of the old sea wall and in places where the beach was afforded no protection, the breakers destroyed more than fifteen feet of the shore line. Officials announced that the remainder of the wall was certain to be destroyed unless immediate steps are taken to protect the gaps. More than a mile of the old sea wall has been undermined and a permanent wall will be needed to give adequate protection to the beach and Cabrillo Boulevard.

BANK CLERK PROMOTED

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 19. L. O. Furness, in charge of the note department of the Security-First National Bank, has been promoted to be teller to succeed F. A. Pratt, who resigned not long ago. Pratt left to go into the poultry-raising business at Reseda.

PALM SPRINGS, Jan. 19.—The desert that is so near to Los Angeles is enjoying a vogue among the elite of that city as well as the usual eastern visitors this winter. It is attributable to other facts, besides that of the sudden change in weather. The new municipal golf course, recently opened by P. T. Stevens, a local resident and philanthropist, is filling a long-felt want for the numbers of golfers among those who make this their winter playground. An unusual feature about this golf course is that the greens fees and other profits are being donated to the Children's Orthopedic Hospital, the Salvation Army and other charities. Planning to spend about $100,000 on the project, Stevens will also set up a trust fund to take care of future expenses.

Another reason for the influx of Southland society and celebrities of screenland, is the fact that one can now swim in the open air under the desert sun all day long without the least fear of a stinging wind that might blow down from snow-covered Mt. San Jacinto, towering two miles above this little village of palms and cactus. A high wall of Spanish design surrounds the plunge of El Mirador Hotel and affords adequate protection and, in addition, the constantly changing water is kept warmed to a temperature of 76 deg.

A glance at the hotel registers proves that Hollywood "has gone desert." Among the famous to be staying here to avoid the January storms, are: Ina Claire, famous New York actress and wife of John Gilbert; Mary Lewis, Metropolitan Opera star; Zoe Akins, celebrated playwright; Edmund Goulding, director and writer of scores of successful films and now a song writer of best - sellers. Then there are Irving Berlin and family, with his piano; Elsie Janis and her mother. Victor McLaglen makes periodic dashes here and thrills more young debs with his swimming or riding; young Phillis Holmes, actor, son of Taylor Holmes.

The post plans to build this structure by voluntary contribution of labor and money by its members. Every man has been assigned a job according to his abilities, the commander announced.

Besides being a large post headquarters, with basement, the building, which is of English type of architecture, will include a large canteen lunchroom. The site immediately adjoins the ten-acre Covina city park.

The canteen is expected to be an all-year feature. The property, which will reach a value of about $8000, has already been generously subscribed to, and plans are under consideration by the post and other organizations to clear the property by public entertainment and subscription.

UNIFORMS TO BE SWANKY

Orange County Unit of State Highway Patrol Awaits Word to Don New and Smart Habiliments

SANTA ANA, Jan. 19.—Capt. Henry Meehan of the Orange county unit, California Highway Patrol, and eighteen men today waited, with their hands on their pocketbooks, for word to go to Los Angeles and purchase their new spring sport outfits. The new outfits are the uniforms prescribed for all State highway patrolmen by the State Division of Motor Vehicles and each outfit will cost each of the 400 patrolmen in the State something like $114.75, according to estimates compiled by Orange county traffic officers. The new outfits will be very natty, even if expensive, a look at the bill of particulars concerning them reveals.

The coat, single breasted, will be of forester green, the same color as the present suits. Leading down from the left shoulder will be a black Sam Browne belt. Each officer must wear black four-in-hand tie.

The trousers will be buss elastic. If boots are worn they must be black. Caps will be of semi-Pershing style with a blue and gold chin strap. Service stripes of blue and gold will be worn on each sleeve.

The captains' and inspectors' outfits are a little more swanky, the higher officials being permitted to wear long trousers and plain lace shoes.

A feature of the new uniforms is that there will be no button holes in the lapels, thus preventing fair motorists from inserting flowers over the manly chests of the highway guardians.

Although the Orange county men may get their new green uniforms this week they will not be permitted to wear them in public until word goes out from Sacramento permitting them to do so. The order is expected about the 29th inst. In the meantime each officer must purchase a revolver which may or may not cost him around $35.

Eleven white Henderson motorcycles have been assigned to Orange county and several cars are also expected. The cars will be used for night duty and two men will be assigned to each car.

With the advent of the "new day" in traffic enforcement circles additional men will come to the Orange county force. At the present time four patrolmen are scheduled to be added and perhaps more will be enrolled later on. Capt. Henry Meehan already has his new white Ford.

WEATHER THEORY TOLD

San Marino Man Bases Forecasts Upon Electro-Magnetic Principles; Wet and Cold Winter Seen

SAN MARINO, Jan. 19.—The United States is experiencing what will prove the wettest and coldest winter in twenty years, according to H. P. Gillete of 125 Oak Grove avenue, whose forecasts of rain this month have just been fulfilled by recent storms. Gillete is the author of a new theory of weather forecasting based upon electro-magnetic principles. He not only forecast last week's rains, but prognosticated the torrential storms in Northern California during December.

The local forecaster formerly was chief engineer of the Washington Railroad Commission, and is a member of the American Society of Civil Engineers. He is devoting himself at the present time to developing his revolutionary method of forecasting weather which he believes wil lbe adopted generally in the future.

His present forecasts are based on a study of weather conditions in Alaska as they affect California weather two months later. This relationship, he asserts, has substantiated his theory that weather is the result of magnetic influences exerted by other planets upon the earth.

"I discovered this relationship between Alaskan and California weather by aid of a theory I developed three years ago, and to which I have devoted all my time for two years," Gillete explained today.

"When the lower atmosphere is heavily charged with electricity, it is readily given a rotary motion by any magnetic field. Dr. George Ellery Hale proved years ago that the earth, sun and sun spots would co-act to cause migrations of electrified air, and I reason that when electrification in a region becomes sufficient, the earth's magetic field would cause the electrified air to rotate.

"When it rotates, it, too, becomes an electro magnet, and then such an air magnet is propelled by the earth's magnetic fields and tends to rise or descend, depending upon which direction it is rotating. All our cyclonic storms are known to rotate, and practically all our storms are cyclonic.

"In this region, their general direction is eastward, while they rotate anticlockwise. As the rotating air ascends, it cools and tends to precipitate rain. Also, each electron in electrified air attracts moisture from the surrounding air and aids in forming rain.

"Our Weather Bureau regards storms as being due to difference in barometric pressure, which difference is ascribed primarily to temperature variations. I, to the contrary, regard barometric pressure and temperature changes as being due to the air-whirls that are generated electro-magnetically.

"The Weather Bureau has been in existence sixty years, yet it does not attempt to forecast rain more than a week in advance ordinarily. When I have worked my theory to completion, I hope to forecast the weather at any given part of the United States several years in advance, and these forecasts will be accurate and based on research records extending back several centuries."

C. Y. ARNOLD HEADS VALLEY VETERAN POST

SAN FERNANDO, Jan. 19.—Clement V. Arnold was elected commander of Harry Colton, post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, at a meeting held here. Floyd McCarty and Walter Syring were named senior and junior vice-commanders, respectively. Claude Owings is quartermaster and Doyle Smith, adjutant. Harry M. Ide is retiring commander of the post. He has been elected junior vice-commander of the Los Angeles County Council of the organization.

RIVERSIDE JAIL BREAK PREVENTED

Reign of Terror Ends as Leaders Punished for Starting Trouble

RIVERSIDE, Jan. 19.—With two prisoners in dungeons, two others in solitary confinement, and a fifth held in the San Bernardino County Jail to prevent his carrying out an alleged death threat, Riverside County Jail authorities today were believed to have put at least a temporary end to the "reign of terror" that has followed in the wake of the return to this county for a robbery trial of three long-term San Quentin convicts.

Following closely the ferocious attempt to escape staged by Lawrence Rea, San Quentin lifer, Wednesday, it became known today that the disciplinary moves inside the jail were taken after discovery of an asserted plot among two convicts and another prisoner to escape by beating the turnkey with crutches belonging to one of the San Quentin inmates, Byron Beard, who was shot by a Riverside county officer as he attempted to escape from a train last fall on his way back to prison.

Sheriff Sweeters said today that J. H. Donohue, railroader serving a 180-day term from the Indio Justice Court for liquor law violations, had been thrown into one of the jail dark holes for complicity in the alleged escape plot. Lawrence Rea, Sweeters attacker, occupies the other. Rea, charged jointly with the robbery of the Pacific Electric station here, is serving a one-year-to-life term in San Quentin for first-degree robbery in Los Angeles, and is considered one of the most dangerous younger prisoners ever held in the local jail.

Byron Beard, who was said to have been plotting the attempted jail break through the use of his crutches, was separated from the other prisoners along "felons' row" and placed in solitary confinement. Similar steps were taken with Dewey Wood, associated "Slippery Eel" who escaped from a Wyoming County Jail while awaiting transfer to the State prison to begin serving a forgery term and who was recently extradited from Illinois for trial on forgery charges here. Conviction here will mean several years in prison for him.

Merit Dumond, former accomplice of Rea in crimes in Los Angeles and assertedly one of the two robbers in the Pacific Electric hold-up here, is held in the San Bernardino County Jail because of his alleged threat to kill Rea.

Rail Transport Between Cities May be Speeded

PASADENA, Jan. 19.—Plans to speed up rail transportation between this city and Los Angeles, and other problems affecting Southern California railroads, will be considered at an important meeting of the Los Angeles City Planning Commission on the 21st inst., it was learned here at the City Hall.

Grant Orth, chairman of the traffic committee o' the local Chamber of Commerce, will represent Pasadena when leaders in the transportation field in Southern California gather in Los Angeles at the Hotel Biltmore next Tuesday. George A. Damon of this city will take part in the discussion.

The main questions to be considered will be, it is reported: Analysis of legislation relating to rapid transit; limitations of interurban carriers; future of transportation in Southern California.

GLEE CLUB ITINERARY TOLD

Women's Singing Organization of Pomona College Plans Annual Northern Trip Between Semesters

CLAREMONT, Jan. 19.—The Pomona College Women's Glee Club has scheduled its annual northern trip to San Francisco between semesters to take place beginning the 30th inst. and continuing for a week or more. The club is composed of thirty singers chosen from a competitive group during the first few weeks of the college year. It has been customary for some time past to make a trip north in the middle of the school year and to go south to San Diego and vicinity during the spring recess. The Pomona College Women's Glee Club was one of the first in the State to make tours and has been going to San Francisco each year since 1924, having made earlier trips to San Diego before that time.

The following is the itinerary of the Women's Glee Club:

Thursday, the 30th inst.—North Hollywood High School.

Friday, the 31st inst.—Bakersfield High School, Delano High School and Sanger High School.

Saturday, February 1—San Francisco.

Sunday, February 2—North Congregational Church, Berkeley; Plymouth Church, Oakland.

Monday, February 3—Radio KPO, San Francisco, 8 a.m.; Burlingame High School, San Mateo High School, Presbyterian Church, Mountain View.

Tuesday, February 4—Salinas High School, Atascadero High School, Presbyterian Church, San Luis Obispo.

Wednesday, February 5—Santa Maria Inn, El Encanto Hotel, Santa Barbara; Christian Church, Santa Barbara.

Thursday, February 6—Ventura High School, Burbank High School, First Presbyterian Church, Hollywood.

Friday, February 7—Le Conte Junior High School, Hollywood.

Arrive in Claremont about 4 p.m. Friday, February 7.

The new officers for the year are: President, Florence Crozier; manager, Louise Bodger; secretary, Faith Inglis; accompanist, Mary Jane Taber.

Members of the Women's Glee Club are as follows: First sopranos, Mary Jane Taber, '32; Marjorie Lee Young, '30; Marian Spaan, '31; Dorothy DeVenney, '33; Ruth La France, '33; Faith Inglis, '31; Vivian Long, '32, and Natalie Poetsch, '32. Second sopranos, Marjorie Miller, '30; Miriam Reynolds, '31; Marjorie Browne, '30; Ruth Clark, '32; Mildred Ketcherside, '32; Rachel Dozier, '31, and Louise Bodger, '31. First altos, Alice Bowen, '30; Mary Bruner, '31; Mary Cochrane, '33; Elizabeth Merrill, '33; Kathryne Pittenger, '32; Agnes Thompson, '32, and Florence Crozier, '30. INDEX MUTUAL HAS GOOD YEAR

Unusually High-Grade Fruit and Large Sizes Grown

Ninety-six Per Cent of All Navels Graded Firsts

R. A. Wheatley Elected as President of Association

REDLANDS, Jan. 19.—Returns of $147,677.26 from 117 carloads of fruit shipped during the past season were reported yesterday at the annual meeting of the Index Mutual Association by T. E. Woodward, manager-secretary. During the period covered in the report the association shipped 1,487,123 pounds of lemons, which returned $62,072.35. Navel oranges shipped returned $1814.47 while Valencias brought $51,063.13.

Unusually high-grade fruit for the season, with exceptionally large sizes was reported by Manager Woodward. In the navels shipped 96 per cent of the lot graded pure gold, or first grade, while 77 per cent of the Valencias made first grade.

Officers and directors of the concern elected yesterday include R. A. Wheatley, president; G. N. Wersel, vice-president, and the following directors: Wheatley, Wersel, G. E. Eastbrook, John Hatch, George M. Eaby, Macy J. Smith and C. W. Galbraith.

From Garden Grove came the report of net receipts of $402,494 for 415 carloads of fruit, a gain of 360 acres during the year, and a refund of $32,867. The report was filed by Manager W. B. Merchant following the annual meeting. Net returns exceeded those of 1928 by $76,000 and of those of 1927 by $54,000.

Shipments from the house were 85 per cent greater than in 1927, compared with a State gain of 28 per cent, and 182 per cent greater than in 1928, compared to a State gain of 56 per cent.

Merchants' report states that in 1925 the association had forty-eight members while today 114 members are enrolled.

During 1929, the association received 9718 field boxes of navels which paid to the growers an average of $1.95, the field-box net. The returns, he points out, are for all fruit received, includes all grades and sizes and culls and not merely for fruit shipped.

DISTRIBUTORS REPORT PROSPEROUS YEAR

REDLANDS, Jan. 19. — C. P. Earley, manager of the Mutual Orange Distributors, at the head offices here, today received reports of the annual meetings of three of the Mutual Orange Distributors' houses in Orange county, showing a most prosperous year there.

The associations that reported are the Placentia Co-operative Orange Association, Index Mutual Orange Association of La Habra, and the Garden Grove.

Members of the Placentia association received $250,966 for the 251 carloads of fruit shipped through its house, according to Manager J. P. Nixon. Shipments were 160 carloads greater than the previous season's.

During the past year the house facilities were expanded by an addition 50x80 feet in dimensions, which has been used for receiving and washing fruit. The house also added to its total acreage, taking in more than 100 additional acres, Nixon reported.

The annual meeting was addressed by Manager C. P. Earley of the Mutual Orange Distributors, W. H. Blodget, field manager; A. L. Chandler, manager of the fertilizer department; H. L. Thompson, field and service manager, and by J. W. Crill, director of the Orange County Farm Bureau.

SANTA BARBARA COUNTY ORCHARDISTS PROSPER

SANTA BARBARA, Jan. 12.—Orchard crops in Santa Barbara county during the last year returned to growers $2,023,149 with substantial increase in incomes to avocado, walnut and citrus growers over 1928, according to a report made public by F. C. Greer, county entomologist. Growers received $1,218,149 for the citrus crops last year. This represents an increase in income over 1928 for the fruit of $229,000.

A total of 267,036 boxes of fruit was shipped from this county. The production for last year was 101,000 boxes less than 1928, but the increase in prices bolstered up the income.

Walnut growers in the county received $774,000 for their 1929 crops, an increase of $91,000 in returns over 1928.

The crop last year totaled 2212 tons, an increase of 500 tons over a year ago. More than 140,000 pounds of avocados were produced in this county last year, returning to growers $30,800. While production of the fruit increased 133 per cent over 1928, the income only increased 33 per cent.

Only inaccurate, rough estimates of the 1930 crop of citrus have been made so far. A fairly accurate estimate of the crop will be available about February 18, according to Greer.

NOMINATIONS MADE BY STUDENT GROUP

SANTA ANA, Jan. 19.—Normal Paul and Bruce Tarver, president and vice-president of the student body of Santa Ana High School, have been nominated at a weekly assembly for the presidency of the organization for the coming year. Elwood Lindley was the only nominee for vice-president. Betty Smith, Mary Mateer and Aleen Adams were named on the ballot as candidates for secretary. Others nominated were William Hawk, Leo Gaspar and Walter Wilson, boys' self-government committee, and Elizabeth Riniker, Mary Helen Bell and Wilda Rohrs, girls' self-government committee. No date has yet been set for the election.

MEXICAN BEAUTY INVITED ON CRUISE

Raquel Torres

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 19.—Duplicating a feature of President Hoover's voyage aboard the battleship Maryland, an intimate cruise about the entire shoreline of famed Magdalena Bay is to be made by the Dorothy Alexander on her 2400-mile, twelve-day "good-will" cruise into the waters of old Mexico, it was announced here today.

The "Dorothy" is scheduled to sail from Wilmington at 9 p.m. February 3, arriving here at 4 a.m. the next day for a six-hour stopover before steaming south to visit Ensenada, Cedro Island, Mazatlan and La Paz.

The Admiral liner will visit Magdalena Bay on the return voyage from La Paz, sailing into the world-famed harbor that is the winter rendezvous of the Pacific Fleet at noon on February 13, according to R. B. Schutten, assistant general passenger agent of the Pacific Steamship Company.

A complete circuit of the famed harbor will be made that the voyagers may enjoy the colorful vistas of its scenic wonderland to the uttermost. President Hoover spent many hours on his famous cruise in the picturesque bay, which is internationally known as a fisherman's paradise.

Raquel Torres, Mexican film star, has been extended an invitation to act as honorary cruise director on the voyage. She is a native of Hermosillo, in Sonora, one of the west coast States, and is asked to officially represent the Hollywood film colony on the "good-will" junket.

The Dorothy is to be the home of the vacationists on the entire cruise and lengthy stopovers have been arranged for sightseeing and entertainment at the principal ports, including eighteen hours at Ensenada; five at Cedros Island; forty-two at Mazatlan, and twenty at La Paz, in addition to the visit to Magdalena Bay.

The Admiral liner will conclude the voyage by docking at Wilmington at 7 p.m. February 15.

ACCIDENT CAUSES FAMILY REUNION

CHINO, Jan. 19.—Harold Day of Chino, and Linden Wolf are cousins, and Chief of Police J. Henry today related how they came together with a crash for a visit.

Wolf lives in El Segundo. He planned to surprise his cousin with a visit. On the evening of his intended arrival Day and a friend were on the way to a picture show. Their auto crashed into the rear end of a truck, and was thrown sideways off the highway.

Before it could be straightened out a larger car crashed into it. The driver was Wolf. Each driver began to recite highway rules to the other, until suddenly Day recognized the voice of his cousin, and the crash victims enjoyed a reunion in the wreckage of the cars. Wolf was cut about the face.

VITAL HIGHWAY LINK INTIMATED

Interior Southland Route to San Joaquin Looms

Director of Public Works Tells of Possibility

Engineering Study Begun, He Tells San Bernardino

SAN BERNARDINO, Jan. 19.—Probability that the State will construct a new direct highway between interior Southern California and the San Joaquin Valley, connecting here and at Bakersfield, was seen here with announcement by B. B. Meek, director of the State Department of Public Works, that an engineering study of a proposed short route now is being made. This route, if established, would lead out of this city by way of Cajon ranch, Bliech's ranch, Adelante and then to Bakersfield over Tehachapi Pass. It would obviate necessity of following the Pasadena or Los Angeles approaches to the Ridge Route in traveling between San Bernardino, Riverside Orange and Imperial counties and the San Joaquin Valley and points north.

Meek announced that the engineering study was under way when Secretary R. H. Mack of the Chamber of Commerce here proposed establishment of such a route in the State highway system at a banquet in this city attended by Meek, three State highway commissioners, other State officials and representatives of most communities in this county.

HIGH LIGHTS IN PROGRAM

Other high lights in the State's highway program affecting San Bernardino county brought out by Director Meek in his address included: Over a period of four years nearly $6,000,000 is being expended in improvements in this county. Important county roads, including the Valley Boulevard, will be included in the State highway system by legislative enactment as early as preliminary arrangements toward this end can be perfected.

An important section of the National Old Trails Highway not included in the biennial budget, but made possible through an $800,000 saving in engineering overhead and other State funds, will be built within this year.

Grading and surfacing of both National Old Trails and the Arrowhead Trail Highway will be continued and where new construction is not done these routes will be rendered dustless.

DESERT ROUTE INCLUDED

More funds will be expended in improvement of Mecca-Blythe route into the Southland as rapidly as they are available, one section of this highway already having been highly improved.

The route from Yuma will be widened and improved as rapidly as funds permit.

Director Meek cited reconstruction of the Cajon Pass route near Summit, recent widening and other improvement of the Foothill Boulevard and construction already done on the National Old Trails and Arrowhead Trail routes as outstanding accomplishments of the department in this county.

BOY SCOUT COUNCIL GAINS IN NUMBERS

VAN NUYS, Jan. 19.—There are now 600 Boy Scouts in the San Fernando Valley Council, it was shown in the report just made by Fred L. Letten, council executive. This is a gain of 15 per cent for the year. There are 165 Scout leaders in charge of the boys' activities, it was indicated. Plans for the celebration of anniversary week next month are being completed. This mobilization day of the boys will be one of the year's events in the council. C. H. Clake of Van Nuys district, manager of the Shell Oil Company here, has been appointed Scout commissioner for the valley.

PASADENA, Jan. 19.—Golf is more interesting than the future of the motor-car industry to the rapidly growing colony of automobile and automobile accessory executives at the Hotel Huntington.

Four members of the group, Henry May, former vice-president and general manager of the Pierce-Arrow Automobile Company; A. Von Schlegell, director of the Hupmobile Motor Car Company; George Holley, president of the Holley Carburetor Company, and C. H. Foster, inventor of the Gabriel Snubber, were trapped by interviewers as they were leaving for a near-by links.

May, as spokesman for the "auto" foursome, asserted that he and his confreres had been able to agree on one thing concerning the future of the automobile industry, this point of agreement being that "fifty-cylinder automobiles will never be practicable for family use."

Before leaving for the links, Von Schlegell remarked that he and May hoped to "take the accessory men, Holley and Foster, for a smooth eighteen-hole ride."

Within the next month, the motor-car magnates wintering at the Hotel Huntington will be increased to fifteen, according to the present reservation list.

Where will Johnny Doeg rank as far as 1929 tennis is concerned? The tow-headed southpaw from California, who is a nephew of May Sutton Bundy, ranked eighth in 1928, just below Fritz Mercur, who, in turn, was one place lower than John Van Ryn. That he will pass both of these lads is rather certain, although Van Ryn's being a member of the Davis Cup team will add a lot of weight in his favor.

But let's go at it from the other end. That Bill Tilden will be No. 1 for the tenth year in succession is certain. That Frank Hunter will be No. 2 is almost as much of a cinch, for Hunter was a singles player on the 1929 Davis Cup team in the interzone finals and a finalist in the United States men's singles championship, defeating such players as Fritz Mercur, Dick Williams and Junior Coen. George Lott, third ranking player in 1928, also was a Davis Cup singles man, but he failed to do well in the national singles, losing to Wilmer Allison in the fourth round. Allison was ranked fifth in the last national ranking and, with Van Ryn, was a member of the United States Davis Cup doubles team which did so well abroad. Johnny Hennessy, fourth in the 1928 ranking, slipped badly this last season.

Johnny Doeg, the Stanford southpaw, whose fierce service reminds many of that of Robert Lindley Murray, another Stanford lefthander, who was United States champion in 1917 and 1918, defeated, among others, in 1929, Van Ryn (at least twice,) Mercur, Mangin, Arnold Jones, Dick Williams, Bunny Austin and Seligson. He won, besides, the men's doubles championship, the Longwood Bowl and Seabright singles, the Rhode Island State singles title, Pacific Southwest singles championship and Nassau Country Club invitation singles. He lost to Mercur in the finals of the Southampton invitation singles, to De Ricou at Newport and to Tilden in five sets in the national singles semifinals.

I think he'll rank third for 1929. What do you think?

Ex-U.C.L.A. Player Scores Win Over C. Mako

After two unsuccessful attempts to commence play in the fourth annual Los Angeles city open tennis championships due to heavy rains, the titular meet finally began yesterday on the Griffith Park Playground courts at Los Feliz and Riverside Drive.

GLADYS PATZ.

Top-seeded favorites in the men's singles were absent, having all drawn byes. Sixty matches were completed which entirely wiped out the first bracket in both the men's and women's singles events. Second-round matches are scheduled for next Sunday.

Frank Westsmith, former U.C.L.A. varsity player, won the feature men's singles match yesterday, being carried to three sets by Constantine Mako, a local boy champion. Mako came very near victory over his more experienced foe, succumbing at 6-4, 4-6, 6-4.

Frank Plumb, a municipal product at Griffith Park Playground, also came near surprising the small gathering of fans yesterday, carrying Elbert Lewis, a Bruin net ace, to the limit of three sets, 6-2, 4-6, 6-2, while Joe Call eliminated Al Hovey of the Los Angeles Tennis Club in a mild upset, 3-6, 6-1, 7-5.

The feature women's singles encounter brought together Mrs. Margaret Doeg, nee Margery Reed, and Miss Marian Manning. The latter copped the initial set at 6-3 but fell before the adversary's great steadiness in the final two frames of 8-6, 6-3. Violet Doeg of Santa Monica scored an impressive 6-4, 6-2 over Kate Northcote, another up-and-coming Bay City star, in a second feature tilt.

U.C.L.A. Cheered for Great Win Over California

Bruins Have Strangle-Hold on Cage Title

Redlands Has Crown Almost Won for 1930

BY BRAVEN DYER

Civil warfare between the Bruins and Trojans breaks out this weekend at the Shrine Auditorium when basketball teams of the two local institutions get together in the first of a three-game engagement billed for the 1930 season. Saturday night is the date and undoubtedly the Shrine will be packed to the rafters for the encounter.

CADDY WORKS.

The sensational showing of the Bruins at Berkeley Saturday night ought to draw thousands of fans to the U.C.L.A.-Trojan struggle. No more dramatic game has been played on the Coast in years than that which saw the Bruins hold the Golden Bears to 1 lone point in the second half and win, 26 to 23, after the score at half-time had favored California, 22 to 11.

WORKS TOO GOOD

There is only one explanation to such a victory. And it bears out a suspicion which this writer has felt growing on himself for many years. This is that Caddy Works is as good a basketball coach as there is in the West. Only the wish to keep on good terms with the other cage mentors prevents this scribe from saying that Caddy is really one step ahead of the others.

The Bruins are to be congratulated on their brilliant feat against Nibs Price's team. It was U.C.L.A.'s first victory over California on the Bears' home floor. Beating last year's champions in their own lair and holding 'em to a single point in the second half are accomplishments that the Bruins have a right to crow about.

It is unusual to have a team kick away such a lead as California had, but there is something sadly missing some place when but one point can be scored in twenty minutes of basketball. Funny, but we had another similar game here last week when Redlands defeated La Verne, 11 to 7, in a Southern California Conference engagement. Redlands was trailing, 6 to 2, at half-time, having made but 2 points during the first period. The Bulldogs turned around and held La Verne to a lone digit in the second stanza. If I were a basketball coach and one of my teams was held to 1 point in twenty minutes of play I would get a new team or quit coaching and take up radio announcing.

MAY GO STALE

Caddy Works teaches his players to shoot baskets. I don't know what the other mentors teach their players. At any rate Caddy gets results. Of course, his team has not yet won the championship of the southern division. There's a month of hard sledding ahead. But it will take something better than Stanford, California or Southern California has shown thus far if the Bruins are to be flagged.

The only danger from a U.C.L.A. standpoint is that the Bruins are likely to go stale. This has happened in the past. Right now Caddy's team is several jumps ahead of the other three clubs, but with a month to go the Bruins may bog down near the end of the schedule. No doubt Works will guard against this by giving his players light practice.

Sam Barry's Trojans will give the Bruins a real battle Saturday night provided the S.C. players take an occasional shot at the basket. Friday when Stanford made the Trojans look bad, Barry's men spent all their time trying to work the ball right up under the net. Stanford's defense was virtually impregnable on this type of attack so the Trojans didn't get enough Argentine's crack polo squad, composed of Alfredo Harrington, Juan Reynal, Jose Reynal, Manual Andrada and Carlos Uranga are scheduled to arrive here today over the Southern Pacific. The South Americans will be featured in the coming Pacific Coast open championships which starts at the Midwick Country Club next Sunday afternoon. The $500,000 string of ponies which the Argentine team will use in the polo classic have been at Midwick for more than a month and are in wonderful shape. Laddie Sanford, polo's best mounted player arrives Wednesday. Del Monte players are due here later in the week and according to a tentative schedule will open the tournament against Midwick Sunday.

The 1930 championship play will start two weeks later than was the case in 1929.

STUBBLEFIELD WINS RACE

Cantlon and Triplett Forced Out of 100-Lap Feature Event at Legion Speedway

Piloting his mount at a steady and sometimes spectacular pace, which wore down some of the best racing competition in the country, Stubby Stubblefield brought his trim little Garnant Special home a winner in the first racing event of the new year, yesterday afternoon at the American Legion Speedway.

The time for the event was 53m. 29.4s. Starter Fred Wagner got the entrants off to a nice start, which saw Shorty Cantlon take the lead, which he held until the thirty-second lap, where he was forced out of the race with engine trouble. Stubblefield, who had been experimenting around in third place, promptly moved into the lead.

After a thrilling duel he was forced back to second place, when Ernie Triplett outmaneuvered him and went to the front on the sixtieth time around. A broken axel at the three-quarter mark caused his withdrawal, and allowed Stubblefield to regain his lost position.

Stubblefield at this time had a substantial lead over the field, and wound up the grind in first place by a half a lap. Johnny Krieger managed to pull in second, followed by Fred Frame, who garnered third-place money. Herman Schurch, who is a newcomer around these parts, took fourth, and G. L. Smith, fifth place.

Walt May won the Italian Helmet dash in 1m. 1s. May was riding in second place in the 100-lap event until engine trouble overtook him and forced him out on the thirtieth lap.

The Mexican Cossacks entertained the some 6000 fans with their phenomenal acrobatics aboard a motorcycle, and got a big hand for their efforts.

Race officials announced that the next racing program at the speedway will be held next week, instead of two weeks hence, as was originally scheduled.

MAGYARS CREEP UP WITH WIN

Victory Over Vikings Puts Redshirts Third in Soccer Race

The Magyar soccer football club slipped up into third place in the Los Angeles City League campaign yesterday by putting across a hard-fought 4-to-3 victory over the Viking club at Loyola field. The Magyars now boast a 15-point total, only one point behind the L. A. A. C. Mercuries, who are second following their 5-to-1 victory over Richfield at the Pasadena Rose Bowl yesterday.

Danny Stephenson's Scottish footballers turned in one of their best efforts of the season to defeat the Sons of St. George, 4 to 2, in the second Loyola field contest. Hollywood remains in the league lead. The Sheiks drew a bye yesterday.

With their injured players all back in the fold aside from Sudkoi and with the team strengthened with the addition of Montserrat from the Spanish-Americans, the Magyars had an easy time with the Vikings in the first half of yesterday's game. The game had scarcely started when Espinosa, Magyar center forward, scored a well-placed goal, taking the ball from position and driving it into the net. Montserrat, outside right, tallied the next goal soon after and Sutherland made the half-time count, 3 to 0, with the third straight goal scored by the Magyars.

The Vikings put up a stiffened defense in the second half while the Norsemen also began to click on the offense, scoring three goals while the Magyars tallied once. Thompson and Hedbloom (2) tallied for the Norsemen, while Espinosa's second goal for the Magyars brought up the total to 4-3.

George Summers, center forward, played a brilliant game for the Scots in the second game. Summers scored three times for the Highlanders. The Sons drew first blood on Jackie Wright's goal, but it wasn't long before Summers equalized after a corner kick from Billy Hewittson. Fifteen minutes later Summers rolled one into the net out of reach of Goalie Southern and just before the interval he again tallied. O'Donnell drove a header into the net for the final Highlanders' point and Bill Hewittson scored for the Sons.

The fast-coming Pasadena A.C.C. team went on a first half-scoring rampage against the Spanish-Americans in the second Pasadena Rose Bowl game and won, 6 to 1. All

CALIFORNIA GOLF TEAM SWAMPS OREGON SQUAD

DEL MONTE, Jan. 19. (AP)—California swamped Oregon under a 29-to-5 score to win the annual interstate golf matches which concluded here today. The California golfers added 12 points over the Pebble Beach course to the 17 scored at Cypress Point yesterday. Oregon scored only 3 points in today's round.

Malcolm MacNaughton, the young Portland star now attending Stanford University, and his partner, Charles Coffen, were the only Oregonians to capture points today. This pair also gathered 2 points yesterday at Cypress Point. Rudie Wilhelm, paired with Paul Murphy, Oregon captain, managed to halve their match with Paul Hunter and Edwin Eddy of California, otherwise the annual interstate play had the appearance of a California field day.

Dr. Paul Hunter was the real star of the tourney, scoring a 75, three over par, at Pebble Beach today to add to his par 72 at Cypress Point in the opening round. He won first prize in today's match-play par trophy event.

"Bud" Yoakum of California placed second, 4 down to par today with a 79.

AGUA CALIENTE, Jan. 19. Taking advantage of their first and only opportunity to play a practice round before the first eighteen holes of the seventy-two-hole medal play competition starts early tomorrow morning, the big shots and little shots of golfdom kept the first tee congested almost from the break of dawn until late this afternoon in an effort to test the metal of the 6735-yard championship test.

Retirement of Steve Farrell, Veteran Michigan Track Coach, Regretted by Fri

HOYT SUCCEEDS GREAT RUNNER

Has Coached Wolverine Teams Since 1912

Won Many Races as Pro 'Way Back in '90's

Eckersall Relates Stories of Man's Prowess

BY WALTER ECKERSALL

CHICAGO, Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—Retirement in June for Steve Farrell, who has coached University of Michigan track and field teams since 1912, marks the passing of one of the greatest professional foot racers who ever pulled on a spiked shoe in this country.

Recent announcement that Steve will retire at the close of the present intercollegiate athletic year did not come as a complete surprise to his host of friends. Farrell has been eager to give up active work for the last five years and his successor Charles B. Hoyt, has aided him in the development of Wolverine teams in recent years.

During the years he has coached at Michigan, Farrell has developed some great teams and athletes. He was always a stickler for balance and depended more upon the ability of athletes to win third, fourth and fifth places than those who were picked to win. He was a stickler for team power and he won many meets through the foresight of placing his athletes in events in which they would score points.

GREAT RUNNER

Although Farrell's ability as a coach is well known to present-day followers of track-and-field athletics, it was his great running in the late '80's and early '90's which brought him into the spotlight. He was a wonderful competitor and never hesitated to race any human from 100 yards to one mile.

In the old days of professional foot racing which flourished in the New England States, no agreements were drawn for races. There were no squabbles over the purse or the distance. Races were arranged in the lobbies of hotels, cigar stores or street corners. Wagers were made and the money placed with some reliable person, generally the owner of a hotel.

The courses in those days were not as fast as those of the present. When a match was made, the distance was stepped off in some pasture, on a side street or railroad yard. There were few if any preliminaries. Farrell, like other sprinters of his days wore his running togs under his street clothes. He carried his spiked shoes in his hip pocket. As soon as a match race was arranged, it was decided a few moments later or as soon as a suitable place could be selected. Farrell generally won such events and it is said he earned more money from professional foot racing than any other man who made a livelihood from this sort of endeavor.

RACING PLUM

Farrell won the Sheffield handicap in 1891. This was the racing plum of those days and was held over a turf course in England. At one time Steve held the world's backward jump at 11ft. A few years ago he defeated a number of his pupils in the same event by leaping over 8ft.

At one time, Farrell was captain of three hose teams in the State of Massachusetts. Each fire team was composed of sixteen runners and Steve always ran lead for his outfit. The hose carts were placed 300 yards from the dummy hydrants. When the starting gun was fired the carts were rushed to the hydrant. The hose then was uncoupled, fastened to the hydrant as the cart continued another 200 yards. The nozzle was then adjusted and the elapsed time registered.

After his hook-and-ladder days Farrell specialized in middle-distance running. He was always a competitor in the old Caledonian Games held in New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Chicago and Buffalo. Steve competed in races from fifty yards to a half-mile and it was not unusual for him to run a quarter or half-mile between heats in the dashes.

JOINED CIRCUS

When he returned to America after winning the Sheffield handicap, Farrell looked around for other worlds to conquer. Barnum and Bailey were showing at the Hippodrome in New York City. One of the features of the circus was a race between man and horse. Usually the man was given a liberal handicap.

Farrell entered the race but refused to take the handicap. The event was highly advertised and Steve defeated the horse, much to the surprise of the 10,000 who jammed into the building.

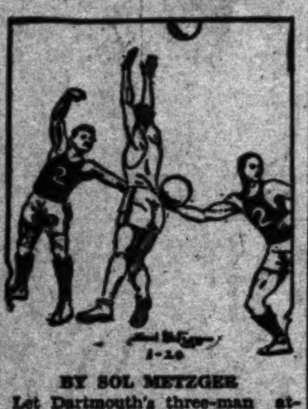
WON BOTH WAYS

At one time Farrell was matched to meet an English runner in London. Steve's backers gave him enough money for the round trip and declared him in on part of their winnings if Steve was the victor. On the trip to England, Steve met some Englishmen who had heard of the race. They were eager to wager on their countryman and Farrell wagered his return passage money. Steve won the race by five yards and not only doubled his return passage money but received a considerable sum from his backers when he returned to America.

Following his circus days, Farrell sprained an ankle while training for an important match. Steve never recovered his old-time form so decided to take up coaching. He coached privately for four years and specialized in conditioning runners. In the fall of 1902, the late Mike Murphy sent for Steve to take charge of the Yale teams. After Old Eli played a successful season, Farrell was made head coach at the University of Maine, where he remained for seven years. In 1910 he went to Ohio State and then cast his lot with Michigan in 1912.

Although more than 50 years of age when the World War broke out, Farrell volunteered his services and passed the difficult air service examination. He served as first lieutenant for six months at Ellington Field, Houston, Tex. Physicians who have examined the Michigan coach regard him as a shining example of unusual bodily vigor for a man well beyond middle age.

Dartmouth's Hook Shot is Always Good



BY SOL METZGER

Let Dartmouth's three-man attack be driven into one of the corners and it takes snappy defensive work by the opposition to prevent an attempt at the basket. As the defense charges the green forward he will give a step and take a shot at the basket with a one-hand overhead hook shot, a shot that demands a great deal of practice to perfect.

As he is being charged the player with the ball presents his left side to his opponent and holds the ball extended in his right between his right hand and forearm.

He throws it with a full arm swing directly over his head, letting go of the ball at the highest point of this swing. To get added height to the lob for the basket in order to insure that his opponent will not deflect the ball off its course the player attempting the shot leaps as he shoots. Perfection in this difficult shot was one of the reasons for Dartmouth leading last year's Eastern Intercollegiate League in scoring.

Bruins Meet Jaysee Team

The first track-and-field meet of the 1930 season will be held next Saturday, when the University of California at Los Angeles squad clashes with the Glendale Junior College team on the new Westwood track. The meet will be strictly a practice affair, and the Bruins are expected to walk off with the meet by an overwhelming margin.

Johnny Hill, Bruin sprint and shot-put star, will lead the U.C.L.A. cinder artists into their first conflict Saturday. Hill was only a shot putter until last season, when Coach Harry Trotter uncovered him as a speedy man in the 100-yard dash. He was clocked in 9 4-5 seconds in several meets last year, and in even faster time than that in practice. Hill also holds the university shot put record of 43ft. 8in.

Glendale Junior College will be handicapepd by the loss of two stars of last year, Frank Wykoff, who is now a student at the University of Southern California, and Russ Slocum. The Dynamiter squad last year competed in a triangular meet with the Prep Stars and the U.C.L.A. freshmen, and finished by five or six points ahead of the Bruin yearling athletes.

Other Westwood track stars who will compete Saturday for the first time this season, are Bill Hoye, broad jump; Jerry Stewart, pole vault; Paul Ludman, an Oregon transfer, hurdles; "Chuck" Smith, sprints; Ansel Brenniman, pole vault, broad jump and discus throw; Dave Smith, javelin throw; Ray Smith, distance runner; Art Watson, sprinter, and Len Wellendorff, high jumper and hurdler.

Bergman May Replace Spears

MINNEAPOLIS (Minn.) Jan. 19. (AP)—The task of selecting a successor to Dr. Clarence W. Spears as head football coach at the University of Minnesota will begin this week, Gopher school officials said tonight.

Dr. Spears, who signed a five-year contract as head football coach at the University of Oregon yesterday, is expected to present his formal resignation tomorrow when he returns from Missoula, Mont., where the Oregon contract was agreed upon.

Dr. Lotus D. Coffman, president of the University of Minnesota, returned today from Washington, D. C., and said the matter of a new coach would receive the immediate attention of himself and the Senate committee on intercollegiate athletics, governing body of sports.

While university officials insisted no individual had as yet been selected to replace Spears, campus gossip prominently mentioned Arthur "Dutch" Bergman in this respect. Bergman has been backfield coach of the Gopher eleven.

Dr. Coffman expressed regret over the loss of Dr. Spears, whom he termed a "very competent and capable coach."

OXY GREEKS DRUB POMONA HOUSE FIVES

Intramural casaba came to a close at Occidental recently when two games were played by the Tigers against Pomona on the latter's home court. In the first tilt Sigma Omicron Fraternity, winners of intramural basketball at Oxy, walloped the Sigma Tau Fraternity, winners of intramural basketball at Pomona, with a 32-to-16 score.

In the second game the Phi Gamma Delta Fraternity of Oxy had considerable trouble in defeating the Amazons of Pomona, 15 to 14.

Line-ups for both games were as follows:

Sigma Tau (Pomona)		Sigma Omicron (Oxy)
Sprague	R.F.	Margadent
Ingram	L.F.	Haworth
Gordon	C.	Crawford
Stoner	R.G.	Dorman

ALEX STARTED BY INDIAN

Veteran Pitching Star Tells How He Broke Into Major-League Baseball Show

BY GROVER ALEXANDER
As told to John F. McCann

It was a little Indian baseball player who started me on my way to a place in major-league baseball and his suggestion came to me as a startling surprise.

GROVER ALEXANDER

I was pitching for a semipro team out in Nebraska in 1908 and after I had pitched two victories against a team of Indians a little redskin player came over to where I was sitting on the players' bench.

"Why don't you get a job playing league ball?" he asked me. When I replied I'd never thought about it nor had an idea how to get the chance, he replied at once: I'll recommend you," and a short time later I got a contract from the Galesburg team in the Central Association.

Here happened an incident which almost meant ruin for me as a player. In my second game, at the moment when I was running to second base, the shortstop, in attempting to complete a double-play, hit me between the eyes with the ball. I was unconscious for thirty-six hours. When I awoke it was to find myself with a double-vision. Everything I looked at I saw twice and it was far into the next winter before an eye specialist in Indianapolis cleared up the trouble.

My entry into the majors occurred two years later with the Phillies and I lost my initial battle to the Boston Braves by the score of 2 to 1. I found out early that the biggest asset a pitcher can have for success is control. There are only a few pitchers with enough speed to throw the ball past the batters and unless you can throw what you have where you want it, your chances for success are slim. Christy Matthewson was a great pitcher and much of his greatness was due to his remarkable control.

Oilers Beaten by Oakland in Hockey Battle

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—Fans who were in attendance at the Oakland ice arena this afternoon were not sure whether they were attending a hockey game or a fistic program. At the end of the game the score board read: Oakland, 5; Los Angeles, 1, but the afternoon was so well punctuated with battles that were really interesting that it's too bad Louis Parente, Oakland fight promoter, was not on hand. With baseball players going big in the fight game, why not invade hockey?

Scoring was lopsided, but fights were even though undecided. The first fight of the afternoon was between Battling Vokes of the Oakland team and Rube Brandow of Los Angeles. It resulted in a wild scramble of punches, five minutes in the penalty box and a $5 fine for each.

The second battle and the best bout of the afternoon, was between George Giroux of Oakland and Sammy Larkin of Los Angeles. Giroux downed Larkin and worked on him with all implements at hand, while Referee Duncan Sinclair was busy trying to separate them. Five minutes' penalty and $10 fine.

Browns Likely to Put Forth Same Line-up

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 19. (AP) — The St. Louis Browns, who tied the world champion Philadelphia Athletics in team fighting last year, but wound up in fourth place because they weren't so good on offensive play, are looking to a flock of youngsters from Brownie farms for added strength this year.

Unless Bill Killefer, new manager who moved up from a coaching job to succeed Dan Howley, makes a few "finds" among the recruits or negotiates some last-minute trades, the Browns will launch their 1930 pennant drive with about the same hustling crew that battled through the 1929 campaign.

Prospects are that the new manager will start with a smaller catching staff, with only the regulars, Dick Ferrell and Jimmy Manion, and perhaps some recruits. Wally Schang was traded to the Athletics.

New players include Sammy Hale, third baseman, who came to the Browns in the trade for Schang, and Herman Holshouser, new pitcher, a right-hander from Baltimore, obtained in a swap for Outfielder Frank McGowan.

In the outfield there will be a curtailed squad of regulars, Schulte, Manush, McNeely and Badgro, and several young hopefuls. In this latter class is Ted J. Gullic, right-handed home-run slugger who played in the outfield for Tulsa and Wichita Falls last year and did some spectacular work at bat.

The infield will be much the same as last year, with Blue at first, O'Rourke and Hale at third, Kress at short and Melillo at second.

As matters stand, the pitching staff also will be little changed from last season. It includes Alvin Crowder and Sam Gray, who led the attack in 1929, Richard Coffman, George Blaeholder, John Ogden and Warren Collins. Chad Kimsey, who was called in the latter part of last season, has been sent back to Tulsa.

BRUINS DOWN COUGARS

DETROIT, Jan. 19. (AP)—The world's champion Boston Bruins nosed out the Detroit Cougars by 5 to 4, in a clean and hard-fought hockey game at the Olympia tonight.

Seth's Hope is Border Winner

AGUA CALIENTE (Mex.) Jan. 19. Getting to the front just as the field rounded into the stretch and showing plenty of gameness in the run home, Seth's Hope won the Gene Sarazen Handicap, featured number on the race program here today. Seth's Hope took the race, named after the former United States open champion, who is here for the Agua Caliente open golf tournament, by three-quarters of a length from the fast-closing Negopoli. Rip Rap got the show. Bob Rogers cut out the early pace for the field of six, going a mile and one-sixteenth. He lasted to the stretch, where Seth's Hope went to the front. Edisto helped force the pace, but tired.

Seth's Hope was a forward contender from the start, never far out of it and came with a rush rounding the far turn to move up from fourth to second position. Negopoli trailed until the stretch head and was closing fastest of all at the finish. Track condition changed from heavy to slow during the afternoon.

Each race on the program today was named in honor of some member of the golf band here for the tournament and the condition book for the week shows the same procedure each day of the competition.

Results:

First race, five furlongs, Fred McLeod purse, claiming, 3-year-olds and up, purse $600—Mange (Teasdale,) 114, won; Bouncing Ball (Mulrooney,) 109, second; Time Exposure (Grego,) 114, third. Time, 1:04.

Second race, five furlongs and a half, Roy Tufts purse, claiming, 3-year-olds and up, purse $600—Rolling Star (Greco,) 104, won; Caravan (Lasswell,) 111, second; Kentle (Schutte,) 102, third. Time, 1:09 1-5.

Third race, six furlongs, Hal Sharkey purse, maiden 3-year-olds, claiming, purse $600—Arcadian Flag (Inzelone,) 112, won; Kavanaugh (Keiser,) 103, second; Dark Magne (Craigmyle,) 107, third. Time, 1:15.

Fourth race, five furlongs and a half, Leo Diegel handicap, 3-year-olds and up, purse $1000—Hey Diddle Diddle (Moran,) 97, won; Dr. Wilson (Philpot,) 126, second; Poppyfield (O'Brien,) 108, third. Time, 1:08 1-5.

Fifth race, seven furlongs, Johnny Golden purse, claiming, 3-year-olds and up, purse $800—Magdelena (Romano,) 104, won; Star Mistress (Richardson,) 102, second; Fair Gold (Cannon,) 106, third. Time, 1:29 1-5.

Sixth race, mile and a sixteenth, Gene Sarazen handicap, 3-year-olds and up, purse $1200—Seth's Hope (Corbett,) 103, won; Negopoli (Baird,) 102, second; Rip Rap (Wolverton,) 100, third. Time, 1:49 2-5.

Seventh race, five furlongs and a half, Johnny Farrell purse, claiming, 3-year-olds and up, purse $800—Morsun (Barrett,) 113, won; Paragraph (Richardson,) 103, second; Short Price (Moran,) 108, third. Time, 1:08.

Eighth race, mile and a sixteenth, Bobbie Cruickshank purse, claiming, 3-year-olds and up, purse $1000—Star Prince (Mulrooney,) 105, won; Home Wood (Redding,) 107, second; Torch (Turk,) 115, third. Time, 1:49 4-5.

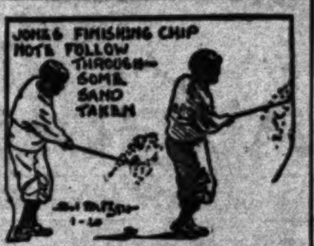
Jones Hits Through on a Chip Shot



BY SOL METZGER

Here are sketches of Bobby Jones finishing his chip shot from a sand trap to the adjoining green. Note that he is taking some sand with his niblick and that his follow through is most marked. You cannot play any golf shot well without follow through.

The chip from sand demands it as much as does the drive or putt. You hit through. But this follow through proves that you must meet the sand with firm wrists as you swing your club down to the ball. Otherwise your club would dig its way into the sand and stop, snuffing all the life out of your blow. Scrape through the sand with firm wrists. That's the idea.

No shot is harder to describe than this chip from sand. But the general plan of playing it has been set down. Now why not do as Bobby has so often done, practice the shot at home?

The pivot is the least understood phase in golf instruction. Sol Metzger has prepared a leaflet on "The Pivot," which he will gladly send to any reader requesting it. Inclose a stamped, addressed envelope.

Nutting Wins Trap Event

The Los Angeles Gun Club trapshoot was won by E. M. Nutting, with a 97-100 score yesterday afternoon before a record crowd. A. A. Armstrong, Lou Reed, and Guy Thoughtaling finished in a triple tie for second place, with a score of 96 apiece. A. C. Van Etton, Mrs. Knight, R. A. Pocock, F. Martie, Fred Grewell, R. W. Ewall, J. F. Goodrich, all shot better than 90.

Dr. E. H. Smith of Portland, and Lou Reed tied in the handicap race with a 47-50 each. Smith took possession of the trophy as a result of winning the toss-up for it.

Next Sunday the targets will be registered with the Amateur Trapshooting Association, and will apply on the 1930 averages, it was announced by Secretary Fred H. Teeple yesterday.

Last Monday the following officers for the Gun Club were unanimously elected: W. H. Taylor, president; John P. Goodrich, vice-president; E. L. Kost, treasurer, and Fred H. Teeple, secretary.

Scores follow:

H. E. Sargent	99x100	Dr. Smith	88x100
E. M. Nutting	97x100	J. Paunchen	88x100

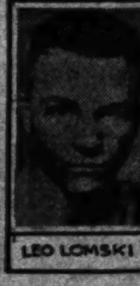
Leo Claims Fellow Named Eddie Richards Hit Him Hardest Punch of Ring Career

BY LEO LOMSKI

A fellow named Eddie Richards, from Portland, Or., hit me the hardest punch I ever was struck. It was in December, 1924, at Aberdeen, Wash.

Although he only weighed around 170, Richards was rated a heavyweight because of his hitting powers. In the second round Eddie hit me so hard with a left hook to the chin that a lump as big as an egg sprouted right away.

That punch made Ed Eicher's face turn white. Ed was my new employer. I ran a cig store for him. He was the local fight promoter, and he was handling me in my corner.



LEO LOMSKI

I didn't know anything about the damage to my chin until I came to my chair between the fifth and sixth rounds. Then it dawned on me that a lot of the ringsiders, who were cigar store customers, would call around the next day. I felt cheap and mad at the same time. This made me forget all about my opponent's reputation as a terrific puncher, and I made up my mind to do or die in the sixth.

I knocked the bozo out with a right to the temple soon after the bell rang for the sixth.

That fight taught me I could take a punch and that I had the fighting instinct. Eicher wanted to manage me and we hooked up after the Richards fight. Since then I have met all of the top-notchers, have bought a nice home in Aberdeen, two automobiles, some business property and have two sons, Leo, 5, and David, 1.

Will my sons take up boxing as a career?

Not if I have anything to say about it!

BEARS AND CARDS MIX ON COURT

First Game of Cage Series Scheduled for Saturday, Trojan Tilt Next

BERKELEY, Jan. 19.—Two important conference games and two meetings with nonconference opponents are on schedule for the University of California basketball team during the next two weeks.

Both conference games loom as critical tests for the Golden Bears. On the 25th inst. the first contest of the annual Stanford-California series is slated and one week later, the 31st inst., the Bears will invade Los Angeles to meet U.S.C. in the final and deciding game of the series. The Bears and Trojans split the first two tilts at Oakland Auditorium a little over a week ago.

The Blue and Gold squad today settled down to prepare for Saturday's game with Stanford, to be played at Palo Alto, figuring to take Wednesday evening's game with St. Mary's at Oakland Auditorium in stride. Last year the championship Bear five experienced difficulty in taking the measure of the Saints, 29 to 25, but this year the Moragans have had indifferent success in early season games, and the Bears may be able to save something for Stanford.

Considerable interest is attached to the game because of the fact that the Saints will present a team largely composed of football men. "Butch" Simas, halfback in 1929, and Capt. Cal Pitchford are expected to shine for the visitors. Other football players of the last season who are listed on Coach "Dutch" Conlon's roster are Toby Hunt, Harry Ebding, Bob Patterson, Charles Baird and Elmer Preston.

The second nonconference game in the two weeks' period will be with Santa Clara. The valley school has developed a powerful quintet this season, and inasmuch as both of the conference games are to be played away from the home court, the St. Mary's and Santa Clara encounters are expected to hold the limelight on the local schedule. The Santa Clara contest comes on Tuesday evening, the 28th inst., just two days before the Bears will leave for the south to meet the Trojans.

Oxy to Stage Track Meet

Rain or shine, Coach Joe Pipal will stage the annual interclass trackfest at Occidental College Saturday, stated the Tiger mentor recently. Approximately sixty of the Eagle Rock candidates for the 1930 varsity will participate in the annual affair.

In addition to a desire to get a line on his prospective candidates and the varsity strength as a whole, Pipal must see that his athletes are in shape for the coming Los Angeles Athletic Club meet which follows this class fest by a week.

Varsity aspirants and stars or hopefuls who are destined to strut their wares Saturday include Ernie Jensen, pole vault; Capt. Fred Appleton, 440 runner; Wendall Smith, the iron man, hurdler, discus and shot thrower; Ed Carey, javelin, and holder of the school record at 176 feet; George Hall, high and broad jump, and hurdles, and Dick Fairbanks, 440.

The freshmen, according to Pipal, have the greatest track and field outlook in many long years. Kelley and Buell, hurdlers; Reed, sprinter; Platt, a distance runner, and Campbell, in the 880, are among the leading peagreen cinderpath representatives. Pipal will get a line on these athletes also Saturday.

Townsend in Golf Victory

Ralph Townsend, chief engineer of all Photophone installations on the Pacific Coast, romped home with three major prizes in the midwinter Radio Pictures golf tournament held yesterday at Sunset Fields. With a net score of 68, Townsend won first prize in his division, the grand prize for low net of all players, plus a leg on a trophy that will go to a three-time winner.

E. Hornbostal turned in a net score of 69, thus winning the award for his division, and Herb Hirst took first prize in his division.

Of the forty employees of Radio Pictures playing, Hornbostal turned in the low-gross score of 79, while Bernard Levy turned the eighteen holes in 190 strokes, thus winning the "booby" prize—a one-hour golf lesson.

Players were divided according to handicap and there were three prizes for each division, one prize for low net and one silver trophy donated by Robert Vail, Hollywood jeweler, which must be won three times before it passes out of competition. Here are the prize-winning scores:

CLASS A—SCRATCH TO 22 HANDICAP
E. Hornbostal	79-10—69
Frank Regan	90-18—72
H. Vache	90-18—72
E. Cramer	93-21—72
CLASS B—23 TO 30 HANDICAP
Ralph Townsend	93-25—68
Sid Sanders	98-28—70
Kenny Koontz	97-25—72
CLASS C—31 TO 38 HANDICAP
Herb Hirst	112-36—76
Marty Styer	113-36—77
C. C. Thompson	118-38—80

The grand prize for low net for the day was given by Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey. Betty Compson donated the first prize for Class A, Marguerita Padula for Class B and the Radio Pictures contract show girls for Class C. Second and third prizes in each class consisted of golf balls purchased with the entry fee.

Amateur Ice Teams Clash

Although they were beaten by the Shell Oilers last Thursday night, and the Shells in turn have been licked consistently by the Arrowhead Valley Club lately, Hector Proul's Van Fleet-Durkee ice hockey team expects to hand a setback to Dave Patrick's scrappy Arrowheads tonight at the Palais De Glace. The teams will clash in a senior league game.

The Van Fleets will be strengthened for this evening's encounter, while the Arrowheads may prove decidedly weaker than usual. This is due to the fact that Tom Howard, the demon defense man, is back with the Service Men and will from now on be relied upon as a "punch" in the attack as well as the defensive, while the Arrowheads will be without Bert Clark, their star wing man, who has been declared ineligible.

The Shell Oilers proved that Clark had not fulfilled a prior contract with them before he jumped to Patrick's crew. How the Arrowheads, who have been sweeping aside all opposition lately, will act without Clark, a straight-shooting and fast-skating little forward, in the front line is a question. However, the team still has some flashy stick handlers in Curran, Hebert and Patrick, and defense men who compare favorably with all save those of the Shells.

JOE SCHLOCKER HEADS BILL AT MAIN STREET

Carlo Curtis, manager of the Main-street Athletic Club, has signed Leo Hernandez and Joe Schlocker, welterweights, for next Saturday night's main event.

Sandy Garrison Casanova raised his stock with Main-street fight fans last Saturday night by taking a clean-cut decision over Bobby Near, Navy middleweight champion. Luis Carpentero, Filipino, won on a second-round foul from Jimmy Lucas, Navy bantam star. Ignacio Galvan beat Jimmy McNulty, Navy welter, in the special event. Jack Hurd stopped Johnny Nero in thirteen seconds. They are 175-pounders.

COHAN SEEKS PETERS FOR PASADENA FIGHT

Morrie Cohan, the Crown City promoter, is after the services of Ernie Peters, the Chicago flyweight, to meet the winner of the Jose Routis and Young Sport battle which is scheduled for Thursday night at the Pasadena Arena.

Routis became an overnight sensation when he knocked out Ernie Hood in the sixth round at El Centro last Friday night.

Lew Raymond, the former matchmaker of the Madison Square Garden, is handling the new Filipino sensation on his western tour.

LLOYD WANER WILL UNDERGO OPERATION

PITTSBURGH (Pa.) Jan. 19. (AP) Lloyd Waner, famous half of the Waner brothers' act in the Pittsburgh Pirate outfield, is to be operated on for appendicitis at Presbyterian Hospital here tomorrow.

The operation is not regarded as a particularly serious one. Physicians were said to be confident of its success and add they thought Waner should be able to accompany the Pirate squad west for spring training next month.

WICHITA CAGERS RAP BAY CITY QUINTET

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 19. (AP)—The Wichita Henry's experienced basketball strategists, smothered the Governor Club quintet of San Francisco under a 41-to-11 score here today. The game was close in the first half, which ended, 14 to 11, in favor of the Henrys, but the final period saw the locals in complete rout, unable to score a single point.

Schleimer to Race for Club

Clarence Schleimer, University of Southern California shot-put star, has decided to compete for the Los Angeles Athletic Club team this season. He reported to Bovard Field Saturday for the L.A.A.C. workout along with Herman Brix and Mercury weight stars. Schleimer is the present junior national shot-put champion of the L.A.A.C. and has reached 48ft.

The Mercury team is now training for the first big meet of the season, that against Stanford University at Palo Alto, March 1, next. Although recent rains have held back training, Commissioner Boyd Comstock hopes to have his men in good shape for the Cardinals.

FIELD OF 115 STARTS TODAY

115, all but twelve being a select group of professionals, will tee off in the morning. Only those scoring 83 and under will be allowed to continue in the second round Tuesday, and the field will once more be cut at the end of the first thirty-six holes. Low fifty and ties will battle it out on Wednesday and Thursday, with twenty prizes, ranging from first prize of $10,000, down to $200, to be awarded.

LOCAL RULES MADE

In order to give the professionals every opportunity, a number of local rules were adopted this afternoon. On the fourteen par 4 and 5 holes, players will be permitted to improve their lie on second shots only, which is only fair, as full woods are necessary to get home on most of the par 4's. A ball buried on the fairway may be picked up and dropped without penalty, and a ball imbedded on the closely clipped portion of the greens may be lifted and replaced beside the divot hole without penalty.

Few golfers kept scores today, but several good rounds were registered. Fred Morrison of the Midwick Country Club, and Chet Beer of Bakersfield both scored 72's, one over par, and both were willing to accept the same scores for their first round.

With five of the par 4 holes on the first side being over 400 yards in length, the long hitter will have a decided edge, as woods rather than irons will be used through more than half the fairways.

MISSED HOLES

The subtleness of Billy Bell's course had Denny Shute, Los Angeles $10,000 open champion, Horton Smith, and Bobby Cruickshank so confused that they missed two holes, the fourth and fifth, altogether, and jumped from the third hole to the sixth without realizing their mistake.

Al Espinosa of Chicago, who played with Leo Diegel, shot a 35 on the first side, par golf, and finished in the low 70's.

While there were a number of good rounds, several short hitters were rather glum over their prospects, as the short hitter will have less than no chance at all.

The committee in charge have promised to be strict to the nth degree on one thing in particular, i.e. promptness on the first tee. It has been announced that anyone late, including Walter Hagen, the proverbial late sleeper, will be disqualified. This is being done in an effort to get the field over the course by 1 o'clock each day.

HAGEN ON DECK

Hagen was the last to arrive this afternoon, and went out shortly after 4 o'clock to get in a few holes before dark. All of the other notables are on hand, including such stellar lights as Macdonald Smith, Johnny Farrell, Gene Sarazen, Craig Wood, Bill Mehlhorn, George Von Elm, Olin Dutra, Joe Turnesa, Johnny Golden, and others.

This marks the first time since the national open at Winged Foot last summer that all ten members of the American Ryder Cup team are playing together once more in a tournament.

points. Saturday night Sam shifted things and had his boys taking their shots from the floor. Capt. Johnny Lehners and Bill Pierce proved that they can shoot with the best of them and there ought to be plenty of fireworks when these two and Jack Gardner open fire against the three sterling tossers of Westwood, Capt. Larry Wilds, Carl Knowles and Blondy Von Hagen.

REDLANDS ALMOST IN

In the Southern California Conference Redlands is showing the way to the other clubs, having won three straight games. These victories were scored over the best teams in the circuit, La Verne and Occidental, last year's champions. From now on the Baptists have rather easy sledding unless Puzz Merritt at Pomona can spring a surprise and bump Redlands off.

The Bulldogs do not meet Oxy or La Verne again this season so it's up to the Sagehens to stop the league leaders if they are to be halted. Whittier, Caltech and San Diego should prove comparatively easy for the Redlands outfit.

The Pomona-Redlands game is billed for February 15 at Claremont.

DEL MONTE POLOISTS DEFEAT SAN MATEO

DEL MONTE, Jan. 19. (AP)—Del Monte poloists scored an easy 15-to-3 victory over San Mateo here today, with Capt. Selby McCreery and Arthur Perkins starring for the winners. George Pope and Capt. D. S. Wood were outstanding for San Mateo.

In a practice game, the Del Monte Whites beat the Reds, 7 to 4.

STASIAK MAY GET LEWIS GO

Giant Pole Has to Defeat Marshall First

Strangler, Daviscourt Bout May be Rough

Youngster Picked to Take Main Event

Stanley Stasiak, the 245-pound Polish mat giant, will be matched with either Ed "Strangler" Lewis or Dick Daviscourt if he defeats Everett Marshall, young wrestling sensation, when they clash at the Olympic Wednesday night in one of the two big finish battles scheduled by Promoter Lou Daro for that night.

EVERETT MARSHALL

The local promoter made the announcement yesterday. He declared that as Stasiak had come to Los Angeles from Cambridge, Mass., for this one big battle, he would give the Pole a chance at other top-notch competition here if he beats Marshall.

Stasiak has not wrestled Lewis in several years, mat records show. The last time they met was in Kansas City and the Pole was disqualified for tossing Lewis out of the ring and excessive roughing. Stasiak had already scored a fall on the Kentuckian, then champion, and he was unable to return after the Pole heaved him out of the ring.

Daviscourt and Stasiak had a wild battle here last year. Most of the mat fans who witnessed it remember the speed with which Daviscourt scored the first fall. The Kansan snapped Stasiak to the mat with a crash that shook the Olympic and pinned the 245-pounder's shoulders to the mat within thirty-seven seconds.

Lewis and Daviscourt will tangle in the second finish bout of Wednesday night's mat card. This match is expected to be both rougher and wilder than the final event. The last time they met here Lewis had a fifteen-pound weight advantage. This time Daviscourt will outweigh Lewis by five pounds.

Marshall is being conceded a good even chance to win from Stasiak in this battle. His victory over Joe Malcewicz here two weeks ago brought out the fact that the young wrestler possessed great speed, strength, many arm holds, and a very good winning hold in the airplane spin, according to mat critics.

Although Stasiak is known not to have either the speed or cleverness of Malcewicz, he is said to be a better ring general, and he is heavier, stronger and more punishing.

Stasiak's big bulk and strength are expected to prove a great obstacle to Marshall in his efforts to pick up the Pole and spin him around with his airplane hold as he has his past foes. The match itself, however, is expected to be as fast as Marshall's last battle here.

Al Baffert will clash with Ad Hermann in the first bout.

good start for a third straight crown when she handed Miss Searslie a love set beating in the initial round. Mary Barbara Taylor, of Occidental College, and Elizabeth Delke, both threatening contenders for the title, defaulted in their first bracket of play.

Play will be resumed next Sunday morning at 9 o'clock. Only men's and women's singles will again be scheduled, after which the following week several men's and women's doubles matches will be sandwiched in the third week's play. Doubles entries will be received until next Sunday evening, announced Paul McClish, chairman, yesterday.

The summary:

LOUIS JACQUES WINS GOLF AT DEL MONTE

DEL MONTE, Jan. 19. (AP)—Louis Jacques of Los Angeles won low gross with an 86 today in the first annual golf tournament of the California Optometrists' Association at Del Monte links. F. Snell of San Francisco, won low net with 92-20—72.

Other scores included:
G. Davis, Sacramento, 91-10—81.
C. Brooks—Napa, 96-15—81.

Ted Rex Wins Skiing Title

DETROIT, Jan. 19. (AP)—Ted Rex of Detroit won the first professional world championship skis tournament here this afternoon, with Alfred Engen of Chicago a close second.

Rex won on form, rather than distance, both his tournament jumps being eclipsed by Anders Haugen of Minneapolis and Halford Walsted of Racine, Wis. Displaying excellent form, Rex spanned 125 feet on his first ride, and 132 on his second. Haugen jumped 126 feet on his first attempt, and 141 on his second, to set the high mark for the meet. Walstad rode 133 feet on his initial effort, but fell and spanned 135 feet on his second, holding his feet, but suffering a discount on form.

WOOD DEFEATED BY TAMIO ABE

match in which she opposed Mary Greef of Kansas City, now attending U.S.C., and the local bay city representative upset the midwestern ace in two straight, but hard-fought, deuce sets, 7-5, 9-7. It was the first victory for Miss Gladman over Miss Greef in any meeting.

Not content with the singles honors, Miss Gladman, paired with Miss Greef, defeated the veteran combination of Mrs. Marian Williams, Mexican national champion, and Mrs. May Sutton Bundy, former national and world's champion, 6-4, 6-3. The victory, rather an upset, gave the two S.C. co-eds the women's doubles championship.

Dick Hinckley and Tubby Ogden, a veteran Pasadena doubles team, eliminated Jack De Lara and Richard Lusch in the men's semifinal doubles, which was postponed and halted by rains, 6-4, 4-6, 6-4, and later opposed John Hope Doeg, Santa Monica, and John Van Ryn, New Jersey, the two Davis Cup hopefuls, for the championship.

MEANT BUSINESS

Van Ryn and Doeg meant business in the initial set and hurried through this frame in no time, winning at 6-3. After some hectic volleying and long rally exchanges, Hinckley and Ogden eked out the second set and tied the score at one set each, winning at 7-5. Van Ryn and Doeg went on to win the championship, however, with a final 6-3 set victory.

The summary:

MEN'S SINGLES

Final round—Tamio Abe (Japan,) defeated Sidney B. Wood (Pasadena,) 6-4, 6-3.

MEN'S DOUBLES

Semifinals — Ogden and Hinckley defeated De Lara and Lusch, 6-4, 4-6, 6-4.

Final — Van Ryn and Doeg defeated Ogden and Hinckley, 6-3, 5-7, 6-3.

WOMEN'S SINGLES

Final—Midge Gladman defeated Mary Greef, 8-7, 7-5.

WOMEN'S DOUBLES

Final—Misses Greef and Gladman defeated Mrs. Bundy and Mrs. Williams, 6-4, 6-3.

CALIFORNIANS IN GOLF WIN

Arthur Mehlin and Don Slocum of Oregon and Everett H. Seaver, newly elected president of the California Golf Association, tied for third, 5 down to par. Wilhelm won the draw. Rudie shot a 42-37—79 today, his last nine being the best recorded. Seaver had a 78. MacNaughton carded an 80.

The Hunter-Wilhelm match drew the largest gallery at Pebble Beach today, although a sizeable crowd watched young MacNaughton execute his pars and birdies.

Cochran Loses to Kieckhefer

NEW YORK, Jan. 19. (AP)—Augie Kieckhefer of Chicago nosed out Welker Cochran of Hollywood, 500 to 488, in a special three-cushion billiards match completed tonight.

Kieckhefer took both of the final blocks, 50 to 46, in fifty-three innings and 50 to 44 in thirty-three innings. The Chicagoan had a high run of five this afternoon and nine tonight. Cochran's best clusters were seven and six.

Marcel Camp, youthful Detroit star, staged a sensational finish to beat out Charles Harmon of New York in their 750-point pocket billiards match completed here tonight. The final score was 750 to 729.

Camp had lost the first four blocks to his New York rival but took the fifth this afternoon, 176 to 134 in twenty-nine innings. Then he won the match by taking the sixth and last block, 137 to 93 in twelve innings. Camp's high run in the fifth block was 39; Harmon's 29. Tonight the Detroit star's best cluster was 37; Harmon's 34.

LIFFE NABS TEN-PIN TILT

NEW YORK, Jan. 19. (AP)—William (Dutch) Liffe of Utica, N. Y., won his first match of the all-star round-robin bowling tournament here today, defeating Harry Levy of New York, 2008 to 1825. Levy substituted for Charlie Daw of Milwaukee, who preferred to rest up for a later match with Joe Falcaro.

MILLIONAIRES FACE JINX

Hollywood Ice Hockey Team Tangles Tonight With Richfields at Winter Garden

Two old rivals fighting their bitterest to stay in the thick of the heavy going for the California Hockey League title will collide tonight when the erratic Hollywood Millionaires combat the Los Angeles Richfields at the Winter Garden Ice Palace.

Throughout the season it has been about a toss-up over which team would win the coveted position, but right now the Oilers seem to have considerable of an edge on "Smokey" Harris and his crew.

Harris would like nothing better than to see his Millionaires rise up in the might of their wrath and smite the Oilers. He disputes the critics who would rank Richfield ahead of Hollywood, and tells them to keep a weather eye on the Millionaires when they really get to clicking with consistency.

The Oilers have maintained their position more at the expense of Hollywood than any other team in the league.

Three straight times now and Hollywood has come out of the fray with a nice, large zero. Richfield won two of the games and tied the other—mighty little satisfaction for Hollywood.

The chief trouble with the Millionaires has been that they have been unable to maintain their best form in the crises. Only last week they started what seemed the makings of a winning rally, beating the champion Oakland Sheiks, 3 to 0, and playing a 3-3 tie with the San Francisco Tigers, but they immediately tossed off the good effects of this flurry by losing a 5-to-1 game to Oakland.

Harris, a veteran of many bitter ice campaigns, has been trying every experiment to determine the trouble and the Oakland defeat may have shown him the Millionaire weakness.

The five-man defense seems to be the system best adapted to the Hollywood style of play, but even this has failed to work with consistency, due to the short time it has been employed.

Students of the game will notice a difference in the style of play between the Oilers and Millionaires. The Oilers have a trio of outstanding scorers, Guy Poole, Jack Lawrence and Jack Wilson, who rank right up among the league's best, but Hollywood lacks a single outstanding scorer. The reason is that Hollywood, with more man power, relies on more men to carry the burden.

Poole and Wilson rank among the league's five high scorers, and Lawrence is close behind.

Line-ups:

Hollywood		Los Angeles
T. Carrigan	Goal	Murray
Lanksbury	Defense	Irvine

Harris	Wing	Bond
Comber	Wing	Larkin
O'Connell	Wing	Lawrence

...the war against Spitting is a crusade of decency...join it. Smoke CERTIFIED CREMO!

The man who spits in public places is no worse an offender against public decency than the workman who rolls cigars with dirty fingers and tips the ends with spit.

Why punish the one and yet tolerate the filthy practice of the other? Smoke a cigar made in the most modern, spotless clean manner . . . Certified Cremo. Every tobacco leaf entering the clean, sunny Certified Cremo factories is scientifically treated by methods developed by the United States Government during the war. And its purity is safeguarded along every step of the way by amazing inventions that foil, wrap and tip the cigars without the possibility of spit!

Try a Certified Cremo—see how wonderfully good it is! Made of the choicest, tenderest leaves that the crop affords, we claim Certified Cremo's quality is tastier than that of any other cigar. A CHUCKLE FOR EVERYBODY

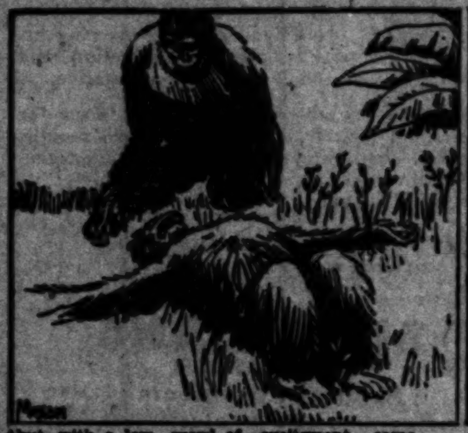
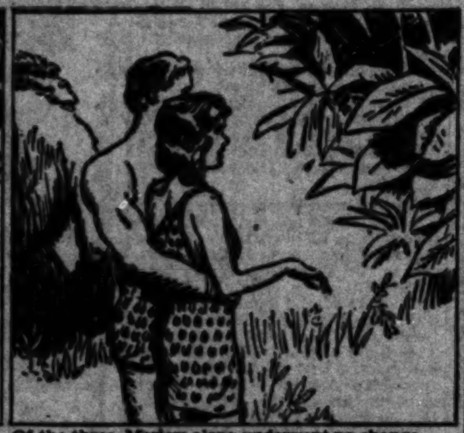
THE SON OF TARZAN

By Edgar Rice Burroughs



Akut, with a low growl of excitement, came crasing through the underbrush. He paid no attention to Meriem and Korak but with hair bristling began strutting, stiff-legged, about the fallen ape. Something stirred in his little brain. Something which the sight and smell of this great bull had aroused. It awakened in the heart of Akut a longing for the companionship of his own kind. So Korak was not alone undergoing a change.



Of the three, Meriem alone underwent no change. Always she had loved Korak. He was her "big brother." She still loved him—as a sister. Very proud she was of him too. Never was there other jungle creature so strong, so brave or handsome as her Korak. Suddenly Akut gave a deeper growl—the one of warning. Korak looked quickly up from the glorious vision of Meriem's sweet face. Now his other faculties awoke. His ears, his nostrils were on the alert.

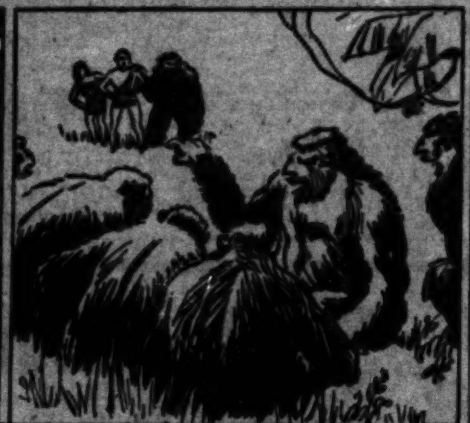
Something was coming! The Killer moved to Akut's side. The three stood, statue-like, gazing into the jungle's leafy tangle. Presently a great ape broke through the thicket. Seeing them he halted, giving a grunt back over his shoulder. A moment later came cautiously another ape, soon followed by others, both bulls and females with young, until two score hairy monsters stood glaring at the silent group of three. Akut was the first to speak.



He pointed at the body of the dead bull. "Korak, mighty fighter, has killed your king," he said. "There is none greater than Korak, son of Tarzan. Now, Korak is king. What bull is mightier than Korak?" It was a challenge! The apes chattered among themselves, taking counsel. At last a young bull in the prime of his strength, stepped forward, bristling, growling, terrible. He was enormous. Even natives seldom see these great hairy primordial men.

PRODUCING & REFINING — OIL and MINING — IN THE EARTH

LL COMES IN AT KETTLEMAN

[illegible] Felix No. 1 Under Complete Control

[illegible] Believed to Be 4000 Barrels Daily

[illegible] of Other Ventures in Oil Field Reported

[illegible], Jan. 19. (AP)—Rival [illegible] discovery well and [illegible] in the Kettleman [illegible] south of here, the [illegible] No. 1 well of the Petroleum [illegible] Company on the Kettleman north dome was brought in [illegible] today under complete control. [illegible] was drilled to a depth of [illegible] than 7000 feet.

[illegible] officials today said that [illegible] production figures will be [illegible] for several days yet. [illegible] estimates were that the [illegible] is producing more than 4000 [illegible] of oil daily, with a heavy [illegible] production.

[illegible] Securities recently [illegible] an absorption plant [illegible] of handling 100,000,000 cubic [illegible] of gas a day. The Associated [illegible] Company is working on a pipe [illegible] the well, which recently was [illegible] by heavy storms.

[illegible] possibility of another completion [illegible] of the north dome at Kettleman Hills looms large just now. The [illegible] Oil Company's No. 38 on [illegible] 21-17, which offsets Petroleum Securities Felix No. 1, is coring [illegible] below 7228 feet. There are [illegible] actual producers in the field—[illegible] discovery well, the Continental [illegible] producer and [illegible] No. [illegible], the latter having [illegible] a month ago. The [illegible] Corporation has [illegible] Ochsner No. 2 on Sec. 36, [illegible]. It came in two weeks ago for [illegible] barrels of oil per day from a [illegible] of 7328 feet and will not be [illegible] until January 1, 1931.

[illegible] of the most disappointing [illegible] Kettleman Hills occurred [illegible] south dome. It is the Ohio [illegible] Company's Smith No. 1 on Sec. [illegible]. It drilled to 8046 feet and [illegible] deepest hole in the entire [illegible] but has not penetrated any [illegible] below 7083 feet where a [illegible] test was made three [illegible] ago, and developed hot salt [illegible]. Two days ago it was plugged [illegible] 7080 feet and if the retest [illegible] not prove favorable, field [illegible] state that it will be abandoned.

LONE PINE GOLD RUSH REPORTED

Ore Find in Property of National Silver Said to be Unusually Rich

Reports of a rich gold strike on the property of the National Silver Company, located about sixty-five miles northeast of Lone Pine, have started a rush to that district.

According to reports the strike was made on the 1950-foot level of the No. 1 shaft of the National Silver Company's holdings.

Since uncovering of the ore body the mining company engineers have traced the vein to the Spear mine, a short distance north of National's property.

Outcroppings of what is believed to be the same vein have been traced for nearly seven miles along the floor of the Saline Valley, in which the No. 1 shaft is located, and claims have been filed along the entire stretch by officials of the silver company.

Assays taken from the new vein are said to have run as high as $1100 a ton and engineers who have examined the property are of the opinion that a large body of high-grade ore has been uncovered. The new strike is located in the heart of what has for years been a rich gold country. National Silver's holdings are on the east slope of the Cerro Gordo Mountains and on the west side of the Saline Valley.

Almost directly across the valley is the old Cerro Gordo mine, which has produced upward of $33,000,000 in gold and is still numbered among the State's richest producers.

Seven miles from the present strike the Old Ironside was once the scene of a gigantic boom that brought hundreds of gold seekers and produced fortunes in high-grade ore.

Mining men familiar with the district state that the present strike may result in the uncovering of the main vein, of which the other strikes in the district have apparently been mere outcroppings.

PROGRESS SHOWN AT TOM REED

New Shaft Reported as Below 1000-Foot Level and Forging Ahead

OATMAN (Ariz.) Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—Tom Reed's shaft has passed the 1000-foot level and within a few weeks is expected to be down to the new 1150-foot working station, where is to be a pumping compartment and below which will be an ore pocket for skip hoisting. Ore for the mill, of a grade not worked for years, is going to the mill from the 800-foot level and from the 950-foot winze workings. New stopes are being opened and there is promise of early additions to the tonnage now being milled. Most of the mine water is being lifted by the big new pump on the 800-foot shaft level.

The Gold Road mill is being operated steadily, with shipments of cyanided gold going to the Selby Smelting Works in San Francisco. Local miners declare this property possessed of an immense tonnage of good ore, much of it recently developed in newer working.

While there is no approach to former boom conditions, the camp is notably prosperous, with more men employed daily. Much interest is being shown in the Silver Creek district, with development proceeding on a number of properties outside the Oatman zone of mineralization.

Texas Plans to Check Waste of Natural Gas

AUSTIN (Tex.) Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—Energetic measures are to be taken immediately by the oil and gas division of the Railroad Commission to stop and prevent the waste of natural gas, particularly in the Panhandle fields.

An investigation by the Railroad Commission has brought to light the fact that several casinghead gasoline plants of the Panhandle are obtaining their gas supply from wells that do not now and never have produced oil.

Under the oil and gas conservation law, it is unlawful to utilize gas for the extraction of gasoline or for manufacturing carbon black, unless the gas comes from an oil-producing well.

Trouble Delays Shell Well in Fruitvale Area

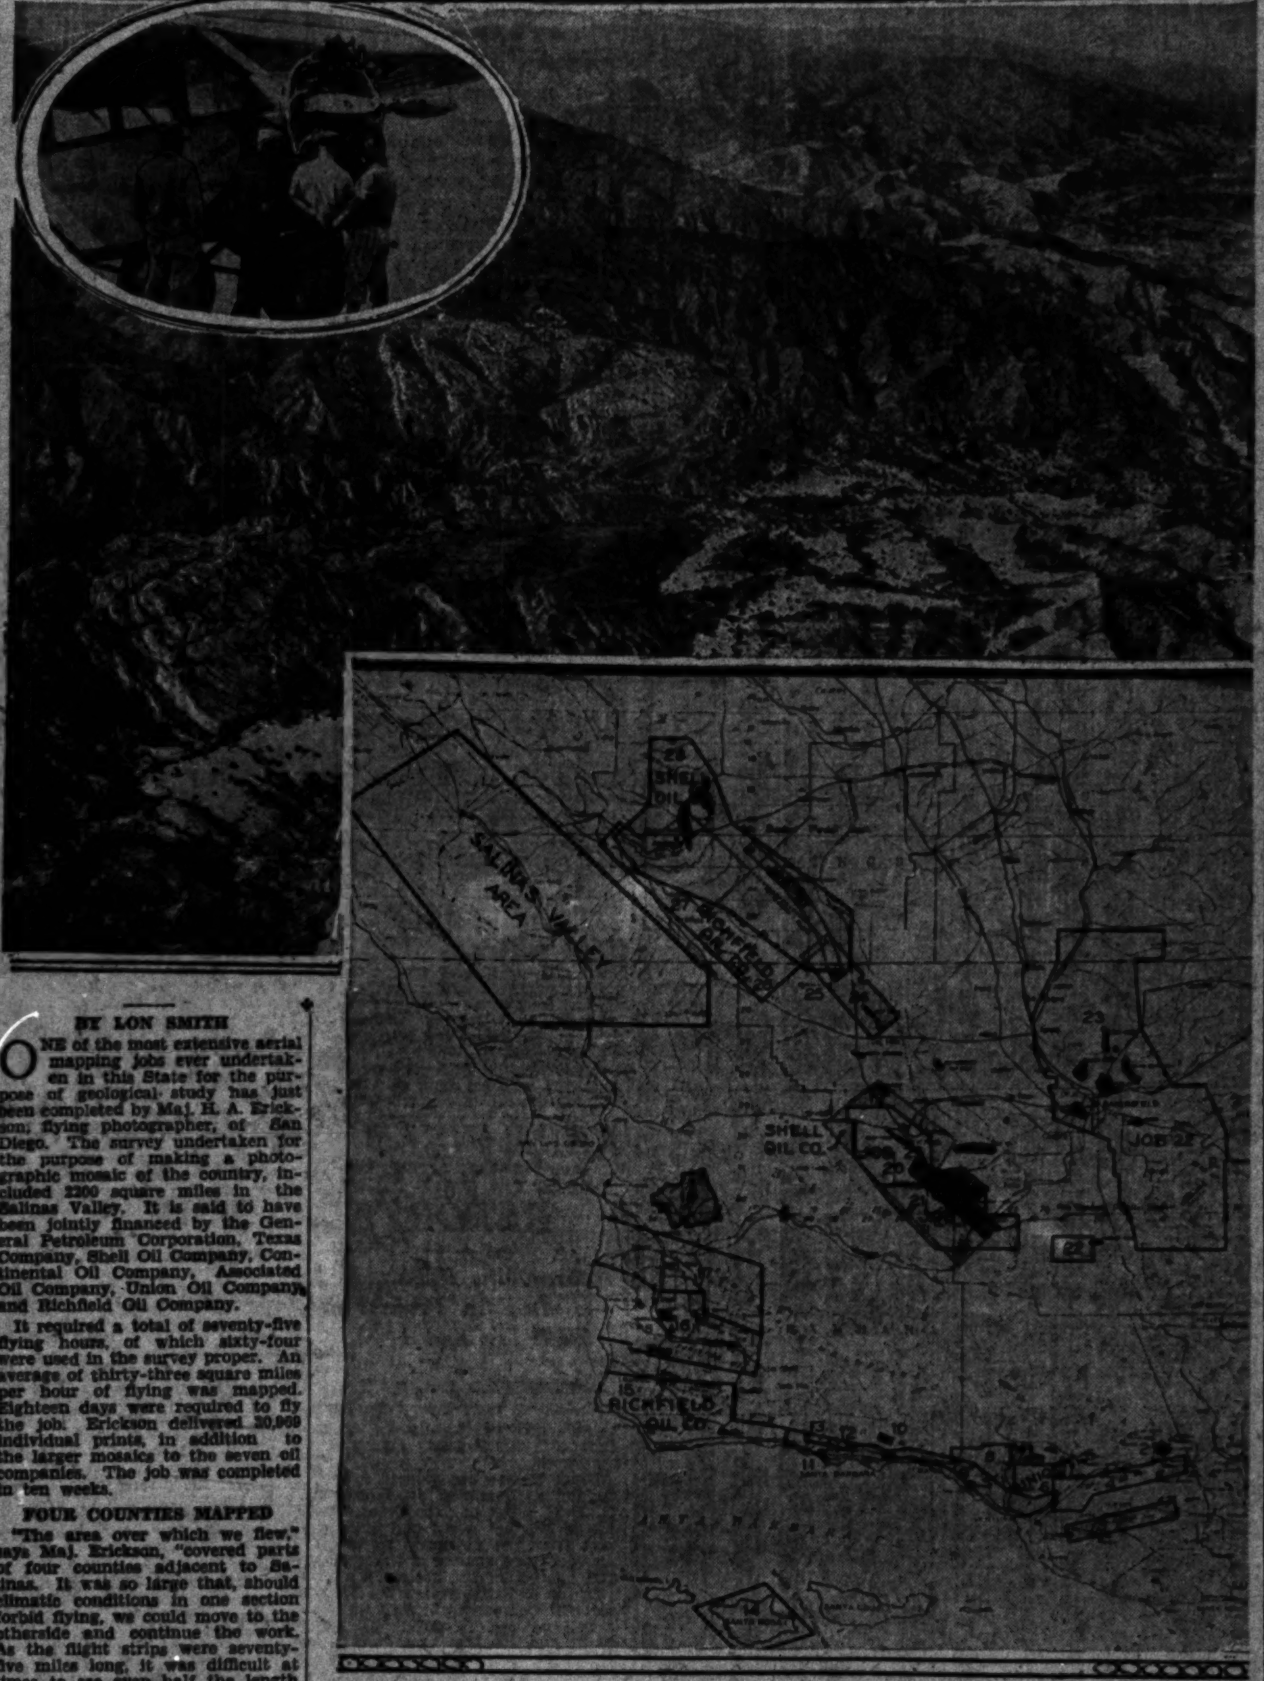
FRUITVALE, Jan. 19. (Exclusive) Mechanical difficulty in the Shell Oil Company's first attempt to develop production in their field here has caused considerable delay. The six and five-eighths-inch casing will have to be loosened and the well deepened before it can be completed. The hole was drilled to 3894 feet where the crew tried to bring it in, but developed mechanical trouble.

The company has its No. 2 well on Section 36, 28-26, standing cemented, the eighteen-inch casing being set at 914 feet with bottom of the hole at 917 feet.

Shell's Shepard No. 1 well on Section 14, 29-27, has not yet been spudded in, preliminary activity being carried out at this time.

LARGEST OIL-MAPPING JOB IN STATE FINISHED

Search for Petroleum Reduced to Simpler Terms for Geologist



Where Camera Shot Pictures for Seven Oil Companies

Inset shows airplane used in mapping Salinas Valley for oil exploration, and some of the men who participated in the work. Panorama is of mountainous portion of Salinas Valley. Map reveals aerial geological surveys of the last two years, with largest and most recent job outlined in upper left-hand corner. At bottom of map is Santa Cruz Island, on Santa Barbara Channel, recently leased by Standard Oil Company for oil exploration.

BY LON SMITH

ONE of the most extensive aerial mapping jobs ever undertaken in this State for the purpose of geological study has just been completed by Maj. H. A. Erickson, flying photographer, of San Diego. The survey undertaken for the purpose of making a photographic mosaic of the country, included 2200 square miles in the Salinas Valley. It is said to have been jointly financed by the General Petroleum Corporation, Texas Company, Shell Oil Company, Continental Oil Company, Associated Oil Company, Union Oil Company and Richfield Oil Company.

It required a total of seventy-five flying hours, of which sixty-four were used in the survey proper. An average of thirty-three square miles per hour of flying was mapped. Eighteen days were required to fly the job. Erickson delivered 20,969 individual prints, in addition to the larger mosaics to the seven oil companies. The job was completed in ten weeks.

FOUR COUNTIES MAPPED

"The area over which we flew," says Maj. Erickson, "covered parts of four counties adjacent to Salinas. It was so large that, should climatic conditions in one section forbid flying, we could move to the otherside and continue the work. As the flight strips were seventy-five miles long, it was difficult at times to see even half the length of the run. For this reason we had with us, Irving Frazier, an engineer for the Texas Company. His application of existing United States Geological Survey sheets used for flight control was truly remarkable and with their guidance we were able to keep on our flight lines at all times.

"From the elevation at which we were working it was necessary to utilize two cameras in making a single run. One camera would photograph with its seventy-five feet of film approximately fifty-four miles before the film became exhausted. With a change of cameras we would continue shooting the verticals which later went into the completed mosaics. On reaching the end of a flight line and while the pilot was maneuvering to get on his next line, the camera with the exposed film was reloaded and ready for work by the time the next flight was started.

DAILY FLIGHTS TOLD

"Flights were made along parallel strips the entire length of the area. Because of their length we could cover only four to six strips in a single day. This required flying from 500 to 750 miles daily. Fortunately, we encountered nearly perfect weather and lost only one day in the field on account of adverse conditions."

Erickson flew from the Salinas Airport.

The Salinas Valley area had not until recently been surveyed for oil geology from the air, but through M. S. Kennedy, who learned aerial mapping under Maj. Erickson at San Diego two years ago, and later joined the Texas Company, the various companies concerned in the project were brought together for the undertaking.

The pictures individually which Erickson took are being utilized by the various companies. Their field crews, to which geologists are attached, use the pictures for identification and make notations thereon while on the ground. Thus they get a permanent record both by notation and photographically by which they can refresh their memory while in the home office. Each company has a mosaic of the area.

STRIPS MAKE MAP

When all the pictures of the total area mapped were laid out in their respective places, the assembly measured thirty-two feet by twenty-four feet. A reproduction was made of the assembly photographically to identify the job or pictures with the total area.

As Erickson exposed from six to eight rolls of film daily, he shipped them to San Diego for development. Thus development progressed as the job was flown.

"In California," said Erickson, "more aerial survey work has been done for oil geology than elsewhere. Oil companies have surveyed practically all of the areas where they think oil exists. Among these areas are included even the islands off Santa Barbara. Oil-company executives realize the value in time saving by using aerial photographs for study of formations. Fortunately for the air photographer equipment has improved to the point where motor failures almost never occur and other difficulties which formerly beset the photographer have been greatly minimized."

GOLD DOME SUSPENDS OPERATION

Gold Estate at Battle Mountain Taken Over on Lease by Discoverer

BATTLE MOUNTAIN (Nev.) Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—The Gold Dome Company has ceased work on its gold properties at McCoy, thirty miles south of Battle Mountain, and leased the ground to Joseph McCoy, the discoverer. The management states that several shipments of rich ore were made, but that the deposit extended only a short distance below the 150-foot level. McCoy believes that the high-grade shoot will be recovered at greater depth, and plans extensive prospecting.

Seven Troughs Gold Mines Company has added a 360-horsepower Diesel engine to its equipment, and has reconditioned the Tyler shaft to the 300-foot level. Connections will shortly be made with the main tunnel. Drifting east and west is progressing on the Coalition ore body, with wide faces of excellent gold ore disclosed. Development of three other veins is advancing. The management is rushing installing mill equipment and expects to start production before the end of April.

PEAK SIGHTED AT SANTA FE

High Production Point of 400,000 Barrels Daily Believed Due for Decline About February 15

BY HOWARD KEGLEY

That the peak of production at Santa Fe Springs may occur on a date not far from February 15 is the opinion of some of the best petroleum engineers in Southern California, and it is thought that the high point will show a potential daily output close to 400,000 barrels. This conclusion is based upon an estimate for the middle of the proration period from January 16 to January 31, inclusive. The expected potential output of the field on January 22 is 366,000 barrels, and operators base their estimates of the peak upon the large number of wells yet to be completed in the Clarke zones. The estimated peak figure is particularly interesting for the reason that when the field was blowing off from the Meyer zone in 1923 it hit a peak of 346,000 barrels, which disturbed the entire petroleum industry.

The sands below 5000 feet, and particularly the Clarke zone, are apparently much more productive than were the Bell, Foix and Meyer sands a few years ago, and it is believed that the deeper zones will show slower decline. The Clarke sands are practically continuous and they take in from 600 to 650 feet of formation extending down to approximately 8000 feet. A few wells are going below that depth for production, but not many are actually drawing production from much beyond 8000 feet. The likelihood that these zones will stand up better than the Meyer sand is chiefly based upon the fact that operators are curtailing more than half the output of the field to hold vast quantities of gas in the ground. This gas will aid in bringing to the surface in future months and years millions of barrels of oil that otherwise would never be recovered, in the opinion of petroleum engineers, who assert that the quick decline of the Bell and Meyer sands was due principally to the fact that hundreds of wells were shoved into the sands in a period of a few months and no co-ordinated effort was made by the operators to conserve the gas for future usefulness.

Of the present daily output at Santa Fe Springs it is believed that approximately 60 per cent is coming from the Clarke zones, and that the peak output is yet three or four weeks distant, with a comparatively slow decline in prospect, so the operators already are beginning to give serious consideration to the idea of mutually agreeing to enter into another period of production curtailment. They are now on the last lap of a ninety-day prorating period, which began November 1. While there is some difference of opinion as to how long the new period should be, the producers seem fairly well convinced that curtailment must be continued, at least for sixty days, if not for ninety.

The rate of decline at Santa Fe Springs just now is indicated by statistics showing that for the two weeks ending the 7th inst., based upon a production potential of 331,261 barrels a day, the normal decline of the field was an average of 28,819 barrels a day. That the statisticians are not far wrong in their estimates of potential and decline is revealed by the fact that when a number of producing companies doubted the asserted potential flow of a certain group of wells they were subjected to a flowing test and their respective yields are said to have been within 2 per cent of the estimate made by Umpire Paul Grimm, who is in charge of the curtailment program.

The only other oil field in the United States which now compares with the Santa Fe Springs field is the Oklahoma City pool, putting out approximately 350,000 barrels daily with a chance of hitting the 400,000-barrel mark within a week, according to reports.

COURSE OF DRILL TOLD BY DEVICE

New Type of Surveying Instrument Said to Map Direction Accurately

The accurate charting of the course of the drill in an oil well on its downward journey is now made practical through the invention of a new type of surveying instrument just perfected by Frank Riever, nationally known geophysicist, according to Jack C. Ballagh, secretary of the Patterson-Ballagh Corporation and vice-president of a company formed this week to manufacture the surveying device. The new instrument scientifically records the direction of drift in an oil well.

The necessity for surveying wells to determine whether or not a hole has grown crooked and should be side-tracked has attracted the attention of oil operators for several years. Mr. Rieber developed an accurate surveying instrument operated by spring motor mechanism, which will record the degree of crookedness at various depths in a well.

The instruments require highly accurate workmanship. Some of the measurements are as fine as those required in watch-making. Skilled artisans are employed in making the parts. The company plans to distribute the instruments to various drilling concerns under lease. Offices for servicing the instruments already have been opened in the Mid-Continent field and various foreign territories.

NEW MILL AT AJO TO OPEN SOON

Calumet and Arizona's $3,200,000 Project in Completion Stage

AJO (Ariz.) Jan. 19. (Exclusive) Mill construction that will cost $3,200,000 is nearing completion on the New Cornelia branch of the Calumet and Arizona Mining Company. Though the mill has been built above and around the old one, there has been only slight decrease of production, this by suspension of work on Sundays. Not only will the new concentrator have the most modern of features, with expected near approach to perfection in the saving of values by flotation, but especial attention has been given to devices for safeguarding employees from injury. Only two accidents, both without fatality, have occurred since start of the new work in May, last year.

Sam Fields, one of the best known of Arizona mining men, is consulting engineer for new development of the famous Gunsight property, sixteen miles east of Ajo. The owper, the Gunsight Development Company, has started construction of a mill. Water is to be pumped from Wall's Well, four miles distant. The mine was celebrated in the late seventies for its silver and lead croppings.

President W. P. Schoonmaker of Los Angeles announces that a 200-foot shaft is to be sunk on the property of the Cimarron Mining Company, near this point. The ore carries values in copper, silver and gold.

Surprise Mine Taken by Gold Zone on Option

TONOPAH (Nev.) Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—The Gold Zone Company, formerly operating the Gold Zone property at Divide, has taken an option on the Surprise property in the Round Mountain field, adjoining the properties of the Gold Hill Mining Company. The Surprise is said to contain extensions of the strong ledges developed in the Gold Hill, and was taken over by the Gold Zone Company after the Ben Hur Divide Company relinquished an option on the ground because of lack of finances.

The combined production in 1929 of the Combined Metals and Bristol Silver companies at Pioche is given as approximately $2,000,000. In December the Combined Metals Company produced 7000 tons of ore, and the Bristol Silver 3600 tons.

Cinnabar Area in Texas Active

ALPINE (Tex.) Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—Mining activities in the Upper Rio Grande border region of Texas at this time consists of the opening of several promising cinnabar properties in the Terlingua quicksilver district and expansion of development operations by the American Metal Company at its Presidio mine.

Two new 100-ton flotation mills are also under construction, one by the World Exploration Company at its Hazel copper mine near Van Horn and the other by the Bonanza Mining Company at its Bonanza mine near Sierra Blanca.

NEW WELL PLANNED IN OILDALE FIELD

OILDALE, Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—The Chanslor-Canfield Midway Oil Company is preparing to drill its No. 31 well on Section 26, 27-28, of the Kern Front. The rig is up and the drilling tools are being installed. Drilling of this well follows the completion of No. 30 on the same section, which came in with a production of 200 barrels daily.

CRUDE OIL PRICE PROTEST VOICED

Royalty Owners' Association Blames Refiners

Producers Penalized When Market Drops, They Say

Companies Lay Trouble to Overdevelopment

AUSTIN (Tex.) Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—Reduction in prices of crude oil ranging from 15 cents to 41 cents a barrel by major producing companies in Texas has brought forth a protest from the Mid-Continent Royalty Owners' Association, which declares that the penalty for unfavorable winter markets is being arbitrarily charged to the producing division of the industry, whereas the fault largely lies with major refiners who set the crude prices through buying divisions.

In a statement explaining the action of the Humble Oil and Refining Company, subsidiary of Standard Oil, in reducing prices, President Farish of that company said:

REGRETS NECESSITY

"The Humble Oil and Refining Company finds itself obliged to post a reduction in the prices that it pays for crude oil in order to fairly adjust crude oil prices with prices of petroleum products. In spite of commendable efforts over the past year on the part of many producers to limit their crude oil output to the market or refinery demand and in spite of the fact that these efforts have been conspicuously successful, an overproduction of crude oil exists today.

"Although crude oil production in the past few weeks has been maintained in line with refinery runs, this balance has existed only because refineries are running excessive amounts of crude, and already large stocks of gasoline are being increased at an alarming rate, entirely above that justified by anticipated requirements. The effect of this has been further to depress the market for products, especially gasoline.

GASOLINE SETS PRICE

"The price of gasoline is the dominating factor in determining crude prices under present conditions of excessive crude production, which has brought about a price for fuel oil below its value based on coal. Larger yields of gasoline from each barrel of crude run are being realized each year by our refineries, due primarily to increased cracking and increased production of casinghead gasoline. Consequently, the refinery demand for crude has not increased proportionately to the demand for gasoline.

"While we expect an increase in gasoline consumption of 8 per cent in 1930 we know that the most economic method of producing the gasoline required will call for but little, if, in fact, any, more crude than was consumed by refineries in the United States in 1929."

Standard Well on Oak Street Makes Headway

BAKERSFIELD, Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—The Standard Oil Company's second well on Oak street, near the city limits, known as No. 5-3 and located on Sec. 24, 29-27, is down more than 3150 feet and making good progress.

Blue shale and hard sand formations are being encountered.

Drilling its first job in the area and bringing it in on July 3 of last year, Standard proved up considerable acreage at the edge of Bakersfield. After considerable trouble with water, the first well was completed at about 4500 feet for more than 150 barrels of medium gravity

PIPE LINE MOVE STIRS INTEREST

Shell Oil Files Application in New Mexico

Project from Hobbs Field to Wink, Tex., Posts

Pickup in Drilling Activity in Area Expected

ARTESIA (N. M.) Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—Oil activity in the Hobbs district is expected to be materially increased as a result of the recent announcement that the Shell Oil Company has filed an application with the Interstate Commerce Commission for permission to construct a pipe line from the Hobbs field to a point near Wink, Tex., there to connect with Shell lines in Texas.

According to reports a competing line may seek permission to enter the same field. The Texas Company, which is now laying a two-and-a-half-mile extension to the A. R. Hayes well of the Continental Oil Company on Sec. 22, 18-38, is believed to be the next likely competitor of Shell, especially if the Humble Oil and Refining Company's Bowers No. 1 on Sec. 30, 18-38, two and a half miles northwest of the Hobbs proven area, comes in as a producer. The Texas Company would only have to extend its line [illegible] miles from the Continental well to reach the Hobbs field.

The area immediately surrounding State No. 1 of Cowdill & Reynolds on Sec. 2, 21-35, in the Lea district, has been proven by the completion of the No. 1-A State of the Texas Production Company one location north of the Cowdill & Reynolds well. The No. 1-A of Texas Production was drilled to [illegible] feet and the hole filled rapidly with oil.

Grading for the new road already has started near the State line. The extension, known as the Texas-New Mexico Railroad, will cost slightly less than $[illegible], it is said. Contract for the first fifty miles of road from Hobbs to Cheyenne was let last month and a contract for the remaining twenty miles soon will be let.

Disintegrated Serpentine

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 1—Question: Herewith is a sample I am unfamiliar with which was handed to me by a friend and said to have come from near Oakland, Cal. It seems to be a silicate of some kind, but what? J.

Answer: The sample is a mixture of altered serpentine and metamorphosed chert.

Several Specimens

WENDEN (Ariz.) Jan. 1—Q.: I am sending you today several samples of rock to be classified and to learn if they contain anything of commercial value. K.

A.: Sample No. 1 is altered rock and it carries no available (water soluble) potash. No. 2 is of hydrous aluminum and magnesium silicate and is not Bentonite. No. 3 is mostly gypsum carrying more or less pyrite. No. 4 is amphibole (hornblende) and near actinolite. No. 5 is indurated talc. No. 6 is granitic rock and contains no free gold. Values problematical.

Three Samples

[illegible], Jan. 2—Q.: The samples all come from the same ledge. I turned the torch on No. 2 (which is the same as No. 1) and brought the white powder to the surface. What is No. 2? Thanking you for past favors. E.

A.: Sample No. 1 is a mixture of hornblende and iron silicate. No. 2 on the order of No. 1. No. 3 is greatly altered rock running high in iron oxides. The white powder on burnt No. 2 is silica and there is no false platinum in any sample.

[illegible]

LAS VEGAS (Nev.) Jan. 2—Q.: I am sending you three samples of ore taken from near the surface. I had No. 2 assayed for gold, silver and copper. The assay returns gave traces of gold and silver but no copper. Please classify the samples and oblige. C.

A.: Sample No. 1 is probably altered rhyolite in part, with more or less greenish iron-magnesium silicate. No. 2 is on the order of No. 1 but not so much decomposed. The two thumb specimens of No. 3 are altered iron-magnesium silicate mixed with iron oxides and traces of microscopic pyrite. Free gold not present in any sample.

Tellurium Absent

GLENDALE, Jan. 3—Q.: Three samples found in Santa Cruz county, Ariz. Please test for gold, silver, lead and iron. R.

A.: No fire assays made for gold or silver. One of the rocks carries Marcasite (white iron pyrites) with pyrite and some peacock iron. The other rock contains pyrite, arsenopyrite, microscopic garnet, some [illegible], a trace of lead and iron oxides. Free gold not found in any sample.

Six Samples

PAROWAN (Utah) Jan. 4—Q.: I am sending you six samples for qualitative analyses. The specimens came from the Frisco mining district in Beaver county, Utah. D.

A.: Correspondents are politely requested not to send over five samples at one time. No. 1 is limestone and zinc should be found in such formation. No. 2 is hematite and carries a little zinc. No. 3 is hematite, in part micaceous iron. No. 4 is chiefly limonite; calcite found with a little brown zinc ore. No. 5 is rock stain; iron present, and No. 6 is altered rock carrying copper traces. No sample tested for bismuth.

Three Specimens

[illegible] PASS, Jan. 5.—Q.: Please classify the three samples and give me report through your [illegible] the Earth column. D. W. F.

A.: No. 1 is spessartite garnet. No. 2 is iron-aluminum garnet, and No. 3 is Grossularite (garnet rock).

Of Doubtful Value

ARLINGTON, Jan. 5—Q.: Inclosed samples from Riverside county, California, Gavilan Peak Mountain. Do they represent any commercial value? W.

A.: The pistachio-green rock is chiefly massive epidote with some pyroxene, and it is spotted with magnetite and manganese. The blackish sample is magnetite partly altered to hematite.

Chromium Absent

TORRANCE, Jan. 6—Q.: Please let me know what the inclosed sample is composed of, and if it represents any commercial value? It is from a ledge about 150 feet wide in the Santa Ana Mountains, Orange county, Cal. T.

A.: It carries some altered hornblende and lime carbonate is more or less present. The red colors are those of hematite, and other hematite is in the rock of the micaceous-iron variety. Platinum absent.

Five Specimens

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 6—Q.: The inclosed sample of ore was found by me in Riverside county, Cal. I thought it belonged to the uranium or vanadium group of minerals, and possibly of radioactive properties. Are any of the sodium salts present in any sample? U.

A.: The samples are not radioactive. They seem to be in part greatly altered iron-magnesium silicates, with a sample or two testing for low percentages of lime carbonate and soda. Water soluble potash is absent; one of the [illegible] is chiefly silica, and all of the [illegible]

Free Gold Absent

KENWOOD, Jan. 17—Q.: Panel for test should be inclosed. [illegible]

[illegible] two samples in Placer county, California. Please test for gold, silver [illegible]. W.

A.: To the same for gold and silver are made by this department of The Times.

NEVADA MINING DEAL REPORTED

Production Due Shortly at Ione Mercury Mine

TONOPAH (Nev.) Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—The Consolidated Holding and Developing Corporation of New York, has acquired control of the promising Yellow Cat property near Goldfield, and announced comprehensive development plans for its Princess property at Manhattan and the Portland group, adjoining the Tonopah Western mine, west of Tonopah's main producers.

The 200-foot shaft at the Yellow Cat is to be deepened, new levels opened, and the sulphide zone prospected. Development of the Princess is proceeding vigorously. A gasoline drill will be installed on the Portland as soon as weather conditions permit. The Yellow Cat and Princess are gold properties, with the Princess located near the rich Sullivan strike.

The Nevada Quicksilver Company, announces that production will start within six weeks from its cinnabar properties near Ione. Equipment includes a fifty-ton furnace and mine machinery. The management states that a substantial tonnage of commercial ore is exposed, with the outlook favorable for a long period of production.

Production of bullion by Tonopah mills in December reached a value of $128,700, the highest figures recorded in several months despite the low price of silver. Ore was treated from the Tonopah, Belmont, Tonopah extension and West End properties, together with shipments from lessees at Divide and other camps.

[illegible] around $15 per ton, and is said to be independent of the main ledges opened in the older workings. The management is withholding an official statement until further work definitely proves extent and value of the discovery.

Lessees have started shipments from the Bluestone and Mason Valley properties, at Wabuska, to the Garfield smelter, with consignments from the oxidized zone said to be running around 10 per cent copper.

KERN FIELD ACTIVITIES REPORTED

Three New Holes Added to Drilling Projects in Week Just Ended

BAKERSFIELD, Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—Three more new wells have been added to the list of those drilling in Kern county during the past week.

Bruce Evans has secured a permit for his Dominion No. 4, on Sec. 26, 26-28, north of Poso Creek. The site is 330 feet north and 395 feet west from the southeast corner of the southwest quarter of the northeast quarter of the section.

In the McKittrick area the Wellport Oil Company will drill its No. 2 well on Sec. 28, 29-21, 400 feet south and 150 feet east from the northwest corner of the southeast quarter of the southeast quarter of the section.

The Honolulu Consolidated Oil Company will drill its No. 52 well in the Buena Vista Hills, 385 feet south and 2085 west from the northeast corner of Sec. 8, 32-24.

Five Hundred Barrels Daily From New Well

AUSTIN (Tex.) Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—An oil well flowing at the rate of 500 barrels a day was brought in yesterday in wildcat territory sixteen miles northeast of Austin, in Williamson county, by J. C. McNeill and associates of Dallas.

The escaping oil was turned into a ravine, which is being dammed. The producing zone was struck at 1684 feet. Representatives of major oil companies are at the scene today, scrambling for leases.

Huge Price for Eddy Oil Lease

ARTESIA (N. M.) Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—One of the largest cash oil lease deals ever made in this district was recently consummated when M. W. Evans, Artesia oil broker, sold to the Barnsdall Oil Company 1280 acres in Township 17-29 of Eastern Eddy county for a consideration of $115,000. There are no producing wells on the property, the nearest production being about two miles distant.

New Completion Due at Oildale

OILDALE, Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—The General Petroleum Corporation is about to bring in another one of its Wetmore lease wells on the Kern front. The Wetmore No. 16 on Sec. 16, 28-27, is down 1785 feet. The liner has been run. This Wetmore job is General's last of several more wells drilled there.

OIL POOL STRUCK NEAR PRISON FARM IN TEXAS

AUSTIN (Tex.) Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—An oil pool has been discovered in Fort Bend county within less than three miles of a tract of 5520 acres of land owned by the State of Texas and operated as a part of the State prison system. In the same vicinity is another State-owned convict farm, embracing 4610 acres.

The proximity of oil production to these two tracts has encouraged the belief that test wells will prove some of this land to be oil producing. At present the State prison system is in serious financial stress, due to the large deficit which it is facing.

During the last two years, there has been a large falling off of crop production on the farms, with the result that the income of the system has been far less than the cost of maintenance.

The Texas Legislature at its special session, which will convene the 20th inst., will be requested to authorize the leasing of the convict farms for oil and gas exploration and exploitation purposes.

OUTPUT OF KERN AREA INCREASES

Completion of Four New Wells Boosts Total by Over 3000 Barrels

BAKERSFIELD, Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—During the past ten days Kern county's production has been increased more than 3000 barrels of oil through the bringing in of four new wells. Three completions are on Maricopa Flat and one is on Kern Front.

Biggest of all last week's completions is the Barnsdall Oil Company's Hamilton No. 7A, which has been finished off for a producer doing more than 2400 barrels daily. The well is located on Sec. 17, 11-23, with bottom at 3428 feet. The oil is 18-1 deg. gravity with a cut of one-half of 1 per cent.

The second Maricopa completion is the Lakeview Oil Company's No. 12 on Sec. 4, 11-23. With bottom at 3987 feet, this well is doing 225 barrels of 25 deg. gravity oil daily with a cut of 2 per cent.

The Standard Oil Company brought in its Honyman No. 3 on Sec. 9, 11-23. This well is pumping 180 barrels of 16.7 deg. gravity oil daily, with an 8 per cent cut. Bottom is at 3935 feet.

Last of the quartet is Chancellor-Canfield-Midway Oil Company's No. 30 well on Sec. 26, 27-28, in the Kern Front field. This well is doing approximately 200 barrels daily on the pump, with the oil running 13.9 deg. gravity with a cut of three-tenths of 1 per cent. Bottom is at 2185 feet.

Black Diamond Develops Rich Strike of Ore

SUPERIOR (Ariz.) Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—Ten thousand tons of 7½-8 per cent copper ore, beside a much larger quantity of milling stuff, are reported to have been developed in the Black Diamond property of the Superior-Silver Queen Mining Company, north of the Magma and near the old Silver King. The outcrop is declared twenty feet wide and 200 feet long. A highway is being built, over which to haul ore to the Magma smelter.

Across the divide, the Calumet & Arizona is asserted to have optioned the low-grade Pinto Valley and Porphyry Reserve lands, with inclusion of the Louis d'Or claims. The property recently was reported inspected by Fred Searls, Jr., vice-president of the Newmont Company, which is declared to have recently acquired a very large block of C. and A. stock.

Old Colglazier Wildcat Passes to New Control

TUCSON (Ariz.) Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—A start appears to have been made in the wildcat oil fields to the eastward. The old Colglazier well, nine miles west of Benson, near the highway, is reported to have been taken over, with 6000 acres of leases, by Carl Hanson of Oklahoma and associates. The 1200-foot hole is to be deepened to about 3500 feet, with twelve-inch casing at the start. Several oil geologists have given favorable reports on the field.

Tucson capital has become interested in the Bowie field, in which drilling has been resumed by the San Simon Oil Company, after casing off water, which has been troublesome in all the wells of the district. The Final Oil Company is to resume this month. Near Willcox, the Clark-Baldwin operations are down 1900 feet and are setting casing.

LONGEST TRAIN OF FREIGHT CARS SEEN

ONTARIO, Jan. 19.—Motorists who had to wait at the Euclid-avenue crossing of the Southern Pacific Railroad tracks late last evening never before had counted so many cars in a freight train that went by. According to Southern Pacific workers here, the train was the longest that has ever passed through this city. It consisted of 100 cars and locomotive and was more than 6000 feet in length, 720 feet longer than one mile.

PROMISING OIL SIGNS IN PROJECT

Wheeler Ridge Well of Standard Believed Due to Make Producer

WHEELER RIDGE, Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—Encouraging showings are being encountered in the Standard Oil Company No. 36, on Sec. 29, 11-20, on Wheeler Ridge.

The hole is down 6680 feet with six and one-fourth-inch casing cemented at 6140 feet. Forty feet of attractive sand has been uncovered.

Reports say that the company has entered good oil sand at depths which may result in commercial production. Company officials say that this will be passed up for deeper drilling, inasmuch as the project is purely a deep test of the area.

The well at one time was an active producer, pumping a small quantity of 45-deg. gravity oil at about 4600 feet. The fifty-barrel production gained at that level was killed and drilling almost started. Another test at 4680 feet showed a little oil and more water.

Standard intends to drill as deep as possible in this project, solely for the purpose of determining what underlies the field's usual production depths.

Standard recently ceased drilling at 8600 feet in an Elk Hill well, but has passed that mark in its Bluest project in an unproven Midway district near Taft, on Twenty-five Hill.

TOTAL SEEPAGE FIGURES HEAVY

Yates Field Losses Placed at 6,000,000 Barrels

Recovery System Results in 1,706,989 Saving

Continental Gets 1,162,273 of That Amount

McCAMEY (Tex.) Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—It is conservatively estimated by oil operators in the Yates field of Pecos county that seepage from their wells has caused them total losses of more than 6,000,000 barrels of oil. Of this loss, a total of 1,706,989 barrels had been recovered up to the 1st inst. by means of shallow wells and trenches bordering the Pecos River and from the river proper.

The companies which have most profitably used these methods of recovering the seepage oil are the Continental Oil Company, which has obtained a total of 1,162,273 barrels from its ditches, pits and shallow holes; the Mid-Kansas Oil and Gas Company and the Transcontinental Oil Company, which jointly have gathered a total of 144,696 barrels from shallow holes, and the Grayburg Oil Company, which has recovered 265,315 barrels from ditches, pits and the surface of the river.

During December, there was a decrease of the seepage oil recovered by these methods, the total for the month being 153,694 barrels as compared with 174,212 barrels in November. The seepage has been due to failure to cement the casing of some of the big producing wells when they were drilled. Some of these wells have been plugged recently, with the result of a decrease in the quantity of recovered waste oil.

RY LEAGUERS EAR SHEPPARD

on Defends His Measure to Punish Liquor Buyer

d of Jolt for "Highbrow" Violators of Law Cited

ddress Feature of Rally at Convention's Closing

DETROIT, Jan. 19. (AP)—A defense of his proposed law to make the buyer of liquor subject to the same penalty as the seller was made by Senator Sheppard of Texas in an address here today.

The Senator addressed a rally which concluded the Anti-Saloon League's national convention.

"We need to make but few examples of the highbrows who think they are above the law which governs humbler folk, in order to knock the bottom out of the bootleg market and reduce the illegal liquor traffic to the disappearing point," the Texan asserted.

"Too often buyers are persons of wealth and social standing, using the exemption accorded them by the law as an excuse for its moral violation."

HOLD ON "ONE FOOT"

"It is true in punishing possession we get the purchaser by one foot," he continued. "If there is anyone we need to get by both feet, however, it is the individual of high standing who flaunts and defies the law. You can't do much with a fellow you are trying to hold by one foot. He can raise more disturbance with that loose foot than you can imagine."

A large part of the Senator's speech was occupied with praise of prohibition as a benefit to humanity. When it was written into the Constitution, he said, "we demonstrated that the Constitution was made for man, and not man for the Constitution."

The rally closed a convention which expressed repeatedly its approval of the policies of President Hoover and its conviction of the necessity of those who have charge of the enforcement of the prohibition law for the Federal government.

EDUCATIONAL WORK

Educational activities were stressed by speakers at practically all of the sessions of the convention, an outstanding instance being a statement of Bishop Nicholson, who was re-elected president of the league, that he doubts the wisdom of the law Senator Sheppard is seeking to have passed. Bishop Nicholson said that he believes the public should be made to feel the guilt through the pressure of public opinion.

The convention heard Dr. James M. Doran, prohibition commissioner, say that extremists and politicians should not be permitted to bring about adoption of measures which would hamper production and distribution of industrial alcohol to the injury of the professions and industries which use it. The commissioner told the delegates that the "corn sugar racket" now is the principal source of illicit alcohol.

YUCATAN NONSTOP HOP BEGUN

Mexican Flyer Takes Off From Near Mexicali After Four False Starts

MEXICALI, Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—With an 1800-mile nonstop flight to Merida, Yucatan, as his objective, Capt. Miguel Colorado of the Mexican army today hopped off from the dry lake-bed of Laguna Salada, about thirty miles southwest of here. The start was completed at 4:20 p.m., after four unsuccessful starts, when the officer left the ground at the end of a two-mile run.

Capt. Colorado is making the flight in a cabin-monoplane constructed in Tia Juana a year ago. As Baja California No. 2, it was used by Col. Roberto Sierra in a nonstop hop to Mexico City shortly after delivery to the army. Since then it has been rechristened the Gen. Calles. It is carrying 256 gallons of gasoline.

The flying officer said he expects to land at his destination shortly after noon tomorrow. In passing over Mexico City he will have to attain an altitude of 12,000 feet.

Five Granted Freedom by Prison Board

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—Of thirty-nine applications for parole heard at San Quentin today by the State Prison Board, five convicts were paroled, four deported, nine denied parole, nine postponed and twelve given a determinate sentence.

Of the prisoners paroled two are from Los Angeles, Theodore Moe and V. J. Leonardi, convicted of first-degree burglary, had served five years of an eight-year sentence, and Edwin Camareno, Ventura, who has served one year of a three-year sentence for auto theft.

The sentence of Oscar Perry, convicted and sentenced in Los Angeles in 1924 for robbery of the Pacific Savings and Trust Company, was fixed at twenty-five years. In company with three companions after the robbery a policeman was killed. For this the three companions of Perry, a brother, Lewis Perry, Tom Bailey and Edward [illegible], were convicted of murder and hanged July 10, 1925.

POISONER DOOMED

SZOLNOK (Hungary) Jan. 19. (AP)—Marie Szendi was sentenced to death last night for poisoning relatives. The authorities are continuing the investigation into sweeping charges that many persons in this vicinity have conspired to gain title to valuable estates by doing away with the present owners.

PLATICAS DE LOS LUNES

POR EL PROF. B. GUERRERO

Encargado de la Sección Española de Este Diario

Del Suplemento Infantil de "Blanco y Negro", tomo el siguiente relato, que pone Elena Fortún en boca de nuestra amiguita, la niña Celia. Sírvase el estudiante leerlo con atención y enterarse del significado de todas las palabras:

De pronto, mamá se acordó de que nos hacía falta un peso para pesarlo todo. Pero, ¿cómo habíamos podido pasarnos sin un peso? Resulta que comíamos las patatas, el arroz y la carne sin saber lo que pesaban . . . Mamá no hablaba de otra cosa: "¡Hay que comprar un peso! ¡No hay más remedio que comprar un peso!"

Además, a Baby se le pesa todas las semanas para ver lo que engorda, y es muy molesto tener que avisar a la farmacia para que vengan con la báscula. ¡Así que no da nada que hacer el pobrecito Baby llorando todo el día!

Pero digo yo que cuando llora tanto es por algo. Antes lloraba porque le dolía la barriga.

—Y ahora, ¿por qué llora, mamita?

—Porque ha cambiado el sueño. El ama dice que por la noche no duerme, y por el día no le deja ella dormir, y está todo el día desesperado. Esto se acabará en cuanto traigan el peso. Le pesaré todos los días, y si no aumenta tendrá que dejarle dormir a la hora que Baby quiera.

—¡Naturalmente! ¡Mira qué graciosa es el ama con haberle cambiado el sueño! Ella se ha quedado con el sueño de Baby, y a él le ha dado el sueño de ella, ¿no es eso, mamá?

—¡Jesús! ¿Pero qué galimatías estás armando?

—Bueno; no lo entendí bien porque no me lo explicaron. Pero Baby duerme ahora de noche y de día, y sigue llorando los ratos que tiene libre. Yo sé por qué llora; pero no lo quiero decir, para que no me regañen. El otro día estaba solito en su cama y le dije:

—¿Sabes, Baby? Voy a tener vacaciones, y ya no tendré que volver al colegio hasta el año que viene; "ma mère" me lo ha dicho.

Se puso a reír y a dar golpes con las manos sobre la cama. ¡Estaba como loco de alegría! Después, se quiso poner de pie y le ayudé, porque es muy torpe.

—¡Pues no te pones tú poco contento, hijo! Te advierto que a ti no te dan vacaciones; es a mí solita, que para eso soy mayor y estoy aprendiendo francés, y ya hablo muy bien . . . No como tú, que no dices más que "papá, mamá, tata, aba . . ." ¿Me quieres decir tú a mí que es "aba"? Pues nada, hijo, nada, sino que eres un tonto que nunca va a aprender a hablar.

¡Qué encantado se puso! Empezó a dar chillidos, y se quería tirar de la cuna . . . Al fin, se tiró, y se pegó un trompazo contra el suelo, que a poco se mata.

¡Claro! Vinieron todos corriendo, y en vez de hacer algo para que callara, todo era preguntarme:

—¿Qué le ha ocurrido? ¿Le has tirado tú? ¿Se ha caído él? ¿De dónde se ha caído? ¿Cómo se ha caído?

—Pues primero se le cayó la cabeza . . . y después todo él detrás.

—¡Siempre habrás tenido tú la culpa!—dijo mamá.

Cuando se le pasó el susto siguió llorando como si tal cosa. Y todos decidieron que, en cuanto podamos pesarle todos los días, se sabrá por qué llora, y no llorará más.

Esta mañana se levantó el ama diciendo que el niño no la había dejado pegar los ojos.

—¿Qué es lo que no te ha dejado?

—Dormir . . . El niñuco ha perdido el sueño . . .

—¡Pues vaya un trajín que trae con el sueño! ¡Unas veces le cambia, y otras le pierde! ¡Esas son tonterías tuyas, ama!

—No son tonterías. ¿Por qué llora el pobrín, entonces?

—Pues llora porque le den vacaciones como a mí.

—¡Pero si no va al colegio!

—¿Y qué? Tú no entiendes de eso.

Papá salió conmigo y fuimos a una tienda de básculas a comprar un peso con su canastilla pesabebés.

—¿Dónde se la llevamos?—preguntaron.

—Nos la llevamos nosotros, porque hace falta en seguida—dijo Papá.

Cuando llegamos a casa, Juana nos dijo que había llegado de Vizcaya la tía Rosario, que es prima de Papá. También estaba Ricardito, que es su hijo; y una gallina amarilla, atada con lazos, que nos habían traído de regalo.

Baby estaba durmiendo, y como no se le podía pesar, la tía se empeñó en que pesáramos la gallina.

Pesó no sé cuánto, y la tía se puso tan orgullosa como si la gallina fuera ella. —¡Es toda manteca!—decía.

TRAINS RUN AGAIN WITH SLIDES CLEARED

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—With slides in the Eel River and Feather River canyons cleared, train service on the Western Pacific and Northwestern Pacific railroads was restored to normal today. Reports to Western Pacific headquarters here today were that the landslides in the Feather River Canyon which had blocked traffic since Friday were cleared with the use of dynamite and snow plows and north and south bound trains are going through. Salt Lake City-San Francisco Train No. 1, held up by the blockade since Friday night, reached here at 7 o'clock last night, ten hours late.

POVERTY POINT GOLD REVIVING

Rejuvenation of Old Estate Reported on Way

Large Scale Developments Declared Pending

Angelenos Confirm Rumor of Cinnabar Strike

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—Rehabilitation of the old Poverty Point quartz-gold mine near Placerville is being actively conducted by the El Dorado Exploration Company. The old 1200-foot tunnel is being repaired, a 200-foot shaft sunk and arrangements made for development of large areas of promising ground.

The Pioneer Gold Mines, Inc., of Los Angeles, has confirmed the discovery of an ore body on its property west of Grass Valley. The strike was made in a drift from the new 100-foot winze and shows a two-foot ledge carrying sulphurets, galena and free gold. The ore was found while drifting on a two-inch seam of specimen ore and is considered highly important.

The Belmont Osborn Company reports that the main shaft on its holdings near Angels Camp is nearing the 225-foot point on the west mother lode vein, and that crosscuts will be run from the 200-foot level to tap the Osborn ledge. This ore body has been developed for 225 feet on the 100-foot level and is said to show excellent values the entire distance. The new mill is scheduled to go into commission before the end of February.

Construction of new buildings on the Snowden Hill gold property in the Camptonville district, near Nevada City, has been practically completed and preparations made for driving a tunnel to cut the ore body at depth. The property was recently acquired by Louis Lorenz and associates of Los Angeles and embraces 120 acres of mineral ground. Fairly rich ore has been mined from an eighteen-inch vein.

Gravel carrying good gold values is being mined in the properties operated by the Vallecitos Central, Butte Divide, Keystone and other companies in the Vallecitos area of Calaveras county. Recent work is said to have conclusively proved that new workings have located the Central Hill channel. Water is now available for comprehensive operations.

SHELDON MINING SPEEDS UP MILL

PRESCOTT (Ariz.) Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—At Walker, the milling plant of the Sheldon Mining Company has been worked up to handling 110 tons of ore a day, the concentrates to go to the bins of the Humboldt smelter, now the company's property. It had been expected that the works would have been blown in by the 1st inst., but delays have been suffered. A large force is employed on smelter reconstruction, besides 125 men at the mine. Many changes will have to be made, to treat mixed ores. Most of the ore heretofore handled has been copper sulphide.

Unusual operations are those on the Hassayampa River, below the Harlan mine dump, where the owners of that property are sluicing and concentrating placer sands at the rate of over fifty yards a day. The sand occasionally is said to run above $70 a yard in gold.

Plans have been announced for resumption of placer operations on Lynx Creek, near Prescott, by the New Tonopah Dividend Mining Company, of which E. C. Wood of San Francisco is engineer.

In Hassayampa district, twenty miles south of Prescott, the Maxwell Merger Mines Company is to operate the Alden, or Redcloud group. A four-mile road will have to be built.

A fifty-ton mill is to be placed on the United States Navy property of the Verde Annex Mining Company to handle lead ore already well developed in old workings. W. P. Burns is in charge.

Heavy snows now are impeding work on a number of the smaller mountain mines, but will furnish needed water for spring development.

PILGRIM MINE RUMOR AFOOT

KINGMAN (Ariz.) Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—Reports from Chloride tell of lessened activity in the Pilgrim property, from which a large quantity of rich gold ore was brought to this city a month or more ago. It is reported that purchase of the property is being considered by a strong syndicate.

In that camp the main interest now appears to be in the operation of the Monarch mill, on the lead-zinc ores of the old Tennessee and Schuylkill properties, with the ore said to be carrying good values also in gold and silver.

In Mineral Park district a strong vein, paralleling the well-known White Horse, is being worked by Mrs. Cordelia Kay and son, with development of a fine ore body carrying gold, silver, copper and lead. Profitable shipments of surface ore have been made to the smelter.

James P. Miekle, manager of the P. & M. Mining Company, is starting to deepen 100 feet the company's main shaft at Music Mountain. During the year there has been lateral development, cutting three veins of gold ore.

In the Wallapai Mountains, operations soon are to be started at the mill of the Republic Mining Company on the Century property.

FIGURES SHOW RECORD YEAR

Port Plant Quarantine Staff Eclipses Past Marks

Huge Increase in Inspections Listed in 1929 Report

New Fishing Fleet Addition Launched at Harbor

BY WAYNE B. CAVE

Plant quarantine officials had their busiest year at Los Angeles Harbor in 1929, boarding 4758 ships and 303 fish boats and examining 2,310,092 suitcases, trunks and such for injurious insects, according to the annual report of A. P. Messenger, in charge of the staff. It represents a gain of 500 ships and almost 400,000 articles.

Of the 2,310,092 articles inspected, 9686 required treatment before entry and 1456 were refused admittance to California or were destroyed. The rest were passed as free from pests.

"While it has been our heaviest year, in many ways it has also been our happiest due to co-operation by the traveling public," declared Messenger. "We do not have 25 per cent of the protests we used to have."

CAUSE FOR CO-OPERATION

He attributed the public's co-operation to education concerning the fallen Florida through entry of the Mediterranean fruit fly and the need of ceaseless vigilance here to prevent California's infestation.

The most rigorous inspection is given passenger liners from fly-infested Hawaii, Messenger's staff being augmented at times by as many as thirty-five agricultural commissioners from Southland counties. Host material for the fly pest has been apprehended innumerable times.

OTHER PESTS BARRED

Also halted at California's door were European codling moths and chestnut weevils, damaging to nuts; Tayra, a poultry-killing weasel from South America; sweet potato weevils from Louisiana and China, and fruit-destroying flying foxes from Dutch East Indies.

Pink boll worms also have been found in pillows stuffed by Filipinos working in the fields of Hawaii, and in bolls brought here by passengers as curios.

Work at the port is expected to be advanced materially by the recent addition of J. F. Curry, entomologist, to the staff. The latter now comprises Messenger, seven inspectors, a clerk and a gangway guard.

BAIT CARRIER NEAR COMPLETION

Another $75,000 bait boat was launched by the San Pedro Boat Building Company at East San Pedro yesterday, for Andrew Zambarlin. She will take her place with California Packing Corporation's new fleet of distant-cruising, refrigerated tuna craft in two months.

The vessel is 102 feet in length, twenty-six of beam and twelve feet deep. She is propelled by a 375-horsepower Western Enterprise Diesel, with a thirty-horsepower auxiliary of the same make, and has a five-ton York refrigeration unit to preserve a cargo of 140 tons of iced fish.

Fuel tanks for 13,000 gallons will give her a cruising radius of 4000 to 5000 miles at eleven knots. The same yard is laying the keel for a 105-foot, Cipango-type bait boat for J. Shioji.

Congestion at General Steamship Corporation's terminals prompted a radiogram to the new French Line motor liner Oregon to delay arrival here until next Friday. She was due on Wednesday, several days ahead of schedule. Civic and shipping officials will be entertained during her initial visit by her master, Capt. Jules Duchesne and Capt. H. H. Birkholm, General's manager here. Harry Scott, president of General Steamship Corporation, and Capt. B. Aillet, Coast manager of the French Line, will be down from San Francisco. The Oregon is the first of four new liners entering this run from Europe for the French Line.

Lassco's coastwise liner Yale, back on the run Saturday after receiving a Lindo stream-line rudder, will return to the Los Angeles shipyards today to complete general overhaul. She will return to her run Wednesday, when the Harvard will follow her into the yards.

Three hundred members of the Southern California Fire Chiefs' Club and relatives returned last night after a two-day visit to Catalina Island.

The Dollar liner President Johnson, Capt. M. Ridley commanding, arrived from New York yesterday with 175 passengers on her third trip around the world. Thirty-three travelers disembarked here and the ship will discharge 1032 tons of cargo. Forty-two passengers and 1300 tons of freight will be taken on here before she departs at noon today for San Francisco and the Orient.

With fair winds behind her the auxiliary schooner Ethel M. Sterling arrived yesterday, using her sails most of the way on the 4000-mile trip from Keppels Island in the South Seas. She brought 750 tons of raw copra for the new Copra Oil and Meal Company, Ltd., at Wilmington.

The President Fillmore, due February 2, next, on her initial voyage in the Dollar globe-girdling service, has been equipped with sound-picture equipment, which will make her the first talking-film ship to sail the Pacific. Formerly the Mongolia, she has been rebuilt at a cost of $1,000,000.

Two reels of films depicting cargo-handling methods have been produced for the American Hawaiian Steamship Company for purpose of instructing staffs at different ports. The shipments are shown from the time they arrive on docks until they are assembled, loaded and stowed aboard ship and again at their point of discharge.

The Dollar liner President Monroe, formerly in the round-the-world service and now entering the direct-Manila and Singapore run, under the command of Capt. C. Jockstad, will sail from New York Harbor tomorrow afternoon with a fair-sized list of passengers and cargo for Havana, Canal Zone, Los Angeles and San Francisco, where she will enter her new run, sailing on February 11, next, for Honolulu.

Capt. Jockstad, veteran Dollar line skipper, will have T. S. Donovan as purser, and G. H. Willey as chief steward. Several changes in the personnel of round-the-world ships were made with the entrance of the President Fillmore on her maiden voyage, last Thursday. O. F. Adams, chief steward of the President Johnson, is now chief steward of the President Fillmore, and was replaced by C. J. Nicholas, formerly of the President Johnson. George F. Anderson, senior purser in the world service, is the purser of the President Fillmore.

Capt. A. Ahman, formerly master of the President Monroe, is bringing out the President Fillmore on her maiden voyage.

News of Ships and Sailings at Pacific Ports

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 19. (AP)—For the first time in twenty-five years, a full cargo of California barley will leave this port in the holds of a sailing ship when the full-rigged ship Abraham Rydberg, formerly the Star of Greenland, weighs anchor for Europe.

The departure also will mark the farewell to these shores of the historic vessel, which is scheduled to engage in the European service. The barley is destined for Dublin and consigned to A. Guinness, Son & Co., brewers.

Delayed on her voyage across the Pacific, the Norwegian motor freighter Tai Yang made port here today from the Philippines with one of her engines out of commission. She is one of the Barber Line fleet which recently went into service between this port, New York and the Far East.

America's first transcontinental boat-train, with a full load of passengers, will arrive at the Oakland mole next Friday to connect with the Matson liner Malolo, scheduled to sail for Hawaii Saturday noon.

The Malolo will carry 400 passengers and a full cargo.

SEATTLE, Jan. 19.—Anticipating another heavy year of traffic to Alaska, the Pacific Steamship Company will maintain schedules in 1930 similar to those operated in 1929.

The Admiral Rogers and the Queen will sail alternately every Thursday to Skagway and intermediate Southern Alaska points, and the Admiral Evans and Admiral Watson will sail on alternate Wednesdays to Kodiak and way ports in both Southeastern and Southwestern Alaska. The ships will begin their northern runs in March.

The Dorothy Alexander will begin the Alaska excursion service on June 6, next. The Evans and Watson are now operating between Puget Sound and California ports.

PORTLAND (Or.) Jan. 19.—Two branches of the Federal government and the Portland harbor police joined forces today to keep the ice moving in the Columbia and Willamette rivers.

Water-borne commerce flowed freely, ocean vessels arriving, departing and moving at will in the harbor.

A CHUCKLE FOR EVERYBODY

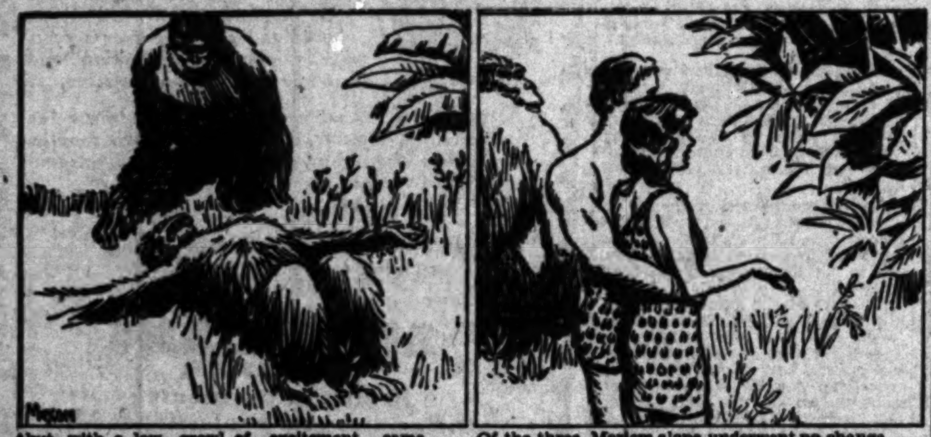
By Edgar Rice Burroughs



Akut, with a low growl of excitement, came crasing through the underbrush. He paid no attention to Meriem and Korak but with hair bristling began strutting, stiff-legged, about the fallen ape. Something stirred in his little brain. Something which the sight and smell of this great bull had aroused. It awakened in the heart of Akut a longing for the companionship of his own kind. So Korak was not alone undergoing a change.

Of the three, Meriem alone underwent no change. Always she had loved Korak. He was her "big brother." She still loved him—as a sister. Very proud she was of him too. Never was there other jungle creature so strong, so brave or handsome as her Korak. Suddenly Akut gave a deeper growl—the one of warning. Korak looked quickly up from the glorious vision of Meriem's sweet face. Now his other faculties awoke. His ears, his nostrils were on the alert.

Something was coming! The Killer moved to Akut's side. The three stood, statue-like, gazing into the jungle's leafy tangle. Presently a great ape broke through the thicket. Seeing them he halted, giving a grunt back over his shoulder. A moment later came cautiously another ape, soon followed by others, both bulls and females with young, until two score hairy monsters stood glaring at the silent group of three. Akut was the first to speak.

He pointed at the body of the dead bull. "Korak, mighty fighter, has killed your king," he said. "There is none greater than Korak, son of Tarzan. Now, Korak is king. What bull is mightier than Korak?" It was a challenge! The apes chattered among themselves, taking counsel. At last a young bull in the prime of his strength, stepped forward, bristling, growling, terrible. He was enormous. Even natives seldom see these great hairy primordial men.

LONE PINE GOLD RUSH REPORTED

Ore Find in Property of National Silver Said to be Unusually Rich

Reports of a rich gold strike on the property of the National Silver Company, located about sixty-five miles northeast of Lone Pine, have started a rush to that district.

According to reports the strike was made on the 1950-foot level of the No. 1 shaft of the National Silver Company's holdings.

Since uncovering of the ore body the mining company engineers have traced the vein to the Spear mine, a short distance north of National's property.

Outcroppings of what is believed to be the same vein have been traced for nearly seven miles along the floor of the Saline Valley, in which the No. 1 shaft is located, and claims have been filed along the entire stretch by officials of the silver company.

Assays taken from the new vein are said to have run as high as $1100 a ton and engineers who have examined the property are of the opinion that a large body of high-grade ore has been uncovered. The new strike is located in the heart of what has for years been a rich gold country. National Silver's holdings are on the east slope of the Cerro Gordo Mountains and on the west side of the Saline Valley.

Almost directly across the valley is the old Cerro Gordo mine, which has produced upward of $33,000,000 in gold and is still numbered among the State's richest producers.

Seven miles from the present strike the Old Ironside was once the scene of a gigantic boom that brought hundreds of gold seekers and produced fortunes in high-grade ore.

Mining men familiar with the district state that the present strike may result in the uncovering of the main vein, of which the other strikes in the district have apparently been mere outcroppings.

PROGRESS SHOWN AT TOM REED

New Shaft Reported as Below 1000-Foot Level and Forging Ahead

OATMAN (Ariz.) Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—Tom Reed's shaft has passed the 1000-foot level and within a few weeks is expected to be down to the new 1150-foot working station, where is to be a pumping compartment and below which will be an ore pocket for skip hoisting. Ore for the mill, of a grade not worked for years, is going to the mill from the 800-foot level and from the 950-foot winze workings. New stopes are being opened and there is promise of early additions to the tonnage now being milled. Most of the mine water is being lifted by the big new pump on the 800-foot shaft level.

The Gold Road mill is being operated steadily, with shipments of cyanided gold going to the Selby Smelting Works in San Francisco. Local miners declare this property possessed of an immense tonnage of good ore, much of it recently developed in newer working.

While there is no approach to former boom conditions, the camp is notably prosperous, with more men employed daily. Much interest is being shown in the Silver Creek district, with development proceeding on a number of properties outside the Oatman zone of mineralization.

Texas Plans to Check Waste of Natural Gas

AUSTIN (Tex.) Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—Energetic measures are to be taken immediately by the oil and gas division of the Railroad Commission to stop and prevent the waste of natural gas, particularly in the Panhandle fields.

An investigation by the Railroad Commission has brought to light the fact that several casinghead gasoline plants of the Panhandle are obtaining their gas supply from wells that do not now and never have produced oil.

Under the oil and gas conservation law, it is unlawful to utilize gas for the extraction of gasoline or for manufacturing carbon black, unless the gas comes from an oil-producing well.

Trouble Delays Shell Well in Fruitvale Area

FRUITVALE, Jan. 19. (Exclusive) Mechanical difficulty in the Shell Oil Company's first attempt to develop production in their field here has caused considerable delay. The six and five-eighths-inch casing will have to be loosened and the well deepened before it can be completed. The hole was drilled to 3894 feet where the crew tried to bring it in, but developed mechanical trouble.

The company has its No. 2 well on Section 36, 28-26, standing cemented, the eighteen-inch casing being set at 914 feet with bottom of the hole at 917 feet.

Shell's Shepard No. 1 well on Section 14, 29-27, has not yet been spudded in, preliminary activity being carried out at this time.

Where Camera Shot Pictures for Seven Oil Companies

Inset shows airplane used in mapping Salinas Valley for oil exploration, and some of the men who participated in the work. Panorama is of mountainous portion of Salinas Valley. Map reveals aerial geological surveys of the last two years, with largest and most recent job outlined in upper left-hand corner. At bottom of map is Santa Cruz Island, on Santa Barbara Channel, recently leased by Standard Oil Company for oil exploration.

BY LON SMITH

One of the most extensive aerial mapping jobs ever undertaken in this State for the purpose of geological study has just been completed by Maj. H. A. Erickson, flying photographer, of San Diego. The survey undertaken for the purpose of making a photographic mosaic of the country, included 2200 square miles in the Salinas Valley. It is said to have been jointly financed by the General Petroleum Corporation, Texas Company, Shell Oil Company, Continental Oil Company, Associated Oil Company, Union Oil Company and Richfield Oil Company.

It required a total of seventy-five flying hours, of which sixty-four were used in the survey proper. An average of thirty-three square miles per hour of flying was mapped. Eighteen days were required to fly the job. Erickson delivered 30,969 individual prints, in addition to the larger mosaics to the seven oil companies. The job was completed in ten weeks.

FOUR COUNTIES MAPPED

"The area over which we flew," says Maj. Erickson, "covered parts of four counties adjacent to Salinas. It was so large that, should climatic conditions in one section forbid flying, we could move to the otherside and continue the work. As the flight strips were seventy-five miles long, it was difficult at times to see even half the length of the run. For this reason we had with us, Irving Frazier, an engineer for the Texas Company. His application of existing United States Geological Survey sheets used for flight control was truly remarkable and with their guidance we were able to keep on our flight lines at all times.

"From the elevation at which we were working it was necessary to utilize two cameras in making a single run. One camera would photograph with its seventy-five feet of film approximately fifty-four miles before the film became exhausted. With a change of cameras we would continue shooting the verticals which later went into the completed mosaics. On reaching the end of a flight line and while the pilot was maneuvering to get on his next line, the camera with the exposed film was reloaded and ready for work by the time the next flight was started.

DAILY FLIGHTS TOLD

"Flights were made along parallel strips the entire length of the area. Because of their length we could cover only four to six strips in a single day. This required flying from 500 to 750 miles daily. Fortunately, we encountered nearly perfect weather and lost only one day in the field on account of adverse conditions."

Erickson flew from the Salinas Airport.

The Salinas Valley area had not until recently been surveyed for oil geology from the air, but through M. S. Kennedy, who learned aerial mapping under Maj. Erickson at San Diego two years ago, and later joined the Texas Company, the various companies concerned in the project were brought together for the undertaking.

The pictures individually which Erickson took are being utilized by the various companies. Their field crews, to which geologists are attached, use the pictures for identification and make notations thereon while on the ground. Thus they get a permanent record both by notation and photographically by which they can refresh their memory while in the home office. Each company has a mosaic of the area.

STRIPS MAKE MAP

When all the pictures of the total area mapped were laid out in their respective places, the assembly measured thirty-two feet by twenty-four feet. A reproduction was made of the assembly photographically to identify the job or pictures with the total area.

As Erickson exposed from six to eight rolls of film daily, he shipped them to San Diego for development. Thus development progressed as the job was flown.

"In California," said Erickson, "more aerial survey work has been done for oil geology than elsewhere. Oil companies have surveyed practically all of the areas where they think oil exists. Among these areas are included even the islands off Santa Barbara. Oil-company executives realize the value in time saving by using aerial photographs for study of formations. Fortunately for the air photographer equipment has improved to the point where motor failures almost never occur and other difficulties which formerly beset the photographer have been greatly minimized."

GOLD DOME SUSPENDS OPERATION

Gold Estate at Battle Mountain Taken Over on Lease by Discoverer

BATTLE MOUNTAIN (Nev.) Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—The Gold Dome Company has ceased work on its gold properties at McCoy, thirty miles south of Battle Mountain, and leased the ground to Joseph McCoy, the discoverer. The management states that several shipments of rich ore were made, but that the deposit extended only a short distance below the 150-foot level. McCoy believes that the high-grade shoot will be recovered at greater depth, and plans extensive prospecting.

Seven Troughs Gold Mines Company has added a 380-horsepower Diesel engine to its equipment, and has reconditioned the Tyler shaft to the 300-foot level. Connections will shortly be made with the main tunnel. Drifting east and west is progressing on the Coalition ore body, with wide faces of excellent gold ore disclosed. Development of three other veins is advancing. The management is rushing installing mill equipment and expects to start production before the end of April.

PEAK SIGHTED AT SANTA FE

High Production Point of 400,000 Barrels Daily Believed Due for Decline About February 15

BY HOWARD KEGLEY

That the peak of production at Santa Fe Springs may occur on a date not far from February 15 is the opinion of some of the best petroleum engineers in Southern California, and it is thought that the high point will show a potential daily output close to 400,000 barrels. This conclusion is based upon an estimate for the middle of the proration period from January 16 to January 31, inclusive. The expected potential output of the field on January 22 is 368,000 barrels, and operators base their estimates of the peak upon the large number of wells yet to be completed in the Clarke zones. The estimated peak figure is particularly interesting for the reason that when the field was blowing off from the Meyer zone in 1923 it hit a peak of 346,000 barrels, which disturbed the entire petroleum industry.

The sands below 5000 feet, and particularly the Clarke zone, are apparently much more productive than were the Bell, Foix and Meyer sands a few years ago, and it is believed that the deeper zones will show slower decline. The Clarke sands are practically continuous and they take in from 600 to 650 feet of formation extending down to approximately 8000 feet. A few wells are going below that depth for production, but not many are actually drawing production from much beyond 8000 feet. The likelihood that these zones will stand up better than the Meyer sand is chiefly based upon the fact that operators are curtailing more than half the output of the field to hold vast quantities of gas in the ground. This gas will aid in bringing to the surface in future months and years millions of barrels of oil that otherwise would never be recovered, in the opinion of petroleum engineers, who assert that the quick decline of the Bell and Meyer sands was due principally to the fact that hundreds of wells were shoved into the sands in a period of a few months and no co-ordinated effort was made by the operators to conserve the gas for future usefulness.

Of the present daily output at Santa Fe Springs it is believed that approximately 60 per cent is coming from the Clarke zones, and that the peak output is yet three or four weeks distant, with a comparatively slow decline in prospect, so the operators already are beginning to give serious consideration to the idea of mutually agreeing to enter into another period of production curtailment. They are now on the last lap of a ninety-day prorating period, which began November 1. While there is some difference of opinion as to how long the new period should be, the producers seem fairly well convinced that curtailment must be continued, at least for sixty days, if not for ninety.

The rate of decline at Santa Fe Springs just now is indicated by statistics showing that for the two weeks ending the 7th inst., based upon a production potential of 331,264 barrels a day, the normal decline of the field was an average of 28,819 barrels a day. That the statisticians are not far wrong in their estimates of potential and decline is revealed by the fact that when a number of producing companies doubted the asserted potential flow of a certain group of wells they were subjected to a flowing test and their respective yields are said to have been within 2 per cent of the estimate made by Umpire Paul Grimm, who is in charge of the curtailment program.

The only other oil field in the United States which now compares with the Santa Fe Springs field is the Oklahoma City pool, putting out approximately 350,000 barrels daily with a chance of hitting the 400,000-barrel mark within a week, according to reports.

COURSE OF DRILL TOLD BY DEVICE

New Type of Surveying Instrument Said to Map Direction Accurately

The accurate charting of the course of the drill in an oil well on its downward journey is now made practical through the invention of a new type of surveying instrument just perfected by Frank Riever, nationally known geophysist, according to Jack C. Ballagh, secretary of the Patterson-Ballagh Corporation and vice-president of a company formed this week to manufacture the surveying device. The new instrument scientifically records the direction of drift in an oil well.

The necessity for surveying wells to determine whether or not a hole has grown crooked and should be side-tracked has attracted the attention of oil operators for several years. Mr. Rieber developed an accurate surveying instrument operated by spring motor mechanism, which will record the degree of crookedness at various depths in a well.

The instruments require highly accurate workmanship. Some of the measurements are as fine as those required in watch-making. Skilled artisans are employed in making the parts. The company plans to distribute the instruments to various drilling concerns under lease. Offices for servicing the instruments already have been opened in the Mid-Continent field and various foreign territories.

NEW MILL AT AJO TO OPEN SOON

Calumet and Arizona's $3,200,000 Project in Completion Stage

AJO (Ariz.) Jan. 19. (Exclusive) Mill construction that will cost $3,200,000 is nearing completion on the New Cornelia branch of the Calumet and Arizona Mining Company. Though the mill has been built above and around the old one, there has been only slight decrease of production, this by suspension of work on Sundays. Not only will the new concentrator have the most modern of features, with expected near approach to perfection in the saving of values by flotation, but especial attention has been given to devices for safeguarding employees from injury. Only two accidents, both without fatality, have occurred since start of the new work in May, last year.

Sam Fields, one of the best known of Arizona mining men, is consulting engineer for new development of the famous Gunsight property, sixteen miles east of Ajo. The owner, the Gunsight Development Company, has started construction of a mill. Water is to be pumped from Wall's Well, four miles distant. The mine was celebrated in the late seventies for its silver and lead croppings.

President W. F. Schoonmaker of Los Angeles announces that a 300-foot shaft is to be sunk on the property of the Cimarron Mining Company, near this point. The ore carries values in copper, silver and gold.

Surprise Mine Taken by Gold Zone on Option

TONOPAH (Nev.) Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—The Gold Zone Company, formerly operating the Gold Zone property at Divide, has taken an option on the Surprise property in the Round Mountain field, adjoining the properties of the Gold Hill Mining Company. The Surprise is said to contain extensions of the strong ledges developed in the Gold Hill, and was taken over by the Gold Zone Company after the Ben Hur Divide Company relinquished an option on the ground because of lack of finances.

The combined production in 1929 of the Combined Metals and Bristol Silver companies at Pioche is given as approximately $2,000,000. In December the Combined Metals Company produced 7000 tons of ore, and the Bristol Silver 3600 tons.

Cinnabar Area in Texas Active

ALPINE (Tex.) Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—Mining activities in the Upper Rio Grande border region of Texas at this time consists of the opening of several promising cinnabar properties in the Terlingua quicksilver district and expansion of development operations by the American Metal Company at its Presidio mine.

Two new 100-ton flotation mills are also under construction, one by the World Exploration Company at its Hazel copper mine near Van Horn and the other by the Bonanza Mining Company at its Bonanza mine near Sierra Blanca.

NEW WELL PLANNED IN OILDALE FIELD

OILDALE, Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—The Chanslor-Canfield Midway Oil Company is preparing to drill its No. 31 well on Section 26, 27-28, of the Kern Front. The rig is up and the drilling tools are being installed. Drilling of this well follows the completion of No. 30 on the same section, which came in with a production of 200 barrels daily.

CRUDE OIL PRICE PROTEST VOICED

Royalty Owners' Association Blames Refiners

Companies Lay Trouble to Overdevelopment

AUSTIN (Tex.) Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—Reduction in prices of crude oil ranging from 15 cents to 41 cents a barrel by major producing companies in Texas has brought forth a protest from the Mid-Continent Royalty Owners' Association, which declares that the penalty for unfavorable winter markets is being arbitrarily charged to the producing division of the industry, whereas the fault largely lies with major refiners who set the crude prices through buying divisions.

In a statement explaining the action of the Humble Oil and Refining Company, subsidiary of Standard Oil, in reducing prices, President Farish of that company said:

REGRETS NECESSITY

"The Humble Oil and Refining Company finds itself obliged to post a reduction in the prices that it pays for crude oil in order to fairly adjust crude oil prices with prices of petroleum products. In spite of commendable efforts over the past year on the part of many producers to limit their crude oil output to the market or refinery demand and in spite of the fact that these efforts have been conspicuously successful, an overproduction of crude oil exists today.

"Although crude oil production in the past few weeks has been maintained in line with refinery runs, this balance has existed only because refineries are running excessive amounts of crude, and already large stocks of gasoline are being increased at an alarming rate, entirely above that justified by anticipated requirements. The effect of this has been further to depress the market for products, especially gasoline.

GASOLINE SETS PRICE

"The price of gasoline is the dominating factor in determining crude prices under present conditions of excessive crude production, which has brought about a price for fuel oil below its value based on coal. Larger yields of gasoline from each barrel of crude run are being realized each year by our refineries, due primarily to increased cracking and increased production of casinghead gasoline. Consequently, the refinery demand for crude has not increased proportionately to the demand for gasoline.

"While we expect an increase in gasoline consumption of 8 per cent in 1930 we know that the most economic method of producing the gasoline required will call for but little, if, in fact, any, more crude than was consumed by refineries in the United States in 1929."

Standard Well on Oak Street Makes Headway

BAKERSFIELD, Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—The Standard Oil Company's second well on Oak street, near the city limits, known as No. 5-3 and located on Sec. 34, 29-27, is down more than 3150 feet and making good progress.

Blue shale and hard sand formations are being encountered.

Drilling its first job in the area and bringing it in on July 1 of last year, Standard proved up considerable acreage at the edge of Bakersfield. After considerable trouble with water, the first well was completed at about 4500 feet for more than 150 barrels of medium gravity

PIPE LINE MOVE STIRS INTEREST

Project from Hobbs Field to Wink, Tex., Pends

Pick-up in Drilling Activity in Area Expected

ARTESIA (N. M.) Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—Oil activity in the Hobbs district is expected to be materially increased as a result of the recent announcement that the Shell Oil Company has filed an application with the Interstate Commerce Commission for permission to construct a pipe line from the Hobbs field to a point near Wink, Tex., there to connect with Shell lines in Texas.

According to reports a competing line may seek permission to enter the same field. The Texas Company, which is now laying a two-and-a-half-mile extension to the A. E. Meyers well of the Continental Oil Company on Sec. 28, 22-36, is believed to be the most likely competitor of Shell, especially if the Humble Oil and Refining Company's Bowers No. 1 on Sec. 30, 18-38, two and a half miles northwest of the Hobbs proven area, comes in as a producer. The Texas Company would only have to extend its line twelve miles from the Continental well to reach the Hobbs field.

The area immediately surrounding State No. 1 of Cranfill & Reynolds on Sec. 2, 21-33, in the Lea district, has been proven by the completion of the No. 1-A State of the Texas Productions Company one location north ow the Cranfill & Reynolds well. The No. 1-A of Texas Production was drilled to 3778 feet and the hole filled rapidly with oil.

After workmen had run four-inch tubing a swabbing test was made and the well was reported to be good for 1500 to 1600 barrels daily. Later field reports placed the production of the well at ninety to 100 barrels an hour.

The seventy-mile extension of the Texas and Pacific Railroad from Cheyenne, near the Texas-New Mexico State line, to Lovington, the county seat of Lea county, will be completed and operations of trains started this summer, according to B. F. Mitchell of Dallas, chief engineer for Texas & Pacific.

Grading the new road already has started near the State line. The extension, known as the Texas-New Mexico Railroad, will cost slightly less than $2,000,000, it is said. Contract for the first fifty miles of road from Hobbs to Cheyenne was let last month and a contract for the remaining twenty miles soon will be let.

RARE MINERALS, METALLURGY, CHEMISTRY

Qualitative analysis will be given in this department of The Times to correspondents on ores and minerals free of charge. Make each sample of an ounce or so in weight. Be sure to write a letter stating what tests are desired and give the approximate locality from which samples were taken. Do not pulverize the specimens. Give your name and address on paper wrapped with samples.

Disintegrated Serpentine

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 1.—Question: Herewith is a sample I am unfamiliar with which was handed to me by a friend and said to have come from near Oakland, Cal. It seems to be a silicate of some kind, but what? J.

Answer: The sample is a mixture of altered serpentine and metamorphosed chert.

Several Specimens

WENDEN (Ariz.) Jan. 1.—Q.: I am sending you today several samples of rock to be classified and to learn if they contain anything of commercial value. M.

A.: Sample No. 1 is altered rock and it carries no available (water soluble) potash. No. 2 is of hydrous aluminum and magnesium silicate and is not Bentonite. No. 3 is mostly gypsum carrying more or less pyrite. No. 4 is amphibole (hornblende) and near actinolite. No. 5 is indurated talc. No. 6 is granitic rock and contains no free gold. Values problematical.

Three Samples

ELSINORE, Jan. 2.—Q.: The samples all come from the same ledge. I turned the torch on No. 2 (which is the same as No. 1) and brought the white powder to the surface. What is No. 3? Thanking you for past favors. B.

A.: Sample No. 1 is a mixture of hornblende and iron silicate. No. 2 on the order of No. 1. No. 3 is greatly altered rock running high in iron oxides. The white powder on burnt No. 2 is silica, and there is no flake platinum in any sample.

Cinnabar Absent

WASHINGTON CITY (Utah) Jan. 3.—Q.: I am sending you two samples of ore to treat. The heavy black and red ones look good for chromium. What metals are present in the specimens? W. W.

A.: No. 1 is a mixture of hematite, lime carbonate, limonite, and a low percentage of chromite. No. 2 is chiefly iron silicate reacting more or less for quartz, hematite and a little zinc.

Three Specimens

LAS VEGAS (Nev.) Jan. 3.—Q.: I am sending you three samples of ore taken from near the surface. I had No. 2 assayed for gold, silver and copper. The assay returns gave traces of gold and silver but no copper. Please classify the samples and oblige. O.

A.: Sample No. 1 is probably altered rhyolite in part, with more or less greenish iron-magnesium silicate. No. 2 is on the order of No. 1 but not so much decomposed. The ten thumb specimens of No. 3 are altered iron-magnesium silicate mixed with iron oxides and traces of microscopic pyrite. Free gold not present in any sample.

Tellurium Absent

GLENDALE, Jan. 3.—Q.: These samples found in Santa Cruz county, Ariz. Please test for gold, silver, lead and iron. R.

A.: No fire assays made for gold or silver. One of the rocks carries Marcasite (white iron pyrite,) with pyrite and some peacock iron. The other rock contains pyrite, arsenopyrite, microscopic garnet, some blende, a trace of lead and iron oxides. Free gold not found in any sample.

Six Samples

PAROWAN (Utah) Jan. 4.—Q.: I am sending you six samples for qualitative analyses. The specimens came from the Frisco mining district in Beaver county, Utah. D.

A.: Correspondents are politely requested not to send over five samples at one time. No. 1 is limestone and zinc should be found in such formation. No. 2 is hematite and carries a little zinc. No. 3 is hematite, in part micaceous iron. No. 4 is chiefly limonite; calcite found with a little brown zinc ore. No. 5 is rock shale; iron present, and No. 6 is altered rock carrying copper traces. No sample tested for bismuth.

Three Specimens

MOUNTAIN PASS, Jan. 5. Q.: Please classify the three samples and give me report through your In the Earth column. D. V. J.

A.: No. 1 is spessartite garnet. No. 2 is iron-aluminum garnet, and No. 3 is Garnetyte (garnet rock.)

Of Doubtful Value

ARLINGTON, Jan. 5.—Q.: Inclosed samples from Riverside county, California, Gavilan Peak Mountain. Do they represent any commercial values W.

A.: The pistachio-green rock is chiefly massive epidote with some garnetyte, and it is spotted with magnetite and manganese. The blackish sample is magnetite partly altered to hematite.

Cinnabar Absent

TORRANCE, Jan. 6.—Q.: Please let me know what the inclosed sample is composed of, and if it represents any commercial value? It is from a ledge about 100 feet wide in the Santa Ana Mountains, Orange county, Cal. T.

A.: It carries some altered hornblende and lime carbonate is more or less present. The red colors are those of hematite, and other hematite is in the rock of the micaceous-iron variety. Flake platinum absent.

Five Specimens

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 6.—Q.: The inclosed sample of ore was found by me in Riverside county, Cal. I thought it belonged to the uranium, or vanadium group of minerals, and possibly of radioactive properties. Are any of the sodium salts present in any sample? U.

A.: The samples are not radioactive. They seem to be in part greatly altered iron-magnesium silicates, with a sample or two reacting for low percentages of lime carbonate and soda. Water soluble potash is absent; one of the bluish rocks is chiefly silica, and all of the specimens carry more or less iron.

Free Gold Absent

LYNWOOD, Jan. 17.—Q.: Found these two samples in Placer county, California. Please test for gold. W.

A.: No fire assays for gold and silver are made by this department of The Times.

Cyanite

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 7.—Q.: This sample of rock comes from the San Bernardino Mountains above Wrightsboro. I do not know what to ask for in the analysis of the sample. The mineral is very heavy. T.

A.: The United States Geological Survey publications refer to cyanite (kyanite) as identical in chemical composition with andalusite and sillimanite, but differing in crystal form. Generally in flat-bladed crystals. Andalusite when pure carries approximately 60 per cent alumina, but your specimen is impure with altered matter not determined, and it is probable that hornblende varieties occur near the locality from which the sample was obtained. The specimen probably represents no commercial value.

Correspondents Note

Letters are on hand from correspondents signed with initials only. Others send specimens for analyses without giving postoffice address or name of the sender. Quite a number of patrons submit samples with no letters or marks of identification of the specimens. It is necessary for correspondents to send letters with full names and addresses given, and among the samples offered for analysis a slip of paper with the name of the one asking for tests should be inclosed. Make samples not over five at one time and in weight not over one ounce each. Read notice giving requirements for analyses at the head of this column.

NEVADA MINING DEAL REPORTED

Production Due Shortly at Ione Mercury Mine

TONOPAH (Nev.) Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—The Consolidated Holding and Developing Corporation of New York, has acquired control of the promising Yellow Cat property near Goldfield, and announced comprehensive development plans for its Princess property at Manhattan and the Portland group, adjoining the Tonopah Western mine, west of Tonopah's main producers.

The 200-foot shaft at the Yellow Cat is to be deepened, new levels opened, and the sulphide zone prospected. Development of the Princess is proceeding vigorously. A gasoline drill will be installed on the Portland as soon as weather conditions permit. The Yellpw Cat and Princess are gold properties, with the Princess located near the rich Sullivan strike.

The Nevada Quicksilver Company, announces that production will start within six weeks from its cinnabar properties near Ione. Equipment includes a fifty-ton furnace and mine machinery. The management states that a substantial tonnage of commercial ore is exposed, with the outlook favorable for a long period of production.

Production of bullion by Tonopah mills in December reached a value of $135,700, the highest figures recorded in several months despite the low price of silver. Ore was treated from the Tonopah, Belmont, Tonopah extension and West End properties, together with shipments from leases at Divide and other camps.

Development of a new ore body, ten feet wide, on the 1200-foot level of the Tonopah extension mine is reported. The ore is said to average around $15 per ton, and is said to be independent of the main ledges opened in the older workings. The management is withholding an official statement until further work definitely proves extent and value of the discovery.

Leasers have started shipments from the Bluestone and Mason Valley properties, at Wabuska, to the Garfield smelter, with consignments from the oxidized zone said to be running around 16 per cent copper.

KERN FIELD ACTIVITIES REPORTED

Three New Holes Added to Drilling Projects in Week Just Ended

BAKERSFIELD, Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—Three more new wells have been added to the list of those drilling in Kern county during the past week.

Bruce Frame has secured a permit for his Dominion No. 4, on Sec. 28, 26-28, north of Poso Creek. The site is 200 feet north and 545 feet west from the northeast corner of the southwest quarter of the northeast quarter of the section.

In the McKittrick area the Wellport Oil Company will drill its No. 2 well on Sec. 26, 29-21, 400 feet south end 150 feet east from the northwest corner of the southeast quarter of the southeast quarter of the section.

The Honolulu Consolidated Oil Company will drill its No. 52 well in the Buena Vista Hills, 985 feet south and 2055 west from the northeast corner of Sec. 8, 32-24.

Five Hundred Barrels Daily From New Well

AUSTIN (Tex.) Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—An oil well flowing at the rate of 500 barrels a day was brought in yesterday in wildcat territory sixteen miles northeast of Austin, in Williamson county, by J. C. McNeill and associates of Dallas.

The escaping oil was turned into a ravine, which is being dammed. The producing zone was struck at 1834 feet. Representatives of major oil companies are at the scene today, scrambling for leases.

Huge Price for Eddy Oil Lease

ARTESIA (N. M.) Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—One of the largest cash oil lease deals ever made in this district was recently consummated when M. W. Evans, Artesia oil broker, sold to the Barnsdall Oil Company 1280 acres in Township 17-29 of Eastern Eddy county for a consideration of $115,000. There are no producing wells on the property, the nearest production being about two miles distant.

New Completion Due at Oildale

OILDALE, Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—The General Petroleum Corporation is about to bring in another one of its Wetmore lease wells on the Kern front. The Wetmore No. 14 on Sec. 14, 28-27, is down 1785 feet. The liner has been run. This Wetmore job is General's last of several score wells drilled there.

OIL POOL STRUCK NEAR PRISON FARM IN TEXAS

AUSTIN (Tex.) Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—An oil pool has been discovered in Fort Bend county within less than three miles of a tract of 5526 acres of land owned by the State of Texas and operated as a part of the State prison system. In the same vicinity is another State-owned convict farm, embracing 4416 acres.

The proximity of oil production to these two tracts has encouraged the belief that test wells will prove some of this land to be oil producing. At present the State prison system is in serious financial stress, due to the large deficit which it is facing.

During the last two years, there has been a large falling off of crop production on the farms, with the result that the income of the system has been far less than the cost of maintenance.

The Texas Legislature at its special session, which will convene the 20th inst., will be requested to authorize the leasing of the convict farms for oil and gas exploration and exploitation purposes.

OUTPUT OF KERN AREA INCREASES

Completion of Four New Wells Boosts Total by Over 3000 Barrels

BAKERSFIELD, Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—During the past ten days Kern county's production has been increased more than 3000 barrels of oil through the bringing in of four new wells. Three completions are on Maricopa Flat and one is on Kern Front.

Biggest of all last week's completions is the Barnsdall Oil Company's Hazelton No. 1A, which has been finished off for a producer doing more than 2400 barrels daily. The well is located on Sec. 17, 11-23, with bottom at 3428 feet. The oil is 18-1 deg. gravity with a cut of one-half of 1 per cent.

The second Maricopa completion is the Lakeview Oil Company's No. 12 on Sec. 4, 11-23. With bottom at 3037 feet, this well is doing 225 barrels of 25 deg. gravity oil daily with a cut of 2 per cent.

The Standard Oil Company brought in its Bonynge No. 3 on Sec. 9, 11-23. This well is pumping 180 barrels of 16.7 deg. gravity oil daily, with an 8 per cent cut. Bottom is at 3525 feet.

Last of the quartet is Chancelor-Canfield-Midway Oil Company's No. 30 well on Sec. 26, 27-28, in the Kern Front field. This well is doing approximately 200 barrels daily on the pump, with the oil running 15.9 deg. gravity with a cut of three-tenths of 1 per cent. Bottom is at 2146 feet.

Black Diamond Develops Rich Strike of Ore

SUPERIOR (Ariz.) Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—Ten thousand tons of 71-2 per cent copper ore, beside a much larger quantity of milling stuff, are reported to have been developed in the Black Diamond property of the Superior-Silver Queen Mining Company, north of the Magma and near the old Silver King. The outcrop is declared twenty feet wide and 200 feet long. A highway is being built, over which to haul ore to the Magma smelter.

Across the divide, the Calumet & Arizona is asseratd to have optioned the low-grade Pinto Valley and Porphyry Reserve lands, with inclusion of the Louis d'Or claims. The property recently was reported inspected by Fred Searls, Jr., vice-president of the Newmont Company, which is declared to have recently acquired a very large block of C. and A. stock.

Old Colglazier Wildcat Passes to New Control

TUCSON (Ariz.) Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—A start appears to have been made in the wildcat oil fields to the eastward. The old Colglazier well, nine miles west of Benson, near the highway, is reported to have been taken over, with 6000 acres of leases, by Carl Hanson of Oklahoma and associates. The 1300-foot hole is to be deepened to about 3500 feet, with twelve-inch casing at the start. Several oil geologists have given favorable reports on the field.

Tucson capital has become interested in the Bowie field, in which drilling has been resumed by the San Simon Oil Company, after casing off water, which has been troublesome in all the wells of the district. The Pinal Oil Company is to resume this month. Near Willcox, the Clark-Beldwin operations are down 1000 feet and are setting casing.

LONGEST TRAIN OF FREIGHT CARS SEEN

ONTARIO, Jan. 18.—Motorists who had to wait at the Euclid-avenue crossing of the Southern Pacific Railroad tracks late last evening never before had counted so many cars in a freight train that went by. According to Southern Pacific workers here, the train was the longest that has ever passed through this city. It consisted of 100 cars and locomotive and was more than 6000 feet in length, 720 feet longer than one mile.

PROMISING OIL SIGNS IN PROJECT

Wheeler Ridge Well of Standard Believed Due to Make Producer

WHEELER RIDGE, Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—Encouraging showings are being encountered in the Standard Oil Company No. 36, on Sec. 28, 11-30, on Wheeler Ridge.

The hole is down 6800 feet with six and one-fourth - inch casing cemented at 6140 feet. Forty feet of attractive sand has been uncovered.

Reports say that the company has entered good oil sand at depth which may result in commercial production. Company officials say that this will be passed up for deeper drilling, inasmuch as the project is purely a deep test of the area.

The well at one time was an active producer, pumping a small quantity of 45-deg. gravity oil at about 4500 feet. The fifty-barrel production gained at that level was killed and drilling ahead started. Another test at 4600 feet showed a little oil and more water.

Standard intends to drill as deep as possible in this project, solely for the purpose of determining what underlies the field's usual production depths.

Standard recently ceased drilling at 8400 feet in an Elk Hill well, but has passed that mark in its Mascot project in an unproven Midway district near Taft, on Twenty-five Hill.

McCAMEY (Tex.) Jan. clusive)—It is conserva mated by oil operators in the field of Pecos county that from their wells has total losses of more than barrels of oil. Of this los of 1,706,989 barrels had ered up to the 1st inst. of shallow wells and dering the Pecos River the river proper.

The companies which profitably used these recovering the seepage Continental Oil Company has obtained a total of barrels from its ditch shallow holes; the Mid-K and Gas Company and continental Oil Company jointly have gathered a 698 barrels from shallow the Grayburg Oil Comp has recovered 365,315 ditches, pits and the river.

During December, decrease of the seepage ered by these methods, for the month being as compared with 174,312 November. The seepage due to failure to of some of the big when they were drilled these wells have been cently, with the result in the quantity of oil.

Yates Field Losses Placed at 6,000,000 Barrels

Recovery System Results in 1,706,989 Saving

Continental Gets 1,162,2 of That Amount

McCAMEY (Tex.) Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—It is conservatively estimated by oil operators in the Yates field of Pecos county that seepage from their wells has caused the total losses of more than 6,000,000 barrels of oil. Of this loss, a total of 1,706,989 barrels had been recovered up to the 1st inst. by means of shallow wells and trenches bordering the Pecos River and from the river proper.

The companies which have most profitably used these methods of recovering the seepage oil are the Continental Oil Company, which has obtained a total of 1,162,2 barrels from its ditches, pits and shallow holes; the Mid-Kansas Oil and Gas Company and the Transcontinental Oil Company, which jointly have gathered a total of 141,698 barrels from shallow holes, and the Grayburg Oil Company, which has recovered 265,315 barrels from ditches, pits and the surface of the river.

During December, there was a decrease of the seepage oil recovered by these methods, the total for the month being 153,984 barrels, as compared with 174,312 barrels in November. The seepage has been due to failure to cement the casing of some of the big producing wells when they were drilled. Some of these wells have been plugged recently, with the result of a decrease in the quantity of recovered waste oil.

RY LEAGUERS EAR SHEPPARD

Defends His Measure to Punish Liquor Buyer

of Jolt for "Highbrow" Violators of Law Cited

Feature of Rally at Convention's Closing

DETROIT, Jan. 19. (AP)—A defense of his proposed law to make the buyer of liquor subject to the same penalty as the seller was made by Senator Sheppard of Texas in an address here today.

The Senator addressed a rally which concluded the Anti-Saloon League's national convention.

"We need to make but few examples of the highbrows who think they are above the law which governs humbler folk, in order to knock the bottom out of the bootleg market and reduce the illegal liquor traffic to the disappearing point," the Texan asserted.

"The often buyers are persons of wealth and social standing, using the exemption accorded them by the law as an excuse for its moral violation.

HOLD ON "ONE FOOT"

"It is true in punishing possession we get the purchaser by one foot," he continued. "If there is anyone we need to get by both feet, however, it is the individual of high standing who flaunts and defies the law. You can't do much with a fellow you are trying to hold by one foot. He can raise more disturbance with that loose foot than you can imagine."

A large part of the Senator's speech was occupied with praise of prohibition as a benefit to humanity. When it was written into the Constitution, he said, "we demonstrated that the Constitution was made for man, and not man for the Constitution."

The rally closed a convention which expressed repeatedly its approval of the policies of President Hoover and its conviction of the sincerity of those who have charge of the enforcement of the prohibition law for the Federal government.

EDUCATIONAL WORK

Educational activities were stressed by speakers at practically all of the sessions of the convention, an outstanding instance being the statement of Bishop Nicholson, who was re-elected president of the league, that he doubts the wisdom of the law Senator Sheppard is seeking to have passed. Bishop Nicholson said that he believes the purchaser should be made to feel his guilt through the pressure of public opinion.

The convention heard Dr. James M. Doran, prohibition commissioner, say that extremists and politicians should not be permitted to bring about adoption of measures which would hamper production and distribution of industrial alcohol to the injury of the professions and industries which use it. The commissioner told the delegates that the "corn sugar racket" now is the principal source of illicit alcohol.

YUCATAN NONSTOP HOP BEGUN

Mexican Flyer Takes Off From Near Mexicali After Four False Starts

MEXICALI, Jan. 19. (Exclusive) With an 1800-mile nonstop flight to Merida, Yucatan, as his objective, Capt. Miguel Colorado of the Mexican army today hopped off from the dry lake-bed of Laguna Salada, about thirty miles southwest of here. The start was completed at 4:00 p.m., after four unsuccessful starts, when the officer left the ground at the end of a two-mile run.

Capt. Colorado is making the flight in a cabin-monoplane constructed in Tia Juana a year ago. As Baja California No. 2, it was flown by Col. Roberto Sierra in a nonstop hop to Mexico City shortly after delivery to the army. Since then it has been rechristened the Gen. Calles. It is carrying 356 gallons of gasoline.

The flying officer said he expects to land at his destination shortly after noon tomorrow. In passing over Mexico City he will have to attain an altitude of 12,000 feet.

Five Granted Freedom by Prison Board

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—Of thirty-nine applications for parole heard at San Quentin today by the State Prison Board, five convicts were paroled, four deported, nine denied parole, nine postponed and twelve given a determinate sentence.

Of the prisoners paroled two are from Los Angeles, Theodore Moe and V. J. Leonardi, convicted of first-degree burglary, had served two years of an eight-year sentence, and Edwin Cemareno, Ventura, who had served one year of a three-year sentence for auto theft.

The sentence of Oscar Perry, convicted and sentenced in Los Angeles in 1924 for robbery of the Pacific Savings and Trust Company, was fixed at twenty-five years. In escaping with three companions after the robbery a policeman was killed. For this the three companions of Perry, a brother, Lewis Perry, Tom Bailey and Edward Graham, were convicted of murder and hanged July 10, 1925.

POISONER DOOMED

SZOLNOK (Hungary) Jan. 19. (AP)—Maria Szendi was sentenced to death last night for poisoning relatives. The authorities are continuing the investigation into sweeping charges that many persons in this district had conspired to gain title to valuable estates by doing away with the present owners.

PLATICAS DE LOS LUNES

POR EL PROF. R. GUERRERO

Encargado de la Sección Española de Este Diario

Del Suplemento Infantil de "Blanco y Negro", tomo el siguiente relato, que pone Elena Fortún en boca de nuestra amiguita, la niña Celia. Sírvase el estudiante leerlo con atención y enterarse del significado de todas las palabras:

De pronto, mamá se acordó de que nos hacía falta un peso para pesarlo todo. Pero, ¿cómo habíamos podido pasarnos sin un peso? Resulta que comíamos las patatas, el arroz y la carne sin saber lo que pesaban . . . Mamá no había de otra cosa: "¡Hay que comprar un peso! ¡No hay más remedio que comprar un peso!"

Además, a Baby se le pesa todas las semanas para ver lo que engorda, y es muy molesto tener que avisar a la farmacia para que vengan con la báscula. ¡Así que no da nada que hacer el pobrecito Baby llorando todo el día!

Pero digo yo que cuando llora tanto es por algo. Antes lloraba porque le dolía la barriga.

—Y ahora, ¿por qué llora, mamita?

—Porque ha cambiado el sueño. El ama dice que por la noche no duerme, y por el día no le deja ella dormir, y está todo el día desesperado. Esto se acabará en cuanto traigan el peso. Le pesaré todos los días, y si no aumenta tendrá que dejarle dormir a la hora que Baby quiera.

—¡Naturalmente! ¡Mira qué graciosa es el ama con haberle cambiado el sueño! Ella se ha quedado con el sueño de Baby, y a él le ha dado el sueño de ella, ¿no es eso, mamá?

—¡Jesús! ¿Pero qué galimatías estás armando?

—Bueno; no lo entendí bien porque no me lo explicaron. Pero Baby duerme ahora de noche y de día, y sigue llorando los ratos que tiene libre.¡ Yo sé por qué llora; pero no lo quiero decir, para que no me regañen. El otro día estaba solito en su cama y le dije:

—¿Sabes, Baby? Voy a tener vacaciones, y ya no tendré que volver al colegio hasta el año que viene; "ma mére" me lo ha dicho.

Se puso a reír y a dar golpes con las manos sobre la cama. ¡Estaba como loco de alegría! Después, se quiso poner de pie y le ayudé, porque es muy torpe.

—¡Pues no te pones tú poco contento, hijo! Te advierto que a ti no te dan vacaciones; es a mí solita, que para eso soy mayor y estoy aprendiendo francés, y ya hablo muy bien . . . No como tú, que no dices más que "papá, mamá, tata, aba . . ." ¿Me quieres decir tú a mí que es "aba"? Pues nada, hijo, nada, sino que eres un tonto que nunca va a aprender a hablar.

¡Qué encantado se puso! Empezó a dar chillidos, y se quería tirar de la cuna . . . Al fin, se tiró, y se pegó un trompazo contra el suelo, que a poco se mata.

¡Claro! Vinieron todos corriendo, y en vez de hacer algo para que callara, todo era preguntarme:

—¿Qué le ha ocurrido? ¿Le has tirado tú? ¿Se ha caído él? ¿De dónde se ha caído? ¿Cómo se ha caído?

—Pues primero se le cayó la cabeza . . . y después todo él detrás.

—¡Siempre habrás tenido tú la culpa!—dijo mamá.

Cuando se le pasó el susto siguió llorando como si tal cosa. Y todos decidieron que, en cuanto podamos pesarle todos los días, se sabrá por qué llora, y no llorará más.

Esta mañana se levantó el ama diciendo que el niño no la había dejado pegar los ojos.

—¿Qué es lo que no te ha dejado?

—Dormir . . . El niñuco ha perdido el sueño . . .

—¡Pues vaya un trajín que trae con el sueño! ¡Unas veces le cambia, y otras le pierde! ¡Esas son tonterías tuyas, ama!

—No son tonterías. ¿Por qué llora el pobrín, entonces?

—Pues llora porque le den vacaciones como a mí.

—¡Pero si no va al colegio!

—¿Y qué? Tú no entiendes de eso.

Papá salió conmigo y fuimos a una tienda de básculas a comprar un peso con su canastilla pesabebés.

—¿Dónde se la llevamos?—preguntaron.

—Nos la llevamos nosotros, porque hace falta en seguida—dijo Papá.

Cuando llegamos a casa, Juana nos dijo que había llegado de Vizcaya la tía Rosario, que es prima de Papá. También estaba Ricardito, que es su hijo; y una gallina amarilla, atada con lazos, que nos habían traído de regalo.

Baby estaba durmiendo, y como no se le podía pesar, la tía se empeñó en que pesáramos la gallina.

Pesó no sé cuánto, y la tía se puso tan orgullosa como si la gallina fuera ella. —¡Es toda manteca!—decía.

¡Vaya un asco; una gallina de manteca! Yo decidí no comerla.

Rat's Bite Fatal to Professor

JOHNSON CITY (Tenn.) Jan. 19. (AP)—Prof. A. Fleetwood Roller, teacher of science at State Teachers' College here, died today of blood poisoning which developed from a bite inflicted by a rat during a demonstration before a biology class two weeks ago.

TRAINS RUN AGAIN WITH SLIDES CLEARED

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—With slides in the Eel River and Feather River canyons cleared, train service on the Western Pacific and Northwestern Pacific railroads was restored to normal today. Reports to Western Pacific headquarters here today were that the landslides in the Feather River Canyon which had blocked traffic since Friday were cleared with the use of dynamite and snow plows and north and south bound trains are going through. Salt Lake City-San Francisco Train No. 1, held up by the blockade since Friday night, reached here at 7 o'clock last night, ten hours late.

POVERTY POINT GOLD REVIVING

Large Scale Developments Declared Pending

Angelenos Confirm Rumor of Cinnabar Strike

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—Rehabilitation of the old Poverty Point quartz-gold mine near Placerville is being actively conducted by the El Dorado Exploration Company. The old 1200-foot tunnel is being repaired, a 200-foot shaft sunk and arrangements made for development of large areas of promising ground.

The Pioneer Gold Mines, Inc., of Los Angeles, has confirmed the discovery of an ore body on its property west of Grass Valley. The strike was made in a drift from the new 100-foot winze and shows a two-foot ledge carrying sulphurets, galena and free gold. The ore was found while drifting on a two-inch seam of specimen ore and is considered highly important.

The Belmont Osborn Company reports that the main shaft on its holdings near Angels Camp is nearing the 225-foot point on the west mother lode vein, and that crosscuts will be run from the 200-foot level to tap the Osborn ledge. This ore body has been developed for 225 feet on the 100-foot level and is said to show excellent values the entire distance. The new mill is scheduled to go into commission before the end of February.

Construction of new buildings on the Snowden Hill gold property in the Camptonville district, near Nevada City, has been practically completed and preparations made for driving a tunnel to cut the ore body at depth. The property was recently acquired by Louis Lorenz and associates of Los Angeles and embraces 120 acres of mineral ground. Fairly rich ore has been mined from an eighteen-inch vein.

Gravel carrying good gold values is being mined in the properties operated by the Vallecitos Central, Butte Divide, Keystone and other companies in the Vallecitos area of Calaveras county. Recent work is said to have conclusively proved that new workings have located the Central Hill channel. Water is now available for comprehensive operations.

SHELDON MINING SPEEDS UP MILL

PRESCOTT (Ariz.) Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—At Walker, the milling plant of the Sheldon Mining Company has been worked up to handling 110 tons of ore a day, the concentrates to go to the bins of the Humboldt smelter, now the company's property. It had been expected that the works would have been blown in by the 1st inst., but delays have been suffered. A large force is employed on smelter reconstruction, besides 125 men at the mine. Many changes will have to be made, to treat mixed ores. Most of the ore heretofore handled has been copper sulphide.

Unusual operations are those on the Hassayampa River, below the Harlan mine dump, where the owners of that property are sluicing and concentrating placer sands at the rate of over fifty yards a day. The sand occasionally is said to run above $70 a yard in gold.

Plans have been announced for resumption of placer operations on Lynx Creek, near Prescott, by the New Tonopah Dividend Mining Company, of which E. C. Wood of San Francisco is engineer.

In Hassayampa district, twenty miles south of Prescott, the Maxwell Merger Mines Company is to operate the Alden, or Redcloud group. A four-mile road will have to be built.

A fifty-ton mill is to be placed on the United States Navy property of the Verde Annex Mining Company to handle lead ore already well developed in old workings. W. F. Burns is in charge.

Heavy snows now are impeding work on a number of the smaller mountain mines, but will furnish needed water for spring development.

PILGRIM MINE RUMOR AFOOT

KINGMAN (Ariz.) Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—Reports from Chloride tell of lessened activity in the Pilgrim property, from which a large quantity of rich gold ore was brought to this city a month or more ago. It is reported that purchase of the property is being considered by a strong syndicate.

In that camp the main interest now appears to be in the operation of the Monarch mill, on the lead-zinc ores of the old Tennessee and Schuylkill properties, with the ore said to be carrying good values also in gold and silver.

In Mineral Park district a strong vein, paralleling the well-known White Horse, is being worked by Mrs. Cordelia Kay and son, with development of a fine ore body carrying gold, silver, copper and lead. Profitable shipments of surface ore have been made to the smelter.

James F. Mickle, manager of the P. & M. Mining Company, is starting to deepen 100 feet the company's main shaft at Music Mountain. During the year there has been lateral development, cutting three veins of gold ore.

In the Wallapai Mountains, operations soon are to be started at the mill of the Republic Mining Company on the Century property.

Former Texas Governor Hurt in Nightmare

AUSTIN (Tex.) Jan. 19. (AP)—Tossing in the throes of a nightmare former Gov. James E. Ferguson fell from his bed at 5 o'clock this morning and suffered a broken collarbone.

FIGURES SHOW RECORD YEAR

Port Plant Quarantine Staff Eclipses Past Marks

Huge Increase in Inspections Listed in 1929 Report

New Fishing Fleet Addition Launched at Harbor

BY WAYNE B. CAVE

Plant quarantine officials had their busiest year at Los Angeles Harbor in 1929, boarding 4758 ships and 303 fish boats and examining 2,310,092 suitcases, trunks and such for injurious insects, according to the annual report of A. P. Messenger, in charge of the staff. It represents a gain of 500 ships and almost 400,000 articles.

Of the 2,310,092 articles inspected, 9686 required treatment before entry and 1456 were refused admittance to California or were destroyed. The rest were passed as free from pests.

"While it has been our heaviest year, in many ways it has also been our happiest due to co-operation by the traveling public," declared Messenger. "We do not have 25 per cent of the protests we used to have."

CAUSE FOR CO-OPERATION

He attributed the public's co-operation to education concerning the fallen Florida through entry of the Mediterranean fruit fly and the need of ceaseless vigilance here to prevent California's infestation.

The most rigorous inspection is given passenger liners from fly-infested Hawaii, Messenger's staff being augmented at times by as many as thirty-five agricultural commissioners from Southland counties. Host material for the fly pest has been apprehended innumerable times.

OTHER PESTS BARRED

Also halted at California's door were European codling moths and chestnut weevils, damaging to nuts; Tayra, a poultry-killing weasel from South America; sweet potato weevils from Louisiana and China, and fruit-destroying flying foxes from Dutch East Indies.

Pink boll worms also have been found in pillows stuffed by Filipinos working in the fields of Hawaii, and in bolls brought here by passengers as curios.

Work at the port is expected to be advanced materially by the recent addition of J. F. Curry, entomologist, to the staff. The latter now comprises Messenger, seven inspectors, a clerk and a gangway guard.

BAIT CARRIER NEAR COMPLETION

Another $75,000 bait boat was launched by the San Pedro Boat Building Company at East San Pedro yesterday, for Andrew Zambarlin. She will take her place with California Packing Corporation's new fleet of distant-cruising, refrigerated tuna craft in two months.

The vessel is 102 feet in length, twenty-six of beam and twelve feet deep. She is propelled by a 375-horsepower Western Enterprise Diesel, with a thirty-horsepower auxiliary of the same make, and has a five-ton York refrigeration unit to preserve a cargo of 140 tons of iced fish.

Fuel tanks for 13,000 gallons will give her a cruising radius of 4000 to 5000 miles at eleven knots. The same yard is laying the keel for a 105-foot, Cipango-type bait boat for J. Shioji.

Congestion at General Steamship Corporation's terminals prompted a radiogram to the new French Line motor liner Oregon to delay arrival here until next Friday. She was due on Wednesday, several days ahead of schedule. Civic and shipping officials will be entertained during her initial visit by her master, Capt. Jules Duchesne and Capt. H. H. Birkholm, General's manager here. Harry Scott, president of General Steamship Corporation, and Capt. B. Aillet, Coast manager of the French Line, will be down from San Francisco. The Oregon is the first of four new liners entering this run from Europe for the French Line.

Lassco's coastwise liner Yale, back on the run Saturday after receiving a Lindo stream-line rudder, will return to the Los Angeles shipyards today to complete general overhaul. She will return to her run Wednesday, when the Harvard will follow her into the yards.

Three hundred members of the Southern California Fire Chiefs' Club and relatives returned last night after a two-day visit to Catalina Island.

The Dollar liner President Johnson, Capt. M. Ridley commanding, arrived from New York yesterday with 175 passengers on her third trip around the world. Thirty-three travelers disembarked here and the ship will discharge 1032 tons of cargo. Forty-two passengers and 1300 tons of freight will be taken on here before she departs at noon today for San Francisco and the Orient.

With fair winds behind her the auxiliary schooner Ethel M. Sterling arrived yesterday, using her sails most of the way on the 4000-mile trip from Keppels Island in the South Seas. She brought 750 tons of raw copra for the new Copra Oil and Meal Company, Ltd., at Wilmington.

The President Fillmore, due February 2, next, on her initial voyage in the Dollar globe-girdling service, has been equipped with sound-picture equipment, which will make her the first talking-film ship to sail the Pacific. Formerly the Mongolia, she has been rebuilt at a cost of $1,000,000.

Two reels of films depicting cargo-handling methods have been produced for the American Hawaiian Steamship Company for purpose of instructing staffs at different ports. The shipments are shown from the time they arrive on docks until they are assembled, loaded and stowed aboard ship and again at their point of discharge.

The Dollar liner President Monroe, formerly in the round-the-world service and now entering the direct-Manila and Singapore run, under the command of Capt. C. Jockstad, will sail from New York Harbor tomorrow afternoon with a fair-sized list of passengers and cargo for Havana, Canal Zone, Los Angeles and San Francisco, where she will enter her new run, sailing on February 11, next, for Honolulu.

Capt. Jockstad, veteran Dollar line skipper, will have T. S. Donovan as purser, and G. H. Willey as chief steward. Several changes in the personnel of round-the-world ships were made with the entrance of the President Fillmore on her maiden voyage, last Thursday. O. F. Adams, chief steward of the President Johnson, is now chief steward of the President Fillmore, and was replaced by C. J. Nicholas, formerly of the President Johnson. George F. Anderson, senior purser in the world service, is the purser of the President Fillmore.

Capt. A. Ahman, formerly master of the President Monroe, is bringing out the President Fillmore on her maiden voyage.

News of Ships and Sailings at Pacific Ports

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 19. (AP)—For the first time in twenty-five years, a full cargo of California barley will leave this port in the holds of a sailing ship when the full-rigged ship Abraham Rydberg, formerly the Star of Greenland, weighs anchor for Europe.

The departure also will mark the farewell to these shores of the historic vessel, which is scheduled to engage in the European service. The barley is destined for Dublin and consigned to A. Guinness, Son & Co., brewers.

Delayed on her voyage across the Pacific, the Norwegian motor freighter Tai Yang made port here today from the Philippines with one of her engines out of commission. She is one of the Barber Line fleet which recently went into service between this port, New York and the Far East.

America's first transcontinental boat-train, with a full load of passengers, will arrive at the Oakland mole next Friday to connect with the Matson liner Malolo, scheduled to sail for Hawaii Saturday noon.

The Malolo will carry 400 passengers and a full cargo.

SEATTLE, Jan. 19.—Anticipating another heavy year of traffic to Alaska, the Pacific Steamship Company will maintain schedules in 1930 similar to those operated in 1929.

The Admiral Rogers and the Queen will sail alternately every Thursday to Skagway and intermediate Southern Alaska points, and the Admiral Evans and Admiral Watson will sail on alternate Wednesdays to Kodiak and way ports in both Southeastern and Southwestern Alaska. The ships will begin their northern runs in March.

The Dorothy Alexander will begin the Alaska excursion service on June 6, next. The Evans and Watson are now operating between Puget Sound and California ports.

PORTLAND (Or.) Jan. 19.—Two branches of the Federal government and the Portland harbor police joined forces today to keep the ice moving in the Columbia and Willamette rivers.

Water-borne commerce flowed freely, ocean vessels arriving, departing and moving at will in the harbor.

SHAW TURNS UP NOSE AT HONOR MEAL

"How Horrible," He Says "All Those Animals and Birds and Fishes!"

NEW YORK, Jan. 19. (AP)—A stern vegetarian gesture was the reaction of George Bernard Shaw to a dinner given in his honor tonight by the Town Hall Club.

Despite the Irish dramatist's persistent refusal to visit America, Archibald Henderson, biographer of the playwright and toastmaster at the dinner, invited him to attend. He received the following reply:

"How horrible.

"I am to be made the pretext for killing all those wretched animals and birds and fishes!

"Thank you for nothing.

"Now if it were to be a fast instead of a feast; say a solemn three-days' abstention from corpses in my honor, I could at least pretend to believe that I am disinterested.

"Blood sacrifices are not in my line."

Three hundred persons attended.

Twelve Killed in Mine Fight

JOHANNESBURG (South Africa) Jan. 19. (AP)—Twelve natives were killed and twenty-nine injured today in a desperate tribal battle between Pondos and Shanghaans in the Crown Mines Compound.

The police for some time were unable to control the combatants, who for the most part used knives and stones in their vendetta.

CAPT. A. P. PEDERSON DIES

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 19. (AP)—Capt. Adolph P. Pedersen, veteran San Francisco shipmaster, died at the Marine Hospital here today after a long illness. He had been in the employ of the Hind, Rolph Steamship Company here for nearly half a century. He was 64 years of age.

Mine Engineer President Dies

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 19. (AP)—Philip North Moore, former president of the American Institute of Mining Engineers, died in St. Luke's Hospital here today following an illness of two weeks. He was 81 years of age.

Mr. Moore entered the hospital two weeks ago for a minor operation. His widow said tonight physicians believed he had recovered from the surgical treatment and he had made plans to be taken home. He developed a cerebral hemorrhage today which resulted in his death.

New Envoy to Japan at Post

TOKIO, Jan. 20. (Monday) (AP)—Ambassador and Mrs. William R. Castle, Jr., disembarked from the steamship President Jefferson at Yokohama at 8:30 a.m. today. They motored here and established their residence at the Imperial Hotel.

Castle was appointed Ambassador to Japan for the duration of the naval arms conference at London. The new Ambassador expressed confidence that the efforts of the powers toward further disarmament will be successful.

Low Skirts Call for Lower Steps

BEACON (N. Y.) Jan. 19. (AP)—Finding that the return of long skirts has made it difficult for them to get on and off trains, clubwomen of Newburgh, N. Y., have decided to ask the New York Central Railroad for relief.

The civic committee of the Ossoli Club has arranged to present a petition requesting that box steps be carried or some other means found to shorten the distance between the train steps and the station platform.

CLEVELAND BANDIT'S GIRL VICTIM DEAD

CLEVELAND, Jan. 19. (AP)—Janet Blood, 16-year-old high school victim of Cleveland's "hook nose" gunman, died of a bullet wound today. Miss Blood was the third woman to be shot by the gunman, who has terrorized Cleveland women two months. The other two recovered. The girl was shot the night of December 20 when the bandit accosted her and demanded money.

FLANAGAN SETS MARK

MILWAUKEE, Jan. 19. (AP)—Robert Flanagan, Oconomowoc (Wis.) skater, today set a new national record for the half-mile in the intermediate class. Taking part in the central interstate championships, he skated the distance in 2m. 16.4s. The old mark was 2m. 24s.

It's Flood Time Now Along the Wabash River

Indiana Goes Wet

The above photos were taken in Vincennes, Ind., where the flooded Wabash has done much damage. The upper photo shows residences near the George Rogers Clark Memorial Drive under several feet of water. The lower picture shows what had been Kelso Creek near Vincennes. It is now an immense lake, and the small house in the center is almost submerged.

ICE IMPEDES FLOOD RELIEF

Many Refugees Trapped by Thin Coating on Water That Escaped From Indiana Rivers

VINCENNES (Ind.) Jan. 19. (Exclusive)—Flood waters of the Wabash and White rivers here today fell lower and near previous flood high marks but sub-zero temperatures froze the backwaters so solidly that all efforts to rescue or bring supplies to more than 150 known flood refugees in this neighborhood have failed. Small boats were unable to make headway in the swift currents. Now ice and floating ice blocks make any boat traffic impossible.

The ice has not yet frozen sufficiently to make walking on it safe for considerable distances and the higher temperatures may melt ice further upstream sufficiently to renew the flood menace, it is feared.

PLANTING DELAY FEARED

As the ice now coats thousands of acres it seems probable that not only has the large ungathered corn crop and winter wheat crop been ruined, but that fields will not be in any condition for working until early summer.

The levee break on Lower White River below Decker, Friday afternoon, a breach a quarter of a mile long that loosed a six to eight-foot wall of water, has completely submerged Decker township. The twenty-five families at Decker Chapel, which is down in the valley from Hilltopping Decker, succeeded in fleeing to second stories of their homes, which are on the three knolls in Decker Chapel. It is believed all persons at Decker Chapel were saved, although they are in need of clothing and food and especially of fuel.

However, it was determined today that eighty-five persons living on farms outside Decker Chapel have not been heard from. It is uncertain whether they fled the levee-break tidal wave in time. This wave progressed so quickly to within four miles of Vincennes that it overtook an automobile speeding here from the river to spread the alarm.

ROADS LIKE GLACIERS

National Red Cross workers today continued to join forces with South Indiana officials in relief work. Red Cross workers are now in charge at Vincennes and Princeton, Ind., and Mt. Carmel, Ill.

The crest of the flood today had passed the junction of the Wabash and White at Mt. Carmel. It is bound to affect the Ohio and Mississippi. The Ohio was falling slowly at Evansville today.

Ice handicapping highway traffic throughout Indiana as a result of Friday night's blizzards today made any highway traffic impossible in Southwestern Indiana. Roads previously with a few feet of water are now glacierized. Bitterly low temperatures continued today throughout Indiana despite a bright sun.

ARKANSAS FLOOD SCARE PUT TO REST

NEWPORT (Ark.) Jan. 19. (AP)—Unofficial reports that Newport was in danger of flood waters of the White River coming over the top of the levee here, were set at rest tonight, when river men explained that the levee here would hold thirty-eight feet of water. The stage of the White here tonight was twenty-seven feet.

PART OF MISSOURI INVADED BY FLOOD WATER

MEMPHIS (Tenn.) Jan. 19. (AP) Southeastern Missouri and Northeastern Arkansas tonight bore the brunt of a fan-like spread of water from five gaps in a twenty-five-mile stretch of embankment along the flood-swollen St. Francis River in Dunklin county, Missouri.

Approximately 25,000 acres of fertile farm land in Missouri gradually were being inundated and the water had moved into Holcomb, a town of about 500 persons. Sections of the town were reported tonight flooded to a depth of about two feet.

No loss of life had been reported and none was expected, due to warning spread of the weakening of the levees which gave way late yesterday. Farmers throughout the affected area were reported safe with their livestock on near-by highlands.

Reports tonight from other areas along interior streams, swollen to flood stage by recent heavy rains, told of improved conditions.

SEVENTEEN 'SNOWBIRDS' REACH GOAL

Army's Arctic Patrol at Spokane, Completing Half of Slated Flight

SPOKANE (Wash.) Jan. 19. (AP)—Thirteen planes of the Army's arctic patrol, led by Maj. Ralph Royce, sat down on Newman Lake, twenty-three miles east of here, this afternoon, completing the western phase of their test flight, which started at Selfridge Field, Michigan.

The patrol left Great Falls, Mont., where it had been held up by extremely low temperatures and blizzards, at 10:40 o'clock this morning and flew by way of Missoula, arriving over Newman Lake at 3 p.m. A tail wind drove the patrol along at high speed. The group flew the 140 miles from Missoula to the lake in forty minutes, the commander said.

The thirteen ships joined three pursuit planes and a tri-motored transport which arrived here Friday. The planes will be repaired where necessary and expect then to start eastward on the second phase of the problem.

The ships sat down gracefully on sixteen inches of ice that covered the lake, Maj. Royce in the van, and the others at about three-minute intervals.

Church Closed After Near-Riot; Services in Open

DENVER, Jan. 19. (AP)—A near-riot during services at the Second Congregational Church here today was quelled only after police had been called and padlocked the church doors. Tonight they refused to open the church and the pastor, Rev. H. J. Tedder, conducted services in subzero weather from the church steps before a large group of his supporters.

Internal dissension broke out in open row when an attempt was made to oust the pastor from the church floor. The pastor's wife fainted during the demonstration and had to be carried from the church.

Giant Air Liner on First Flight

HASBROUCK HEIGHTS (N. J.) Jan. 19. (AP)—The world's largest land airplane, the F-32, today was taken aloft for the first time in a short flight from Teterboro airport. The ship is equipped with four 575-horsepower engines and has accommodations for thirty-two passengers.

Lieut. Harry Johnson, who flew the craft for half an hour, ex-high-school student, who was ar- operation.

Mexican Rail Dispute Ended

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 19. (AP)—The Mexican Railway Workers' Alliance tonight announced settlement of the long-standing dispute with the Southern Pacific Railway of Mexico.

The Federal Board of Conciliation and Arbitration has notified the railroad that it must sign a collective labor contract with the alliance within ten days. The contract obliges the company to select its employees henceforth from lists of names submitted by the alliance.

SAN QUENTIN KILLING ALL BUT STARTS REBELLION

General Break Plotted in Revenge for Accidental Slaying of Convict by Guard; Facts Suppressed

BY EX-CONVICT NO. XXXXXXXX

This is the second of a series of daily articles, written especially for The Times, in which a convict, just released after a long term in San Quentin prison, tells of his life there. It is published by The Times as throwing some needed light on the prison situation and on the reasons for the present epidemic of prison rebellions over the country. It goes without saying, however, that The Times does not necessarily believe as true or meritorious all the complaints of Ex-Convict XXXXXXXX nor endorse his views on prison reform.—Ed. Times.

[Copyright, 1930, the Los Angeles Times]

Not until the walls of San Quentin prison actually ring with the roar of thousands of rioting inmates—which surely is coming—will the authorities be confronted with as serious a situation as developed one day not long ago in the jute mill, where I was employed, when a bullet from a guard's gun pierced a convict's heart as he labored diligently and without offense. The same bullet that killed the man dangerously wounded another convict. This incident was suppressed by the prison authorities and here appears in print for the first time.

The looms were clacking their song of despair and under the guns of the guards the tension was great; but everybody was diligently at work. Suddenly, some in the vicinity heard the crack of a rifle. A convict named Snead staggered from his chattering loom and fell dead, a bullet through his heart having killed him instantly. Those near the man were seized with horror as his blood flowed through his convict shirt to the dusty floor. Another glance showed a second convict hit by the same bullet that killed Snead. It had struck him in the stomach. He was doubled up and writhing in the jute dust, his moans barely audible in the terrific din of the machines.

In time they removed the wounded man to the hospital, and dragged Snead's body away to the morgue.

GREAT EXCITEMENT

It was said and is probable that the guard's gun was discharged accidentally. That mattered not to the convicts. Snead had been killed, in an unprovoked manner, they thought. Excitement ran high. The men felt they had no chance for life or future release with such a guard on duty among them, and the word went around in guarded whispers to "get him." Inside an hour every one in the mill knew that certain gangs were to make a break for the guard after lunch. A general riot was expected and planned. The men had determined to give no quarter for authority.

In passing the word, however, it reached a "stoolie." The officials were tipped off. When the men returned after lunch, the guard had been removed from his position—we never saw him again—and a battery of machine guns frowned down on the workers from the runway along under the roof.

Snead's body lay in the morgue for a few days. Apparently it was unclaimed, and was stripped of the clothes, placed in a plain box and buried in the prison cemetery. I don't know whether the wounded man lived or died.

I cite that incident of the mill to show how quickly the riot spirit is aroused to action.

[Ed. Note—Warden James B. Holohan asserts that the killing of Snead as related by Convict No. XXXXXXXX was purely accidental, and by no interpretation could the guard be held culpable. He says that a menacing gathering of convicts caused the guards on the floor of the mill to step in and while they were breaking up the crowd the guard on the runway threw a cartridge into his rifle barrel for the coming emergency. After the crowd of convicts was dispersed, the warden says, the guard failed to remove the cartridge and it was later accidentally exploded.]

THE JUTE MILL

The jute mill is the worst thing about San Quentin—the most futile, as it is the most cruel. There is no sound reason for it in the category of reformatory purposes. It merely provides work for 1700 men. It is resented by every man assigned to it. Not because of the hard labor, which it provides in abundance and certainty, but because it is so purposeless.

This mill makes the only jute fabric in the State. Men go into it and are taught the "trade," if such their training may be called, but when they come out of prison it is an occupation at which they cannot find employment. What good is accomplished toward reforming a man and rehabilitating him; to teach a hard, health-impairing task and then turn him back to the world without hope of ever finding a job?

The main reason for having a jute mill seems that it is without serious competition elsewhere and does not conflict with other economic enterprises. Other occupations are pursued on the outside, and prison labor thus would be in competition with them. Politics would not permit such conflict. Shoes, clothing, furniture and the like are manufactured elsewhere; their manufacturers might suffer—in theory at least—with prison labor competing, hence San Quentin's productions in those lines are held in check for the institution only.

[Ed. Note—Jute is a vegetable fiber inferior to cotton and flax in the manufacturing scale. Cloth woven from it is principally used in the manufacture of bags, commonly known as gunny-sacks. There are about thirty-three concerns in the United States making products from jute cloth, and in addition to bags, the jute fiber is used for matting and twines. San Quentin has one of the principal plants of the United States.]

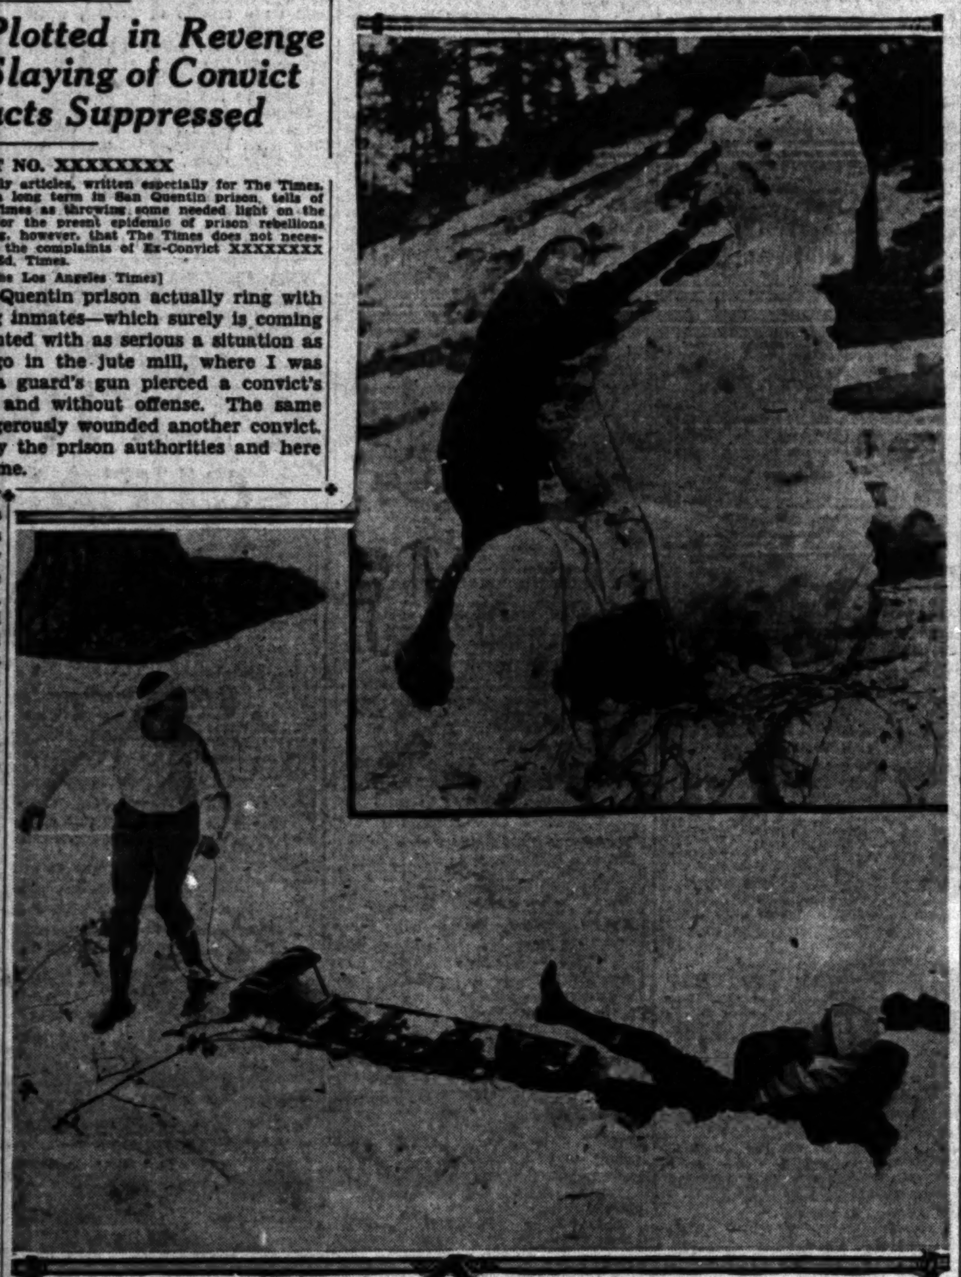
THOUSANDS LURED TO SNOWLAND

Mountains Scene of Winter Sports



Big Pines Park Reminds of "Back East"

Above, battered snowman at Big Pines Park gets his face remodeled by Agnes Weber, one of the thousands of winter-clime seekers who visited Southern California's many mountain resorts yesterday. Below, the same young lady fails to keep her balance when her brother Gene started their toboggan too quickly.

THOUSANDS of Southern Californians enjoyed a regular back-East day at snow-covered mountain resorts in the Sierra Madre and San Bernardino Mountains yesterday while those who stayed home were greeted by intermittent periods of sunshine as the sun crossed cloud-dotted skies.

The heaviest automobile and hiking traffic of the season was reported at mountain camps and taverns. Approximately 1200 persons took advantage of electric-car service to Mt. Lowe.

Roads were open to practically all resorts, many of which were blocked the week previously by a blizzard. The storm left a blanket of snow which ranged yesterday from five inches at Mt. Lowe to three feet at Idyllwild.

Continued cloudiness is forecast by the United States Weather Bureau for today and tomorrow with moderate temperatures. The temperatures yesterday ranged from 49 deg. to 61 deg. recorded during the afternoon. A few spotty showers were reported yesterday along the coast line. Lowering clouds hung over the district most of the day but the official report showed no traces of rain.

Twenty of the twenty-five men marooned at Pine Flats, twenty miles back of Mt. Wilson, are safe at their homes. They broke through snow-bound trails yesterday after receiving an airplane message from County Forester Turner to attempt their own release.

Two of the men, reported to be Dale McClellan of Glendale, and Ester Jaess of Los Angeles, are ill and could not make the trip. A pack train, according to the County Forester's office, will try to get in today and bring the men out on horses.

Lee Johnson, 1760 West Twenty-third street, one of those getting out safely, reported that Jaess is suffering an attack of appendicitis while McClellan contracted tonsilitis. He said neither man is in a serious condition and that they are being cared for by two men who plan to remain at the camp throughout the winter—James H. Merideth and J. Space.

Johnson complimented Camp Foreman E. Miller for his efficient directing of the men during the blizzard which swept down on them and their tents. Johnson reported that the camp was surrounded by more than six feet of snow.

Two thousand automobiles jammed the Mill Creek Road to Forest Home yesterday, it was reported from the camp. A light snow Saturday night left fifteen inches of snow to welcome the many seekers of winter sports.

At Idyllwild 500 cars brought 2000 persons to frolic in the deep snow there.

Snowplows opened the Mt. Wilson toll road yesterday, with the result that at least fifty cars made their way to the top. Hundreds of hikers walked up the road and were met by two feet of snow on the summit.

With the object of speeding up removal of snowdrifts from San Bernardino mountain roads leading to Camp Seeley, the Los Angeles municipal mountain playground, a delegation from Los Angeles is to

WATER BOARD CHANGE LIKELY

Haynes and Whitsett Also District Directors

Dual Membership Policy Under Criticism

Mayor Said to Favor Their Resignations

Mayor Porter's attitude that dual membership on the Los Angeles Board of Water and Power Commissioners and the Metropolitan Water District board is not a good policy is expected to be reflected in another change in personnel on the city board, it was learned yesterday.

The Metropolitan Water District of Southern California was organized and is functioning for the purpose of bringing water to Southern California from the Colorado River. At present there are eleven cities, including Los Angeles, as members of the district. The affairs of the district are administered by a board of directors, one or more from each city appointed by the respective mayors. Los Angeles is entitled to ten representatives on the district board, but only five have been appointed. Of the five representatives who were appointed by former Mayor Cryer two are members of the city Board of Water and Power Commissioners. They are Dr. John R. Haynes, president of the city board, and W. P. Whitsett, who is president of the district board. A third city representative on the district board is John R. Richards, who, too, was a member of the city board until he resigned two months ago.

POLICY CRITICISED

Other cities of Southern California are expected to join the Metropolitan Water District, but it is a well-known fact that both from member cities and prospective members there has been criticism of the past policy of Los Angeles in appointing as representatives on the district board men who are members of the city Board of Water and Power Commissioners. Outside cities have felt that this is too much like taking into the district board, where it has no place, the old controversy that has centered for years around the city's activities in the field of municipal ownership of power. One of the leaders in the municipal ownership has been and is Dr. Haynes. He has been one of its outstanding champions of the city board.

Both those in Los Angeles and those outside of it who are interested in the metropolitan water district as the only means of bringing an adequate supply from the Colorado are insisting that the controversial question of public ownership of power to be sold be not permitted to interfere with the only purpose for which it was organized, that of developing a water supply for Southern California.

MAYOR SYMPATHETIC

Mayor Porter is said to be in sympathy with this view and to that end has let it be known that he will look with favor upon the resignation of Whitsett and Haynes from either one board or the other. Whitsett is willing to resign from one of the boards and, although he has not said so specifically, it is expected that he will resign from the City Water and Power Board, retaining his membership on the district board. He has said that he feels the work of one board requires all the time a man can afford to give it. In addition, he admits the merit of the argument against bringing into the district board the controversy of public ownership of power as practiced by the city board.

"If, and when the Mayor calls for my resignation, I will resign," said Whitsett the other day, inferring that it would be from the city board, although he did not say so directly.

Dr. Haynes said he sees no objection but sees an advantage in holding membership on both boards, "because the problems of the two are linked closely together." He said that when his term expires next July he will express his views on what he will do in the event the Mayor puts the proposition up to him.

CANDIDACY ANNOUNCED BY TURNEY

Municipal Court Judge Enters Superior Bench Race for Hardy's Seat

Raymond I. Turney, presiding judge of Municipal Court, yesterday announced his candidacy for the Superior Court bench, opposing the incumbent, Judge Hardy.

RAYMOND I. TURNEY

Judge Turney said he will make an independent race on his record of ten years of public service, including five years of judicial work in the Federal, State and city courts. Judge Turney is the founder of the night Municipal Court, where persons charged with offenses may have speedy hearings and admission to bail and where suits brought by persons who cannot afford to lose wages by appearing in court in the daytime may press their claims.

Prior to his service on the Municipal Court bench, Judge Turney served a year as United States Commissioner, to which position he was appointed by United States District Judges Bledsoe, James and McCormick.

Judge Turney served on the Superior Court bench in 1928 by appointment of the State Judicial Council. He was proffered a second appointment but declined it, preferring, he said, to reorganize and improve the efficiency of the Municipal Court.

Before entering upon his legal career some thirteen years ago, Judge Turney was a member of the newspaper profession. He started life as a newsboy, later becoming a reporter and editor on several Los Angeles papers.

Judge Turney obtained his legal education at the University of Southern California where he was for some years a member of the faculty, teaching evidence, pleading

ANGELENO DIES, PARROT BLAMED

Mrs. Pepperdine Succumbs in Honolulu Hospital

Sick Bird Believed to Have Given Her Disease

Other Persons Still Ill Here of Unusual Malady

Word of the death of Mrs. Lena R. Pepperdine, wealthy resident of Los Angeles, from a disease believed to be psittacosis or parrot disease, in a Honolulu hospital at noon Saturday, was received in a cablegram yesterday by her brother, Hal R. Baker, vice-president and general manager of the Western Auto Supply Company. Mrs. Pepperdine sailed for Honolulu on the 2nd inst., aboard the Steamer City of Los Angeles, to visit her daughter, Mrs. Florence Crossley, who resides in the Hawaiian capital, arriving there on the 11th inst. She had become seriously ill during the trip and was taken from the boat directly to the hospital. With her on the trip was another daughter, Esther Pepperdine.

MRS. FLORENCE CROSSLEY

ESTHER PEPPERDINE

The illness of Mrs. Pepperdine is believed to have been contracted from a parrot which she purchased in Buenos Aires during a South American cruise from which she and her daughter, Esther, returned during the second week of December. The parrot became ill shortly after it was brought to this city and within a few days it died.

ILLNESS TRACED

It was not until two weeks later, while Mrs. Pepperdine was en route to Honolulu, that she gave any indications of being seriously ill. It was learned yesterday, however, from her family physician, Dr. Louis Josephs of 808 South Spring street, that she complained of a slight indisposition the day before she sailed.

On the day before her departure, Dr. Josephs said, Mrs. Pepperdine attended the football game at the Pasadena Rose Bowl. Dr. Josephs was also present at the game and during the halves he saw Mrs. Pepperdine and asked how she felt. She replied, the doctor said, that she believed she had a slight attack of grippe but did not attach any importance to it. The physician asked her to go to his office for an examination before she sailed, he said, but she did not do so.

DETAILS SOUGHT

The illness of Mrs. Pepperdine, according to word received by her family here, became serious early last week and, although she was believed to have shown some improvement during the middle of the week, cablegrams received Thursday and Friday described her condition as still critical. Saturday, a cablegram was sent to the Honolulu physician who was attending her, Dr. Faus, asking for a technical description of her symptoms, which was to be given to Dr. Josephs for interpretation to her family, but that message apparently crossed in transmission the message giving news of her death.

Mrs. Pepperdine was 40 years of age and was born in Mt. Valley, Kan. She came here with her hus-

by Harry Carr

"THERE'S not a man in the world I'd run after—especially one that tried to pull a disappearing act on me. So if my romance has been punctured, that's that."

This profound philosophy from a beauty parlor young lady is recommended to the tortured girls who are found by the police with a lungful of gas and clutching a love letter from some sap with grease on his hair and a vacuum under the hair.

THE SIGN LANGUAGE

"Mostly signs, partly grunts and facial expressions," is the astonishing way that the Washington correspondent of the Associated Press describes the Indian sign language—which is to be filmed at the expense of the government.

The sign language of the plains Indians is a very wonderful thing. No one knows where it originated—or how it came to be. It has nothing to do with grunts and facial expressions. It is a system—both graceful and picturesque—of conveying ideas with motions of the hands. An expert can say anything through these symbolical gestures that he can say with spoken words. And he doesn't grunt or grimace, either.

ADOBES AND MILLIONAIRES

Santa Barbara is fortunate in having some very rich men with a fine appreciation of the traditions and history of California.

As, for instance, Maj. Fleischmann, who, having rescued the old Olivas adobe at San Buenaventura, has now purchased the Carillo house at Santa Barbara as a present for the "Santa Barbara Foundation."

Some little shrimps dismiss all such things as "sentimental" and useless. Dollar-snatchers can't see any reason why old adobes should be saved; but the big leaguers can—and do. The men whose brains have produced prodigious fortunes are almost invariably characterized by a great richness of imagination.

WHAT THE RAIN SAID

The benefits of this rain have been something more than a lot of dampness. It has been of more benefit to the mental condition of Southern California than to the actual physical status.

There is little difference between depression and prosperity out here in this country except a state of mind. If somebody whispers "hard times" it becomes hard times by the simple process of ceasing to buy. It had somehow got into the public mind that this would be a great year—if there was enough rain. And now it has rained.

SUCKER STUFF

While all this money was pouring into the coffers of the Julian company, how many legitimate enterprises starved to death in Los Angeles for want of just a little help?

NEW FLYER "TIPS" RECEIVED

Thirty-six Planes Continue Search for Graham; Man Sighted Waving Red Flag

Reports from miners and natives in the Nevada-Utah district where Charlie Graham, air-mail pilot, was forced down ten days ago, that Graham's plane had been sighted, or signal flares were seen or a crash was heard on the night Graham went aloft, continued to be investigated yesterday by thirty-six searching planes.

None of the reports, however, had borne any fruit as darkness set in, and hopes of Graham escaping alive from the mountainous territory were low among the searchers.

Searchers at Caliente, Nev., expect to look for another man also, Sheriff Culverwell, who set out on foot last Friday in an attempt to locate Graham and had not returned last night.

KELLY LEADS SQUADRON

Fred W. Kelly, Western Air Express air-mail pilot buddie of Graham, and Hal Lenish led a squadron of five army planes in a general air hunt from Las Vegas, Nev.

Jimmie James, a third mail pilot of the line, was at the head of a navy flight of six ships which flew in formation out of Las Vegas in an attempt to cover once more the air-mail route to Salt Lake City, Utah.

The navy planes arrived last night at Salt Lake City, without finding a trace of Graham. The planes are being held at Salt Lake City pending word from C. C. Cole, Western Air Express official, regarding future plans for continuation of the search.

Noted Woman Fencing Teacher Who Got Record Fee Visits Southland

Mrs. Eleanor Baldwin Cass

One hundred thousand dollars for instruction in fencing! Rather, rather, what? Nevertheless, Los Angeles is host to a woman who can lay claim to having received just that sum for just that reason.

She is Mrs. Eleanor Baldwin Cass, of Brookline, Mass., internationally known exponent of fencing, who, although she has jaunted hither and yon the world over, is making her first trip to Los Angeles—and, to be sure, likes it.

At the Ambassador, Mrs. Cass admitted that it was she who received $100,000 in a bequest from James J. Van Alen, multimillionaire, once of Newport, R. I., because of the physical benefit he derived from her teaching of fencing. Mrs. Cass's enthusiasm over fencing has no equal unless, indeed, it is rivaled by her liking for Southern California.

"Fence and grow healthy—that expresses it," she exclaimed while waiting for the photographer to peek through his various appliances and adjust this and that. "And—isn't this air marvelous?—fence and grow young," she continued.

Subduing her enthusiasms, Mrs. Cass explained that she has been fencing for years and that she has introduced the sport in numerous colleges, thirty-five schools and colleges, to be exact, including Smith, Wheaton, Jackson and Mt. Holyoke colleges. Many times amateur and professional champion, she is said to have done more than any other one person, probably, to keep the interest in fencing alive throughout her more than twenty-five years of participation in the art.

And with ten minutes of fencing equal, in Mrs. Cass's opinion, to one hour of ordinary physical training, well—no wonder Millionaire Van Alen was generous!

Mrs. Cass has five sons and, yes, they are all fencing enthusiasts. The mother expects the two younger sons to join her on the Coast at the end of the school term.

COUPLE KILLED IN COLLISION

Three Others Die of Earlier Injuries and Six Hurt Possibly Fatally in Day's Traffic

Two persons, a man and his wife, were instantly killed yesterday and three other persons died from injuries previously received in traffic accidents. Six other persons were injured, possibly fatally and half a score others received more or less serious injuries.

The couple killed outright were C. H. Carlson, 73 years of age, and his wife, Mrs. Augusta Carlson, 68, of Ritzville, Wash. They lost their lives when the automobile in which they were riding with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Clark of 719 Sunnyhill Drive, Los Angeles, collided with another machine on Foothill Boulevard about two miles east of Monrovia, according to a report from the Sheriff's substation at Temple. The other machine, it was reported, was driven by Clifford B. Walker of South Pasadena. The report stated none of the others was injured.

The bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Carlson were taken to Renaker's undertaking establishment in Monrovia.

DIES IN HOSPITAL

As the result of injuries received Saturday night in a collision between her automobile and another machine Mrs. Florence Young, 58, of 1259 East Fifty-eighth street, died at the Methodist Hospital, it was reported to the Coroner's office.

The accident occurred at Forty-eighth street and Central avenue. The driver of the other machine, according to police, was Mrs. Marceline Foucher, 22, of 533 Hammond street, Pasadena. She was not hurt, it was stated. Mrs. Young, according to a police report, was not considered seriously injured when the accident occurred.

KILLING NEARLY CAUSES BREAK

San Quentin Convict Slain by Jute Mill Guard

General Riot Prevented by "Stoolie" Tip-Off

Gunnysack-Making Bitterly Resented by Men

is 45 years old, and of an obsolete foreign make. The mill proper is a huge warehouse full of roaring clacking looms. The machinery is too closely set to provide safety or to be worked in comfort.

Each man assigned to the mill is given a certain task; a fixed amount of cloth to weave. If he does not fill his quota, he is penalized.

In addition to most of the men employed at the looms weaving other divisions of work include the spinners, cob winders, rovers, sack-alley men, etc. They are on their feet continually in the roar of machinery and flying dust, coughing and staggering through their tasks. They work six hours daily except Sunday.

They go from their cells in the morning to the mess hall and thence to the mill and back over the same route after their stint. No fresh air to soothe lungs racked raw by coughing fits, and if they have been unfortunate enough to incur the displeasure of a guard their slight liberties are restricted; they do not even get to walk in the yard.

PETTY GRAFTING

Added to this is the petty grafting of the guards; they levy toll on the men of candy bars, cigarettes and tobacco, called "weed" in prison argot, and woe to him who does not pay.

Day after day I've stood at my loom doing the difficult job as best I knew, all the while conscious of the leer of the near-by guard and the menacing muzzle of his rifle; conscious of an enemy who would rush me to "the porch" on the slightest provocation because I would not give him my small and precious portion of tobacco or bit of candy bar carefully wrapped in my shirt pocket.

And under that maddening tension my rickety old loom droned monotonously: "I've got you beat." I've got you beat; I've got you beat."

The men in the mill work constantly under the guns of the guards. The latter delight in threatening and browbeating the workers, pointing their rifles at them to terrorize them. In such a state of confusion the men frequently touch the whirring exposed machinery and are permanently maimed. No wonder the convicts make bad cloth, for which they, not the guards, pay. And the only possible reward for their labor is possible transfer to some other job. Graft and favoritism offer the only chances for a transfer. There is no progressive merit system.

All cloth made on the looms is inspected by other convicts. These inspectors demand tribute each month in the form of "weed" or candy. Some men, of course, have no money to purchase these luxuries—cannot pay, and as result they suffer intensely and needlessly. Although they make perfect cloth the inspector will change rolls or cut out good cloth from the roll and replace it with bad. Then the inspector gives the good cloth to some convict who meets his demands.

This extremely unfair system often causes the man without money to be locked up without food, deprived of his Sundays out of the cell; actually increases his time to be served by costing him his "good time," or may lead to "the hole," that reeking, stinking dungeon under the hospital near the morgue.

BREAK THE LOOMS

Also a man must pay "weed" for good shuttles, tying in his warp, and many other small matters in connection with the operation of the loom. Many times I've seen a convict, when he has passed the point of human endurance, await his chance when the guard's back is turned and deliberately break the loom to obtain a few moments' surcease from the arduous task. When it is recalled that some men do this work from one to five, and even ten years, the spirit of revolt easily is understood.

As much of the machinery is open and exposed it is not uncommon for a man to get caught in the whirring apparatus. That nearly always means death, or perhaps worse; he may be crippled for life. I am told the State laws demand safety appliances in industrial plants. If so, the law is not enforced at one of the State's principal industrial plants.

The jute mill has the longest hours of toil. It has more than 1700 men working in it. It was built to employ 800 men, so it is easily seen that the mill shares the problem of overcrowding that confronts the remainder of the prison. The hours of labor are from 7 a.m. to 10 a.m., and from 12 p.m. to 3 p.m., a total of six hours daily, Sundays excepted. All are on task duty.

All men are supposed to advance to better positions according to the length of time they have been confined. Here politics is at work; I saw no evidence of the merit system or advancement to rule. Capt. Carpenter places all prisoners and makes all transfers. When a man is assigned to the jute mill he is told that one of the unwritten laws of the prison compels him to work there thirteen months before he can get another position.

Those without money and influence do stay there at least thirteen months, and some longer than that. Still, when Johnny Hawkins, former U.S.C. football star, and Albert Marco, deposed and convicted Los Angeles underworld boss, went to the jute mill on arrival at prison they were removed to two of the best positions in the prison within two months. Why this discrimination? How much did it cost? Where was the pull?

[Ed. Note: Warden Holohan admits the overcrowded condition of the jute mill, but declares the fast-increasing population of the prison demands more employment, and because the mill is the principal industry it must accept its share of the burden. Last May considerable new and modern machinery was ordered for the mill and its installation will relieve some of the congestion. Holohan says that such precautions as are possible with the old machinery have been taken to protect the workers. As to the petty graft and favoritism charged by the ex-convict, the warden says he knows nothing of it, but he asserts that all newcomers are sent to the jute mill, as a rule.]

WEEK SEES SEVEN SENT TO PRISON

Courts' Grist of Cases Results in Light Run of Felony Convictions

Seven defendants were sentenced to State prisons during the last week by Superior Court judges, according to the weekly report of Judge Aggeler, presiding over the criminal division of Superior Court.

Of this number two were sentenced for forgery, and one each under the crimes of assault with a deadly weapon, petty theft with a prior conviction, receiving stolen property, burglary and robbery.

The list of prisoners sentenced, the crimes of which they were convicted and the sentences imposed follow:

Mose W. Hornsby, San Quentin, assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder, one to fourteen years.

Anthony Abonisi, Folsom, petty theft with prior conviction of petty theft and grand larceny, five to ten years.

Charles E. Cherry, San Quentin, receiving stolen property, one to five years.

Leslie Eldredge McFall, San Quentin, second-degree burglary, one to fourteen years, two counts to run concurrently.

Lee L. Wilson, San Quentin, forgery, one to fourteen years.

John Joe Thompson, San Quentin, first-degree robbery, five years to life.

Mason A. Martin, San Quentin, forgery, one to fourteen years, five counts to run concurrently.

WOMEN BEATEN BY DESPERADOES

Two Knocked Unconscious by Brutal Robbers

More Than $4000 Taken in Series of Hold-ups

Some of Victims Manage to Defeat Assailants

Two women were beaten into unsciousness and several men narrowly escaped injury or death from bullets, blackjacks and clenched fists in a series of viciously executed week-end hold-ups, according to the police reports. More than $4000 was obtained by the robbers, while in some instances the attacks were repulsed by intended victims. Three men are in jail, booked on suspicion of robbery, as a result of police activity following the hold-ups.

The injured women are Mrs. Mary E. Ray, manager of an apartment-house at 4062 Moneta avenue, and Mrs. Sarah Cohen of 1017½ East Forty-third street. Both will recover, it was announced last night.

Mrs. Ray told police she was seated in her office when she heard some one open the door. Before she had time to glance around she was struck a heavy blow on the head with a club or piece of pipe. The blow knocked her unconscious.

MASK FOUND

Regaining her senses later, Mrs. Ray found a cash drawer in her desk had been rifled of $160. Then she summoned an ambulance and was taken to the hospital, where surgeons reported her suffering a deep laceration and concussion of the brain. A mask, apparently used by the robber, was found in the hallway of the apartment-house, and police are expecting finger prints taken from its metal fastenings will lead to an arrest.

Mrs. Cohen was attacked in her home shortly before daybreak. Awakened by footsteps, she reported, she saw a heavily set negro in her bedroom. She screamed, whereupon the intruder struck her repeatedly on the head with a blackjack until he had rendered her unconscious. Then he fled without pausing to search for valuables or money. Mrs. Cohen was treated at Georgia-street Receiving Hospital for severe scalp lacerations.

LARGE SUM TAKEN

The largest single amount of plunder obtained was $4000, reported stolen from the Olcovich Shoe Company, in the shadow of Central Police Station, at 226 South Hill street. H. L. Underhill, clerk, was checking receipts in the rear of the store when two armed youths entered and threatened to kill him if he uttered a cry. The money was scattered over a desk top, and after scooping it into a bag the robbers fled and were lost in the late Saturday night traffic.

Three men reported being held up by "strong arm" methods on the street. They are Paul Bogliolo of 321 East Washington street, E. W. Goodner of 1351 Myrtle avenue and T. H. Gracy of 400 West Thirty-first street. In each hold-up the bandits used the same means of overpowering their victims.

Bogliolo was accosted by two men who asked for a match. As he reached into a pocket, one of the pair put an arm tightly about his throat, while the other started to rifle his clothing. Bogliolo broke the highwayman's hold and knocked him down with a blow to the head. Then he swung on the other man's ear, sending him spinning to the pavement. Outclassed, the bandits leaped to their feet and ran, leaving Bogliolo with his valuables intact.

OTHERS ROBBED

Goodner and Tracy were not so fortunate in defending themselves. The former was locked in the breath-taking embrace at Wall and San Pedro streets and robbed of $5 and a gold watch. Tracy fell into the hands of bandits at Twenty-third street and Grand avenue and lost $15.

Within a short time after the last of the three hold-ups, Detective Lieutenants Harrah and Cahoe took three suspects in custody. They are booked as Charles Godfrey, 24 years of age, of 8401½ Fir street, Graham; Everett C. Pulver, 30, of the same address, and Eugene Holland, 26, of 735 East Eighty-ninth street. All were booked on suspicion of robbery. Robbery victims today will be asked to identify the trio.

Norman McInnes of 228 West Twenty-eighth street, foiled a robbery attempt at Twenty-eighth and Hill streets, when he knocked down one of two bandits as the latter stepped from behind a tree and pointed a gun at him. The other robber joined his companion in flight.

Bandits of similar descriptions held up the Acme Pharmacy at 3129 South Main street, and the Garfield Pharmacy at 317 Orange Grove avenue, Pasadena, obtaining $125 and $100, respectively, proprietors reported to police, while two others robbed one service station at 4438 Sunset Boulevard of $35, and another at 3004 Sunset Boulevard of $20, and a sandwich stand, operated by Frank Hanscorn at 11515 West Pico street, Sawtelle, of $20.

LECTURES START TONIGHT

The first of a series of twelve lectures on "Creating Business Through Successful Advertising" by Cornelius H. Buford, A.M., LL.B. (Columbia) of Chicago, will be presented this evening at the University of Southern California. Two lectures are to be presented each Monday and Wednesday evening for three weeks, one at 7:15 p.m. and the other at 8:15 p.m. with an intermission of fifteen minutes. The first lecture tonight is entitled "Creating Business," and is open to the public.

PLANS MADE TO REBUILD SAN GABRIEL

Old Mission Village of Century and Half Ago Will be Restored

Development of historic old San Gabriel into an attractive Mexican-Spanish village and restored in a manner that will recall its importance as a center for establishing civilization in California more than 150 years ago was visualized yesterday by W. I. Hollingsworth, president of the board of governors of the Mission Play.

The plan to create or, rather, recreate the old mission village is being fostered by the group of business men who manage the affairs of the pageant-drama of California's mission history. The purpose is mainly to improve the setting for the production, which is historically one of the richest spots in the West.

It was at San Gabriel, then "queen of the missions," that Jedediah Smith, first American in California, rested after his long trek across the plains. Hundreds of pages of history have been written on incidents that occurred there, Mr. Hollingsworth says.

Establishment of an art gallery, featuring early California subjects, a museum to contain articles which have figured in the early history of that locality, attractive shops, restaurants and tea rooms, will be located in buildings for which property now is being acquired. The development is planned to place the Playhouse and the old mission as the principal centers of attraction for visitors.

Through thus improving the setting for the presentation of the Mission Play a cultural and educational center will be established that will be of considerable value to California as a whole, in the opinion of those directing the play. It is said that architects and artists here are considerably interested in a close-in development, centered around a recognized attraction, that will depict faithfully the homes and buildings of the Spanish era in California. It is probable that the first buildings, of the development will be erected before the end of this year.

HUNT CONTINUES FOR LOST FLYER

on a district where flares were reported to have been seen, found nothing.

Another search of the country around Caliente and the Bristol mines was made by Al De Garmo, Boeing pilot, Lieut. Russel Maughan and George Douglas.

The bad weather in the district between Las Vegas and Salt Lake City was reported as breaking up, but scouting planes encountered fog and clouds as they sped back and forth for a sign of Graham or his ship.

MAN WAVES FLAG

The Sheriff at Ursine, Nev., telephoned to Las Vegas yesterday that a searching plane had circled a man on a mountainside ten miles east of Pioche and the pilot fired eleven shots in answer to a red flag waved by the unidentified man on foot. Capt. Davidson and two other ships took off from Las Vegas to investigate the report.

The crew of a Union Pacific passenger train said a light was sighted about four miles east of the train tracks near Byron, Nev., forty-five miles northeast of Las Vegas, late Saturday night. Planes were ordered to circle that location.

The third report of Graham's possible landing-place was made by a miner, who said he saw a plane on the ground near Pioche, Nev.

A special shipment of gasoline was en route last night to Panaca, Nev., where some of the searching ships will make their headquarters today.

Eight planes, leaving Ely, Nev., yesterday soared over the territory south of the Bristol mine in another day of fruitless search. High on the upper reaches of the Ely range, flyers reported an abandoned campfire and today planes are expected to soar over the district. Nine additional planes are expected to arrive at Ely today.

THOUSANDS GO TO SNOW LAND

confer with the San Bernardino Board of Supervisors today.

Headed by Supt. George Hjelte of the Los Angeles Playground and Recreation Department, and John Luther of the State Chamber of Commerce, the delegation will ask the Supervisors to hasten work on the roads connecting Camp Seeley with the State high-gear road which begins at Waterman Canyon, so that travel to the playground may be unimpeded by next week-end for a huge snow carnival.

Sponsored by the entire West End Rim O' the World district of the San Bernardino Mountains, the State Chamber of Commerce and the Los Angeles Playground and Recreation Department, the two-day event is expected to interest thousands of persons in the possibilities of the mountains as winter playgrounds.

Originally scheduled for yesterday and Saturday, the carnival was postponed to allow time for clearing away snowdrifts from roads leading to the camp. The program will include ski-jumping, ice-skating exhibitions, and numerous demonstrations by leading winter sports experts of the Southland.

Woman Fined in Liquor Case

Changing her plea from not guilty to guilty to two charges of violating the liquor laws, Jane Wilson, 41 years of age, was fined $600 by Municipal Judge Curtis.

According to Deputy City Prosecutor Kaufman, Miss Wilson was arrested by Detective Lieutenants Sergeant and Stewart when she drove an automobile loaded with $5000 worth of liquor up to 918 North Kingsley Drive, apparently to make a delivery.

TRAFFIC CRASH FATAL FOR TWO

tained when the automobile he was driving crashed into a retaining wall at Sunset Boulevard and Laurel Canyon Road early on the morning of the 16th inst. He had been employed as a chauffeur by George Olsen, orchestra leader, whose machine he was driving when the accident occurred.

George Buchanan, a city employee who lives at 1442 East Twentieth street, died at his home yesterday from complications arising out of injuries received in a traffic accident at Griffith Park Boulevard and Hyperion avenue on the 4th inst., according to a report to the County Coroner. Buchanan was hurt, the report stated, when the city truck he was driving collided with another machine.

Peter Dimaria, 4, of 815 East Seventy-seventh street, was reported near death at General Hospital last night as the result of injuries sustained when he was knocked down by an automobile near his home yesterday. B. S. Aiken of 130 North Los Angeles street, driver of the machine which struck the boy, according to police of Seventy-seventh division, was absolved of blame.

POLICEMAN IN CRASH

Police Officer William Jensen, 246 East One Hundred and Sixth street, is at the Georgia-street Hospital in a critical condition following a crash into a fire hydrant at Eightieth street and Avalon Boulevard. Jensen's car was struck by another car occupied by a man and a woman who fled after the officer's car had hit the hydrant and Jensen suffered injuries that may cause his death. After a passing motorist had rescued him from the flood of water caused by the breaking of the hydrant, hospital surgeons stated that the officer suffered a skull fracture, injury to both legs and possible internal injuries.

Other persons seriously injured, according to police, are Owen Burnett of 1348 West Manchester avenue, Joe Barker, 32, of 1814 West Eighty-third street; Mrs. Minnie Gomar, 39, of 1109 South Burlington avenue, and Orin Harper, 29, of 2820 West Eighth street.

TAXICAB IN ACCIDENT

Burnett received possible internal injuries, police reported, when struck by a taxicab at Eighth and Hill streets. The driver of the taxicab was Rudolph Harper of 1440 Crown Hill avenue, police said. Burnett was taken to the Good Samaritan Hospital.

Barker suffered a fractured pelvis and severe bruises in a collision between two automobiles at Twelfth and Alvarado streets. Two passengers in Barker's machine, William Steinbach, 21, of 1814 West Eighty-third street, and Jerry Madsen, 22, of 6606 South Haas street, were cut and bruised.

The other car was driven by Manuel Cardinas, 22, of 1714 East Twenty-first street who, with a passenger, P. J. Rudolph, 19, of 3447 Union Pacific street, was painfully lacerated.

Mrs. Gomar received fractures of several ribs and possible internal injuries when the car in which she was riding crashed into a Los Angeles Railway street car at Thirty-sixth street and McClintock avenue.

Other passengers in the car, Miss Katherine McVirney and Miss Edna Ingram, of the same address, were painfully cut and bruised. The driver of the automobile, Manuel Sanchez, according to police, also was cut and bruised and later was held on a charge of driving while intoxicated.

Mrs. Gomar, after being given emergency treatment at the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital, was removed to the General Hospital.

Harper received a skull fracture when the car he had just driven here from Payson, Utah, collided with a lamp post at Seventh street and Westmoreland avenue. A passenger, Shirley Christensen, 31, of 1083 Hoffman street, Long Beach, was severely bruised.

USURY CHARGE FAILS TO HOLD

Appellate Court Rules Suit Brought Too Late

Excess Interest Ordered Refunded Borrower

Triple-Penalty Law Found Inapplicable in Case

Although Edwin C. Douglas paid F. E. Klopper a usurious rate of interest on a $5000 loan for six months he is not entitled to recover three times the amount under the California Usury Act, nor even the full amount of interest he paid. He is entitled to recover only the excess over the legal rate of 7 per cent, according to a ruling handed down by the appellate department of the Superior Court.

The action, an unusual one and of interest to interest payers and money lenders, was appealed from the Municipal Court by Klopper after judgment was returned against him for $684.42 in favor of Douglas. The sum of the judgment represents the amount of interest Douglas paid for a loan of $5000 for six months. The rate, a usurious one, was agreed upon by both parties, according to the records in the case.

TIME ELEMENT

Under the law, if a usurious rate of interest is charged the money lender may be sued for three times the amount of interest paid, providing action is begun in court within one year after the last payment is made.

Douglas did not bring his suit under the Usury Act to attempt to collect three times the amount of the interest he paid. He had waited more than a year. His action sought to recover only the amount he had paid, the sum of $684.42. This the lower court allowed him.

DEFENSE PLEAS

Klopper, the defendant, appealed from the judgment of the lower court to the appellate department of the Superior Court on the ground that the rate of interest paid was in excess of 12 per cent and the only recourse Douglas could have would have been under the usury law, which he had not invoked, waiting more than one year to file his action. He also contended that Douglas was a party to the usury by voluntarily agreeing to pay the usurious rate.

The higher court found that Douglas had the right to bring suit, but not for the full amount of the usurious interest, the sum of $684.42. The court remanded the case back to the Municipal Court, at the same time directing that judgment be returned in favor of the plaintiff for the amount in excess of the legal rate of 7 per cent.

Chiropractic Prize Baby Just Weeps

Judges Rewarded With Tears

Sheila Ouida Brown, being examined by Dr. Charles H. Wood, expresses her disapproval of things in general despite honor of winning 95 per cent perfect rating in baby contest.

A NINETY-FIVE per cent perfect rating on her physical condition yesterday put Sheila Ouida Brown, 6½ months of age, at the head of the 515 entrants in the annual baby show and health contest held at the Los Angeles College of Chiropractic. Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Brown, 6091 Salem Place, are parents of the prize taker.

Tiny Sheila carried off the first prize and shed tears copiously when the award was made. Other winners are Kenneth Knollenberg, 94 per cent, son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther P. Knollenberg, 3724 Sunset Boulevard; Marian Juldene Myers, 93 per cent, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Myers, 1625 West Fifty-first street, and James Kelly McBride, 92½ per cent, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McBride, 746 Lake street.

Judges were headed by Dr. Charles H. Wood, and the proceedings were given the official O.K. of the American Chiropractic Association by C. C. Falkenstine of Cincinnati, the organization's traveling representative. Other judges were Drs. S. J. Howell, Claude L. Fishback, C. J. Redmond and Harry P. Fish, of the State Board of Chiropractic Examiners.

SENSATIONS PROMISED IN THEFT TRIAL

More Secrets of Strange Ritual to be Revealed in Court Today

More secrets of the strange ritual of the Church of Divine Science of Joshua, the Branch, the Headstone of the Corner, are scheduled to be revealed in Superior Judge Fricke's court today, when the trial of Mrs. May Otis Blackburn, founder of the church, charged with grand theft, is resumed.

Mrs. Blackburn's trial began a week ago, but so far only one witness of approximately three-score subpenaed testified. The first witness was Clifford Dabney, oil man, who testified that he gave the woman religious leader $45,000 on the promise that she would reveal "the secrets of the universe" to him.

Dabney was on the witness stand five days last week and his examination by Defense Attorney Cochran had not been completed when court adjourned Friday afternoon. Mrs. Dabney is scheduled to follow her husband on the witness stand. The prosecution is being conducted by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Ferguson.

Welch Gives Warning on Wage Filings

Galen H. Welch, collector of internal revenue, advises that all persons making payment to another person of wages, salaries, commissions, or compensation in any other form, of $1500 or more for the calendar year 1929 must render a return thereof for such year on or before February 15, next. Such forms must be forwarded to the collector of internal revenue for the taxpayer's district.

Special attention should be given to these forms for the reason that heretofore such forms have been filed with the commissioner of internal revenue on or before March 15, he said.

Board Approves Plea for Plunge

Providing the district raises funds for the purpose, the Playground and Recreation Commission has approved the proposal to construct a swimming pool in the Harvard Playground following the receipt of a petition for a pool by the Denker-Avenue Improvement Association.

The commission recognizes the need of a pool in the Harvard Playground locality but as there are no funds set aside for the construction, and may not be for several years, the only manner in which it can be accomplished is for the district to provide the money, Supt. Hjelte reported. Cost of the facility is estimated at $40,000.

The playground was acquired out of a city-wide bond issue and improved out of the current funds of the department, it is pointed out by Supt. Hjelte.

FANCIERS KNOW OF PSITTACOSIS

Malady Long Dreaded by Bird Importers

Filth and Crowding Often Set Up Epidemic

Symptoms of Disease Easily Recognized by Owners

BY DR. H. B. F. JERVIS
Veterinary Surgeon

Although psittacosis or septic parrot fever has been known to bird fanciers for a long time it did not attract much scientific attention until several outbreaks of an obscure pneumonic disease in man were attributed to infection derived from recently imported parrots and parrakeets which were dying of a peculiar malady.

Ritter observed it in Switzerland in 1879, when several families were stricken with a typical pneumonia following the importation of parrots via Hamburg. It appeared then that the victims had been infected by the transport cages rather than by the parrots themselves. Three years afterward Ost of Berne and later Wagner studied a disease of the African gray parrot. In 1882 Wolff also investigated and said it was possible for the disease to be transmitted to man. Ten years later an endemic of contagious pneumonia with unusual characteristics came to attention in Paris and subsequently was attributed to diseased parrakeets from Buenos Aires.

The latter outbreak was investigated by Nocard, who obtained an abundant culture of a particular organism from the feathers of the dead birds. In subsequent human cases Palamidessa, Gilbert and Fournier isolated from patients an organism having all the characteristics of the bacillus of Nocard.

In Cologne in 1898 Leichtenstern considered he had observed this parrot disease and brought forward evidence to support its avian origin. Some time later, however, he repudiated this view when he found that in other centers of infection the bacillus of Nocard was not found present in persons dead of the infectious pneumonia nor in the suspected parrots.

Although contagion, either direct or indirect, plays a part in the dissemination and maintenance of this disease, it is of less importance than the conditions under which the affection is generated. It usually arises in birds from the time they are caged first to the time they are landed at their foreign destination. When one considers that freshly caught birds are crowded so thickly together that they scarcely can move in boxes or bamboo cages; that their food is flung to them on the floor, which soon is covered with filth from which they have to pick it; that often they are deprived of sufficient water and maintained for long periods in a high temperature, especially during inclement weather, there is little wonder that the birds' systems become weakened and that the constant passage of saprophytic organisms makes them virulent in spite of their previously sanitary lives.

A healthy parrakeet placed in an infected cage or a clean cage containing infected feathers soon falls ill and dies within three weeks. Contaminated food and water, utensils and hands also may transmit the disease.

By natural infection or contagion symptoms manifest themselves within three days to four weeks. Frequently the disease appears a few days after the arrival of the birds in this country. The mortality rate is rarely under 50 per cent of the total; sometimes it is as high as 90 or 95 per cent.

The bird shivers, loses its appetite, seems dull, has frothy, greenish diarrhea, which sometimes contains blood, becomes drowsy and disinclined to move and has intense thirst. After a short period the wings droop, the feathers lose their gloss and stand open, the eyes close and the bird hides its head under a wing or in the shoulder feathers. There are signs of great weakness. Toward the end, convulsions occur and are followed shortly by death.

If the bird lingers there is a discharge of clear or yellow mucus-pus from the nostrils, sneezing, snuffling, a watery or purulent discharge from the eyelids, coughing and difficult breathing, which often is of a panting nature. Emaciation, loss of weight and a prominent breastbone usually are accompanying symptoms. Also occasional vomiting may be observed. As a rule there is a disinclination, even inability, to perch, the bird preferring the floor in a corner of the cage.

Death usually results, but if a bird survives the eighth or ninth day after discovery of symptoms some hope for its recovery may be entertained, especially if it shows signs of restored appetite.

band, George Pepperdine, about fifteen years ago and aided him in the establishment of the Western Auto Supply Company. In 1919, when the company was incorporated, she was made vice-president and treasurer and remained active in the business until January, 1929, when she retired.

Besides her two daughters she leaves her father, Wayne D. Baker of this city, and five brothers, Hal R. Baker, Ralph Baker and Wayne D. Baker, Jr., all of this city, Herbert I. Baker of Glendale and Ernest R. Baker of Oakland.

OTHERS ILL

The death of Mrs. Pepperdine is the second of residents of the metropolitan area which is attributed to psittacosis contracted from parrots purchased in Buenos Aires by passengers of crew members of the ship on which she made her voyage to South America. The other victim is B. O. Johnson of Alhambra.

In addition to these cases, there are five other cases of what is believed to be psittacosis in the metropolitan area, which are supposed to have been contracted from parrots purchased in Buenos Aires. The patients are the wife of Johnson; Mrs. Emma Surry, negro seamstress, who was employed by Mrs. Pepperdine, and helped care for her parrot; Samuel Strasser, who bought a parrot from a member of the ship's crew named John Santos; Edward Johanson, brother-in-law of Santos and the recipient of two parrots from him, and Mrs. A. H. Stewart of Mar Vista, who also had a parrot which arrived on the same ship.

Although a funeral date has not been set, the body will be brought home aboard the Steamship City of Honolulu, sailing on the 25th.

THIS FRETFUL WORLD

Somebody wants to know why since the launching of the first ship men have quarreled at sea. There is no specific reason unless it rests in the circumstance that ever since men have been able to raise beards they have also quarreled on land.

THE SKY GLIDERS

Down at San Diego a glider remained aloft for six hours and twenty minutes and did a lot of looping at a height of more than a thousand feet. This provides another record for these ozone floaters so far as America is concerned. A German glider has remained aloft longer, but to no better purpose. The gliders are going to be a great gift to aviation.

MORALS OF MONTE CARLO

Some of the lady speculators will have to hook up with the males. It is announced that hereafter no unattached woman will find welcome at the baccarat tables at Monte Carlo. Ladies will have to have husbands or escorts in order to gain admission and their credentials are likely to be investigated. This is because of the appearances of adventuresses at this famous gambling resort. The managers do not wish to take in any tainted money and are no longer willing to have commerce with sirens. Even a duchess will have her pedigree ventilated and her escort fumigated before she can risk her doubloons. This is quite a radical departure for Monte Carlo, but the place is anxious to achieve a reputation for probity and order. At Tia Juana they are not so particular.

BREAKS OF THE LAW

The decision of the Appellate Division of Superior Court that the Legislature left a loop-hole in its law prohibiting speed traps is almost unique in that it is one of the few times that the breaks of the law go against a defendant. It is usually the man accused of crime who gets the advantage of technicalities.

In this case a man, for a speed violation, was arrested by an officer operating an inconspicuous car and claimed immunity on the ground that the motor-vehicle law now requires officers patrolling roads for its enforcement to use cars painted a distinctive color, and forbids their testimony being received if they do not. The officer's answer was that he was not patrolling the highway for that purpose and happened, while on another errand, to witness this violation. The trial court and now the Appellate Division rules with him.

No issue need be taken with the court's interpretation of the law in saying that this decision practically reinstates the speed trap, which there is no doubt the Legislature tried to do away with, since it will be in most cases impossible for a defendant to prove the purpose for which an officer is patrolling a highway, or to disprove an officer's assertion that he was not out at any particular time to get motor-vehicle law violators.

There are various views which may be taken of the speed trap, but the consensus in California for several years has been that it takes an unfair advantage and induces in the public an attitude of disrespect for the law. The primary object of motor-vehicle regulation is the public safety, and not the collection of revenue, and when it is used to fill the treasury it is perverted.

Probably the Legislature at its next session will try to use language in which its meaning cannot be mistaken.

USE OF FLOOD WATERS

The recommendations of Chief Flood Control Engineer Eaton and others, described in yesterday's Times, that attention of the Los Angeles flood-control district be directed to underground storage of flood waters is one that appears to have much merit, especially in the case of the San Gabriel, where the erection of a large storage dam seems likely, because of geological conditions, to prove impracticable. To a lesser extent, similar treatment is indicated for the Big Tujunga and the San Antonio. If, as Eaton declares, the gravel cones of these three basins can be improved by increasing their absorption possibilities at comparatively slight expense, such a solution would be superior to storage reservoirs, since the evaporation loss from above-ground reservoirs is heavy.

The best storage of water, as of oil, is that below ground, if conditions are such as to permit a large proportion of it to be recaptured. Such is the case in the San Fernando Valley, where much of the water sold for irrigation is retained in the gravels and can be pumped out again for domestic use. Such is also the case in the San Gabriel Valley, in the belief of Eaton and other engineers who have studied the subject. Among these is J. A. Bell of San Gabriel, who submitted a memorandum on the subject to the flood-control district last November.

As explained by engineers and geologists the structure of these valleys, consisting largely of material eroded from the mountains in past ages, is alternate layers of gravel and broken rock, and of dense and almost impervious clay. The clay blankets are heavier near the seaboard and disappear as the canyon mouths are approached, where the gravel layers go down to unknown depths unmixed with any clayey constituents. If the flood waters can be detained over these gravel cones, they will soak in and disappear, bringing up the water tables all over the valley, and permitting the water's recapture through wells.

If this picture of the structure is correct it follows that it is a mistake to construct flood-control channels to carry off the canyon waters rapidly when they are needed, as they are needed in this county.

According to Bell, who has made a special study of the San Gabriel wash, the gravel cone of that river is about seven miles long and one to two miles wide, reaching from the north extremity of the El Monte island to the canyon. Bell believes that the underlying waters of the valley are supplied almost entirely from this and other cones, little or none of the rainfall over the valley area being able to percolate through the clay beds to the lower gravels. He suggests the purchase of this cone, about 5000 acres of land valueless for agriculture, the abolition of the present flood-control channel above El Monte island, and the construction of weirs and the replanting of brush to hold back the flood waters.

Eaton's plan is similar in effect though differing in detail. He proposes the construction of ditches and laterals over this and other cones, into which flood waters will back up. The use of these river cones for absorbing flood water, he declares, will not interfere with the present commercial development of the areas, which is for rock and gravel pits. It is obvious that unless gravel excavation helps to form new channels in which the water can acquire high velocity and escape to the sea, it is helpful and not hurtful to absorption.

The gravel companies which own most of the San Gabriel cone need not, therefore, be expropriated. It is to their present interest, of course, to have the flood waters run off rapidly, and any plan of keeping their lands flooded would be to their detriment to some extent. But this use of the lands for spreading water would be seasonal only and the county, it would seem, could come to some arrangement with them at less cost than that of outright purchase.

Eaton figures, on the basis of experiments on spreading grounds at the mouth of San Antonio Canyon, a daily absorption of 22,500,000,000 gallons during flood-water periods on the 9000 acres in the county which are suitable for the purpose. The amount will vary, of course, with the pressure which can be maintained over the absorption grounds, and the figure is based on average San Antonio experience.

It will be recalled that one very attractive feature of the gravity aqueduct plan proposed by E. C. LaRue is the filling of underground reservoirs during the dry season, with surplus from the Colorado, which will be available because the Metropolitan Water District will not need for some years all the 1500 feet flow it is expecting to take from that stream. The Eaton plan would provide the spreading grounds on which this surplus could be utilized.

The idea has very attractive aspects and deserves very serious study with a view to early adoption.

CONVERSION OF MR. HEARST

The Los Angeles Examiner in its issue of the 16th inst. carried a strong editorial indorsement of the Interstate Commerce Commission's suggestion that Congress provide for union terminals in its railway legislation. Mr. Hearst is to be congratulated upon his conversion. His papers here have long been on the other side of the fence in the matter of the Los Angeles need for a union terminal and the shift of view makes public opinion in this city virtually unanimous.

The case for the Plaza union station is very clearly argued by the Examiner when it says: "Everyone has experienced the inconvenience of separate railroad passenger stations in American cities. Everyone has experienced the convenience of a union passenger station. Hence there will be general agreement with the Interstate Commerce Commission's recommendation that in the coming railroad consolidations, JOINT TERMINAL FACILITIES for all railroads in each large city shall be established. Consider the case of New York, with which all are familiar. All the railroads terminating on the west bank of the Hudson River could and should have been brought to Manhattan Island by tunnel to a JOINT passenger station." . . . and so on.

By citing New York, Mr. Hearst has foreclosed his papers from using again the argument of the railroads here, that a joint station would serve little useful purpose because Los Angeles, being a real terminus, is not a place where many passengers change from one line to another. For New York is in precisely the same situation.

There is a better argument for a union terminal here than in New York, because one can be had here so much more easily. All the railroads that enter Los Angeles pass under the North Broadway viaduct; they are not spread along the "west bank of the Hudson River;" they do not require miles of expensive construction to bring them to a

DEMOCRATS SPEAK UP

Democrats in Illinois are clamoring for James Hamilton Lewis as their candidate for the United States Senate. He was once elected to that office, but there isn't a ghost of a chance for a Democrat in these days, even if there be division in the Republican ranks. But Ham. Lewis was ever a picturesque figure and his pink whiskers and purple neckties were never far from the front page. His brush has now whitened, but his ties and his voice are as appealing as ever. The snappiest and most entertaining Democratic speeches in the last campaign were those made by this former Senator.

BIG BUSINESS

According to construction authorities the building contracts awarded in this country last year aggregated more than $6,250,000,000. It indicated a slump of about 15 per cent in some thirty-five Eastern States while the West held its own and in some cases showed a slight gain. The same authorities agree that construction this year will reach nearly $9,000,000,000—which announcement should give renewed confidence and courage to the American people. Our building operations are always vast and impressive.

THE WRONG EINSTEIN

There was such a rush and riot at a lecture on the Einstein theory in New York that the police force had to be summoned. The knickerbockers weren't sure whether it was a diamond auction or an explanation of how grapes could be made to ferment with safety. Possibly some of them expected a revelation of the Rothstein murder mystery. Anyhow, the cops were there.

The LEE SIDE o' L.A.

BY Lee Shippey

SNOWBOUND on the Colorado Desert!

That's like being snowbound in the midst of the Sahara, so of course it couldn't ever happen. But it did.

You've read pages about the history-making snowstorm which spread a white blanket over Southern California from Ontario to Banning. But we got a few personal glimpses of it which were astonishing, even in that snowstorm of wonders.

"White Rain"

We wondered why Palm Springs hotels went to the extravagance of providing steam heat, as we threw open our French windows to let in the desert air the night before. And we'd concluded, from other things we'd seen, that it was just because steam heat is a luxury that they had it, there where every day is summer and every night is spring. But early next morning, John, No. 3 of our twenty-mule quartet of boys, came dancing into our room in great excitement:

"Lookee!" he exclaimed. "It's rainin' cotton—funny white rain!"

He'd never seen snow falling before. None of our children had.

We looked out on endless miles of cactus and Joshua palms all bending under snow and looking alarmed by the unheard-of visitation. Our faithful helpspend, as she rubbed her eyes and looked again, remarked that she doubted that even a century plant out there on the desert could remember any similar event. But later in the day the chief of the Indian village about which Palm Springs clusters told us that fifty-seven years ago there was another snowstorm on the desert—but not so great a storm.

We Make History

We don't know how many inches of snow fell, but it looked just like snowstorms we have seen back in the Middle West, and we actually were snowbound. We had planned a picnic up one of the beautiful canyons near Palm Springs—those canyons tucked away like treasure troves in the desert, in which one may find rushing streams, waterfalls and the forests primeval of Southern California, veritable jungles of palms which horticulturists say are more than 2000 years old. Better still, we had intended to take the trip with Capt. Hoffman, who knows the Indians and the natural history of that terrain, and can lead you to the places where Indian picture writings of some forgotten era can be seen.

But such trips were impossible that one day. So instead we led the twenty-mule-team quartet out into the patio of Hotel El Mirador and in ten minutes we had built a snow man bigger than any of the boys. The Indian chief said there was snow fifty-seven years before—that it was an event so unprecedented that he was sure about the date—but admitted that never before had there been a snow man on the desert.

Startling Contrast

As we were snowballing about the snow man we were startled by a splash. A man in bathing suit had just plunged into the swimming pool in the center of the patio. Even in this land of wonderful contrasts it was breath-taking to see a man enjoying outdoor bathing in the midst of a snow-covered world, in which every tree was bending under a heavy load.

We didn't know then that it was a warm-water plunge.

Once in a Lifetime

That burden of snow on the trees brought out something interesting to us. Other people merely looked and marveled at it, but "Smoky," the shine-stand boy and porter in the hotel, instantly sought the manager.

"Better keep some men shaking the snow off those trees, Mr. Pinney," he said, "or they'll all be broken down. Heavy snow on green trees always breaks 'em down. I'm from Montana and I know."

Next day, driving back to Los Angeles, we saw how many people had not known what "Smoky" knew, for all along the highways were broken branches and even fallen trees. Where snow comes only once in a lifetime, how could people know?

The Poor Shine Boy!

But that was only part of what interested us. We asked "Smoky" how a Montanan chanced to be there.

"A lot of us here came down from Yellowstone Park, where we work in a big hotel in the summer," he said. "Managers of tourist hotels build up a good staff one place and carry a good many people right along with 'em to another place. The hotel business is pretty nearly like the show business in taking you about. Our maitre d'hotel, for instance, was at the Hotel Maryland in Pasadena, then at the Old Faithful in Yellowstone, then down here. Only it beats the show business, because you're always at the best hotels and get courtesies from all the other hotels. I like the business, but hate to give up a good paying job like the shine stand and portering to go behind a desk at $75 a week and learn the business end. Last summer in just seventy days I made $1000 as a porter and shine boy!"

So we learned about hotel help from him. That maitre d'hotel, William Charlton, not only looks and acts the gentleman, as a head waiter must, but spends his spare time writing. Among other things, he is dissatisfied with all the books about Yellowstone Park and wants to write one more worthy of its wonders. He is one of those shy, earnest men who love the artistic for its own sake, rather than for the sake of commerce. When we got to talking with him, he led us aside and showed us pictures some of his assistants had produced. One was a portrait which seemed to us to show amazing natural power. It was the work of Henry Stephens, a house boy. Another was a woodland scene which conveyed such a sense of depth and feeling that we can close our eyes and see it vividly yet. It was painted by Ruth Lundstrom, a waitress.

You never know what sort of genius may be shining your shoes or waiting on you in a Southland hotel.

A NOTE OF REGRET

By James J. Montague

The "speakies" are grippingly thrilling, of course,
And not to be mocked nor derided,
But they lack the old vigorous hair-raising force
Which the fast waning "movies" provided.
When the action was silent, I often was stirred
To the uttermost depths of my vitals,
As my ocular senses caught word after word
Of the ringing and resonant titles.
When the hero was quoted as saying to-wit:
"Although only a poor, lonely ranger,
I will brave all the demons that hover and flit
On the bleak, barren pathways of danger,
And will come at your call, lovely girl of my dreams,
As swift as the flight of an arrow,
Over canyons and mountains and storm-swollen streams,"
I always was moved to the marrow.
And when the base villain observed, with a sneer,
"Although you may spurn my petition
I shall cherish my hatred, long year after year
Till my vengeance shall come to fruition.
Your Donald some day I shall lay at you feet
His lips dead and cold to your kisses!"
I felt that my face was as pale as a sheet,
And I hardly could hold back the hisses.
The words that the screen can convey in cold print
With never a pause nor a stutter,
As soft as a coo or as rugged as flint,
No actor could learn how to utter.
The "speakies," of course, have supplied us with sound,
But what I've attempted to prove is That in slinging swell elegant English around
They can't even start with the "movies!"

WOMEN AND ART

BY FRED HOGUE

Illusions are the dreams of youth. They flourish in adolescence, like the virgin snow that clings to the mountain tops in winter, only to be dispelled by the suns of June. And when the last illusion has fled, life becomes as dreary as a tentless desert.

Blessed are the errant artists who wander far afield and bring back to us their emotional impressions of the phantom, colorful lands of yesterday. For they give to our emotions new stuff to feed upon; they give to us new illusions, to replace those that vanished with our adolescence.

In Southern California, where the mountain ivy covers with its delicate tapestry the crumbling ruins of the old Franciscan missions and the burial grounds of vanished Indian tribes—here in Southern California the glamour of a buried past still lingers; a past when Spain, mother of nations, still exercised dominion over the southern half of North America.

Our mountains, streams, highways, municipalities and villages still retain their ancient Spanish names; and in the blue nights, when the heavens are studded with opal, the voices of the past sing in the solitudes the songs of the troubadours of a vanished century.

Just as England is the mother of industry, Spain is the mother of romance; and one who is astute enough to leave the sunlight of her modern cities and wander in the golden twilight of the countryside—such a one discovers that the romance still lingers. Modern progress, so deadly to art, has passed these Spanish villages by.

Lilian Genth, A.N.A., is one of these rare spirits who has been able to reproduce her artistic impressions of the Spain of the serape and mantilla on canvas, to transfer the flowers and the phantoms of Seville and Andalusia, in all their pristine sweetness and purity, to an alien soil.

As I stood before her canvases of Spanish subjects in two salons of the Stendahl galleries at the Ambassador Hotel this afternoon, I suddenly realized that the Spain of fact, while wholly different, is still more romantic than the Spain of my fancy.

Lilian Genth is one of the first figure painters of America, and she has reproduced and illumined with her brush the stiff, intolerant duennas and the yielding, emotional, passionate, distracting senoritas of Cordova, Seville and Andalusia.

I suddenly came to the realization that Carmen, the wanton, is not a pure Spanish type. There are no Carmens in the Lilian Genth canvases, although there are Spanish types of a radiant, ravishing beauty.

I began to reflect, after I had first condemned; and I came to realize that Carmen is not the child of Spain, but of the fancy of Prosper Merimee, a talented but sensuous Frenchman. The Carmen of the opera stage and screen is an adaptation of Merimee's romance of that name.

Had Lilian Genth found a Carmen among the cigarette girls of Spain, she would have painted her; but the type is only the product of Merimee's fancy; like the heroine of Pierre Louis's romance.

Only a woman artist could demonstrate to me my error. Why?

As I looked at her canvases, and compared them in retrospect to other canvases of Spanish subjects that I had admired, I came to realize what Vauvenargus meant when he said "All great thoughts come from the heart." Unless there is purity in the heart of the artist, the sensuous will dominate the pure on the canvas.

For the perpetuation of the species, perhaps, nature created man sensuous; but for the ennobling of the specious, nature—God, if you will—created woman pure.

That innate purity of spirit finds its expression in the productions of gifted women painters. It sounds a new note in art, a note that was never struck until the emancipation of woman was won.

Lilian Genth has not taken to art as an avocation, but as the serious work of her life. She won in her youth the scholarships that enabled her to study under the greatest masters of the first decade of the twentieth century, not only in this country, but in Europe. She is one of the few pupils of the great Whistler who have achieved distinction in their art; for Whistler painted better than he taught.

Some one has written before me that one is appreciated only by his equals. Only to one with artistic instinct in the soul could Whistler impart the secret of his art.

Lilian Genth, the roly-poly, apple-cheeked maiden from Philadelphia, was one of Whistler's favorite pupils. It is not from Lilian Genth that I learned this, but from one of the associates of Whistler. She has told me that the only distinction he ever showed to her was to criticise her work until he made her cry. Only those who knew Whistler will appreciate this was indeed a distinction. He never wasted his hours trying to instruct and correct mediocre talent. He simply ignored it.

To be a favorite pupil of Whistler it was necessary to be more than a colorist. Fidelity to line and shade was an absolute essential. To one who did not possess the sense of color Whistler never gave a second lesson. But, to remain in one of his classes, it was necessary to possess also the sense of line and of composition.

I recall she told me when she was here three years ago, that she criticised her own canvases by asking herself when she contemplated them, "What would Whistler have said?" Only the uncultured would infer from this that she is a copyist. I recall that the De Goncourts wrote, "One begins by imitating and finishes by becoming original." It is so with all genius, whether a painter, writer or sculptor. The great artists of the Low Countries all made pilgrimages to Italy and devoted months and years to copying the paintings of the Italian masters. In my own humble way, I never submit an article for publication without asking myself, "What would Harry Andrews—the great managing editor of The Times, now dead—have said of it."

I claim no virtue for having discovered merit in Lilian Genth's paintings. A woman who breaks into the citadel of the American National Academy must be good; for the prejudice of sex is against her. For a woman to be recognized as a great artist is as much of a wonder as that anything good could come out of Nazareth.

The innate purity of womanhood is in all of her canvases. It is subconscious. I am certain from conversation with her that she has never been aware of it. I suspect that she will resent this interpretation, for she has assured me repeatedly that sex has no place in art.

But I discovered years ago that genius is subconscious, that an artist is often unaware in his conscious mind of the inspiration another will draw from his canvas. David Edstrom has recounted to me the naive surprise of Rodin when he learned the inspiration the world drew from his masterpiece, named by a critic "The Thinker." In his conscious mind Rodin saw in it only a study in anatomy; but he was greater than he himself knew.

Lilian Genth is an artist who has remained true to her convictions, who has made no compromise with excessive modernism. She does not paint to be popular, to produce "best sellers." She paints as the nightingale sings, with its breast against a thorn.

I have looked at the canvases of Lilian Genth, but it is not for me to criticise them. They have all passed the inspection of the dead eye of the great Whistler. I can only narrate.

One that appeals to my fancy is "The Hermitage at Cordova." Two monks clad in black, recalling the Inquisition, stand as warders at the entrance to the monastery. In the foreground are two women standing, two reclining and a caballero. How colorful, sensuous, are the gowns and the shawls in blue and red of the senoritas! What a contrast to the colorful raiment of these worldings are the bare whitewashed walls of the monastery and the somber garments of the monks! Lilian Genth stood beside me as I studied this canvas. She told me how it came to be painted. Over the entrance of the monastery was the Spanish warning, "Silencio"—silence.

She told me that in this monastery no word is spoken. She desired to enter. The warders told her that she must first cover her arms and her bosom, which were bare, with a shawl lest one of the neophytes should look upon her, and should be seduced by the sins of the flesh. Once inside, she saw a skull preserved in a glass case. She was told that this skull was that of the brother of one of the neophytes, dating back to the time of the terrible Duke of Alva, the inquisitor, in the epoch of the rise of the Dutch republic. This was the vessel from which the monk, his brother, had taken his only nourishment.

That painting is not only a work of art, it is a contribution to the history of that epoch.

Other canvases depict the daughters of Seville, of Andalusia and of Cordova. They are bits of the Middle Ages dropped into the lap of the twentieth century.

Lilian Genth is greatest in her contrasts, in the clash of the old and the new. Her genius does not take into consideration the passage of time, the clash of the centuries. A bit of the fifteenth century strays nonchalantly into a century where it does not belong. The gypsies of Andalusia are dancing before the present dictator.

The "Girl of Arcos" intrigues me. She looks at me with fearless eyes, under dark lashes. But I sense that back of her is a hidalgo who will revenge with his dagger one, bold, amorous glance.

It is not of Spain alone that Lilian Genth paints. She has visited Northern Africa at the period when Abd-el-Krim was in his ascendency. She has depicted life under the Ouled Nail. A woman, she won entrance to the Moorish harems; and she has painted them from life, something no masculine painter has ever been able to do.

How these canvases radiate color, such color as only a favorite pupil of Whistler can reproduce! There are forty in the exhibition, and each, after its fashion, is a masterpiece. How many of them will remain in Los Angeles? I wish we might keep them all; but I am not unmindful of the fact that I live in a community where education is several laps in advance of culture, where we have the greatest Chamber of Commerce in the world, but no chamber of culture.

NOT MONOTONOUS

Peggy Hopkins Joyce, with her magnificent diamonds and emeralds, was the belle of Cannes last month.

Gossip says that at a dinner at the Ambassadeurs in Cannes a prince congratulated her on her many conquests and then wound up:

"But I should think you'd get tired of being made love to."

"I guess you never heard the story of the chorus girl," said Miss Joyce. "A man said to her what you just said to me, 'I should think you'd get tired of being made love to.' 'I would,' said the chorus girl, 'if it was always the same man.'"

The commission investigating the worth of the Eighteenth Amendment has at last reported that Willis should be spanked for stealing jam.

Those queer little pains you have at 45 are symptoms of a malady called middle age.

If a man really loves his dog it doesn't mean anything except that he has no children.

The reason most people fail is because they are ashamed to practice on rats while waiting to shoot an elephant.

It's hard to tell whether grown men read detective stories for relaxation or because they were licked for doing it as kids.

You can't always tell a hick if he keeps still, but soon or late he will call a waiter or porter "George."

You needn't turn criminal to get a thrill. Get a job opening mail packages for some prosecuting attorney the gang doesn't like.

The ideal government, of course, is one that will make us be righteous without getting too rough about it.

People had a big time on their imaginary profits. Why can't they imagine some more and keep on spending?

Americanism: Passing a law to make ourselves righteous; hating the brutal government if it tries to enforce it when we don't observe it.

Synonym for today: As brave as Dad is about having Willis's tooth pulled.

Hard times are those in which the world offers no work that a $10,000 man has sense enough to do.

It seems to be a rule. The smaller the dog in the house, the lower the husband rates.

Another need of the times is a golf club that will knock the turf at a right angle and park it against a grinning mouth.

Poverty is annoying until you think of those who feel excited when a year's search rewards them with another antique foot stool.

Correct this sentence: "I know it's your dinner time," said the feminine caller, "so I'll stay only a minute."

A man who understands technique is the man who can eat grapefruit without drowning himself.

Trouble cannot be abolished, but people can minimize it by applying common sense to the situation.

The best way to comfort people is to give them strength and courage instead of ice cream and cake.

Many a woman who is familiar with the mechanism of a high-powered car knows absolutely nothing about operating an electric sweeper.

NOTHING TO SELL

It is a pleasant thing to meet a man of aspect mild and sweet, who seeks the shanty where you dwell, and hasn't anything to sell. No motor cars or real estate, or patent hinges for a gate, no new inventions weird and strange, no remedies for itch or mange, no corkscrews of a new design, no Volstead substitutes for wine. Oh, things have come to such a pass that I am prone to cry, "Alas," when I behold a stranger track along the pathway to my shack. The more benign and mild he seems, the more I dread and fear his schemes. I fear he'll sell me bogus shares in meerschaum mines or other snares. I see nearly every man I see has something he would sell to me. But now and then there comes a man built on a grand and noble plan, who hasn't anything for sale, who doesn't crave my hard-won kale. He has no dope to make hens lay, no new machines for baling hay; he doesn't urge me to invest in oil wells headed galley west; he has no liquid to restore the hair I lost in days of yore; he doesn't try to sell a tome like Gibbon's deathless work on Rome; he has no salve that never fails when used to cure ingrowing nails; he doesn't come to offer me a sovereign balm for housemaid's knee. "I just dropped in," he smiling cries, "to say how much I like your pies. They are the best I ever ate, they are all wool and standard weight." Now blessings rest upon the gent who comes on such an errand bent, to speak a kindly word of praise, and not to sell George Bernard's plays, brass ornaments for milch-cows' horns, a new device for curing corns.

There are 30,000,000 homes in the United States and if anything goes wrong with the home everything goes wrong with the nation. Science is now saying that the family that devours personality, that warps personality, that fights, that lacks sympathy, that stunts the growth of children is a faulty family and contributes much to the faults of a nation. A house is not a home and a home is something more than a family. The dictionary definition of a family will not do as a definition of a Christian family, for that is a communion resting upon an ethical and spiritual basis. No consideration of luxury or selfish indulgence should divert a true woman from the pain and joy of motherhood and when a man places the upkeep of his automobile above the upbringing of his boy he is undermining the stability of the home."

CHRIST AS WEDDING GUEST DECLARED NEED

"The Marriage at Cana" is the subject of a sermon preached yesterday by Dr. J. George Dorn at Hollywood Lutheran Church. Dr. Dorn said in part:

"The mission of Moses to Pharaoh was attended by changing of water into blood, but the mission of Christ in the world was begun by changing of water into wine. This interest of Christ in the wedding at Cana indicates His regard for all common life. At the dawn of history God attended the marriage service of the first human parents. Here at the outset of Christ's ministry we have His attendance at this marriage feast. If in this day our young people were to make certain that Christ had an invitation to their wedding feast our divorce courts would go out of business. Jesus elevated domestic joys before He went forth to adjust domestic sorrows. He came to uphold, sanctify, sweeten human life. There is no holier place on earth than the domestic roof and there is no more divine place on this side of heaven than a Christian family."

GOD TO BE FOUND IN HEART'S SILENCE

Speaking on the ideals expressed in his "Whispers from Eternity," a book of prayers and poems, Swami Yogananda, in his address at Mt. Washington Center yesterday told his audience that God is not to be known through fear or feverish mental exercises but that He may be discovered by those who love Him and seek Him in the silence of the soul.

"Let us not offer unto our Heavenly Father an intellectual, man-tortured, disciplined song but let us offer unto Him the wild songs of our hearts," said the speaker. "Let us not offer Him civilized, emotion-born music or brain-made song-flowers but let us offer Him the wild blossoms which grow on the high tracts of our souls."

According to one reviewer, "a strength, seldom found in the honey-sweet poems of the orientals, and exceeding in vigor even the majestic verses of Tagore, permeates almost every page of Yogananda's new book."

SEXAGENARIAN PILOT NEEDN'T AVIATE SOLO

When B. A. Siggins, 62 years of age, retired Pasadena furniture dealer, flew his own airplane after only four hours of instruction, his privacy also flew away, he admitted yesterday. Vivid congratulatory letters from strange women have parachuted upon him and their authors all want to be taken for a ride and express a preference for a mature hand at the controls.

"After I bought my plane, I couldn't get anybody to teach me to fly," said Siggins yesterday. "I was told that I was too old to learn or that solo flights would be risky at my age. I was given to understand that flying is distinctly a young man's game. I'm not too old for anything but a schoolgirl complexion. Anyone who's been everywhere except the North and South Poles ought not to be deprived of getting up in the air over California, at least."

Finally Sewell F. Griggers at Compton Field agreed to teach Siggins, who now flies under his teacher's direction and is mechanic of his own plane.

"When anything faster is built I'll have it and run it, too," Siggins asserted, bidding farewell to privacy and the quiet life of the sixties.

He always tried to be first at everything new. He was the first boy in Milwaukee to have a bicycle and the first man there to have an automobile. He bids for the record of first man to drive a car for thirty consecutive years without an accident. Now he has topped his record by being the first pilot to learn at 62 years of age. As he says, for him life is one big kick.

SOUL CALLED SOURCE OF ALL HAPPINESS

"The Quest of Happiness" was discussed yesterday by Dr. B. S. Thind in his sermon at Trinity Auditorium. Excerpts from the discourse follow:

"Happiness is only in understanding, in knowing the truth, in seeing things as they really are. He alone is a free man whom truth makes free, all else are slaves. You can be happy, although married. Marriage is a means to an end. You can reach the kingdom of heaven through your wife, children and friends, if you use them as means, but they will all fail when you make them as ends. You can be happy without a penny, and you can be happy with millions of pounds. Possess the world, but don't be possessed by it. It is your estate. Those who live in their senses and pursue sense objects are blind, they are only awakened in the lower self. Some are wide awake as to their mental capacities, but mind, too, is subject to the law of polarity. It also has its ups and downs. Those who live in the mind can never know peace. Bigger than the sense is the mind and greater than the mind is understanding whose nature is harmony. There can be no harmony without understanding, and greater than understanding is the soul."

PASTOR SAYS ALL MEN SEE WHAT THEY SEEK

"Optimist and Pessimist" is the topic of a sermon preached yesterday by Dr. Bruce Brown at South Park Christian Church. Dr. Brown spoke in part as follows:

"Two men go over the same road. At the end of the journey one tells me that he saw toads and snakes and lizards and mud and thorns. The other man who walked by his side tells me that he saw the green grass on the hillside, the flowers in the meadows and the clouds above like golden ships in an azure sea. Each man told the truth for each man saw what he looked for. As we journey through life if we look for the mean and ugly we shall find the world full of such things. If we look for sunshine and gladness and friendship we will find the greatest treasures of life on every hand. This is a mighty bad world for the bad man and a mighty good world for the good man."

LESSON-SERMON HAS "LIFE" FOR SUBJECT

"Life" was the subject of the lesson-sermon yesterday in all branches of the Mother Church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, the golden text presented the words of Jesus from John v, 24: "Verily, verily, I say unto you, he that heareth my word and believeth on Him that sent me hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation; but is passed from death unto life."

One of the Bible selections in the lesson-sermon related the following healing by the Master: "Now when He came nigh to the gate of the city, behold, there was a dead man carried out, the only son of his mother, and she was a widow . . . And when the Lord saw her He had compassion on her and said under her, Weep not. And He came and touched the bier, and they that bare him stood still. And He said, Young man, I say unto thee, arise. And he that was dead sat up and began to speak. And He delivered him to his mother."

A correlative passage from "Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, stated: "A demonstration of the facts of Soul in Jesus' way resolves the dark visions of material sense into harmony and immortality. Man's privilege at this supreme moment is to prove the words of our Master: 'If a man keep my saying he shall never see death.'"

Marriage Pact Fails to Hold

Andrew Decsman and his wife, Mrs. Anna Decsman, had an agreement, Decsman testified at his divorce trial in Superior Judge Sproul's court.

When they were married, according to the husband, defendant in the case, they agreed that the one that obtained a job first would support the other, who would stay home.

The court held, however, that such an agreement had no legal standing, and it was ruled that Decsman pay his wife $50 a month alimony until the trial of the case.

Naval Conference Opening on Air at 2:30 a.m.

KHJ Siren Alarm Clock to Rouse Drowsy

> The Times Forum, KHJ, at 10:30 a.m. presents Glenn Hood, the Songbird of the Yosemite. World-wide news at 12:30; 4:20 and 10 p.m.

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

When King George of England convenes the five-power naval conference in London tomorrow at 3 a.m. Pacific standard time, a great audience the world over will listen in. Despite the early hour at which Southern Californians will tune in to hear this epoch-making parley open over KFI and KHJ, the tremendous meaning both in radio accomplishment and the shaping of world affairs should prompt every citizen to become a better one by thus sharing in its opening.

As startling as have been the accomplishments of this age in a mechanical sense a twofold path is being blazed as the world Tuesday morning will lend its ear to this program. Following King George V, will be Premier MacDonald and possibly addresses from the visiting foreign delegates.

WORLD PARTNERS

Radio has thus instituted an open sesame for citizenry throughout the world to dial in, tap the channels of world thought and be a vital factor in their conclusions. In the years to come, many a listener-in will be proud to say that away back in 1930 he dialed the pioneering effort of radio to bring the opening of the five-power parley to his hearthside.

Radio will constitute the perfect international understanding that will cast out fear and this broadcast, the first of its kind, will bring across a common council table the major powers of the world and—if you tune in—their citizenry. Use your dial as a key to the House of Lords tomorrow.

DAY'S DIAL FEATURES

KHJ at 4:30 this afternoon will present its regular "Voices from Filmland" program, featuring Bessie Love and Charles King, singing stars of "The Broadway Melody." Earl Burtnett's orchestra, the Biltmore Trio and the Don Lee Filmland Orchestra, directed by Raymond Paige, will furnish the music and song.

At 5 p.m. the Sunset Ensemble will entertain you with Brahms's "Hungarian Dance No. 5;" Friml's "Amour Coquette;" Mendelssohn's "Song Without Words" and others, while at 8 tonight the Blue Monday Jamboree from KFRC will devote its final hour of a two-hour program to what they term "the uplift of mankind." Frank Watanabe will be there. What they intend to do in the first hour they do not say, but it will be well worth dialing.

As an added incentive to attend the five-power naval parley, KHJ asks that you leave your radio turned on at 900 kilocycles at 2:30 a.m. tomorrow and the shrill shriek of a siren into the KHJ microphone will wake you up to meet King George V and KHJ will entertain you with a half-hour of music until that time. Owing to a change in schedule The Times' world-wide news afternoon broadcast will be given at 4:20 instead of 4:50 p.m. on Mondays only.

ALL-NIGHT PROGRAM

KFI at 7 p.m. will contrast the ethereal beauty of Mendelssohn's incidental music to Shakespeare's "Midsummer Night's Dream" with the massive "Finale" from Tschaikowsky's "Fourth Symphony" in a program over NBS by the Rochester Civic Orchestra. For those who are afraid to go to bed for fear they will miss King George at 3 a.m. Tuesday, KFI promises to be of assistance, as it will stay on the air throughout the night.

KNX will bring its players directed by Georgia Fifield to you at 7:30 tonight in a radio playlet, while at 9 p.m. the KNX Male Quartet and a girls' trio will hold your dial.

KFWB forecasts more excitement for Cecil and Sally at 12 noon.

Cunningham to Take Stand in His Own Defense

Earl Cunningham, former Chief of Police of South Gate, charged with eight counts of theft of public funds and grand theft, probably will take the stand in his own defense today when his trial is resumed in Superior Judge Wood's court.

The charges were preferred against Cunningham in connection with his asserted illegal collection and appropriation of fines assessed for traffic violations in the suburban city.

The case probably will go to the jury about Wednesday.

ROSCOE DISTRICT PARK BONDS STILL UNWANTED

For the second time there have been no bids on municipal improvement district bonds voted for the purpose of a park in the Roscoe district, the Park Commission has been informed by City Clerk Dominguez. It developed that when the bonds were first offered for sale they were held up by threat of a court action by residents who were opposed to the issue. The second time no bids were forthcoming.

Mayor Alters Locks on His Office Doors

An indefinite number of persons, whose principal claim to greatness is that they have been able to unlock the back door of Mayor Porter's office and walk right in and say hello to "J.C." will be reduced to the ranks of just ordinary citizens today.

Mayor Porter has changed the locks on his doors.

He says that he has been thinking the matter over for some time. When he took over an automobile wrecking business in San Francisco some years ago, he said, the first thing he did was to change all the locks, merely as a good business precaution. He feels that the same thing holds true of the Mayor's office.

The keys to the Mayor's door, he says, have been distributed about "promiscuously." Some calculators have estimated them at 200. Hereafter, says Mayor Porter, no one but employees of the office and Building Manager Rodgers will have such keys.

Modern Music Program Set

An evening of "Modern Music," under the leadership of Franklin Allen is promised those who attend the California Art Club forum, Barnsdall Park Art Center, this evening. Mr. Allen is to illuminate his talk with piano music.

The program will start at 8 p.m. Admission is free. The public is invited.

The club's galleries contain an exhibition of selected paintings and sculpture from the "Museum Annual" showing of the members.

MONTANA GROUP ARRIVES TODAY

More Than 1400 Tourists to Come in from Cold State for Vacation Here

Coming from subzero weather and wintry blasts, more than 1400 persons on five Union Pacific trains will arrive here today on the annual midwinter excursion from Montana.

The sections will come in at 10:10, 10:55 and 11:05 a.m. and 1:05 and 2:05 p.m. In the party will be some of the most prominent persons of Montana. Many will remain in Southern California for the full ten weeks' limit of their tickets. Special festivities have been arranged by the Montana State Society. They include dinners, dances, sightseeing tours and other attractions.

Headquarters will be at the Alexandria.

OIL OPERATORS TO FIGHT ALONE

Lessors Shut Out as Parties to Gas Wastage Suit

Trail Judge Upheld on This Point by Higher Court

Case Slated for Resumption on February 3, Next

When hearing of the injunction suit brought by the State against operators of oil wells in the Santa Fe Springs field to stop the wastage of natural gas is resumed on February 3, next, before Superior Judge Hazlett, the defendants will have to fight without their lessors being a party to the action. This is the ruling of the State Supreme Court just handed down, upholding Judge Hazlett's denial of a motion asking that the lessors and mortgagees interested in the field be made a party to the suit.

A writ of prohibition signed by the District Court of Appeals suddenly halted the injunction proceedings against the Santa Fe Springs field operators on October 21, last, after Judge Hazlett had denied the motion of the defendants to include lessors, mortgagees and others interested in the field as party defendants to the suit. Later the matter went to the State Supreme Court. The action for the writ was instituted by a group of the smaller companies named as defendants.

COMPANION ACTION

The suit brought by the State against operators in the Signal Hill field, a companion action to the one against the Santa Fe Springs operators, has been set for trial tomorrow before Judge Hazlett. In all probability it will be continued until after the hearing of the Santa Fe Springs field case is concluded.

In both suits the State seeks to enjoin the operators of oil wells from wasting natural gas at their wells by fixing a gas-oil ratio. This means that only a certain amount of gas is to be permitted to escape with the production of each barrel of oil. As conditions vary in each field, and in fact in each oil level, the gas-oil ratio would vary. As it is now, millions of cubic feet of natural gas are being wasted every day, according to the State.

NEW LAW INVOKED

The injunction suits were instituted in the name of Fred G. Stevenot, director of natural resources, under the new Gas and Oil Conservation Act passed by the last Legislature.

In arguing their motion to include lessors as party defendants to the suit the defendants asserted that any action the court might take against them affected the lessors, mortgagees and all persons interested in the field as much as them. They contended before Judge Hazlett, and also before the State Supreme Court, that if they obey regulations relative to conserving gas they will be subjected to lawsuits brought by their lessors to cancel their leases by not producing oil and gas with due diligence.

COURT'S FINDING

The Supreme Court, however, says:

"We are unable to say that the presence of the lessors in the pending action is necessary to complete determination of the controversy. They are not charged with violation of the law. The lessees have possession of the property and complete control of production operations and when coercive obedience to the State's program of conservation is enjoined upon them by appropriate court action the controversy would seem to be fully determined."

The high court further declared: "There is nothing in the record to convince us the issues tendered and joined in the pending action may not effectually be determined in the absence of the lessors as in their presence and without legal prejudice to them."

The State Supreme Court did not have the question of the constitutionality of the new Gas and Oil Conservation Act before it. It is probable that this will be passed upon by Judge Hazlett when the trial of the Santa Fe Springs field case is resumed.

CONCLUSION OF BOLTON TRIAL NEAR

Arguments Scheduled to Begin and Case May Go to Jury Today

Arguments to the jury are scheduled to get under way today in Superior Judge Wilson's court in the case of John Dewey Bolton, Jr., former dance hall operator charged with first-degree murder in connection with the shooting November 9, 1929, of his wife, Lucille Grace Bolton.

Judge Wilson said yesterday he will submit the case to the jury tonight, providing prosecution and defense counsel are able to complete their arguments before the regular time for adjournment.

Bolton is asserted to have killed his wife while they were in an automobile on the Roosevelt Highway north of Santa Monica. As a motive for the asserted murder, the State charges he planned to collect $10,000 insurance on the life of Mrs. Bolton.

Bolton, who testified in his own defense, declared his wife was slain and he was wounded by bandits who held them up on the highway. It is the contention of the prosecution that Bolton's wound was self-inflicted, in order to divert suspicion.

When court adjourned Friday Dep. Dist.-Attys. Crail and Curran stated they have but two more witnesses to call in rebuttal, after which the arguments to the jury will begin.

Bolton is represented by Attorney Newton J. Kendall.

ZONING CHANGE MADE

Property on both sides of Melrose avenue between Vermont avenue and Madison avenue is changed from B Zone to C Zone in an ordinance passed by the City Council.

REQUESTS FOR FUNDS INCREASE

Additional Appropriations of $2,600,000 Asked for City Improvements

New requests for appropriations aggregating more than $2,600,000 for various projects are before the City Council's special committee on allocations. Some weeks ago the committee made a number of recommendations, which were adopted by the Council, but additional requests have piled up since. The committee will make recommendations on the present file within a few days.

The requests include $20,000 for the opening and widening of Eagle Rock Boulevard from Fair Park avenue to Westdale avenue; $75,000 for the paving and improving of Florence avenue from Van Ness avenue to West Boulevard; $400,000 for a new Cahuenga Pass road and improvement of the Dark Canyon-Hollywood Way road; $80,000 for three additional police stations; $300,000 for the first unit of a permanent jail at the Lincoln Heights station; $50,000 for the opening and widening of Broadway from Ninety-third to One Hundred and Twentieth streets; $498,000 for the improvement of Exposition Boulevard from Main street to Angeles Mesa Drive; $122,700 for a central fire-alarm station at Wilmington; $137,500 for dredging the ditch of the Venice Boulevard storm drain; $107,500 for deepening the channel of Ballona Creek; $3000 for preparing plans for the Van Nuys branch City Hall; $23,540 for improving Topanga Canyon avenue; $750,000 toward the opening and widening of Pico street from Alvarado street to Crenshaw Boulevard, and $42,447 as an additional appropriation toward the Department of Forestry.

Matters to be considered, which carry no specific requests for money include the proposal to acquire space for a sidewalk on the southeast side of Santa Monica Boulevard between Sunset Boulevard and Manzanita street; the acquisition of Trona Field; the proposal to include main boulevard storm drains in the allocations; the matter of asking the Railroad Commission to delay for five years the proposal to construct grade separations where Brand Boulevard and Los Feliz Boulevard intersect the Southern Pacific tracks, and the matter of equipping and maintaining an emergency hospital in the San Pedro branch City Hall.

Hundreds Attend Installation of Jewish Orders

Installation of officers of Los Angeles lodge and of the woman's auxiliary of the Independent Order of B'nai B'rith, following a banquet which several hundred attended, was held last night at the Elks' Temple.

Following the banquet officers of the two lodges were installed publicly. Rabbi Edgar F. Magnin and Richard E. Gutstadt, Grand Secretary, were the principal speakers of the evening. Marco R. Newmark was master of ceremonies and David Blumberg was installing officer.

CLAIM DISAPPROVED

The claim of $213 damages, submitted by William Henry Dennis against the city, has been disapproved by the City Council on recommendation of the City Attorney. Dennis, in his claim, recites that he sustained his injuries when he fell into a crevice in some wooden steps erected at the time of the widening of Glendale Boulevard.

"Yes, it is really remarkable," observed mother at the head of the table. "Clifford seems to eat twice as much chicken when we have visitors."

"Indeed!" exclaimed the lady visitor. "And pray, why is that, Clifford?"

"'Cause that's the only time we have it!"

Poignant War Drama Given on Belasco Stage

"Journey's End" Tells Vital and Vivid Story

Brilliant Assemblage Pays Cast, Author Tribute

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

"And some we loved, the loveliest and the best,
Which from his vintage rolling time hath press't.
Have drunk their cup a round or two before,
And one by one departed silently to rest."

Once in a while there comes a play that is rich in sincerity of the heart. Such a play is rare, or seems so, just now. But, at least, we have with us at the moment "Journey's End," which is not only a stopping place, but a huge golden milestone in the path of the dramatic art.

"Journey's End" came to the Belasco Theater last evening, and with bated breath, and eyes occasionally dimmed, an audience sat through its poignant rhapsody of battle. There was hushed response at the fall of each curtain, but a great and magnificent tribute at the close. For once a public was too deeply moved for the conventional demonstration and only awoke from the spell of what happened on the stage, when the complete three acts of this singular creation written by R. C. Sherriff was over.

"Journey's End" is as different from most war plays as the mind is from the sinew of the body. It is the soul drama of the great conflict. It is the pageant, not of shot and shell, but of fears and tortures that are endured by men's beings when they are at the front. And it adds to this sadder processional the occasional burst of hectic gayety.

WAR'S REALISM, TOO

There are noise and clamor, to be sure. Indeed, the whole rumble and thunder and bang and clatter of war is turned loose in the final scene. There is in every act the undertone of booming distant guns and occasional shriek and explosion of a shell.

However, all these material reverberations dwindle beside the iteration and reiterating of what the characters are feeling either as revealed, or as concealed by the words that they utter. The dull or storming battle sounds become a sort of accompaniment to the moods they feel, the dangers they encounter, the threat of death, and death itself.

Sometimes the men in a dugout, located in the support to the front line trenches, talk of home, sometimes they speak gayly of Paris and pleasure, again their conversation is of subjects distinctly literary, or of nature, and once some mention is even made of archeology. They live and talk much at times as people would about a fireside, such is the human adaptability.

FROM CULTURED VIEW

"Journey's End" is the cultured side of the war. Its principals are a group of British officers. One of them is the drink-ridden commander of the company—a young chap, who has seen and knows too much of what he has seen, to rely on aught save stimulation of the artificial sort. His feverish temper, his introspective musings on life and death, his bitter debauches of drink, are the mainspring of the situations and much of the plot.

Eventually comes an order from the brigade headquarters that necessitates a raid and this leads to the tortured but stirring climax of the play. The captain is forced to send his virtual protector, and the young brother of the girl he loves into the enemy trenches in order to secure a German prisoner. The elder officer is killed, the young one returns.

But it is the end of the journey for all. A big German attack is about to be launched, and when the final curtain falls one knows that it has come and that there is no escape for, perhaps, any member of the valiant troop which had orders to stand at all costs.

There are no villains in this very human picture, except the stalking death of the bullets and flying shell fragments, which ever present their menace. It is even a quiet sector in which the dugout of the military group is located. Green flares are glimpsed through the open doorway, lighting the landscape at night "Romantic—eh?" says the elder officer of the group to a new one who has just come up. "Think of them as romantic anyway. It helps."

He then relates an anecdote of how the flares were once used by the Germans to aid the English in bringing in a wounded man, and tells how just a few minutes afterward they were again blazing death at each other. "It's a silly business, isn't it," replies the young officer.

Yes . . . "Journey's End" is just as casual as that. It is so beautifully casual that it is a dozen times nearer to the human consciousness than any of the more blustering war plays. It is a drama of the mind.

FINE COMPANY

Superb performances in the several leading roles are given by Hugh Williams as the captain, Basil Gill as the elderly lieutenant, Wallace Douglas as Raleigh, Forrester Harvey as Trotter, all of whom received a tremendous tribute of applause at the close. Other roles are exceptionally well done by Wellington Briggs, Walter Hudd, Desmond Roberts and Tom Macaulay. There is unusually fine casting throughout this play, and individual triumphs accruing to nearly every actor at some time. I believe I would hand the palm for the most perfect performance in all respects to Mr. Gill as the lieutenant guardian of the young captain. It can be said of several of these men, and perhaps him particularly, that they literally seem to feel the approach of death.

"NEW YORK NIGHTS" OPENS

Norma Talmadge Achieves Talkie Debut in Gangster Plot at United Artists

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

She appears as the wife of a song writer. There are back-stage glimpses. There is a gangster theme. Domestic troubles engineered by the head of the underworld tribe invade the plot, but eventually true love wins out.

Leading threads these are in Norma Talmadge's first talking picture "New York Nights," which opened Saturday at the United Artists Theater. The production is credited to Lewis Milestone, and the film is based on a stage play, "Tin Pan Alley," adapted by Jules Furthman. Leading roles are played by Gilbert Roland, John Wray, Lilyan Tashman and others.

One thing at least "Tin Pan Alley" establishes and that is that Norma has a very acceptable voice for the audible screen. Her opportunities for striking work are limited, but she makes the most of these.

Especially when she has opportunity for sympathetic work, as in some of the film's later scenes, is she highly effective. And throughout her portrayal she evinces an unquestioned naturalness.

CRIME AND SONG PLOT

The debut of this gifted star cannot, however, be considered altogether auspicious. It is a pity that she did not have a more unusual production to show off her talents. "Du Barry" is listed as her next picture and sounds far more likely, for "New York Nights" is a sort of synthesis of most of the crime and song-and-dance stories made to date. That is its chief fault—at least for a luminary of the brilliance of Miss Talmadge.

Regarded as the conventional sort of picture, it is not uninteresting, and there is genuine suspense developed toward the close when the life of the heroine's husband is threatened by the gangster leader. Some of the scenes afford interesting glimpses of New York, and the rather thrilling finish takes place aboard a train on the Grand Central Railroad.

Staging of individual scenes is also cleverly carried out, and the very beginning of the picture intrigues particularly with its oddness of events. Comedy is infused into any number of episodes to an efficacious degree.

DIVIDED HONORS

But for all that the role is not sufficiently glamorous for the Talmadge tradition and the Talmadge talent. Indeed, the picture could be said to belong almost as much to Roland or to Wray as the villain, because so much of the plot actually revolves around them. Wray is exceptionally good in his role, and gives it a humorous flavor, despite all his villaining. Roland also makes a rather surprisingly favorable impression, and keeps his accent effectively suppressed. Lilyan Tashman and Mary Doran both add materially to the pictorial interest. Roscoe Karns is adequate to a comedy impersonation.

Two short subjects, a comedy, "Don't Believe It," and Robert Bruce's "Mountain Melodies" are on the program. James Gleason and Lucille Webster appear in the former, with John Litel lending more important support. Gleason is screamingly funny in his portrayal.

"Anna Christie" Talking Scenes Shatter Records

Greta Garbo is said to have broken all long-distance talkie records when she made her debut in "Anna Christie," her first talking picture, which has its premiere showing at the Criterion Wednesday.

Her first scene ran almost nine minutes long, using up most of the 1000 feet of film which is the capacity load for camera magazines. Many of the subsequent scenes ran nearly the same length, the average being four minutes with others running to six and eight minutes each because of the demands of dramatic action.

Most talking-picture scenes run only two or three minutes of continuous action and dialogue, and Miss Garbo, in making her entire picture on long takes, established a new mark in the filming of sustained dialogue without "cuts" to break up the reading of lines. Clarence Brown directed.

TITLE SELECTED

"Strictly Business," Radio Pictures' first all-talking western, will be released under the title of "Beau Bandit," it was announced today by William Le Baron, vice-president in charge of R.-K.-O. production. The story, an original by Wallace Smith, features Rod La Rocque in the role of a gentleman bandit.

RHYTHMIC CADENCE IN PLAY

Neuhaus German Theater Presents "Golden Eva" at Windsor Square

BY JACOB COOPER

A good example of suiting the word to the action was demonstrated at the Windsor Square Theater where the Neuhaus New German Theater presented "The Golden Eva." This romantic comedy is laid in the middle ages when suaveness and gallantry could be mixed with comedy without the blemish of sophistication. In this spirit, the play rippled along in rhythmic cadence.

Though the program states it to be in blank verse, the real charm was imparted through the generous amount of rhymed couplets with which it abounds, and which gives it the final touch in naivety while pointedly emphasizing the cleverness of the lines and action which these couplets advance.

Not only, then, was the word suited to the action, but also the action to the word. The eight members of the cast were all in keeping with the spirit of the thing. A fine sense of team work was shown and the interplay of situations was handled with commendable smoothness.

Most of the credit goes to Berthold Sprotte who not only directed this production, but took the finest characterization; that of an impoverished knight who tries to obtain his meals by making love to a superannuated housekeeper. His bluff, rollicking manner was truly Falstaffian—and he gave convincing literalness and varied shade to the measured cadence of his lines.

The polt, briefly, deals with the rich widow of a goldsmith whose hand is sought by an old, poverty-stricken count and also by a young workman in her shop. Naturally, youth and love conquer.

Else Janssen as Frau Eva, and Walter Bonn as the young journeyman, had several scenes together which drew much well-deserved applause from the audience.

Contrast of type gave spice to the performance, and this was helped out by Johanna Hagen as the housekeeper and Otto Kottka as the Count Zeck. Smaller parts were assigned to Costa Mooth, Eva Gordon and Greta Von Rue.

The next play announced by this group for February 14, will be directed by Ullrich Haupt. The play, "Das Makropoulos Geheimis," by Karl Capek is one of those weird things about secret formulas which Capek is so fond of writing.

Noted Actress Offers 'Sun Up'

After an extended engagement in Paris and London, Lucille La Verne, noted character actress, makes her first reappearance in America Sunday night at the Vine-street Theater in her best known dramatic vehicle, "Sun Up." Miss La Verne is bringing to the Vine-street the same cast that supported her in the East and abroad.

William E. Smith is the new lessee and producer at the Vine-street Theater and will present Miss La Verne in a limited engagement.

CRITERION ARRANGES PREMIERE

"Sombras de Gloria" to Have First Showing at Late Performance

With world premiere and first performances the usual movie fare in Los Angeles, interest is attached to the announcement that "Blaze o' Glory," under the title of "Sombras de Gloria," will be given a special performance at the Criterion Theater on Saturday night at 11:30 p.m.

For many months producers have been working on foreign versions of current pictures, but none of these foreign-language pictures have been available for public exhibition either in Los Angeles or any other city of the United States, it is said.

In making "Sombras de Gloria," Sono-Art has chosen for the cast a player from each Spanish-speaking country. They have gone even farther in their efforts with this picture in rehearsing the players for five weeks under the direction of Jose Bohr, to eliminate the various accents and dialects.

Jose Bohr, himself, represents Argentina. Mono Rico, who has played with various producing companies in American pictures, represents Mexico. Ricardo Cayol is from Spain, Saa Silva from Chile, Frederico Godoy from Peru and Carlos Molina from Colombia. Even Italy is represented by Francisco Maran. The Criterion premiere is being sponsored by the Spanish-speaking people of Los Angeles and Southern California.

CHEVALIER VEHICLE IS ANNOUNCED

"Love Parade" Comes to Paramount Theater Screen Starting Thursday

The star of the Paris musical comedy stage, Maurice Chevalier, makes his second appearance on the audible screen in "The Love Parade." This is a musical romance written especially for Chevalier, and has its local premiere at the Paramount Theater Thursday. In "The Love Parade," Chevalier sings, dances and makes love in his own typical way. Ernst Lubitsch directed.

Jeanette MacDonald, former musical comedy favorite, is seen in support of the star. She is said to possess a clear soprano voice and personal charm. Others in the cast include Lupino Lane, Lillian Roth, Lionel Belmore and Eugene Pallette.

The songs featured in the picture and sung by Chevalier and Miss MacDonald are "My Love Parade," "Anything to Please the Queen," "Nobody's Using It Now;" "My Dream Lover" and "Paris Stay the Same."

'HOLLYWOOD REVUE' NEXT AT LOEW'S

M.-G.-M. Spectacle Will Have First Popular Run Starting Thursday

"The Hollywood Revue" will have its first local downtown showing at Loew's State Theater starting Thursday. The picture is to be offered in its original form, exactly as it has shown at a few long-run houses over the country.

Over twenty-five stars participate in the show, backed up by a chorus of 200 highly trained performers. Conrad Nagel and Jack Benny are joint masters of ceremonies. John Gilbert, Norma Shearer, William Haines, Joan Crawford, Buster Keaton, Bessie Love, Charles King, Marie Dressler and many others have specialty roles.

Colorful settings, catchy musical hits and the results of the efforts of the country's most noted stage showmen are attractive features. Lenore Ulric in "South Sea Rose" is the current attraction.

Club Reports Favorably on Novarro Film

Los Angeles women, it is said, are aligning themselves in praise of Ramon Novarro's first all-talking picture, "Devil May Care," which comes to the Carthay Circle Theater with a gala premiere on the 29th inst.

The General Federation of Women's Clubs, motion-picture division, makes the following report:

"Novarro is the captivating lover. One carries the memory of his voice and his six songs away from the theater only to be haunted by them for days. 'Devil May Care' has real charm, thrilling moments, sustaining interest. It is good entertainment for the whole family."

To Los Angeles Picture Patrons!

WE wonder if you realize that two of the most superb motion pictures that have been offered to the picture public since the inception of the cinema, are at present on the screens of Warner Brothers Los Angeles Theatres.

At WARNER BROTHERS DOWNTOWN THEATRE we offer the incredibly extravagant "SHOW OF SHOWS" with its 77 stars, 1000 chorus beauties, 18 song hits by 12 different composers, 25 mammoth stage settings all in gorgeous scintillant color. Here is the very apex of screen entertainment. There has been nothing like it before and there will never again be anything like it,

At WARNER BROTHERS THEATRE in Hollywood, MARILYN MILLER, up to now the stage's most prized possession is making her screen debut in "SALLY" the famous Ziegfeld musical comedy. All in natural color with the most pretentious and magnificent scenic settings ever constructed, a dozen song hits, stunning show girls, "Sally" is more lavish than Broadway's most brilliant stage spectacle.

It is with great pride that Warner Brothers offer to you these two all color, singing, dancing, and talking Vitaphone productions. Both are now playing in New York City at $2.50 per seat. In Los Angeles and Hollywood the regular Warner Brothers Theatres popular prices prevail. They are the last word in modern screen achievement. See and hear them both while there is yet time,

CHAMBER AGAIN INDORSES COURT

Adherence to Tribunal at The Hague Favored

Telegrams Will be Sent to Congressmen

Action Taken on Harbor Pilotage Rates

Directors of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce have reaffirmed their indorsement of the accession of the United States to the World Court. Telegrams to that effect will be placed in the hands of California representatives in Washington today.

The chamber directors also took action on pilotage charges at Los Angeles Harbor, and on a proposed rezoning change in the city, Austin said. In connection with a study of the pilotage charges made by the chamber's harbor and foreign commerce committee, the directors expressed the belief that, while considerable merit is attached to the gross tonnage method of assessing pilotage fees, as against the present net tonnage principle, it is a question as to whether the city's Board of Harbor Commissioners should inaugurate the gross tonnage method until it becomes more generally adopted.

In a letter now in the hands of the City Council, the chamber has gone on record as opposing a petition for rezoning from B to D the district bounded on the north by Washington street, on the south by East Adams, on the west by San Pedro street, and on the east by Griffith avenue. The necessity of rezoning does not justify the disturbance of this area, which is now largely devoted to residential purposes for colored population, the chamber directors state in their letter to the Council.

TROUBLE ENOUGH CRIES JUDGE

Forgetful Motorist Was Seeking Nurse for His Twenty-second Baby

"I was in a hurry to get a nurse for my 3-months-old baby, Your Honor, and I forgot to signal," F. P. Day, laborer of 1181 East Forty-seventh street, explained to Traffic Judge Valentine as the reason for his failure to signal before turning out from the curb into traffic.

"Your first baby, I suppose?" said the judge.

"No, sir, my twenty-second," Day declared proudly. "I have the biggest family in Los Angeles."

"You have enough troubles without adding to them," Judge Valentine said. "$5, suspended."

Day said he has been married twice, thirteen of the children being by his first wife and nine by his present wife.

FUND VOTED FOR FLASHERS

The sum of $250 has been appropriated by the City Council for installation of warning flashers at the intersection of Second street and Serrano avenue.

COUNTY FIRE CHIEF WANTS TO TAP DAMS

Turner Raises Legal Point in Seeking Diversion of Flood-Control Water

An attempt to obtain the right to divert water from flood-control dams to fight fires will be made by the county fire warden, Spence Turner, following a conference last week in the County Counsel's office, it was learned Saturday.

E. C. Eaton, flood-control engineer, told the fire warden department that he has no authority to divert the water, as it is the property of whatever water district has rights to the stream in question. Eaton admitted, however, that water used to fight fires might be returned many fold through conservation of the forest cover, which is known to augment water supply by increasing percolation.

It was decided to ask the State division of water rights for permission to use flood-control lake water in cases of emergency. Many times fires break out near reservoirs, from which water could be pumped effectively if water mains were laid, it was stated.

AIR LINE REPORTS GAIN

Operating its trimotored air transports on a one-round-trip-daily schedule between Los Angeles and San Diego, Pickwick Airways has increased its passenger-ship average nearly 15 per cent over the average recorded prior to December 1, 1929, when the company maintained a three-round-trip-daily schedule, it was stated by Thomas E. Morgan, general manager, yesterday.

War Veterans' Ball to Swell Reunion Funds

Plans are being formulated for the entertainment of thousands of veterans who will visit Los Angeles for the national convention of the Second Division, A.E.F., to be held June 5, 6 and 7, next. The division association will give a military ball at El Patio Ballroom on Wednesday night to raise funds toward the expenses of the convention.

The outstanding features of the evening will be a competitive drill of four American Legion drum and bugle corps, presentation of the Interallied and Verdun medals to twenty-six Los Angeles men, introduction of motion-picture actors and other notables, including Mayor Porter, Gen. Logan Feland, Gen. Harcourt Hervey and Sergt. Louis Van Iersel, a most decorated man in the A.E.F.

CHRISTMAS DAY SPREE LEADS TO JAIL CELL

Robert P. Tracy, former policeman, is serving a fifty-day jail sentence imposed by Municipal Judge Bogue because he got drunk on Christmas Day. Police Officers J. L. Kempf and E. W. Christensen, called as witnesses by Deputy City Prosecutor Jack, declared they responded to a call from 223 South Flower street, where Tracy resides, that there was a drunk man in the hotel there and found Tracy arguing with the manager. He assaulted them as soon as they entered the door, they said, and was subdued and taken to jail only after a battle in which Christensen was badly injured.

MAP GETS APPROVAL

The City Council has approved the assessment district map for the laying out, opening and extending of Hickory street from One Hundred and Second to One Hundred and Third street.

It is estimated that nearly 400,000 books of the Prussian State Library are out on loan at all times.

WOMAN OF WAR ORDER DIES HERE

Mrs. Abbie Adams, Former Head of W.R.C., Expires After Long Illness

Mrs. Abbie Asenath Adams, 89 years of age, former national president of the Woman's Relief Corps and widow of Gen. Clarendon E. Adams, once national commander of the Grand Army of the Republic, died yesterday at her home, 2221 Virginia Road. She had been a semi-invalid for some years but her malady became acute less than a week ago.

Mrs. Adams served as national head of the women's organization in 1906 and took an active interest in its affairs throughout her life. She was born in Norway, and the family later moved to Monticello, Wis., where she obtained her education and, at the age of 14 years, began a career as school-teacher.

Shortly after the close of the Civil War she was married to Gen. Adams and they came to Los Angeles in 1902 to make their home. Her husband, for many years, was a banker and cattleman until advancing age compelled his retirement. He died about five years ago.

Mrs. Adams leaves two daughters, Mrs. Ezma I. Sell and Miss Ila L. Adams, and one son, C. Edwin Adams, all of Los Angeles.

Funeral services will be conducted at Patriotic Hall, 1816 South Figueroa street, at 9 a.m. Tuesday. Burial will take place at Santa Barbara in the afternoon.

Naval Parley Will be Topic for City Club

"Disarmament Conference, Fact or Fiction?" is the subject of an address to be given by James Mussatti, editor of the Tax Digest, at the open forum of the City Club this evening, following a dinner at 6 o'clock. The meeting is being sponsored by the junior division of the club.

A joint meeting of the county and municipal government and the State affairs sections of the club will be conducted at noon tomorrow when Guy W. Finney will speak on "Exploitation—and How."

Tomorrow evening members of the club will meet with members of the Los Angeles City Planning Association. The subject "Zoning" will be discussed. Speakers will include Gordon Whitnall and George Dunlap.

Next Wednesday at noon Dr. John Wesley Hill, author and lecturer, will speak on "If Lincoln Were Here." Friday at noon there will be a community sing, to be led by Gage Christopher, and a program by Madelin Perry and Calvin Hendricks, vocalists.

OIL MAN ELECTED HEAD OF MAGICIANS

Rollin Hamblin of the Richfield Oil Company was elected president of Hollywood Mystic No. 27, a society of magicians, at its annual meeting in Hollywood Plaza Hotel. Richard Wilson and George Pustie were chosen first and second vice-presidents, and Harold McFadden was re-elected secretary and treasurer. The retiring officers are Adam Hull Shirk, who now becomes past president; A. S. L. Hewes and Raymond Whitten. Plans for a public presentation of the latest magical effects are under way. This affair possibly will be held at the Plaza.

PRISON PAROLE PLEDGES KEPT

Less Than 4 Per Cent Fail to Make Good

City and County Saved $100,000 Yearly

Annual Report Made by Board Secretary

Less than 4 per cent of the prisoners paroled from the city and county jails during the last year failed to make good and abide by the regulations of behavior laid down for them, according to the annual report of Robert T. Brain, assistant secretary to the parole board, just made public by Dist.-Atty. Fitts.

The report shows that only eighteen paroles were revoked during the year ending December 31, 1929, out of a total of 484 issued. One thousand two hundred and five applications were denied.

Although numerous slight infractions of paroles were reported, the parole was not revoked in every instance. Reprimands and other light punishments in most cases proved sufficient to direct the offender back to his proper status, the report states.

Of the crimes charged against parolees, offenses of intoxication and disorderly conduct headed the list, numbering 131. Of this number fifteen were charged with drunkenness, 113 with vagrancy and twenty-one with disturbing the peace. Ninety-one offenders are listed as violators of the Wright Act.

COSTS REDUCED

The report also points out a saving of more than $100,000 yearly to the city and county through the parole system, which relieves the public of the burden of supporting prisoners granted paroles.

According to Secretary Brain's figures, the mean average of 175 prisoners on parole monthly saves the county approximately $61,365 yearly, and the city, with a mean average of 135 prisoners on parole monthly, is saved approximately $41,181.61.

The report said $5648 was collected in fines and turned into the County Treasury as a condition of parole. Of this sum $5090 was collected from Wright Act violators.

FEW WOMEN

Another point emphasized in the report is the small number of women prisoners encountered, only twenty-four being paroled during the last year. Only one of these paroles was revoked.

In the opinion of Mr. Brain much credit is due the prison-camp system inaugurated by Sheriff Traeger for the rehabilitation of first offenders.

Members of the parole board are Sheriff Traeger, president; Police Chief Steckel, vice-president, and Dist.-Atty. Fitts, secretary.

OIL GROUP ORGANIZER SUCCUMBS

Victor A. Machris Dies After Brief Spell of Illness Following Stroke

Victor A. Machris, oil operator, died at 1:15 a.m. yesterday in the California Hospital, following a week's illness resulting from a paralytic stroke. He was 46 years of age. Funeral services will be conducted at 9 a.m. tomorrow at his residence, 1822 West Forty-ninth street.

VICTOR A. MACHRIS

Mr. Machris was born in Los Angeles. At one time he was engaged in the garage business, and held patents on various mechanical devices. He was known in automobile racing circles also. Later he began the manufacture of wooden boxes for the packing of California fruits and nuts.

About fifteen years ago he joined forces with his two brothers, George L. and Alfred Machris, in the organization of the Wilshire Oil Company, of which he was vice-president at the time of his death. The trio developed subsidiaries which included the Commodore Petroleum Company, Ambassador Petroleum Company, Fellows Gasoline Company, Wilshire Annex Oil Company.

Mr. Machris carried life insurance policies totaling $500,000. He was a member of the California Yacht Club, Surf and Sand Club and Los Angeles, Hollywood and Santa Monica athletic clubs. Besides his brothers, he leaves his widow, two daughters and a stepson.

DIRECTOR OF CENSUS WILL TALK

Steuart to be Guest of Chamber of Commerce at Biltmore Luncheon

W. M. Steuart, director of the United States Census, will be the guest of honor at a luncheon to be given by the Chamber of Commerce at the Biltmore a week from today. Announcement of the meeting was made yesterday by Secretary-Manager A. G. Arnoll of the chamber, who said that it will be of considerable importance to business and industry.

At the same luncheon, guests will also hear a talk by Robert M. Davis, statistical editor of the McGraw-Hill Publishing Company of New York, who is chairman of the special committee on census information. He will discuss both the coming census on population as well as the tabulation on manufacturing and distribution.

Reservations for the luncheon will be opened at the chamber today, Mr. Arnoll said.

RULES FOR USE OF GA WITHOUT DANGER G

Warning against carbon monoxide poisoning was issued by C. C. Brown, State gas administrator, yesterday.

"During the cold and rainy weather," said Administrator Brown, "it is very essential that proper ventilation be maintained in the home where heating appliances of any kind are used. At least one window should be kept partly open at all times in rooms where gas appliances are burning.

"The following precautions should be rigidly observed in order that the cases of monoxide asphyxiation may be reduced to the minimum:

"Be sure that all gas appliances used are properly adjusted.

"Be sure that no leaks exist in piping or hose connections to gas appliances.

"Do not use gas appliances in bedrooms or bathrooms.

"In no case leave gas appliances burning in rooms where anyone is sleeping.

"In every case where gas appliances are used be sure that at least one window is partly open during the entire time the gas appliance is being used."

The administrator said that the use of gas fo as beneficial as any other that the are rigidly

CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES

Every Tuesday and Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

CHEESE PUDDING

One and one-half cupfuls of grated cheese, one cupful of cracker or bread crumbs, two cupfuls of rich milk, three eggs, one-half teaspoonful of salt, one-half teaspoonful of mustard, a few grains of cayenne pepper, one-eighth of a teaspoonful of soda, two tablespoonfuls of melted butter, soak the crumbs in the milk for five minutes, add the well-beaten eggs, seasoning, butter and cheese and the soda, mix all together, place in a baking dish and bake in a moderate oven until firm.

FIG TAPIOCA

One cupful of granulated tapioca, one-half a cupful of cold water, two cupfuls of boiling water, one-half teaspoonful of salt, one-half a cupful of syrup, three-fourths of a cupful of chopped figs, one-half a cupful of chopped nuts, mix the tapioca with the salt and cold water, then add the boiling water, and cook directly over the fire until the tapioca is clear and transparent, place in a double boiler, add the syrup and figs, and cook for thirty minutes, remove from the fire, add the nuts and allow to chill.

SCALLOPED OYSTERS

One and one-half cupfuls of bread crumbs, one-half a cupful of cooked tomatoes, four tablespoonfuls of butter, twenty-four oysters, one cupful of corn, a seasoning of salt and pepper, place one-third of the crumbs in the bottom of a well-buttered baking dish, place on this a layer of the oysters, sprinkle with salt and paprika, and dot with bits of butter, than add a layer of the corn and tomatoes, continue this method until all has been used, cover with a layer of buttered crumbs, place in a moderate oven and bake until brown.

FRANKFURTER PATE

Make a rich biscuit dough and roll out about one-fourth of an inch thick, take frankfurters and remove the skin. Place one in the center of a piece of pastry, wet the edges, fold over and pinch together, place these in a baking pan, and bake in a hot oven until well browned, take sauerkraut, drain, cover with cold water, and allow to heat for ten minutes. Drain well, place on a dish, and over the top put the frankfurter pate, garnish around the edges with olives and pickled beets.

An interesting Franco-American wedding which took place in Paris the 16th inst. was that of Miss Marion Thompson, daughter of Mrs. Henry L. Rosenfeld of the Avenue Galliera, Paris, and Vicomte Gilles de Pardieu, son of the Vicomte and Vicomtesse de Pardieu (nee Guerin,) of the Avenue Elisee-Reclus, Paris, and the Chateau de la Courtiniere in Normandy.

The engagement was announced at a family party in the Rosenfeld home. The bride was born in France and, except for three years at the Shipley School in Bryn Mawr, received all of her schooling abroad. Her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Choate Kendall of Santa Barbara, were long identified with the American colony in Paris and Dinard, and since the close of the war, when they returned to California to live, they have been frequent visitors in France. After the wedding the Viscomte and his bride plan to go to their chateau de la Courtiniere for the honeymoon and probably will stay on at the Normandy property for several years.

Business Deal of Pasadenan Disrupts Home

Peter H. Mate, Pasadena landscape gardener, became so worried over his debts that he left his wife, 4-year-old child, city, State and country and went back to Holland, where his name is Peter Hoogenbosch, Mrs. Emma Mate testified before Superior Judge Bishop in asking the court to give her a divorce on the grounds of desertion.

Mrs. Mate told the court she knows her husband is in the land of windmills because she received a postcard from him. The card was introduced into the evidence.

"We had a happy little home in Pasadena," Mrs. Mate testified.

"Our trouble began when Mr. Mate took a contract to perform some landscape gardening for a Pasadena man for $1659. He had to use his own money to complete the job. When the work was completed the man refused to reimburse him. The laborers and material men threatened him with prosecution. My husband became badly worried. One day he disappeared. It was months later I received the postcard from him informing me he was in Holland."

Judge Bishop granted her a decree and the custody of the child.

PROJECT'S LEVY MAP SUBMITTED

Second-Street Widening Assessment Plan Before Council Committee

The City Engineer has filed with the City Council the assessment district map for the opening, widening and laying out of Second street between Figueroa street and Glendale Boulevard. It has been referred to the Public Works Committee for consideration.

The project is a part of the general plan for rearranging and reconstructing the intersection of Second street, First street, Glendale Boulevard and Beverly Boulevard and the converging streets. When completed it will afford additional means of exit from the downtown area to the north and west.

Plans include a ramp or viaduct which will carry the First street-Beverly Boulevard traffic across Glendale Boulevard. The Pacific Electric cars, running to Hollywood and to Glendale, increase the traffic congestion. Under the proposed plan much of the automobile traffic will be carried over the street cars.

The plan calls for a seventy-foot thoroughfare much of the way between Figueroa street and Glendale Boulevard. Additional work is to be done on First street as well, eliminating some of the grade and widening the street from Glendale Boulevard to Fremont street. Several schemes are afoot for rectifying the grade of First street through the hill between Fremont street and Broadway, the most ambitious being the leveling of the entire hill to the elevation of the surrounding business district.

Army Officers to Open Mess

Organization of an army officers' mess will be effected tomorrow at noon at 540 South Broadway to establish a weekly rendezvous for all United States Army officers in this vicinity.

Lieut.-Col. S. R. McReynolds of the Coast Artillery will act as chairman. Guests of honor will be Col. G. H. Hamilton, executive officer of the First Reserve District, and Lieut.-Col. Corbley, retiring unit instructor of the Three Hundred and Sixty-fourth Infantry. There will be a short entertainment feature.

All officers of the various branches of the service are eligible to attend.

Dave Roth, memory expert, will head the program at the regular meeting of the Electric Club in the Biltmore this noon. Mr. Roth, speaking on "I Remember Your Face," will discuss memory training through the association of ideas. The entertainment will be furnished by Phil La Tosca, "The Talkative Juggler." Art Elliott of the Department of Water and Power will preside.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

by THORNTON W. BURGESS

CHATTERER HAS A DREAM

Reality doth sometimes seem
No more, the truth than doth a dream.
—Chatterer the Red Squirrel.

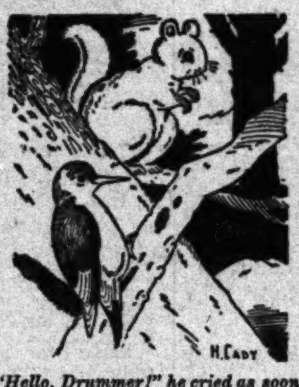
Chatterer the Red Squirrel had had a dream. So very real was that dream that when Chatterer awoke at the break of day he could hardly believe that he was there in his snug bed in the hollow tree in the Green Forest. He actually rubbed his eyes and looked around to see if he were alone.

"Timmy ought to be here," muttered Chatterer, who was not yet fully awake. "I don't see where he is. He was here only a minute ago."

And the Chatterer became fully awake and realized that he was at home in his hollow tree, where, of course, Timmy would not be. He realized that he must have been dreaming. He sighed. "I wish it had all been true instead of a dream," said he. "I can see Cousin Timmy bringing me corn now. He had found a way of getting into Farmer Brown's corncrib and he was not only getting all he wanted for himself, but he was getting some for me. My, how Timmy can jump! I would give anything in the Great World if I could jump like that. What couldn't I do! Timmy is lucky. Yes, sir, Timmy is lucky."

Now, Timmy is, as you know, the Flying Squirrel. Just before he had gone to bed the night before, Chatterer had received a visit from his cousin Timmy. Probably it was that visit that had made Chatterer dream of Timmy. Now that he was wide awake, Chatterer couldn't forget that dream. As usual, he went up to Farmer Brown's dooryard just for a look around. He knew he couldn't get into that corncrib, but he just couldn't keep away. He even climbed up in the tree near the corncrib—the one from which the broken limb had been cut. As he looked down on the roof of the corncrib the memory of his dream suddenly popped into his head once more.

"If I could jump like Timmy," thought Chatterer, "it would be no trick at all for me to get out of that corncrib." And right then an idea popped into Chatterer's head. He actually became excited over it. "Why didn't I think of it before!" he exclaimed. "I'll just get Timmy to go in that corncrib and drop some corn out to me. He likes corn, so we will both have all we want. That's what Timmy was doing in that dream and I don't see any reason why he cannot really do it. I must see him. I must see him at once."



H. CADY

"Hello, Drummer!" he cried as soon as he was near enough

Chatterer started back for the Green Forest to look for Timmy. It wasn't until he reached the Green Forest that he remembered that he didn't know just where Timmy lived. He never had been much interested in his cousin Timmy. In fact, he very seldom saw Timmy. You see, Timmy sleeps through the day, while Chatterer sleeps through the night. So it is seldom they meet.

Chatterer stopped and scratched his head thoughtfully. "Of course," said he to himself, "Timmy is sleeping in a hollow tree. There are a lot of hollow trees in the Green Forest. I have found one or two of Timmy's old homes, but just where he is living at present I don't know. I wonder who would know. I suppose he's probably using some old home of Drummer the Woodpecker. I wonder if Drummer would know. Anyway, it won't do any harm to ask."

Not far away the rat-a-tat-tat of Drummer the Woodpecker told Chatterer just where Drummer was. He hurried over there. Drummer was at work on a dead limb high up in a tree. Chatterer scrambled up the tree. "Hello, Drummer!" he cried as soon as he was near enough. "Do you know where Timmy the Flying Squirrel lives?"

Drummer stopped drumming long enough to look sharply at Chatterer, and replied somewhat crossly, "No, I don't. I don't want to know. If I did know, I wouldn't tell you. It's his business and not yours or mine." With this, Drummer flew over to another tree.

MODES OF THE MOMENT

by Honore Booth

FASHION EXPERT OF HARPER'S BAZAAR

NEW YORK, Jan. 19. (Exclusive) Pyjamas ahoy! For sunning under a broiling sky; for the breezy beach after a dip in a briskly cool sea; for lunch at the bath and tennis club's chic little cafeteria; for tennis; for yachting. And what few daytime doings are not practicable in pyjamas probably will be in their little brothers, shorts.

The point is that for many bright hours you may go skirtless. Then as the moon comes up over the palms, you will wear yards and yards of delightfully feminine frills billowing around your ankles. Never has the mode given expressions to wider variations.

Pyjama Range Wide

Little jersey sailor suits are often navy blue and so tailored and simple. They are excellent for boats. A tuck-in blouse insures your not catching on anything. There are color variations, such as white shirts and clever combinations of bathing suits to be worn "under," so you may skin out of your pyjamas and straight overboard without pause.

For the beach, the same sorts of suits are developed in colors and white and made in flat crepes and prints. This is essentially a "young" fashion, sophisticated only in its simplicity. A beret is a nice touch worn with it.

Pyjama Pants Also Wide

For the slightly more matronly woman, pyjamas are beautifully and sophisticatedly cut. A very flaring pyjama leg, either plaited from somewhere about the knee, or even circular is most flattering.

The deep, fitted yoke from which the trousers hang is apt to be partially concealed by a coat, often three-quarter length to form a real protection. Beaches are not always hot, though it is easy to forget that when you are buying a southern wardrobe. The terry cloth lining for the beach coat is warm, quite light and appropriate looking.

Colors Are Gay

Pastel shades are asserting themselves. Mary Nowitzsky is doing much with pale rose, but in the meantime she makes exciting combinations of flaming colors. The daring note is bound to be popular against an azure sea. White looks unusually well on the beach, especially with a trimming of color. And the natural color shantungs are practical and pretty.

Jersey and Others

Jersey is more important for the beach than it has ever been before. It is marvelously practical and looks nautical as well. Chantel is making some pyjamas of taffeta, decorative, and in line with the trend to old formal fabrics. Flat crepe lends itself to clever cutting and is splendid for the cocktail hour and lunch.

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK McCOY

Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

THE EYELIDS

The skin of the upper eyelid is thinner than the skin of the rest of the face, and for this reason is frequently affected by inflammation. In young children the skin may be so delicate as to seem almost transparent. The eyelids present two surfaces open to attacks of disease, the outside surface and the inner surface, which is against the eyeball.

Possibly the most familiar affection troubling the eyelids is sties which are in reality small boils. The most painful period of the sty is during the swelling process while the hard lump is raising. This causes the rest of the eyelid to be sore, irritated and sometimes swollen. By applying warm poultices or packs to the eye the sty is encouraged to break open so that the pus may drain out more readily. As soon as the pus has discharged, the condition subsides quickly as a rule. If you are frequently troubled with sties you probably have a constitutional weakness as well, and I suggest that you send for my special article on this subject.

Granulated eyelids or trachoma is an inflammation of the delicate membrane lining the interior of the eyelid next to the eyeball. The patient will first complain of a grating feeling in the eye as of sand. Then the whole lid may become very red and the inner lining inflamed and painful. A secretion of mucus takes place which has a tendency to dry along the edges of the lid, forming white scales or crusts. When the patient awakens, the eyes will sometimes be glued together. The lids as well as the eyes are angry and swollen. A cool compress placed lightly over the eye will give a great deal of relief. The catarrhal form is very mild and occurs during a cold. In the granulated form there are small elevations on the inside of the eyelids. I have also a special article on inflammation of the eyes, which deals with these subjects, and I will be glad to mail it to you if you desire.

A swelling of the eyelids may follow stings from bees, hornets or wasps, and can be relieved by the application of cold cloths.

Burns may cause the eyelids to grow together or to grow to the eyeball. Usually, surgical methods are required when this occurs. Cysts on the eyelids must usually be removed by a surgeon, but cold compresses applied over the eyelids for several hours each day or at night will tend to prevent their recurrence. It is also advisable to overcome any tendency toward systemic acidosis which frequently is present in these cases.

Mild herpes or fever sores may attack the lids as the result of wind, sunburn or other irritations. A red spot occurs, and burns and resembles a blister. At first the fluid is watery and later may turn into pus. A scab follows, covering the sore which heals underneath in a week or so, and the scab falls off, leaving a red spot, usually without complications.

Driver Let Off Because of Rain

Making a left turn without signaling on a rainy night is not a serious violation of the traffic code, provided there are no other automobiles near, Municipal Judge Bush said in suspending a $2 fine for James H. O'Day, 4808 Eighth avenue.

Police Officer C. D. Wood gave O'Day a traffic tag for making the turn without signaling. In court, O'Day explained there were no machines near him and he did not signal on account of the rain.

CLUB WOMAN TO TALK

Mrs. Bernice Johnson, past president of the Wednesday Morning Club, will address the Women's Traffic Club Wednesday at 7 p.m. in the clubrooms at the Alexandria. She will speak on "Current Events."

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

That Apron!

A towel near the sink proves a great saving on aprons and house dresses, for the housewife is continually washing her hands and if there is no towel handy it is a great temptation to use one's apron.

Keeping Fresh Fish

If it is necessary to keep a fish for a day or two before using, cover it lightly with salt and wrap in a cloth wrung out of vinegar. Place directly on the ice and when about to be used rinse under cold water.

Brighten the Kettles Where You Are

When stewing tomatoes, rhubarb, apricots or onions, look around the kitchen for the aluminum saucepan that needs brightening and use it to cook any one of these articles. All work and effort on your part toward a shiny kettle will be over.

Surprises All Around

A nice luncheon that can be prepared from what is in the house consists of tuna fish au gratin, baked potatoes, hot muffins, home-made preserves, tea or chocolate. The unexpected guest is bound to enjoy this, particularly because it seems absolutely impromptu.

PAVING MATERIALS EXPORTS INCREASE

Paving material from California is being "fairly poured" into the far countries of the world—into Europe, Indo-China, Australia and even remote insular places—to provide pavements for the cars which the motor-car industry is exporting to those distant lands, said John R. Keane, president of the Western Asphalt Association, in his annual association message. The association, in its annual convention just ended, adopted resolutions warning property owners against "new-fangled paving ideas."

YOUR BABY and MINE

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope, forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

CUT DOWN ON FATS—WATCH BLACKHEADS DISAPPEAR

Because we have so long looked upon blackheads as indicative of dirt and an inadequate cleansing of the skin itself, it is difficult to realize in most cases that blackheads on the faces of babies and children are due to something internally awry, and that "something" is very frequently an excess of fat in the diet.

Now nursing babies can get blackheads in only one way, which is from too rich a breast milk, so that the end of blackheads comes not by any change of soap or a different method of bathing, but by the mother's taking more exercise, eating less rich foods, and nursing the baby at more infrequent intervals.

Another method of dealing with the too-rich breast milk problem—equally as effective for the baby who is gaining too much weekly and has indigestion or colic as for the baby who has blackheads—is to nurse only a short time on each breast, rather than a full nursing period on one. The last milk drawn from the breast is the richest.

CHECK DIET CAREFULLY

The bottle baby whose skin is marred by blackheads may be taking a formula that is far too rich. Some cows' milks are very rich in fats and while the baby may gain very well on them, too rich a milk causes loss of appetite, and other indications of too much fat.

When the baby is receiving additional foods, the common fats appearing in the diet are cod-liver oil, butter and bacon. It is all very well for baby to have cod-liver oil daily, but he shouldn't have too much, nor should he have liberal quantities of bacon, butter and cream or he is all too apt to have not only blackheads but eczema as well.

Mrs. G. L. has an unusual case in that her baby is so very, very young—only 7 weeks old, and has developed blackheads on cheeks, chin and lobes of ears. She is using Castile soap and is at a loss to understand the condition of how to alter it.

Those mothers whose children have been troubled with this same condition have found that as soon as the excess fat is removed from the diet the skin condition clears up immediately without external aids, or a different method in the care of the skin—just the elimination of the offending fat element and the blackheads disappear.

I would suggest four-hour nursing periods, Mrs. G. L. A teaspoonful or more of water before each nursing and the other suggestions mentioned above should end this condition speedily.

ROYALTY interests in an oil well being drilled in a prospective new oil field near Los Angeles.

A royalty interest is the ABSOLUTE OWNERSHIP of a portion of the oil itself—your investor's position is DEFINITELY FIXED.

This is admittedly a speculation, but has the appeal of a possible fortune for a small risk.

Come talk it over. We'll make you the most liberal offer you've ever known.

JOS. L. THERIEN.

Ancient China Had "Talkies"

More than 100 years before the Christian era a form of talking picture with motion originated in China and has continued in popularity to the present day. This is the ancient Chinese shadow play, which gave the illusion of talking pictures by having readers to produce voice effects. The scenarios of the shadow plays are still derived from the literary drama of the legitimate stage, but they have more appeal to the masses as the words are recited in the current vernacular rather than in the highly classic diction of the stage.

BERMAN SLATED FOR SHOW-DOWN

Julian Figure Must Testify or Take Consequences

Contempt Penalty Prospect if He Persists in Refusal

Arraignment in Mail Misuse Case Also Set for Today

JACOB BERMAN

At 10 a.m. today Jacob Berman, alias Jack Bennett, the "bright boy" of the Julian Petroleum Corporation, already convicted on one Federal charge and indicted on a second, will appear in Superior Judge Tappaan's court to testify in the stockholders' suit against the Los Angeles Stock Exchange and a group of brokers or go to jail for contempt of court.

Berman, who was on the witness stand twice last week and on both occasions refused to testify, was ordered to appear again today after Judge Tappaan had ruled that he must answer the questions put to him by counsel. The judge indicated that Berman will be sent to jail for contempt unless he reverses his position.

Attorneys Dan M. Critchley and Otto Christiansen, acting for Berman, would make no announcement yesterday as to their client's plans for today. "We have been going over the situation with Berman and as yet are unable to say whether he will testify or not," the lawyers said

COURT'S ATTITUDE CLEAR

However, the course of Judge Tappaan, if Berman maintains his silence, is little in doubt. If the court rules as was indicated last week, the "bright boy" of the Julian Corporation will in all probability land in the County Jail today, unless he takes the stand and tells his story.

It was pointed out yesterday that if Berman is committed for contempt during the course of the action now under way Judge Tappaan may order him confined until such time as he will testify, while if action in the matter is put over until the end of this case, then Berman can only be sentenced to five days in the County Jail.

SECRETARY TO TESTIFY

After the Berman matter is disposed of Miss Leontine M. Johnson, at one time private secretary to S. C. Lewis, the president of the Julian Corporation, will complete her cross-examination. Then Lewis will take the stand and, according to his announcement, tell all he knows about the Los Angeles Stock Exchange and the brokers who, according to his account, wrecked the Julian company.

In her account of what went on Miss Johnson has recited many details of what led up to the Julian crash and also caused a sensation by swearing that a group of brokers paid her $5000 and $100 a week to obtain documents from Lewis's private files.

Miss Johnson testified that she took the documents, some of them faked, with the knowledge of Lewis but later decided to "go into business for myself." Several lists of contributors to the stockholders' fund for the civil action, a little gray account book, a list of persons and concerns behind the suit, and two suitcases full of documents said to belong to Lewis and others, but in the possession of Miss Johnson, featured her testimony.

PLEAS FIXED FOR TODAY ON FEDERAL CHARGES

Accused of misuse of the mails in connection with the asserted manipulations of stocks of the Julian Petroleum Corporation, S. C. Lewis, former president of the company; Jacob Berman, alias Jack Bennett, and E. H. Rosenberg are scheduled to appear today before United States District Judge James for arraignment and entry of plea.

Both Lewis and Berman are under sentence of seven years to a Federal prison and to pay a fine of several thousand dollars on a previous conviction in connection with a charge of misuse of the mails in the promotion of the Lewis Oil Company. Lewis and Berman have been released on the Julian charge on bail of $15,000. Rosenberg is in the County Jail on a State charge.

It is charged in the indictment that the three sent through the mails literature representing that the Julian Petroleum Corporation had large blocks of stock in the company treasury, whereas at that time the stock was overissued.

STREETER SCHEDULED FOR COURT APPEARANCE

Clarence C. Streeter, head of Streeter & Co., stock and bond brokers of 639 South Spring street, and once a partner of Harold J. Barneson in Barneson & Co., stock brokers, is scheduled to appear today before United States District Judge McCormick for arraignment and entry of plea. Streeter is one of the brokers mentioned by Leontine Johnson in her testimony in the Julian stockholders' suit now under way in Superior Judge Tappaan's court.

Streeter, who was released on bond of $15,000, is accused twice of unlawfully attempting to evade the income tax through fraud, and also of two counts of perjury in connection with the same charges. In a separate indictment he is accused of perjury in connection with an income-tax return for the partnership business of Barneson & Co.

It is charged that Streeter made income-tax returns for 1926 and 1927 which showed a large difference from the returns of the government. The difference involves several hundred thousand dollars, according to the government charges.

PARK ECONOMY URGED

A letter from Mayor Porter urging economy in the Park Department similar to one received by the Harbor Commission last week, has been referred to Supt. Shearer. The communication is in connection with the preparation of the Park Department's budget for the next fiscal year, figures for which are to be submitted to the Mayor prior to May 15.

CONFERENCE ON TRANSIT TOMORROW

Planning Commission to Conduct Parley Dealing With Rapid Travel

A conference on the problem presented by the need of rapid-transit facilities between Los Angeles and the surrounding communities will be conducted in the rooms of the City Planning Commission at the City Hall tomorrow morning. The meeting, where a number of papers will be read, was called by President Baker of the Planning Commission, who will preside.

Mr. Baker stated yesterday that the commission has been watching with interest the efforts of several groups approaching the question and believes the matter may be simplified by bringing them together. He recognizes that in the case of Los Angeles the problem is on more or less unknown ground, as the physical structure of this city is entirely different from that of other cities where rapid transit by rail has been developed.

The matter of additional transportation facilities, according to Mr. Baker, should be studied now, as it will have an important bearing on the future planning of the city.

Mr. Baker will present the problem to the delegates and Mayor Porter will make a response.

Attorney David M. Faries will make an analysis of the present legislation pertaining to rapid transit, which includes an act passed by the 1929 Legislature permitting the organization of rapid-transit assessment districts.

City Attorney Werner will interpret the provision of the City Charter relating to the matter; J. Ogden Marsh, general manager of the Board of Public Utilities and Transportation, will outline the Kelker-DeLeuw rapid-transit report and D. W. Pontius, president of the Pacific Electric Railway, and Richard Sachse, consulting engineer of the Los Angeles Railway Corporation, will present features of the transportation problem.

The effect of such a rapid-transit system on downtown business and economic development will be the subject of addresses by John G. Bullock and George Eberle.

The attitude of the surrounding communities and the effect of the system on them will be presented by Carl Bush, executive secretary of the Hollywood Chamber of Commerce; Charles L. Wood of the Major Development Association of the San Fernando Valley; George A. Damon, consulting engineer of Pasadena; John M. Kemmerer, secretary of the Whittier Planning Commission; R. B. Taplin, planning engineer of Long Beach, and C. J. S. Williamson of the Santa Monica Planning Commission.

GRAFT CASE JURY STILL DEALOCKED

Three Men Await Verdict on Pasadena Sewer Fraud Charges After Trial Here

After forty-four hours of deliberation, the jury trying the three men charged with grand theft in the so-called Pasadena sewer fraud had been unable to agree on a verdict yesterday and were locked up for the night, according to word from the court of Superior Judge McComb.

Indications were, court attaches said, that the balloting would continue throughout the rest of the day. No hint of developments in the jury room was obtainable.

Two of the defendants, Oliver K. Hearte, a contractor, and Warren C. Earle, former City Engineer of Pasadena, are charged specifically with two counts of grand theft, while the third, William J. Watson, a former inspector, is accused of one count. The prosecution charges the three men were paid by the city for work that never was done.

The case went to the jury Friday after nearly three months spent in taking evidence.

BRIBE CASE TRIAL SET FOR TODAY

Suspended Negro Police Trio Faces Extortion Charges in Court

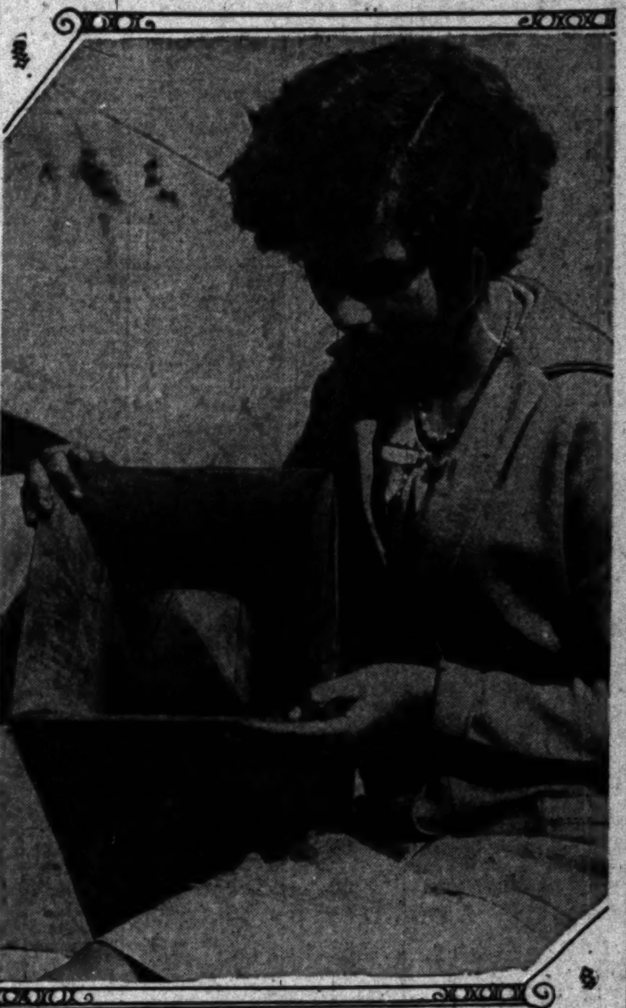
M. B. Sheffield, Roscoe C. Washington and Richmond Dunn, suspended negro police officers, are scheduled to go on trial today in Superior Judge Wilson's court on an indictment accusing them of six counts each of bribery and extortion.

It is charged the three men collected $25 a week "protection money" from Sebe Hendricks, proprietor of a Central-avenue district cigar stand, over a period of several months.

Owing to the trial of another case in Judge Wilson's court, it was reported yesterday, the case involving the three suspended policemen may be transferred to another department. It was said, however, that an effort will be made to get the case on trial without further delay.

ODD RADIO DEVICE EXHIBITED

Loud Speaker Interests Femininity



Miss Ruth Viall Examines Device

A RADIO loud speaker carved from a single block of wood is a novelty being displayed by Capt. A. A. Sawyer of the Lassco liner Calawaii.

The unusual speaker was carved by Charles Fernald, an electrician, and, according to the captain, it is superior to any such device he has been able to buy. A stout tongue left in the center of the block acts as a sort of echo-preventing device. The thin back piece remaining after the carving was done serves as a sounding-board.

STATE CHIEFS GATHER SOON

Citizens Can Confer With Department Heads When Governor's Council Meets Here

Citizens interested in any State department will have an opportunity to confer with the director of that department when the Governor's Council meets in Los Angeles the 28th and 29th inst., Gov. Young has announced.

Directors have set aside Wednesday morning for the benefit of citizens, and will meet them in offices in the Associated Realty Building.

PROGRAM OF SAFETY TO BE MAPPED

Meeting for Purpose of Planning State-wide Drive Will be Held Tonight

A State-wide street and highway safety education program for 1930 will be mapped at a meeting tonight at the Alexandria sponsored by the State Chamber of Commerce. Representatives of woman's clubs, members of the Parent-Teacher associations and public officials are expected to attend.

Traffic conditions in Los Angeles in particular will be taken up and discussed. Councilman Charles A. Holland will preside. He said that more than 1500 persons have been killed here in highway accidents the past two years.

The program includes addresses by Mayor Porter and by Hollis R. Thompson of Berkeley, chairman of the adult-education committee of the State Chamber, and a talk by Eugene Biscailuz, State Highway Superintendent. Deputy Chief of Police Davis and Coroner Nance also will talk. Mrs. J. B. Potter, representing the Parent-Teachers' Association also will talk, as will D. W. Pontius, president of the Pacific Electric.

Meetings planned for the remainder of the week by divisions of the State Chamber include a meeting tomorrow at the Biltmore when George L. Eastman, former president of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, will speak to the members of the Advertising Club.

On Wednesday William A. Simpson, contractor, will speak to the Kiwanis members on the State building code which is being backed by the State Chamber. Clinton E. Miller, a chamber director, on the same day will speak to the Optimists' Club on agriculture and foreign trade.

On Thursday, at the same place, Mutual Club members will hear a talk on aviation development by D. E. McDonald, governor of the National Aeronautical Association. Orra E. Monnette, banker and president of the Board of Education, will speak to the members of the Rotary Club at the Biltmore on Friday. His subject will be "Industry."

Local Artist to Wed Today

Miss Nena Gilbert, Los Angeles artist, will be married at noon today to Robert A. Spachman of New York at the home of the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Winifred Caldwell of 702 Florence street, Burbank. The ceremony will be performed by Rev. J. C. Taylor.

After the wedding the couple will leave on a honeymoon trip to Riverside and Palm Springs. The bride operates the Gilbert studios at 450 South Western avenue.

PETITION PUT ASIDE

The City Council has temporarily dropped the request for the purchase of land for a playground in the area bounded by Madison, Oakwood, Juanita and Middlebury streets, due to a lack of funds.

KIDNAPING VICTIM SOUGHT

Wife's Story of Seizure of Husband Spurs Quest; Police Fear He Was "Taken for Ride"

Fears that Tony Reyes, 24 years of age, had been "taken for a ride" led police yesterday to instigate a county-wide search for the missing man.

Reys's wife, Sally, reported to police that her husband had been forcibly carried off by several men in an automobile from in front of their home at 707½ Temple street early yesterday morning.

"Tony had gone out to put my car away in the garage," Mrs. Reyes sobbed to police. "A few seconds after I went back into the house I heard him screaming for help. As I rushed to the front door I saw a large closed machine driving away. There were several men in it and I could see my husband being held down in the back seat. He was still calling for help."

Mrs. Reyes declared she knows of no reason for the supposed kidnaping. Reyes, according to his wife, is a Filipino. He was dressed in a gray suit, black tie, white shirt, black low shoes and was about five feet seven inches tall, and weighed about 140 pounds, Mrs. Reyes said.

DEATH CALLS MRS. KNIGHT IN PASADENA

Wife of Investment Man Victim of Brief Illness in Crown City Hospital

Mrs. Sarah Chandler Knight, 54 years of age, wife of John O. Knight, vice-president and manager of the Los Angeles Investment Securities Company, died yesterday at the Pasadena Hospital after a brief illness.

She was widely know in women's club circles of Southern California. Her husband is a member of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange.

Mrs. Knight was born in Houghton, Mich., and received her education at the Starrett School for Girls Vassar and a finishing academy in Paris. She was married to Mr. Knight in 1910 and they came to Los Angeles to make their home immediately following the ceremony. They lived in this city until 1925, when they moved to Pasadena, where they resided at 91 North Oakland avenue.

Mrs. Knight was the daughter of Joseph H. Chandler of Chicago, former special counsel to the United States Steel Corporation in that city. She was a member of the Pasadena College Women's Club and the Friday Morning Club and also was well known in business and financial circles of the city.

Besides her husband, she leaves one sister, Mrs. Ivan Glidden of Columbus, O.

Funeral arrangements will be deferred until the sister, who is on her way, can reach Los Angeles.

E. L. DOHENY IN MYSTERY TRIP BY AIR

Oil Magnate and Party of Six Charter Plane and Fly Away on Unnamed Mission

Faced with adverse weather reports, but declaring that the trip was immediate and urgent, E. L. Doheny, oil magnate, and a party of six, flew into blustering clouds yesterday on a hurried flight to the Kettleman Hills oil field.

The chief owner of the Petroleum Securities Company, which is developing its first well on the north dome of the Kettleman Hills, declined to divulge the reasons for his haste, but oil operators believe that the Felix No. 1, which has been drilling for some time, is coming on to production, and that Doheny and his associates desired to be at the field to observe its performance.

A tri-motored Fokker from the Curtiss-Wright Flying Service, with Ace Bragunier at the controls, was placed on the take-off line at the flying field shortly after noon yesterday on telephonic orders from Mr. Doheny. A short time later the oil magnate, who often has expressed his aversion to flying, arrived at the field. Little delay was experienced and the party was soon winging into the north. It was understood that the ship would be set down at Coalinga. From that point autos were in readiness to complete the hurried trip to the oil field.

INCENDIARY FIRE PERILS FRAT HOUSE

Second Attempt Made to Burn U.S.C. Chapter Home of Kappa Sigma

Fire, believed to have been of incendiary origin, yesterday threatened destruction to the University of Southern California chapter house of Kappa Sigma Fraternity at 928 West Twenty-eighth street. The blaze was discovered by Phillip Mort as he was leaving the building. Smelling smoke he investigated and found a pile of discarded papers and magazines burning in the basement. With a pail of water, Mort extinguished the flames.

A similar attempt to burn the same building was made on the 10th inst., but was frustrated by a Filipino dishwasher, who smothered a pile of smoldering rags he had discovered in the basement.

A series of other suspicious fires in fraternity houses last December, caused losses of several thousand dollars. According to fire department investigators, however, these were not of incendiary nature.

APARTMENT QUIZ LAUNCHED

Occupancy Permit Held Up by Health Department Pending Inquiry on Safety Certificate

Holding that a new apartment-house at 716 North [illegible] vard has been constructed in a manner which violates the State [illegible] Act and ordinances of Los Angeles, the Health Commission has [illegible] a permit for occupancy of the premises pending a conference with the Building and Safety Commission on the reason for the [illegible] safety department certifying that the structure fully complies with [illegible] and city laws.

The property is in the hands of E. A. Nicholson of 338 Normandie avenue as receiver, according to P. D. Sweger, director of sanitation and housing for the health department, and is a four-story frame and stucco Class D apartment-house containing thirty-eight apartments and an aggregate of 103 rooms.

STATE ACT CITED

Sweger sets forth that Sec. 12 of the State Housing Act prohibits the erection of any wooden apartment-house or hotel that exceeds three stories in height for living or sleeping purposes.

"Without question the building, as it stands today, and the occupancy of the fourth floor, constitute a violation of the Housing Act," Sweger's communication to the Health Commission states. "A dangerous precedent is established to permit it to stand as a permanent indictment of the inspection services and should be corrected, lest a [illegible] cur."

Sweger reported that [illegible] ments on the fourth floor [illegible] out direct communication [illegible] escape, the incinerator [illegible] ed in the center of the [illegible] and that a restaurant [illegible] the same building has [illegible] to stop kitchen operations [illegible] of wallboard partitions [illegible] of ventilation.
